will be sold at auction for a division. The sale of the Sun has been a certainty since detailed the particulars attending the disthe death of Mr. Josiah Evans. --- On covery of the body Wednesday afternoon, Sunday moraing about 11 o'clock it was ascertained that the ice house owned by Mr. G. A. Thomson and Mr. B. E. Sedand stated that he notified the Chief of Police berry, situated near Mims' Mill was on fire. The fire was evidently the work of an incendiary. The building was valued at $400, and was not insured. --- From Mr. Stephen Royals, who lives not a great ways from this place we learn the following facts regarding the visitation of a terrific gale, in Sampson county on the night of the 22d The blow occurred near South River, ult. at a point equi distant from this place and Clinton. Mr. John Jackson had all of the houses on, his plantation elevelled to the ground, two of his children were struck by falling timbers and serious-ly injured. His horse was crippled and four hogs in pens were killed, one of which was carried several hundred yards from the pen. Mr. O. Jackson had all of the houses on his place destroyed, including the dwelling house-a two story substantial building, but no one was hurt. Mr. Thomas Jackson had a part of the buildings on his place razed to the ground. Mr. John Calvin lost the top of his saw mill which was blown into the mill pond. A man by the name of Warren had his dwelling blown off the pillars and unroofed. A stack pole was taken from the field of Mr. John Jackson and carried eight miles. The path of the cyclone was narrow but the destruction left in its wake marks it one of severity. We have heard of no one being injured except the two children of Mr. Jackson. Since writing the above we learn that Goshen Church

Deceased had been under the treatment of a physician for the last ten years, but during the most of the time has been able to attend to his business. Wednesday night he was at a meeting of the J. C. Abbott Post No. 15, G. A. R, and was installed as quartermaster. He complained of feeling a little unwell and said he hoped the ceremonies of installation would be gotten through with as soon as possible. Being up so late the night previous, it was expected that he would sleep, late yesterday morning, and it was not until the hour named that some one went to call him and found him dead. He had left his bed and dressed himself before the final summons came. Deceased will be interred at the National cemetery, permission to that end having been obtained from the Secretary of War, Berden being a discharged soldier. He was about 42 years of age, and leaves a wife.
