terests if not to the destruction of the House of Lords. Mr. Gladstone is not an extreme reformer—he is not a Radical. He does not desire or purpose the distruction of the House of Peers. He has in fact stood as a break-water between the Radicals and the Lords. The Philadelphia Times says judiciously:

"From the start Mr. Gladstone has seen clearly that to add two million voters to the suffrage of England was to place in the hands of the people and in the hands of the Liberals advocating the measure a power hat belongs to them and a weapon against any future dictation from the House of Lords. And seeing this Gladstone has always been ready to make any honorable compromise that would at once secure his fixed purpose and succeed in passing the "From the first the ultra-Radicals have wanted to make the dead lock between

Gladstone and the Tories an excuse for an ttack on the House of Lords and this feelng culminated on Friday in Henry Labouchere's motion declaring the reform of the Lords to be urgent, which was lost by a vote of 71 to 145. Every Englishman knows that the Lords ought to be reformed or annihilated, but every sensible Englishman also knows that the time for it has not vet come. The point to bear in mind is that Gladstone by his compromise with the Lords secures the passage of his franchise bill by itself and at the same time saves England from a revolution for which she is not yet prepared, and that ought to be energies toward making an administration that shall, at least, assure every element that a transfer of executive control from one party to another does not mean any se-rious disturbance of existing conditions."

Latterly political outrages have been more frequent in the North than in the South. At Newport, Vermont, the Democrats on the 20th were celebrating Cleveland and Hendricks's victory when a party of Republicans attempted to break up the fun. A dispatch to the Boston Post says:

"The Blaineites organized a band of select young men to endeavor to break up the celebration. Many of them belong to the Young Men's Christian Association and the Good Templars. They attend church and Sunday School regularly and should be gen tlemen. This gang of worthles elected a cap tain and paraded the streets singing, "We'll hang Jeff Davis on a sour apple tree, "Glory hallejah," etc. They demonlished an unprotected bonfire and then proceeded to assault the bell-ringers.

They stole the anvils and attempted to steal the cannon, but they were routed and the captain of the wrowe walks around with his eye in mourning. The company could not stand the pressure and ingloriously retreated.

Roscoe Conkling stands a good chance, we suppose, of going to the The New York World has an United States Senate. GREAT LAKE IN THE NORTH.

New York Times. While the world's most daring exolorers have been tracing the boundaries of the Polar Sea, and navigating the streams and newly found akes of Central Africa, a remarkable discovery has been made within a thousand miles of this city by the Geographical Society of Quebec. Within 500 or 600 miles of the northern boundary of Maine there has been found, if the reports made by the members of that society, are worthy of belief, an inland sea as large as Lake Superior.

Midway between the St. Lawrence River and the Southern extremity of Hudson's Bay, stretching in a northeasterly direction from Ontario to Labrador, is a watershed of slight elevation, designated on the maps as 'Height of Land." A few miles to the northward lies a small lake known as Lake Mistassini, from which stream that is known as Rupert's River flows into the southern extremity of Hudson's Bay, The region beyond the watershed, betwe n Labrador and Hudson's Bay, is uninhabited except by a few Indians and the traders of the posts established many years ago by the Hudson's Bay Company. In this region, not far from the small lake Mistassini, which may be seen on the maps, lies the great lake which has ecently been found.

At the meeting of the British Association for the Advancement of Science, held in Montreal last August, the presiding officer of the geographical section, Gen. Lefroy, announced the discovery of this great body of water. The first trustworthy information concerning it seems to have been given to M. Napoleon Comeán by hunters, Indians, and others who had visited its shores. An expedition was fitted out and sent northward by the Geographical Society of Quebec, and the officer who left Quebec in June with supplies for the use of the exploring party has recently returned.

EVENING EDITION.

THE GLADSTONITES.

We are great admirers of the British Premier. In the history of his great country there is not a purer, more upright Christian statesman to be found. He is not infallible. He has made mistakes, some of which bear bitter fruit. But he is just and honorable and able. There was a meeting held in London on the 22nd inst that gave uneasiness. A dispatch says:

"Lord Salisbury, the leader of the Tory peers, and Sir Stafford Northcote, the Conservative Moses of the Commons, some what ostentatiously went together to Mr. Gladstone's official residence in Downing street. There was a Cabinet meeting in session there at the time, and it was soon ascertained that the two distinguished visitors had been invited to the couference to discuss the terms of the proposed compro-mise on the Franchise bill."

