It is thought that Congress will favor a proposed independent contract system of postal telegraph. A disputch to the World says:

Last winter propositions favoring the building of independent lines for the use of the Post Office. Department were pretty fully investigated by committees of both House and Senate. The matter was finally settled in the House by the reporting of a bill favoring the contract system, and that bill is now on the calendar."

Mr. Millard, of New York, has intraduced in the House a bill to amend the Constitution so as to make the Presidential term six years, without eligibility to re-election. This is a right move, and the amendment should be adopted. But Mr. Millard's bill has another feature, the design of which is to give Grant a pension, or the result of which will be to do so. It is to pension all ex Presidents, the sum to be agreed upon hereafter. We oppose this save only when the ex President is poor and needy.

The Southern plague is very fatal still, but is decreasing in violence A correspondent of the Louisville Courier-Journal telegraphs "that a horrible state of affairs exists in Wise and Lee counties, Virginia. number of instances are cited in which whole families perished. The disease has caused more deaths in Letcher county, Ky., and Wise county, Va., than in any other counties. In the latter county the deaths have been so numerous that it has been difficult to provide for the proper burial of the victims."

Rev. Dr. Charles F. Deems, of New York, at the close of his sermon in the Church of the Strangers on Sunday last, frankly informed his congregation that he was a life-long Democrat, and that he had been giving a month's hard work to the Democratic cause.—Numerous Exchanges.

Dr. Deems promptly corrected this statement weeks ago. He denied having said any such thing. He had not been at work for any party, was not a Democrat, but had voted as often for the Republican candidates as for the Democratic candidates since residing in New

Upon reflection we incline to the opinion that we were right in what we said about 37 votes being the number given to the South by enfranchising the negro. The war liberated all, and hence the act of enfranchising included all the males over 21 years of age. This gives 37. If the negro had not been enfranchised the three fifths representation would have disappeared, as the North would not have agreed that slaves should continue to be represented when there were no slaves. In point of fact, however, the increase of electoral votes is as stated by Mr. Steele.

There are signs of serious labor troubles in France. There are grave fears of trouble. "The sinister face of Communism shows itself" again in Paris. A special from London of the 6th to the New York Times

The unbalanced minds of those who live in the slums of Paris are in truth affected now somewhat as they were fourteen years ago, during the days of the terrible siege. Disturbances seem to be in the sided.

very air. I hear to day from an excellent authority that the Government is in a state of tremor and apprehension about the anarchist meeting called for I o'clock to-morrow is the Salle Favier, in the Rue de Belleville. Placards and manifestoes have been issued in preparation for it. All are oitched in the most frantic and incendiary

Bob Ingersoll was for Blaine after all. He ought to have been. We believe in the eternal fitness of things. But Bob thinks it is a "little too previous" to be nominating the "tattooed man" for President in 1888. He says:

"No one not gifted with prophetic powers can tell how he himself will feel in '88. No one can tell what the issue of that campaign will be. A party cannot afford to pledge itself to persons. A party should stand for certain principles, and then use men to carry those principles out. If in '88 the party should really need Mr. Blaine—whether he needs the party or not—then he will probably be nominated."

He thinks Mr. Cleveland's election will not affect unfavorably business interests. Of course not! None but a blind partisan ever thought or said it would.

Miss Nevada is still singing in New York. Her vocal powers are good but not of the highest. She made reputation in Europe and she is an American. The Times says of her gifts as a singer:

"Mile. Nevada has a small voice which has, fortunately, considerable carrying power and a somewhat unusual range, and she has learned to put her natural gifts to the best possible use. Her runs are clean. though limited and not exactly powerful or brilliant, her trill is good, and her staccati are true and clear cut. By careful man-agement of her tones, by watching herself with a vigilance that imparts some sense of nervousness to the experienced listener, and wholly subordinates the feeling and meaning of the music to its correct and elegant reading, she occasionally convinces the average auditor that when age and experience will have strengthened and matured her ac complishments the mantle of Mme. Patti may fall upon her shoulders. As a matter of fact, Mile. Nevada's talent is now in full fruition."

Senator Lamar thinks that strict economy and rigid honesty will mark administration of President Cleveland. Of Tariff Reform he

"It was highly improbable that any ac-tion would be taken on the tariff at this session. Next session, however, there would be proposed by the Democrats such a scheme of reduction as need cause no unasiness whatever in the business community. He believed it would be wise for the manufacturers of the country to compromise with the tariff reformers and the tariff reformers with the manufacturers upon a reduction of the duties to a revenue standard, with such discrimination in the arrangement of the details within that limit as to afford ample protection to American industries. Revenue reform and manufacturing prosperity ought not to be antago-nistic forces."

Five men in muslin masks boarded the train on the Little Rock and Texas Railroad three miles from the city and, pistols in hand, robbed the express car and the pockets of seventy "Arkansas travellers" of their contents. A special to the N. Y. World from Little Rock says:

"As one of the robbers approached three lady passengers with the intention of robbing them the leader yelled out: 'Hold on there; don't injure those ladies or take anything from them; I don't forget that my mother is a lady, even if her son is a

-d scoundrel. None of the passengers attempted to make the slightest opposition to the bandits."

