Replying to an absurd remark of Representative Hiscock that there "was no more onerous tax on the poor man than the tax on tobacco." Mr. Kimball, chief of the Internal Revenue Department, says:

"The total collections, including special taxes from tobacco during the last fiscal year, were a little over $26,000,000, while the import duties collected on sugar and molasses during the same period aggregated nearly $49,000,000. Now, sugar and molasses are articles of necessity, used by 55,000,000 of people. Tobacco, snuff and cigars are classed, and properly so, as articles of luxury. The consumption of these articles in the country is by no means gen-One half the entire population, comprising the females, are, with comparatively few exceptions, non-consumers of tobacco in any form. Of the other half two-fifths at least are minors under fifteen years of age, and they are also distined, and properly so, as non-consumers of tobacco. Of the remaining three-tenths of the population only about one-half can be claimed to be consumers of tobacco. In other words, the number of tobacco users in the United States is not supposed to exceed 8,000,000.

The heavy reduction made in the tax on tobacco has benefitted the chewers and smokers but little if any.

Gen. Robert Edward Lee was born January 19th, 1807. If he had lived until last Monday he would have been but 78 years of age. He has been dead more than fourteen years. We believe that of all men born in America, he was the greatest soldier. Such is the judgment of Europe, and such will be the judgment of history, we have no doubt. Tested by what he did and the circumstances under which he did it, he is the greatest of our military men. His character was as lovely and grand as his achievements were splendid and solid. We revere him as much as we do Washington and love his memory more.

The Savannah News notes the fol lowing startling information and the person referred to is, we suppose, Mr. George Chadbourn:

"The Republican papers are asserting on the alleged testimony of W. C. Crum, of Tampa, Fla., that George Chadwell, of Wilmington, N. C., has in his possession a book of correspondence printed during the war on Confederate paper, which contains letters sustaining Gen. Sherman's charge against ex President Davis. The Philadel phia Press says Chadwell is a wealthy and highly respectable lumber dealer, who has been in business in Wilmington since 1852. The War Department should send a brigade after the letters without delay."

There has been a good deal of stir in the past few days in Shoe Heel over the failure of merchant E L. McCormac, whose liabilities foot up $45,000. One day last week there were nine lawyers in Shoe Heel at work on the failure in the interest of different creditors and it is believed that matters were adjusted to the satisfaction of all parties concerned. The oldest boy, to whom the first accident occurred, is six years of age, and the younger one, who was crippled the next day, is but three years old.

- Raleigh Chronicle: A lively discussion was engaged in on Market square this morning by several business men and prominent farmers, the subject being the condition of the country roads; and all of them expressed the opinion that something should be done, whatever the cost, towards a permanent improvement of public highways. - Mr. Schurz's ip through the South, he said, was undertaken very largely to enable him to study on the ground many interesting Southern problems—to meet the people and to see the progress the country is making. Vance will arrive in Raleigh to-morrow evening on the Raleigh & Gaston train, and will attend the inaugural ceremonies on Wednesday. - In many respects that was a neat little political tilt in the House on Saturday touching Mr. Lockey's bill to repeal the law making imprisonment possible for not paying taxes. Mr. King, of Onslow, reminded Mr Lockey that his desire to shave the Democratic party down to smaller majorities had its origin in Mr. Lockey's training as a barber. — Two accurate lawyers have made a calculation which shows that the Superior Court in Wake county costs ninety cents a minute during its session-$54 an hour-to the State, the county and the people. Upon this suggestion they very pertinently ask whether petty laseeny ought not to be a matter for the determination of a lower and less costly court. - This week the Legislature will do much serious work. Up to the present it cannot be accused of wasting much, if any, time; and two questions of general importance have practically been settled—the reduction of marriage licenses and the refusal to increase the salary of the State officers. The temper of the Legislature has also been shown unmistakably to be in favor of such a readjustment of the judiciary as the crowded dockets of the

THE COUNTERFEITER.

Preliminary Examination Before U S. Commissioner Gardner. The case of Ben Allen, charged with counterfeiting, had a preliminary hearing before U. S. Commissioner T. M. Gardner vesterday morning. District Attorney Robinson appeared in behalf of the government. The prisoner had no counsel. Asion of the woman in whose house the counterfeiting was done was first examined, but was either a very unwilling witness or knew but little about the case, with the exception that he asked his mother for money one day and she directed him to ask Allen. He did so, and Allen gave him two fifty-cent pieces. He afterwards tried to pass the money and was told it was worthless, Officer J. W. Whitney, who was one of the officers concerned in the arrest, was the only other witness, examined, and his testimony was substantially in accordance with the statement already given in the STAR. At its conclusion the District Attorney said that no further evidence was necessary, and called upon the Court to bind the prisoner over in the sum of $1,000 for his appearance at the next term of the U. S. District Court The prisoner here impulsively exclaimed to the District Attorney that he was not giving him a chance to make a statement or say anything in his own behalf. He was told by the attorney that he was at liberty to make a statement but he warned him, as he had done in the outset, not to say anything to criminate