This created much talk. It was given out that Mr. Gladstone was about to surrender to the Tories or had surrendered. The Radical members held a meeting, but nothing is known of what they determined upon. Our own dispatch of the 24th was to the effect that on the 30th Gladstone would introduce a Redistribution bill, and that in the meantime the Tories would hold a meeting to consider what they would do about it.

But the illustrious Premier has not surrendered his convictions nor betrayed the cause of true reform. He is the great mover for the extension of the elective franchise. The Tories oppose this. They are struggling for a new Distribution bill by which they hope to save some of their representation in the House of Commons. It is in the antagonizing interests of the Lords and the people that the struggle hinges. Mr. Gladstone is resolved upon reform. He means to secure greater privileges for the people and to extend to some two millions of men the right to vote. The Philadelphia Times corrects an erroneous impression in the following:

"Taking their cue from the grumblings of ultra-English Radicals, who, in the struggle just ended between Gladstone and the Tories, wanted to kill the Lords or nothing, American correspondents in Lon-don are speaking of Gladstone's compro-

lowing from the Times will be in order:

"The ease with which some of the poor negroes of the South may be carried away by delusion to their own harm is illustrated by the party from Texas which is stranded in this city on their way to a land of promise in Liberia. It is evident that they were cruelly deceived by somebody both as to the chances of life in that almos mythical haven of refuge on the west coast of Africa and as to the opportunities provided for reaching it. It is a pity that intelligent and philanthropic people in the South should not take pains to disabuse the minds of the blacks of the delusions which are apt to seize them in regard to the means of bettering their condition and protect them from the deceptions so easily practiced udon them by designing knaves."

The Times may rest assured that the thing desired 1s done. For years the papers in the South and "intelligent and philanthropic people" have done what they could to make the negroes contented and to correct the lying accounts and flattering hopes held out to them by rascally agents and emissaries. The negroes are so easily deluded and bamboozled that sharpers seek them constantly with the assurance of success. Not only are they victimized by the predatory Northern whites of a certain inferior class, but they are preyed upon by creatures of their own race who are "smart" enough to make money by practicing upon the credulity and ignorance of their unsuspecting victims.

Another leader among the Southern negroes has spoken. W. A. Pledger is the colored Chairman of the Georgia Republican State Committee. He has been interviewed relative to Mr. Cleveland and the change of Administration. He is very hopeful as will be seen from what follows. He says:

"I believe that Cleveland's administration will be characterized by such conservatism as will make it one of the most successful in the history of our Presidents. In this view I have with me many of the most prominent colored Republicans throughout the South. We made every effort to elect Mr. Blaine because he was the candidate of the Republican party, and the colored pecple have always voted with that party. Since his defeat our people have been more than gratified at the course of our white Democratic friends. Nothing but the kindest words have been spoken for us. We recognize the fact that the white Democrats of the South are those among whom our fortunes are cast. * * This silly sensation among the negroes about being put back into slavery has, I am sorry to say, been spread among the colored people. They now find that they have been imposed upon and they have already become thoroughly recon not be elected we hope Conkling will be returned to the Senate.

> There are 50,017 postoffices in the United States. Of these the President appoints but 2,323. The remaining 47,694 are appointed by the Postmaster General. So here is a very large patronage and a large army of workers for Radical perpetuity. They will have to step down and out.

Second. A large reduction on the commonest necessaries of life. We now tax the people $50,000,000 a year on sugar at an average rate of about 70 per cent. ad valorem. Tariff reformers are of the opinion that such a tax is an outrage and ought to be largely reduced. We collect some $6,000,000 tax on fruit, which is both the poor man's luxury and necessity. We hope to make these necessaries free, and also similar foods, for the benefit of the masses. Third. We will not make either village on the Saguenay river about 30 miles from Lake St. John, journeyed northward, passing the watershed, and at a distance of about 350 miles from Lake St. John and 450 miles from Quebec the southern extremity of the great lake was reached. Those in command appear to have carefully distinguished the great lake from the small one and to have discovered that they are connected by Rupert's river. For seven days they voyaged on the great lake, and after 120 miles of navigation the main body of it was not reached. The waters swarmed with fish, the banks were well wooded, and tracts of the adjoining land were arable. Having deposited the provisions at a point on the shore, the supply party returned without having encountered the exploring party.

