The first editor of the London Times, the original Walter, was sentenced "to stand an hoar in the pillory, to be imprisoned in Newgate for 12 months, to pay a fine of £50, and to find security for seven years of good behavior," for libelling the Royal family.

Because Mr. Gladstone did not die under the abuse of the British but went to the theatre and laughed some of the papers are greatly shocked. It would have been more in accordance with the eternal fitness of things if the Premier had remained at home, inasmuch as he sent Gordon to his death.

What does this mean? Rossa's paper makes this offer:

"Ten Thousand Dollars Reward for the body of the Prince of Wales, dead or alive. [Special to the United Irishman.] DUBLIN, Feb. 4.-It has been decreed to offer a reward of $10,000 for the body, dead or alive, of Albert Edwin Guelph, nicknamed the 'Prince of Wales.' MR. EDITOR :- While the citizens of our city are casting about for some one to serve them as Alderman for the next ensuing term, I suggest as a living issue, one which every citizen who has the good of the city and the health of his own and his neighbor's families at heart, that the Water Works Company should be compelled to furnish wholesome water for all domestic uses, as they agreed to do by the terms of their contract; or, else, repudiate the entire transaction. I regard this as the most important measure that has been presented to our citizens for their consideration for twenty years past, because it concerns the health and lives of every one living here. The water has been pronounced by the Board of Health as unfit for domestic purposes, and it is the opinion of almost every one who is not financially interested, and who has tried the experiment, that it is not healthy for drinking or culinary purposes. If it is necessary that
