THE LIGHT THAT IS FELT.

JOHN G. WHITTIER.

We older children grope our way
From dark behind to dark before;
And only when our hands we lay,
Dear Lord, in Thine, the night is day,

Reach downward to the sunless days
Wherein our guides are blind as we,
And faith is small and hope delays;
Take Thou the hands of prayer we raise,
And let us feel the light of Thee!

light in prayer, or in speaking for Jesus in a season of revival, or in knowledge of the precious promise and truths of God, or to fervent in spirit serving the Lord. The injunction to grow in grace includes this grace as well as every other one; and we can only grow therein by cultivating it.

This grace of giving under the Lord is so intimately interwomen with all others that its exercise is a proof of one's sincerity in cultivating them. Faith without works is dead; and how can faith work save in our "giving ourselves to the Lord" to further his will—to carry out our mission to save?

- The Church must grope her way into the alleys and courts and purlieus of the city, and up the broken staircase and into the bare room, and beside the loathsome sufferer; she must go down into the pit with the miner, into the forecastle with the sailor, into the tent with the soldier, into the shop with the mechanic, into the factory with the operator, into the field with the farmer, into the counting-room with the merchant. Like the air, the Church must press equally on all the surfaces of society; like the sea, flow into every nook of the shore line of humanity; and like the sun, shine on things foul and low as well as fair and high, for she was organized, commissioned and equipped for the moral renovation of the whole world.

great body of revealed truths. These truths are addressed to the human intelligence. They are intended to be under-stood, and can be understood. In their larger features, the lie level with the apprehensions of all men. We do not mean to say that they can be grasped in all their amplitude of meaning or followed out to all their magnificent consequences. Neverthewe may get an effective hold upon them, and make an intelligent presentation of them. And this is the Christian minister's prime duty. He is constituted of God the bearer of a message—of a message sent from heaven and tinctured with the Spirit of its birth-place, and yet to be delivered through the vehicle of human utterance, and to accomplish its purpose in the salva-tion of human souls. This view of the matter adds immeasurable dignity to the minister and his office. - Richmond Advo-

OUR STATE CONTEMPORARIES.

Never before in its history has the University been so efficient an institution. Never before did it have so many good teachers, and never before so wide a range. But the people do not know it. Once a year the solemn trustees confer the degree of D. D. on three clergymen and tickle the political dignity of a gentleman or two with an LL. D. In the next solemn June that comes is the sacred walls of Memorial Hall one Episcopal clergyman, one Methodist clergyman, and one Presbyterian clergyman, and one or two political gentlemen will be crowned with this withered laurel. A solemn committee of the trustees will read a solemn report declaring that all is well in the Israel of the Fathers; and the honest great people will go away counting up the political or religious influence these politic deeds are supposed to have gained. The young, ambitious, bounding life of this great Commonwealth meanwhile looks to colleges elsewhere for the full satisfaction of its intellectual ambition,-Raleigh

The people are at fault, if the law of the land is inoperative and fails to command the respect due. It is the duty of every good citizen to uphold wholesome laws and to use his influence in bringing offenders to justice. There is too much stand-ing back and refusing to give assistance to the authorities by word or deed in the full execution of their lawful duties. There is too much winking at and screening, either directly or indirectly, wrong doers. More backbone in every community would not hurt. Every law-abiding citizen should feel that he is personally responsible for his omission to do what he ought to do in the preservation of good government, whether local, State or national. Let the law be enforced and then there would be no ground of complaint.—Chadbourn Times.

Three Months"

The Wilmington Stan has entered en its twelfth year—as good a paper as any people should want.

—Charlotte Democrat.

The Wilmington Star has entered on its twelfth year. As a daily journal of news it stands "up need."—Concord Register. The Wilmington Star has entered its twenty-fifth volume. There is no better paper published in the State.—Lenoir Topic.

The Wilmington STAR has entered its thirteenth year. It has become one of the leading papers of the South.—Oxford Torchlight. The Wilmington STAR is not only one of the best edited papers in the State, but for freshness of news and typograpical appearance cannot be beaten.—Jackson Reporter.