CURRENT COMMENT.

-Mr. Blaine said nothing throughout the campaign, or before, so despicable, reprehensible and worthy of general condemnation as his incendiary utterances last night at Augusta, in response to a serenade. The unprincipled demagogue, smarting under the defeat that he deserved so well, now delivers a set speech, the purpose of which, apparently, is to reinaugurate sectional strife and to incite the negroes of the South to discontent and insubordination. Mr. Blaine's doctrines, if he had the power to inoculate the people with them, would result in anarchy. And yet that is the man who was nearly elected President of the United States.-N. Y. News. Dem.

--- The policy of Mr. Cleveland's administration, plainly stated, will probably be about this: Every place that can be filled by a Democrat without violating the civil service law will be so filled, but the aim will be to strengthen confidence in and respect for the civil service law. That measure was proposed by a Democratic Senator and passed with the help of Democrats, and it will be the aim of a Democratic administration to establish it so firmly that no attempt will ever be made to go back to the old system. There is no doubt that the people of the country believe in civil service reform, and it would not be well for any party to oppose it .- Savannah News, Dem.

--- In his speech at Augusta Tuesday evening he made a fitting end of a campaign full of dodges by raising the Southern question to the first position in the issues between the two parties. Mr. Blaine is not a fanatic or an illiberal man. He does not care a rap about the Southern that it would be wise to tax or pro- question. He believes, if he really tect (call it what you will) these believes anything, that the Southern

New York Rice Market.

N. Y. Journal of Commerce, Nov. 24. The week closes with flying colors in the rice market. The demand in domestic sorts for the time and the season of the year is exceptional. Other lines are dull, or at best only fairly active, while in this the movement, since the opening of the new crop, has been in excess of any similar period since the war. Low prices may have somewhat stimulated, but dealers declare that a growing appreciation of the intrinsic merits of rice as a food product is the secret of the increased consumption; that it is superior to any other cereal, and far cheaper as a diet than potatoes. Foreign continues active. The quotations are: Carolina and Louisiana, common to fair at 41@51c; good to prime at 5‡@6c; choice at 6‡@ 6‡c; extra (brand) at 6‡@6‡c; Rangoon at 4‡@5c duty paid, and 2‡@2‡c in bond; Patna at 5‡@5‡c; Java at 5‡@5‡c.

DR. O. F. MANSON, OF RICHMOND, VA.,

Late Professor of General Pathology and Physic logy in the Medical College of Virginia :

"I have observed marked sanative effects from the Buffalo Water in Malarial Cachezia, Antonic Dyspepsia, some of the Peculiar Affections of Wo-men, Anæmia, Hypochondriasis, Cardiac Palpita-tions, &c. It has been especially efficacious in Chronic Intermittent Fever, numerous cases of this character, which had obstinately withstood the usual remedies, having been restored to perfect health in a brief space of time by a sojourn at the Springs."

DR. JOHN W. WILLIAMSON, JACKSON, TENN. Extracts from Communication on the Therapeuti

for February, 1877.

"Their great value in Malarial Diseases and Sequelæ has been most abundantly and satisfac-torily tested; and I have no question that it would have been a valuable auxiliary in the treatment of the epidemic of Yellow Ferer which so terribly afflicted the Mississippi Valley during the past summer. I prescribed it myself, and it gave prompt relief in a case of Suppression of Urine, in Yellow Fever, and decidedly mitigated other dis-tressing and dangerous symptoms. The patient re-covered but how for the return work here cover covered, but how far the water may have contri-buted to that result (having prescribed it in but a single case) I, of course. cannot undertake to say. There is no doubt, however, about the fact that its administration was attended by the most benchcial results." Springs now opens for guests. Water in cases of one dozen half gallon bottles

55 per case at the Springs. Springs pamphlet mailed to any address. For sale by W. H. Green, where the Springs pamphlet may be found
