Four persons were killed and eight injured in a railroad wreck near Creston, Ia. The British Cabinet order Lord Wolsey to prosecute the campaign in Egypt until the rebellion is suppressed...

Spirits Turpentine

New Berne Journal: Died, on Feb. 6th, 1885, of Bright's disease, Paul Jones, aged 36 years. Lincoln Press: The word "dogs" spoken in the North Carolina Legislature has pretty much the same effect as "dynamite" would have if uttered in the English Parliament.

Warrenton Gazette

Warrenton is in better condition than it has been since the war, and our people are going to keep it that way. They tired of the old plan, have turned over a new leaf and are determined upon more prosperous times.

Raleigh Visitor

Washington's birthday, which, this year, falls on Sunday, will be celebrated at the University of N. C. on Monday the 23rd. There will be appropriate exercises. Mr. Sol C. Weill, will be the orator of the day, assisted by Mr. John W. Wood as introductory orator and Messrs. Robert L. Grissom and Francis Womack, as marshals.

Raleigh Chronicle

Every Saturday a number of the members of the General Assembly who live near enough, go home; and Saturday afternoon is an "off" time in two senses of the word. "The Senate," remarked an old observer yesterday, "has all the gabble in it this time. They are having much more personal privilege and controversies than the House has had many times before."

Correspondent of Manufacturer's Record

Some idea of the extent to which the lumber interest in Western North Carolina is developed can be seen at Alexandria, on the Western North Carolina Railroad, where there are several magnificent piles of the finest poplar lumber I have ever seen. This comes from the woods of Buncombe county, in the vicinity of Weaverville, and is gotten up by Capt. Coleman. It sells at $23 a thousand, sawed into 16-foot lengths and delivered on the railroad cars. There are several hundred thousand feet for sale.

Wilson Advance

There exists, we regret to hear, not a good feeling between the lawyers and laymen in the House. "Wilson county ought to be proud of its representatives," said a prominent Western gentleman. "O'Connor is recognized as the ablest lawyer in the Senate, and Woodard stands with Busbee and Womack and Worthington and Overman in the House," added the gentleman. "No county has better representatives."

Raleigh News-Observer

It is said to be extremely probable that the number of Superior Court judges will be increased to thirteen. The three Greek letter societies now allowed at Chapel Hill are the Alpha Tau Omega, Kappa Alpha and Phi Kappa Sigma. The anniversary of the Kuzelian and Phetomathean societies occurs the 18th inst. at Wake Forest College.

Washington Post

The Washington special in the Boston Post, dated 4th, says that the impression is growing in Washington that both Bayard and Garland will remain in the Senate. It says: "The view of retaining the strong men among the Democrats in that body is becoming more and more apparent. Mr. Garland can be more easily spared than Mr. Bayard, for, without an exception, the latter, during the present session, has thoroughly represented Mr. Cleveland's policy."

Mrs. Dudley has received threatening letters.

Here is one and the spelling shows the probable associations of the lad: "Result Dudley, I am an Irish Boy 16 years old. I have read about your shooting O'Donovan Rossa. You think you had done something great, but remember you shall pay dear for it. You will be sorry you ever came from England, but all the money you can get won't save you from being shot through the heart. You are not a dirty English spy. I swear that you shall never leave this country alive I shall wait for you at your trial, and the first chance I get I will show you down like a Dog, and then your friends can do as they like."

President Arthur is said to be a very gay sort of a "good fellow" and loves his potatoes. Here is a rumor of the doings in the White House:

"There is an ill concealed anxiety to get rid of the guests early in the night. The President however, who is the best of hosts select few, and when the others have departed then comes on a very 'high old time,' which continues until 4 o'clock in the morning. The correspondent of the New York Herald, in alluding to these night orgies, says that a certain Representative made a boast that he drank two bottles of champagne and one of whiskey at a recent all-night supper given by the President, and that frequently the ladies of the White House clique sit through the festivities."

reading the fine speech of Senator Vance on the inter-state commerce bill, delivered in the Senate Tuesday, one of the best efforts I ever heard him make, an intellectual Kentucky observed to me that strong as Beck is he considered Vance as an ardent and more progressive man.