Allen then jumped up and commenced a tirade, the purport of which seemed to be to try to implicate some white man in the crime and to censure all concerned for what he claimed to be discrimination in the matter. His language was of course a most flagrant contempt of court, but, as the District Attorney remarked, it was one that could not be directly punished, under the circumstances, as the defendant was going

The witnesses, with the exception of the son of the woman implicated, were then recognized and the prisoner was remanded to

A preliminary hearing in the case of Louisa Allen will take place before Commissioner Gardner this morning, at 10 o'clock, in the U.S. court-room.

the Hook & Ladder Company was disallowed on the ground that the average of the appropriation for the current fiscal year for the Fire Department is overdrawn. Also the collections for the nine months ending December 81st, of the present fiscal year, are nearly $9,000 short of the correspond ing period of last fiscal year. The Board, however, recognize the necessity of the company having another horse, and think it should be provided for in the budget for the ensuing fiscal year, to be made in March. In the matter relating to the fixing of Jacob's spring and the sewer leading therefrom, the Board declined to act until the cost of the work shall have first been ascertained; but will approve of an expenditure not to exceed $100 towards procuring the desired information. In the tax matter of J. W. Collins, Secretary and Treasurer of the Mechanics Building and Loan Association, where it appears that two parties had listed the same piece of property, one having paid the tax in full and the other $21 on ac. count, for the year 1872, it was ordered that said Loan Association be allowed $21 to offset any one year that the tax had not been paid on the property. Coupons, amounting to $2,664, which had been redeemed and cancelled, were burned in the presence of the Board.

District Attorney W. S. O'B. Robinson was here yesterday to look after the counterfeiting case, which was investigated by U. S. Commissioner Gardner. A committee, representing the German citizens of Wilmington, called upon Mr. Schurz, vesterday evening, at the residence of Rev. CARL SCHUBZ.

Before commenting upon the lecture delivered last night, we will say a few words about this distinguished German, which may be of interest to our readers. Carl Schurz was born at Tiblar, near Cologne, on the 2d of March, 1829, and came to the United States in 1852. He served in the Federal army and was made a Major General, and after this served aix years as U.S. Senator from Missouri. He was Secretary of the Interior under Hayen' administration, but in the last campaign was an earnest ad vecate for the election of Cleveland, and aided him no little by his advocacy.

Mr. Schurz delivered his lecture, "The Problems of Education," at the Opera House, under the auspices of the Wilmington Library Association, and was introduced most appropriately by Col. A. M. Waddell. He showed in language plain and simple that the way to educate was not to burden the child with numberless useless studies, but to teach it sometifies practical, which would be of use in after life. The greatest part of the lecture was devoted to the subject of educating our girls to become useful women and good mothers, and he demonstrated most forcibly the great good that would come from this. If girls are brought up simply with the idea that they must do nothing but look pretty and strive to be leaders of fashion, then it would be far better for them when children to inhale the deadly miasma of the East, which blights only the body, than to be reared under such influences which will blight mind, body and soul, and cause them to be a curse rather than a blessing. The strongest tie on earth is the one that binds the child to its mother, and the only way to keep this tie inviolate is to educate our girls to be practical, and teach them that their duty to God and themselves is not to bedeck themselves with jewels and silks, and think only of the latest style, but to learn to make home attractive, and to fit themselves for the sphere in which God has placed them. The lecture last night was full of information, and Mr. Schurz, though deficient in oratory, is a man of undoubted ability. His language was chaste and powerful, and every word that was uttered was fully weighed and evinced deep research and vast information. His points were as clear and as logical as a mathematical demonstration, and carried conviction to his hearers.

A Dangerous Practice.

We are not prepared to say that it is common occurrence, but we understand that on last Sunday there was an exhibition of recklessness in the use of fire-arms in the neighborhood of the mill at Greenfield Pond, just beyond the southern suburbs of the city, that was extremely dangerous. A gentleman who was walking out in that vicinity was at one time seriously alarmed for his safety. He counted twenty-five shots in rapid succession, and some of the balls whistled uncomfortably near his head, reminding him of war times, when the "Minnies" were flying around

Feeling himself in imminent danger of being shot down in his tracks, he shouted at the unknown marksmen to stop shooting, but they continued firing at in-

This locality is a regular thoroughfare especially on Sundays, when men, women and children in considerable numbers indulge in strolls in that direction. This promiscuous shooting is extremely dangerous, therefore, as we stated, and if there is any law or authority to prevent it, the same should be enforced.

A Walking Match.

A ripple of excitement was started on the wharf yesterday afternoon by the carrying out of an agreement between Capt. M. H. Rich, of the Schr. J. P. Auger, and Mr. W. N. Harriss, to engage in a walking match. The proposition was to walk three times around the block bounded by Princess, Front, Chesnut and North Water, the distance being about three-quarters of a mile. The start was made from a telegraph pole near the corner of North Water and Princess, and the understanding was that the one who got beaten in the match should set up eigars for the crowd. Both the contestants showed pluck and endurrance, as well as skill in pedestrianism, but Mr. Harriss came out the winner and apparently almost as fresh as at the start while Capt. Rich appeared to be "rather