Preliminary Examination in Case of Tom Gardner, Colored. Charged With Setting Fire to a Store

The case of Tom Gardner, a colored boy, charged with attempting to set fire to the building on Market street occupied by Mr. B. F. White, a Mr. Woodcock and others, came up for a preliminary hearing before Mayor Hall yesterday morning. Reuben Burriss was first called for the State, but could only testify that when he opened Mr. White's store, as was his custom, at about 7.30 o'cleck, he found the room full of smoke. Knew nothing about how the fire came to be started, as it was about out when he got there. Robert Miller and George Johnson lived n a house on Second, street, overlooking the premises where the fire occurred. The former testified that he got up fabout twenty minutes before 7 o'clock and went out on the back piazza, when he saw light blaze under Mr. White's store and boy run out and hurry along the side of the fence in a crouching attitude until he reached the house where he lived, which was a door or two west of Mr. White's place, where he entered the kitchen. There are communicating gates between these premises. He called Johnson's attention to the fire and the fleeing boy. At that time the fire was blazing up nigh. Tom had got but a short distance when John. son's attention was called to him. He was positive that Tom Gardner was the boy. He knew him well and could not be mis-

George Johnson said he was called by Miller, who exclaimed, "run here, quick! He saw the fire under Mr. White's store, and saw Tom run, as described by the previous witness. Was certain it was Tom: and saw no one else around, except a few | was followed by Mr. N. A. Stedman, Jr., something to Tom about setting the fire, but he denied it. He went over and aroused the people at Mr. Woodcock's as soon as he could get his cost on. After Tom came back-when they were putting out the fire-he saw Tom pull a basket out from under the house, in which there was

Mr. White testified to the fact of the box being under the house, and that it contained excelsior and other packing, which was thus preserved in case it should be needed. When he got there the fire was out, but he noticed the charred box and the charred beams of the floor above. There was a stove on the floor above, but there had been no fire in it for some time. Said he had found Tom in his yard several times and ordered him out, as he was in the habit of picking up pieces of board, etc.

Mr. M. Judge testified that the boy had been working with him eighteen months, and he knew him to be a good boy and faithful servant. He let him in the house that morning at ten minutes to 7 o'clock and he had reason to believe that he never left the house from that time until the alarm about the fire. He did not appear excited when he came in. When he got there the fire had been hauled from under the house and was being trampled out Miller and Johnson were there and accused Tom of having set the fire. Witness called Tom and told him of it, and he denied having been in the yard. Jordan Walker, colored, saw Tom in the street about Mr. Judge's at 7 o'clock. He keeps his horse in the lot where the fire occurred, and was there from 5.30 to 7 o'clock, and never saw the boy. If he had been there during that time he would have seen him. Saw no signs of fire when he started. The father of the prisoner testified as t his good character. At the close of the testimony Mayor Hall ordered the young man to be held, without benefit of bail, for the action of the Grand Jury at the next term of the Criminal Court. Mr. F. H. Darby appeared for the de-

Gus Williams. The St. Louis Republican says of this popular actor who appears in the Opera House here to-night:

"Gus Williams, the popular German dia-lect character actor, opened a season at the People's theatre last night in 'One of the Finest,' and played John Mishler better than ever. The house was full all over, and the audience became enthusiastic over the performance. The supporting company is good for the work to do, and the prospects are most promising for 'One of the Finest,' during the week.

We learn that about 5 o'clock yesterday morning two white men were starting out on a hunting expedition when they met a white man coming out of the distillery premises of Mr. A. H. VanBokkelen, in the southern section of the city, who told them that a building on the lot was on fire. They wanted to know of the man why he did not try to put the fire out, when (as the two men allege) he said that he had noth ing to do with it, and went on about his business. The two men then rushed into the yard, broke the office open, got buckets, and finally, by the application of plenty of water, succeeded in saving the property, which was about all that was preserved from destruction during the late fire at the same place. The alleged arson was the source of coniderable comment in the course of a day. and during the afternoon a warrant was issued for the arrest of the individual who was alleged to have proven so indifferent as to the destruction of the property, and who was found leaving the premises at the time the fire broke out. The arrest was effected by special policeman J. W. Bryan, late deputy sheriff, and the man proved to be one Louis Johnson, a stevedore, formerly employed by the Messrs. Kure. Mr. Johnson was taken before Mayor Hall at his office, who, after a brief interview with the accused, recognized him in the sum of $50, with security, for his appearance before the court this morning.

Superior Court. Argument in the case of Joseph D Smith vs. the Fire Association of Philadelphia, for damages for libel, was concluded yesterday. Col. D. K. McRae spoke about two hours for the defendant, and spoke well, as he slways does. He speech of about one hour and three quarters, which we have heard most highly complimented. The case was then given to the jury, who returned a verdict, finding all the issues in favor of the plaintiff, and assessing the damages at $8,000. Counses for defendant made a motion for a new trial, which was overruled, when an appeal was craved to the Supreme Court. Notice of appeal was waived, and the appeal bond fixed at $50. By consent, thirty days were allowed to make a statement of the case on appeal, and twenty days thereafter to

The jury assessed the damages at $250, with interest from July 1st, 1881, the time of the damages. This finding is conditional upon the opinion of the Court on the law, which his Honor reserved for consideration.

WHO IS MRS. WINSLOW 1—As this question is frequently asked, we will simply say that she is a lady who for upwards of thirty years has untiringly devoted her time and talents as a female Physician and nurse, principally among children. She has especially studied the constitution and wants of this numerous class, and, as a result of this effort, and practical knowledge, obtained in a lifetime spent as a nurse and physician, she has compounded a Soothing Syrup for children teething. It operates like magic—giving rest and health, and is, moreover, sure to regulate the bowels. In consequence of this article Mrs. Winslow is becoming world-renowned as a benefactor of her race; children certainly do rise up and bless her; especially is this the case in this city. Vast quantities of the Soothing Syrup are dally sold and used here. We think Mrs. Winslow has immortalized her name by this invaluable article, and we sincerely believe thousands of children have been saved from an early grave by its timely use, and that millions yet unborn will share its benefits, and unite in calling her blessed. No Mother has discharged her duty to her suffering little one, in our opinion, until she has given it the benefit of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup Try it, mothers—TRY IT NOW.—Ladies' Visitor, New York City.