The Wilmington (N. C.) Morning Star is a mode of newspaper. Indeed, we think we do not exaggerate its merits when we say it is the newsissi (secular) paper published in the South.—Richmond (Va.) Resigious Heraid.

We like the STAR because it is thoroughly reliable, candid, fearless, and so well and ably edited, newsy, spicy, and in fact a perfect newspaper. Long may the STAR twinkle.—Mt. Airy Visitor.

Although at the head of the press in this State in all that makes a paper valuable to the reader, still it continues to improve. It is a STAR of the first magaitude. May its lustre never wane.—

The Free Will Baptist.

That magnificent beaming STAR has completed its twenty-second volume. It is one of the most brilliant, erudite and sparkling dallies south of the Potomac. The system in the get up of the paper surpasses them all.—Tarboro Southerner.

The Wilmington Star is now taking the regular midnight Associated Press reports, and has besides increased the amount of its reading matter. The STAR is an excellent paper. Its prosperity is not surprising since it is so deserving.—Charlot 2

The Wilmington Star, we are pleased to notice, still continues on the high road to success. We esteem the Star very highly, regarding it as one of the very best of our exchanges, and consider it the peer of any journal published in the South.—Oxford Free Lance.

The Wilmington Star has entered uponits 12th volume, and we are pleased to notice still continues on the road to success. We esteem the Star very highly, regarding it as one of the very best newspapers that comes to this office. Its news columns are always a little fuller than those of any other of our exchanges, and its editorial deartment is conducted with much ability.—Mcranton Riads.

Humble in its beginnings, as was inseparable from an enterprise begun amid the wreck of fortune that attended the collapse of the Southern Confederacy, the STAR has steadily "waxed" until it now beams resplendent in the full glow of a constantly brightening prosperity. As a neweraper it has few equals, and no superior, for arrispriate selection and judicious arrangement, and we are proud to rank it among our most accepts ble exchanges.—Hillsboro Recorder.

ble exchanges.—Hillsboro Recorder.

The Wilmington Morning Star has entered upon the thirteenth year of its existence, and we take this opportunity to congratulate it upon its prosperity and deserved popularity. The remarkable success of the Star is due to its strict attention to business. The boast of the Star (rightfully too) is that it always has the news, and this is the first thing in journalism. Otherwise the paper is all that the term of "good newspaper" implies, and its corps of editors and reporters are thoroughly educated newspaper men. May the healthy, moral influence of the Star never be retarded, and may its genial enterprising proprietor enjoy many more happy years of usefulness.—Goldsboro Messenger.

E. B. BORDEN,

The Morning Star

A tender child of summers three,
Seeking her little bed at night,
Paused on the dark stair timidly:
"Oh, mother! take my hand," said she,
"And then the dark will all be light."

And there is darkness nevermore.

The STAR is decidedly one of the best papers in the State, as bright and newsy as ever. Long life to it.—Salem Press.

The Wilmington STAB has entered upon its thirteenth year. It is one of the best papers in the State.—Warrenton Gazette.

The Wilmington STAR is one of the very best papers in the South, in every department from typo graphy up to editorial ability and independence. Petersburg (Va.) Index-Appeal.

The Wilmington STAR has now entered upon its thirteenth year and twenty-fifth volume. One of the best conducted and edited papers in the South and, as a North Carolinian, we are proud of it.—
Tarboro Southerner.

The STAR is so well and favorably known in this section of the State, that we can say nothing of which its thousands of readers do not already know. It is in every respect one of the best dai lies in the South.—Robsonian.

The Wilmington Star has entered on its twelfth year. It is a most excellent newspaper, well edited, a compendium of all the news of the day, and an honor to its city, to North Carolina and to North Carolina journalism.—Charlotte Observer.

The Times cannot say a word too good for the Wilmington Star. It has just reached one of its many birthdays. As a newspaper it is a favorite with the State press and is sought after by the people. Long and prosperous life to it.—Reidsville Times

Why is it that all the papers with the name of Star are such bright little journals? The Wilmington (N. C.) STAR, the Washington Star, the Fredericksburg Star, New York Star, for example. There must be something in a name after all.—Richmond (Va.) State.