"For hard horse sense," said this gentleman, "your Senator is superior to any man in the Senate." Col. Green said this morning that he should offer at the first opportunity two amendments to the river and harbor bill. One of $5,000 for New river, left out of the bill, and the other of $25,000 to be expended on the Upper Cape Fear, between Fayetteville and Averysboro, and Wilmington and Fayetteville, the amounts respectively $10,000 and $15,000. This would increase the appropriation from the $70,000 to $100,000. I learn that the prospect is that the whole of the Cape Fear appropriation will be $150,000 or $200,000 as increased by the Senate.

Judge Gilliam, of Tarboro, and Mr. Harry Skinner, of the first district, the younger brother of Representative Tom Skinner, arrived here to-day. The former is a candidate for an important Federal position. The fight for the collectorship in the fourth revenue district is mainly between James B. Balle, Esq., of Nash, and Col. Wm. Yarborough, of Upper Cape Fear. Mrs. G. M. Harris, of Tarboro, prominent contestant for the Tarboro postoffice. Mrs. Pender is supposed to be in the lead. At Oxford the leading candidates for the postoffice are Arch Taylor and E. Hubbell Hicks, Esqs. Samuel A. Ashe, Esq., editor of the News and Observer, is believed to be the strongest contestant for the position of postmaster at Raleigh.

A number of journalists have had their eyes turned within a few days to Hon. Henry G. Turner, of Georgia, late of Henderson, N. C., as a suitable man for the postmaster generalship or some other place in the cabinet. He is believed to be a man after Mr. Cleveland's own heart.

Weill, of this city, is the orator for the occasion, with Mr. John W. Wood introductory orator. Mr. R. W. Grissom and Mr. Francis Womack are the marshals.

Criminal Court Matters-A Committee from Charlotte.

H. A. Bagge, Esq., Chairman of our Board of County Commissioners, has received notification to the effect that a committee, appointed at a recent meeting in Charlotte, consisting of Chairman T. L. Vail and Col. J. L. Brown, of the Board of County Commissioners of Mecklenburg, was expected to leave Charlotte for this place yesterday afternoon, for the purpose of conferring with the bar of this city and examining into the Criminal Court system it being understood that after such examination the committee will draw up a bill to establish a criminal circuit composed of the counties of New Hanover and Mecklenburg. The committee will be pleased to meet all interested at the Parcell House this morning; Chairman Bagge being requested to make such preparations for the conference and investigation of our Criminal Court system as may tend to enable the committee to faithfully and intelligently discharge the trust imposed upon its members.

Church Property.

After the session at the First Baptist Church, on Sunday last, the pastor announced that he wanted to raise an amount of money sufficient to pay for repairs upon the church spire and for the property in the southern part of the city, recently purchased by the church to be used as a home for the destitute, aged and infirm sisters of the denomination in our midst, and as a place at which to hold prayer meetings or other religious exercises whenever desirable. The sum of $800 was subscribed on the spot and the remainder of the amount secured. The property referred to is on the northeast corner of Fifth and Wooster streets. The large two-story dwelling, to be used as a home, is being put in good repair, and a neat chapel is being built in which to hold religious services. The location is a very pretty one and the property bids fair to be valuable in time.

Larceny and Attempted Arson.

