EVENING EDITION

NOTES ON THE MESSAGE.

The Governor has same good words for the Department of Agriculture. The Board has done well and deserves praise. He recommends an additional expenditure in the purchase of a lot adjoining the Agricultural Building. He says:

"There should be erected on that lot a permanent Exhibition Building, in which the material now belonging to the Board, and which has attracted so much attention at Boston, at Raleigh, and at New Orleans should be placed. This collection should be added to from time to time, and should be made to include all agricultural pro ducts and approved agricultural implements. In this way the State can soon have a collection in which our people would feel a great pride, and which they would visit with interest; and to the capitalist seeking places and objects for investment, it would be invaluable. The building should be made substantially fire-proof. Such a building can be constructed without any great outlay of money. All the brick and stone can be prepared at the Penitentiary."

He says ten thousand dollars will be required. As the present Museum is inadequate and North Carolina within two years has made a fresh start in the race of progress and development, it may be well enough to erect the building proposed, for the Department of Agriculture was secured at a low price, and ten or twenty years hence it will probably sell for three or four times its cost.

The Governor speaks encouraging-

ly of the employment of convict labor upon railroads, and in the swamps. He thinks they can be advantageously used for years to come in the construction of short lines feeding the main trunks of the State. He says the work done in White Oak and Dover Swamps is satisfactory. A good road has been opened through them, and sickness was a rare thing. Work is now being prosecuted at Augola Bay, in Pender, and a road will be constructed there. The Governor asks that any act authorizing local boards to control the work be repealed. He says the State Board of Education should have control. He says work done under local boards has been found expensive. He says it is expensive to work convicts in small squads. He says the applications for convicts are be repealed or the Penitentiary will become an expensive institution. He asks that the Board of Directors be alone empowered to farm them out. and he suggests that the number of Directors be increased to nine, and that they should meet quarterly. The Governor does not touch upon the propriety and humanity of farming out convicts, a question that is much discussed in the North, and that is universally condemned by the press of that section. Crime is so abounding among the negroes that it them to work outside then we do not see that opposition can be well based on humane considerations. The convicts are fed and clothed and housed much better than they were before they violated the law and broke into the Penitentiary. As long as their health and comfort are closely looked after, and they are not made to work excessively, they ought to be made to contribute to the welfare of the State and to sustain themselves whilst serving out their sentences. Many of them like Penitentiary life, and others like outside work as it gives them a chance for liberty. The white tax-payers ought not to be made to bear much of the burdens incident to punishing thieves and scoundrels. The Governor takes a survey of the Railroads. Many of them have failed to make reports as required by law. He advises the Legislature to sue the delinquents for the penalty or repeal the law. He does not think the reports are necessary unless there is a Commissioner or some other officer to look into the matter, and with some power to act. He thinks a Commissioner would be of service.

"If we had such an officer there would be less cause for complaint, for neither corporation nor citizen would be likely to do things which could not be justified, if it was known that investigation and publication were sure to follow. I do not advise you to go as far as some other States have gone, and give this officer the power to fix ates and schedules."

Seventy-five convicts are at work on the Western North Carolina Railroad. Of the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Road he says:

"The work done upon this road and the number of miles completed and put in operation since the sale, is a complete justification of the wisdom of the Legislature in selling the State's interest in said road. The trains then ran from Fayettrville to Egypt; now they run from Bennettsville, S. C., to Greensboro, N. C., with thirtyfive cr forty miles of graded road north of the latter place. I referred six years ago in my inaugural address to the completion of this road to Wilmington.

"While I regret that it so happened that this important line of road could not be term of office, I rejoice in the belief that will be done during the administration of the distinguished citizen who succeeds me."

The construction of a road from Wilmington to Fayetteville is an imperative necessity. If Wilmington is to ever derive the great benefit from this connection with the Mt. Airy section it must be by having a direct line and close connection with the road at Fayetteville. There ought not to be any unnecessary delay in this very important matter.

