MAYTIME IN MIDWINTER. SWINBURNE.

The world, what is it to you, dear.

And me, if its face be gray.

And the new born year be a shrewd year

For flowers that the flerce winds fray?

You smile, and the sky seems blue, dear;

You laugh, and the month turns May.

Your hands through the bookshelves flutter; Scott, Shakespeare, Dickens, are caught; Blake's visions, that lighten and mutter; Moliere—and his smile has nought

Left on it of sorrow, to utter The secret things of his thought. No grim thing written or graven.

But grows, if you gaze on it, bright;

A lark's note rings from the raven, And tragedy's robe turns white; And shipwrecks drift into haven; And darkness laughs and is light.

Grief seems but a vision of madness; Life's key-note peals from above With nought in it more of sadness Than broods on the heart of a dove; At sight of you, thought grows gladness, And life, through love of you, love.

OUR STATE CONTEMPORARIES.

As good lawyers as there are in the State will accept the Judgeships for present wages and work better than some of the present occupants do. We mean no disrespect to any one but we mean to say what we think is right and just.—Charlote Dem-

No matter how thorough and efficient a teacher is, he cannot perform thirty hours work in six. He cannot de good work if he has to divide the time equally among twenty pupils which should be used in instructing two or three classes. This, however, is just what is required by the abominable division of common school books into infinitesimal series, the book bebooks into infinitesimal series, the book being enlarged in too many cases with superfluous matter. Adopt the one book system in the common schools as nearly as possible, and do not have so much nonessential taught, and those schools will become a much greater power for good.—Concord

The negroes will soon see that the white The negroes will soon see that the white men of this country are going to rule it, and that the best thing for them to do is to recognize this fact, to waste less time on politics, and to devote more attention to their own industrial pursuits. Ever since the war the negroes have been in dread lest the Democrats should get in power. They did not know what it was they feared, but, it was none the less an actual fear. They will soon see that their fears are groundless, and will then become better satisfied less, and will then become better satisfied and really free men. - Warrenton Gazette.

The OBSERVER will be a large 28-column weekly newspaper, and will be mailed to subscribers, postage paid, at $2 per annum, always in advance. It will give the news of the day in as ample form as its space will permit, and both regular and occasional correspondents will contribute letters from the Capital on State politics and affairs.

bute letters from the Capital on State pointes and affairs.

Democratic in politics, the Observer will labor, first of all, to assure the prosperity of the Town of Fayetteville, to develop the vast agricultural resources of its own and the neighboring counties, and to promote all that concerns the welfare of the people of North Carolina.

Opposed to such innovations on the homely ways of our fathers as, in the guise of progress, harm society, the Observer will be found in full sympathy with the new things own of the changed condition of the South which sound judgment or enlightened experience find to be also good.

As to the rest: It will strive to deserve the reputation of the name it inherits.

The Wilmington Stan has entered on its twelfth year—as good a paper as any people should want.

- Charlotte Democrat. The Wilmington Star has entered on its twelfth year. As a dally journal of news it stands "up head."—Concord Register. The Wilmington Stan has entered its twenty-fifth volume. There is no better paper published in the State.—Lenoir Topic.

The Wilmington STAR has entered upon its thirteenth year. It is one of the best papers in the State.—Warrenton Gazetts. The Wilmington Star has entered its thirteenth year. It has become one of the leading papers of the South.—Oxford Torchlight. The Wilmington Star is not only one of the best edited papers in the State, but for freshness of news and typograpical appearance cannot be beaten.—Jackson Reporter.

The Wilmington Stan is one of the very best papers in the South, in every department from ty pography up to editorial ability and independence.

Petersburg (Va.) Index-Appea. The Wilmington (N. C.) Morning Star is a mod-el newspaper. Indeed, we think we do not exag-gerate its merits when we say it is the newsist (secular) paper published in the South.—Richmond (Va.) Religious Herald.

The Wilmington Star has now entered upon its thirteenth year and twenty-fifth volume. One of the best conducted and edited papers in the South and, as a North Carolinian, we are proud of it.—
Tarboro Southerner. We like the STAR because it is thoroughly re-liable, candid, fearless, and so well and ably edited newsy, spicy, and in fact a perfect news-paper. Long may the STAR twinkle.—Mt. Airy Visitor.

Although at the head of the press in this State in all that makes a paper valuable to the reader, still it continues to improve. It is a STAR of the first magaitude. May its lustre never wane.—

The Free Will Baptist.

The STAR is so well and favorably known in this section of the State, that we can say nothing of which its thousands of readers do not already know. It is in every respect one of the best dai lies in the South.—Robesonian. That magnificent beaming STAR has completed its twenty-second volume. It is one of the most brilliant, erudite and sparkling dailies south of the Potomac. The system in the get up of the paper surpasses them all.—Tarboro Southerner.

The Wilmington Star has entered on its twelfth year. It is a most excellent newspaper, well edited, a compendium of all the news of the day, and an honor to its city, to North Carolina and to North Carolina journalism.—Charlotte Observer. The Wilmington Stan is now taking the regular sides increased the amount of its reading matter. The Star is an excellent paper. Its prosperity is not surprising since it is so deserving.—Charlot's Observer.

The Times cannot say a word too good for the Wilmington Star. It has just reached one of its many birthdays. As a newspaper it is a favorite with the State press and is sought after by the people. Long and prosperous life to it.—Reidsville Times The Wilmington Star, we are pleased to notice, still continues on the high road to success. We esteem the Star very highly, regarding it as one of the very best of our exchanges, and consider it the peer of any journal published in the South.—Oxford Free Lance.

Why is it that all the papers with the name of Star are such bright little journals? The Wilmington (N. C.) Star, the Washington Star, the Fredericksburg Star, New York Star, for example. There must be something in a name after all.— The Wilmington Star has entered uponits 12th volume, and we are pleased to notice still continues on the road to success. We esteem the Star very highly, regarding it as one of the very best newspapers that comes to this office. Its news columns are always a little fuller than those of any other of our exchanges, and its editorial deartment is conducted with much ability.—Mcr. Humble in its beginnings, as was inseparable from an enterprise begun amid the wreck of fortune that attended the collapse of the Southern Confederacy, the STAR has steadily "waxed" until it now beams resplendent in the full glow of a constantly brightening prosperity. As a neweraper it has few equals, and no superior, for apprehenses election and judicious arrangement, and we are proud to rank it among our most accepts ble explances. Hillsborg Recorder.

The Wilmington MORNING STAR has entered upon the thirteenth year of its existence, and we take this opportunity to congratulate it upon its take this opportunity to congratulate it upon its prosperity and deserved popularity. The remarkable success of the Star is due to its strict attention to business. The boast of the Star (rightfully too) is that it always has the news, and this is the first thing in journalism. Otherwise the paper is all that the term of "good newspaper" implies, and its corps of editors and reporters are thoroughly educated newspaper men. May the healthy, moral influence of the Star never be retarded, and may its genial enterprising proprietor enjoy many more happy years of usefulness.—Goldsboro Messenger.