As Stephen Johnson, a colored employe of the Star office, who resides on Sixth, between Castle and Queen streets, was on his way home from the office on Saturday night last, between 8 and 9 o'clock, when he had reached a point not far from his residence, he was suddenly startled by a loud scream proceeding from his house. He hurried home as fast as he could and found his house full of smoke and one of his beds in a light blaze. By prompt measures the fire was soon brought under submission. Johnson's wife gives the following particulars: A colored girl by the name of Susan Mohawk was in the employ of the family. On the evening in question Johnson's wife told the girl to go home, as she wanted to close up the house to go to a grocery store for some articles she had neglected to get during the day. The girl insisted upon remaining, but was told positively that her services would not be required any longer that evening. In the meantime Johnson's wife went out to get some wood, and when she returned the girl was missing. While wondering at the suddenness of the girl's departure the dog betrayed her presence under a table in the room, and she was hustled out. It seems that Johnson kept what money he had in a box, which he concealed under the washstand. A few days before, in sweeping the room, his wife struck her foot against the box, which caused the contents of silver to rattle, which was heard by the girl. Her suspicions against the girl, however, were not aroused at the time. She proceeded to the shop, in accordance with her intentions as expressed above, thinking the girl had gone home, and as she was returning she met the girl leaving the house with something under her arm. She hurried on, and getting home just before her husband reached there, she discovered the room full of smoke and the bed on fire. Then it was that she gave the scream that hastened the footsteps of her approaching husband. Her first thought was of the money, and she attempted to snatch the box from its place of concealment, and it was gone, but in its place, or in the immediate proximity, she found a handkerchief belonging to Susan Mohawk. Sunday morning Stephen found his lamp on the opposite side of the street from his house, and between his house and the home of the girl he picked up on the street a piece of the box in which the money was kept, bearing certain initials cut by him with a knife.

Personals.

It was announced in the last Henderson Gold Leaf that Rev. Alex. Sprunt would preach at the Presbyterian Church in that place on Sunday last. The Gold Leaf adds: "Mr. Sprunt is a native of this State, being raised at Wilmington, but is now preaching in Augusta county, Va. He visits Henderson upon an invitation to become the pastor of the Presbyterian Church here."

Rev. J. F. Carraway, Presiding Elder of the Wilmington District M. E. Church, South, preached two very acceptable sermons on Sunday, at the Front Street Methodist Church, the occasion being the first quarterly meeting for the present Conference year at that church. His morning sermon, especially, was a stirring presentation of the truths of the gospel, and had its effect upon the audience.

Mr. W. N. Harris returned Sunday from a flying trip to Charleston, S. C., on the schooner Thos. Svinickson.

Justice J. C. Mills is confined to his home by sickness.

A New Project-The Mt. Holly & Denver Railroad.

We see by the Lincoln Press that a charter has been applied for to build a road to run from Mt. Holly, on the Carolina Central, to Denver, in the northeastern part of Lincoln county, to be operated as a branch of the Carolina Central, the management of that road having offered to furnish the iron, lay it and operate the road, if the citizens along the line would furnish the crosses and grade the road, which the Press is assured they will do. The road will skirt along the magnificent Catawba river, bottom, passing near Mountain Island Mills, by Canler's, Lowesville, Triangle, near Beattie's Ford to Denver, opening up a fine cotton country, the bulk of the cotton crop of the county being raised in the section through which the road will run, in addition to which the fertile Catawba bottom yields immense crops of corn. The road will be about twenty miles long, and we are glad to learn that the project is being pushed by the prominent citizens.

Wilmington and Asheville.

The following is from the Asheville News: "The Asheville Board of Trade had an interesting meeting Wednesday night. The subject of completion of the Wilmington, Shelby & Rutherford Railroad to this point was discussed, and Messrs. Thos. D. Johnson, D. C. Waddell, C. E. Graham, C. M. McLeod and Jas. P. Sawyer were constituted a committee to confer with the railroad authorities to see what if any inducements would bring about the completion of this important route to this section. This road is now completed to Shelby, and the line to this place is said to be an easy one."

Mayors Court.

Mayor Hall having returned from Raleigh, was at his post yesterday morning. Wm. Campbell, colored, was arraigned on the charge of being disorderly at a sailor boarding house on Nutt street Saturday night. He was fined $5. Beverly Scott, colored, charged with obstructing a crossing. Defendant was adjudged guilty and required to pay a fine of $5 and the costs. He craved an appeal, but subsequently acquiesced in the judgment.