The Atlantic and North Carolina Road has been much improved in the last two years and is in good condition. The following is important The Governor says:

"Recent decisions of the Federal Courts have changed my opinion as to the legal status of the State's interest in this property, and I now believe it to be of such value that the State should not part with it without due investigation and valuable consideration, but this valuable considera tion may be, in the construction of other roads, as well as in the payment of money. "There is a mortgage debt of about $225,000 now upon the property, and most f this falls due in the next five years. I therefore suggest that you pass an act at this session authorizing the Board of Direc tors to execute a new mortgage and issue new bonds with which to take up the old."

He calls attention to this port and the improvement in the navigation of the Cape Fear. He speaks encouragingly of our commerce and of the importance of fostering it. He recommends an appropriation of $3,-000 to erect a hospital for seamen at Smithville, the Governor to have control of its disbursement. Such hospital should be erected.

SPEECHES BY COL. GREEN. Hon. Wharton J. Green has made two speeches in the House since the holidays. On the 5th of January he spoke in favor of the repeal of certain internal taxes-those on tobacco and spirits distilled from fruit. This is the best speech as to style that the Colonel has delivered in Congress. Of course we dissent from his views, but we admire the vim and eargerness with which he formulated his objections as well as the classical flavor and rhetorical excellence of many passages in his speech. As we have so often written in favor of taxing the vices-the luxuries, believing that of all things on earth that can very numerous and he asks that all best bear a heavy tax whiskey, beer, laws farming them out to local boards wines, tobacco, cigars, snuff and cigarettes are those things, we will not attempt any refutation of our friend's points. The bill upon which he spoke has been defeated by a tremendous majority. In fact when you look at the small number that could be mustered in its favorwe believe it was - it is a matter of wonderment. Pennsylvania gave some 15 Protection votes for it. Some thirty-odd Republicans voted for it, and we believe that every one of them is a abounding among the negroes that it becomes a necessity if the Penitentiary is to be continued that they should be made to earn their living. If the made to earn their living. If the made to earn their living. If the made to earn their living to bacco planter does not pay one cent the south of appeal to the people of the State. Col. Green favored "revenue reduction" rather than total abolition of all internal revenue. His words

"From my first acquaintance with Jeremy Bentham and Adam Smith, proximate free trade has been the creed of my political life. But inasmuch as tariff reform has been relegated to a future day, I am no less the advocate of 'internal revenue' reduction; and especially for internal revenue modification as regards the mode, system and manner of collection.'

He denounced in scathing and de served terms the great and manifold abuses under the system, on the part of the collectors. It was because of these abuses that the STAR nearly two years ago began to agitate for. change of system-a change in the manner of collecting. Col. Green says vigorously and graphically:

"I arraign them, as a class, of high crimes and misdemeaners, in various way and repeated instances; of violations of the law a hundred-fold greater than his who distills without license or otherwise evades the payment of the tax which constitutes their pretext for overriding, rough-shod time honored barriers. I charge them with perjury and subornation of perjury; of du-plicity and espoinage; of bribe-taking and bribe-giving; of connivance with frauds on the revenue which they are charged to col-lect; of extortion under threats and intimidation; of insolence of office most offensive and unwarranted; of forcible entry into the sanctity of homes and, I blush to speak it, of violating, in one at least well authenticated instance in my State, that sanctity in a way most repulsive and loathsome to hones manhood. I charge them with provoking through premeditation and design innocen violations of the law by the ambiguity of instructions, that they might seize upon the property of honest and innocent men. I charge them with persistently tampering with the freedom of elections by bribery or intimidation. And, finally, Mr. Speaker, I charge them with murders many, most foul, and unprovoked." If Southern Democrats had worked together for a change in the manner of collecting instead of making futile attempt to wipe out the tax that is absolutely needed to prevent a deficit in the Treasury, before this the change might have been made nd the abusers and persecutors the people would have been gotten rid of before this. Col. Green was willing to keep up the tax if the States had the taxing, Give him the taxes that were collected and he

