Local Notes. Last day in November. First Sunday in Advent. Day's length 10 hours and 10 minutes. The storm signal was displayed again yesterday. Send your cast off clothing to the City Hospital. Receipts of cotton yesterday footed up 759 bales.

Quite a heavy storm of wind and rain visited this section Friday night. The next theatrical advent will be Gus Williams, on the 10th of December. Receipts of cotton yesterday footed up 759 bales.

Rev. A. D. Betts is to preach at Smithville next Wednesday night, and at Harrison's Creek on Thursday night. There is an unmailable letter in the postoffice enclosed in a yellow, government stamped envelope; bearing no address.

The Register of Deeds issued three marriage licenses during the past week, of which one was for white and two for colored couples. Two cases of drunkenness for the Mayor's Court yesterday morning; one of which was discharged and the other was sent below for twenty days.

A fair and festival is to be given on or about the 10th of December, under the auspices of the teachers of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, in the Lutheran Memorial Hall, on Sixth street. The following comprise the interments in the various city cemeteries during the past week: Oakdale, 3 adults and 1 child; Bellevue, 1 adult and 1 child; Pine Forest (colored), 1 adult and 1 child.

We acknowledge the compliment of an invitation to the first grand ball of the Mutual Aid Association of Charleston, which takes place at the German Artillery Hall on Wednesday, December 10th. The grand jury of the Criminal Court, which has been in session the past week, visited the County Poor House on Friday, in a body, which is something unusual, as only a committee generally goes. They pronounced the institution in splendid condition.

In the contest between the colored freemen on Thanksgiving Day, the Phoenix Company came out best. The companies participating were the Phoenix, Dread-Not, Little Columbia and Bannaker; and the test consisted of making the best time and throwing the first water. The Charlotte Observer has an article in reference to "turning to the right," and copies what the STAR said on the same subject. We wish everyone who reads this would try the experiment and see how nice it will work. In walking or riding, always keep to the right. It will save a world of trouble.

Criminal Court. The following cases have been disposed of since our last report: State vs. Thos. Gillespie and Sarah Gillespie, charged with larceny. Not guilty. State vs. Merley Nixon, charged with false pretence. Case continued and defendant recognized in the sum of $50, with security. State vs. J. Williamson, charged with assault and battery. Defendant found guilty and sentenced to 3 months in the House of Correction.

Magistrate's Court. Caroline Scarborough, colored, arraigned before Justice Mills yesterday, on a peace warrant sworn out by Annie Wood, also colored, was required to pay the cost and give bond in the sum of $25 to keep the peace for sixty days. Lilla Fonville, colored, charged with assault and battery upon Sophia Childs, also colored, was discharged, the prosecutor being required to pay the costs.

The British barque Eliza Outton, Capt. Rooney, was cleared from this port for Hamburg, Germany, yesterday, by Messrs. S. P. Shetter & Co., with 3,573 barrels of rosin, valued at $4,700.

Entertainment Ahead. We are informed that there will be a complimentary entertainment given by the Shakespeare Club, assisted by much of our best amateur talent, for the benefit of the Library Association, in the Opera House, Friday night, December 13th. The preparations now making indicate that it will be a brilliant and elegant affair. The programme will be a musical, literary and dramatic one. Two poems will be recited in character and illustrated in tableaux, while special recitations, serious and comic, will be introduced, and music, vocal and instrumental, will constitute a prominent feature of the entertainment. We will be at liberty to announce the programme in detail at an early date but the public meanwhile may look forward to a most enjoyable occasion on the night of the 12th prox.

The Fire Yesterday Morning. Fire broke out in the turpentine distillery of Mr. A. H. VanBokkelen yesterday morning, about 7 o'clock, and entailed a loss upon the property of $3,000 or $4,000. There were four stills embraced in the property alluded to. The fire is said to have been the work of an incendiary. It originated among a lot of rosin barrel headings on the floor of the still house, and we understand that a lot of spirits turpentine was taken from a barrel in a neighboring shed on the same yard to start the fire with. Very little stock was consumed. The fire department was promptly on hand, and did what service was possible under the circumstances. There had been no fire on the yard since Wednesday last. No insurance, the same not being attainable.

IF ANY ONE IS DETERMINED TO HAVE LIFE INSURANCE on the assessment plan, in full measure, let him call on the MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY. The former are organized with a benevolent object in view, and are more apt to be permanent, because the members are kept in by a feeling of brotherhood. The latter are organized simply to put money in the pockets of the officers. In the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York the policy-holders elect the officers, and all the profits are divided annually among the policy-holders. While the insurance is guaranteed by over one hundred million dollars securely invested, the cost of insurance is less, after a policy has been in force a few years, than in any assessment Office, Society or Company in existence. M. S. WILLIAMS, Agent. Mutual Life Ins. Co. of New York. Telephone No. 5. nov 30 11