Weather Indications.

The following are the indications for to-day: For the South Atlantic States, partly cloudy, colder weather and rain, followed by clearing weather, southwesterly winds, shifting to northwesterly, falling, followed by rising barometer.

Almost a Fire.

Yesterday morning, about 6 o'clock, Officer Gafford, of the police force, discovered smoke issuing through the transom over the door of the large two story building on the corner of Sixth and Queen streets, occupied as a store and dwelling by Mr. Louis Solomon, and also heard the voices of children crying fire. He gave the alarm, but it was "nipped in the bud," as the flames were quickly extinguished by the application of a bucket of water. The fire seems to have started in the middle of a pile of rags in the store, and, upon blazing up, communicated to one of more handkerchiefs which happened to be suspended on a line above the rags. The fire presented a threatening appearance at first sight and the smoke was quite dense. The fire department started for the scene but were turned back. Loss immaterial.

Col. Bridgers.

The Fayetteville Observer thus compliments our distinguished fellow-townsmen: "Apart from his great capacity as a railroad man, Col. Bridgers, who is to be intimately associated with us [by the Wilson "short-cut,"] is a man of fine education, unusual and varied learning, and accurate information upon all sorts of subjects; and is a conversationalist of rare powers. A man of strong intellect, his association, as a member of the U. S. Congress before the war and of the Confederate Congress, with the greatest men of the past generation, has given him a fund of anecdote rarely possessed by the men of our day. During the Confederacy Mr. Davis placed great reliance upon his judgment and relied implicitly upon his patriotism."

Milton Nobles.

He requires no introduction to a Wilmington audience. Our playgoers know and appreciate him as a painstaking and popular actor; but it will not hurt to let them see what is thought of him elsewhere. The Chicago Inter-Ocean says: "Mr. Nobles holds high rank in eccentric character portraiture. While the dramas are not noticeable for literary excellence, they are so full of every-day human nature and so unique in the combination of real comedy with ultra-sensationalism and real comedy character, as to justify the author's announcement: 'We fill a sphere created by ourselves.' Mr. Nobles' plays are not only unique, as he expresses it, but the man himself is unique, in having been pre-eminently successful in the combined capacity of author, actor and manager."

Criminal Court.

This tribunal met in this city yesterday, and a few unimportant cases were disposed of. The following comprise the Grand Jury: Col. J. G. Burr, foreman; Wright Grady, Ezekiah Bonham, C. H. Kennedy, Peter J. Smith, J. F. Sellers, B. W. Dunham, R. M. Dix, James Hicks, Wm. Hollis, David Jones, G. R. Parker, John D. Cottle, R. J. Bonham, Richard Hill, D. L. Gore, J. N. Macomber, P. Bloome.

Arrested for Larceny.

David Brown, colored, was arrested yesterday on the charge of stealing a bale of hay and a bag of corn from Messrs. Worth & Worth, on Saturday last, having been caught in the act. Defendant waived an examination and was required to give bond in the sum of $100 for his appearance at the present term of the Criminal Court, failing in which he was committed to the sheriff.

St. George and St. Andrew's Society.

At a meeting of the members of this society, held yesterday evening, the following officers were elected, viz.: President-B. G. Gleaves. Vice-President-J. Bissett. Physician-Dr. T. F. Wood. Chaplain-Rev. Dr. Carmichael. Treasurer-A. D. Brown. Secretary-H. G. Smallbones.

Doing Well.

Mr. Frank Kelly, the engineer who had his right arm so badly crushed on Friday last, and which was subsequently amputated above the elbow, is doing as well as could be expected. A friend who visited him Sunday says no one to look at him would imagine he had met with such a serious accident, as he is very cheerful, and says he is only thankful it was no worse.