"I will agree to take the job, and pay good bonus for the privilege, of carrying on the State government as now administered, support a munificent system of common schools, maintain a university or two, besides a home for disabled Confederate soldiers and an orphan asylum, and relieve every other article in the State of one iota of taxation. Here is a fair proposition: i the tax must be imposed let the sheriff col

On the 8th of January, he spoke again, and on an amendment he of fered to the Reagan bill compelling all railroads to have an express car marked "Speed," to carry all articles now transported by the Express lines at not more than 100 per cent. over ordinary freight charges. His remarks were pointed and plain. He said, among other things:

"Mr. Speaker, there is no use in mincing The profits of the express company under this delectable system, and they are enormous, when sifted down constitute an aggregation of petty swindles Whatever the road can afford to farm out the privileges at, that with a reasona-ble percentage added for subagents, &c., is the proper gauge of measure and the aggregate of legitimate charge that it can consci entiously exact from the public if it did what it should do and what it should be made to do-attend to its own business instead of delegating it to another. The proposition covered by the resolution will probably be combated on the ground that patronage is not compulsory; in plainer terms, that no one is compelled to submit to the extortion. It is the India-inked plea of monoplists. As a rule it is fallacious, as most certainly is here."

We do not know what became the amendment.

What Will To-Morrow Bring? Don't know. Either clear weather or cloudy. Either storm or sunshine. Either sickness or health, or else, perhaps, a middling condition half way between one and the other. If you are ailing and poorly today, you may be enjoying relief to-morrow, if you will only take Brown's Iron Bitters. If you have this prince of tonics in the house, look joyfully and hopefully for the coming of the morrow. It cures neuralgia, headache, dyspepsia, weakness, etc.

Buffalo Lithia Water FOR MAI-ARIAL POISONING.

USE OF IT IN A CASE OF YELLOW FEVER. DB. WM. T. HOWARD, OF BALTIMORE, Professor of Diseases of Women and Children in the University of Maryland. Dr. Howard attests the common adaptation of this water in "a wide range of cases" with that of the far-famed White Sulphur Springs, in Green-brier county, West Virginia, and adds the follow-

"Indeed, in a certain class of cases it is much superior to the latter. I allude to the abiding debility attendant upon the tardy convalescence from grave acute diseases; and more especially to the Cachezia and Sequels incident to Malarious Fevers, in all their grades and varieties, to certain forms of Atonic Dyspepsia, and all the Affections Peculiar to Women that are remediable at all the princes whether the property agent Legislations to by mineral waters. In short, were I called upon to state from what mineral waters I have seen the great est and most unmistakable amount of good accrue in the largest number of cases in a general way I would unhesitatingly say the Buffato Springs, in Mecklenburg county, Va." Dr. O. F. MANSON, OF RICHMOND, VA.,

Late Professor of General Pathology and Physio-logy in the Medical College of Virginia: "I have observed marked sanative effects from the Buffalo Water in Malarial Cachexia, Antonic Dyspepsia, some of the Peculiar Affections of Women, Anomia, Hypochondriasis, Cardiac Palpitations, &c. It has been especially efficacious in Chronic Intermittent Fever, numerous cases of this character, which had obstinately withstood the usual remedies, having been restored to perfect health in a brief space of time by a sojourn at the Springs."

DR. JOHN W. WILLIAMSON, JACKSON, TENN. Extracts from Communication on the Therapeutic Action of the Buffalo Lithia Water in the "Firginia Medical Monthly" for February, 1877:

"Their great value in Malarial Diseases and Sequels has been most abundantly and satisfactorily tested; and I have no question that it would have been a valuable auxiliary in the treatment of the epidemic of Yellow Fever which so terribly affilicted the Mississippi Valley during the past summer. I prescribed it myself, and it gave prompt relief in a case of Suppression of Urine, in Yellow Fever, and decidedly mitigated other distressing and dangerous symptoms. The patient recovered, but how far the water may have contributed to that result (having prescribed it in but buted to that result (having prescribed it in but a single case) I, of course, cannot undertake to say. There is no doubt, however, about the fact that its administration was attended by the most benefi-
