MORNING EDITION.

OUTLINES.

The ceremony of dedicating the Washington Monument took place yesterday; the weather was intensely cold. Cotton crop in sight, 5,143,216 bales. Wm. E. Barnes, ship broker, New York, failed. E. M. Hogan & Co., cotton factors, New Orleans, suspended payment.

Minister Astor has been recalled from Italy.

Gen. Grant is nearly well again, says the New York Medical Record.

Jim Keene is said to be again in financial good fortune once more and is crawling on top again.

Mr. Cleveland, your ear. Dinna ye hear the pibroch of the Clan-Thurman? Listen, for it is sounding throughout the land.

We lament the death of the gallant and meritorious Gen. Stewart. England has lost three excellent soldiers, Gordon, Earle and Stewart.

It is not so much to please a State as to secure the right man for the right place that guides Mr. Cleveland's conduct upon his Cabinet slate.

McClure writes to his paper, the Philadelphia Times, from Washington on the 18th, that Manning will probably be Secretary of the Treasury.

Gen. Wolsley will probably retreat to Dubbeh and there await reinforcements. Gen. Brackenbury and Col. Buller will fall back upon the same point.

There is a rumor in the air that North Carolina is getting somewhat ashamed of repudiation. We are glad to hear of this and hope the shame will deepen.

According to the New York World the latest speculation in Washington as to the Cabinet is that it will consist of Bayard, McClellan, Vilas, Munroe, McDonald, Lamar and Garland. This will do until Tuesday's paper.

The latest—positively the very latest from Albany—is that Bayard and Manning are certain for the Cabinet, and beyond this nothing is certain. Rumor says that an envoy has been sent by Mr. Cleveland to Judge Thurman. That is the right tune.

Through the courtesy of Dr. Thos. F. Wood we learn that the Senate bill making it a misdemeanor to practice medicine or surgery without a license from the State Board of Medical Examiners, has passed both Houses and is a law. This is important.

It is an interesting fact that although insurance of lives has been carried on in Europe and for a long time in the United States and hundreds of thousands of picked subjects have been selected, not one person insured has ever reached 100 years. Either the deaths published of persons living beyond this are frauds or the principle of only insuring the sound is a wrong one. Do you like it?

Another Northern participant in the battle of Shiloh has spoken. This time it is Lieut. Colonel William Hemstreet, of the Eighteenth Missouri Volunteers. He read an account of the battle a few nights ago before the Oxford Club of Brooklyn, N. Y. The Times says:

"The substantial claims of the paper were that the Union Army was surprised; that the battle would have been won if Buell had not arrived on the second day, and that Southern repulse became assured with the death of Albert Sidney Johnston and the subsequent withdrawal orders by Gen. Beauregard."

In the House of Lords the Tories at once began their attack. Earl Granville, of the Ministry, made a frank statement, whereupon Lord Salisbury, leader of the Tories said:

"If the country is not satisfied with the Government's explanation, it will visit its contempt upon a Government for so fruitless a policy. (Cheers.) We do not propose to anticipate the discussion which must inevitably come later on, but we must hope that England will not retire from Egypt, leaving no record of our presence there except mischief done and the bones of our soldiers."

The following occurred in the House of Commons:

"Mr. Gladstone, upon entering the House of Commons, was loudly cheered. Mr. Gladstone stated that the policy of the Government to evacuate Egypt eventually remained unchanged. He said he had done all he could for Gordon, and was not to be held responsible for his death."

"In the House of Commons Sir Stafford Northcote, leader of the Opposition, gave notice of a motion of inquiry respecting the Government's Egyptian policy."

"Mr. Gladstone, replying to certain interrogatories about the Government's conduct in Egypt, replied in much the same tone as that which he used in the House of Lords. He added, however, that the present situation did not allow the Government to make overtures to El Mahdi, because such overtures might defeat their own object."

"Sir Stafford Northcote followed the Marquis of Hartington and the Prime Minister, saying that he would defer discussion and merely take occasion at the present to pay a tribute to Gordon."

He gave notice of a vote of censure, and Mr. Gladstone said he would name the day on yesterday. So exciting times are ahead.

Purchase of Wharf Property in Wilmington.

Following is the bill (S. 1,251) to authorize the purchase of a wharf for the use of the Government in this city, which was called up in the House by the Hon. W. J. Green on the 18th and passed:

"Be it enacted, etc., That the Secretary of the United States Treasury be, and he is hereby, authorized to cause an examination to be made of the wharf in front of the custom house and other property at the port of Wilmington, N. C., offered by E. E. Burruss, President of the First National Bank of Wilmington, namely, the following estate: One hundred and sixty six feet front on the Cape Fear river, lying between Market and Princess street and Water street and the river; and also the brick fire proof two story warehouse, together with the land on which it is situated, adjoining the custom house on the south, the said warehouse occupying a space of thirty feet front and running east ninety two feet; and on inquiry as to their necessity for use for the revenue cutter stationed at Wilmington for other purposes at that port, and if it shall be found advantageous and necessary for such purpose, to purchase the same at a reasonable price: Provided, That it shall not exceed $80,000, which amount shall be paid out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated."

Mr. Green said the reasons for the purchase were fully set forth in a letter of the late Secretary of the Treasury which he had read. The following is an extract from the letter:

"Immediately in front of the Custom House is a small wharf in which is reserved a right of wharfe for revenue cutters and other customs purposes. This wharf is not, however, of sufficient length to accommodate the vessels of the Government which are employed at the present time, it being but ninety-nine feet long, while the revenue cutters stationed at Wilmington are one hundred and seventy-five feet long. To make this wharf available for the Government's use at least one hundred feet should be added to it. If this were done the Government store-house might be located thereon, and besides the storage for coal, etc., it could be availed of for storing merchandise or heavy articles belonging to the customs service."

"The Department has received several applications for increase of facilities at Wilmington, such as the possession of the property named in the bill would supply. Should the wharf be secured it would afford landing facilities for vessels of the revenue marine and other Government vessels at that port."

Cotton.

The receipts of cotton at this port during the week closing yesterday footed up 783 bales, as against 1,106 bales for the corresponding period last year; a decrease of 323 bales. The receipts of the crop year from September last to date foot up 91,197 bales, as against 87,465 bales for the same period last year, showing an increase of 3,732 bales.

"The substantial claims of the paper were that the Union Army was surprised; that the battle would have been won if Buell had not arrived on the second day, and that Southern repulse became assured with the death of Albert Sidney Johnston and the subsequent withdrawal orders by Gen. Beauregard."

This is a charitable institution of Masons, having and holding some $4,000 or $5,000 in real estate for the benefit of, or decreed Masons of Wilmington, or the widows of Masons.

Passed Away.

Mr. C. C. Redd, formerly a well known citizen of this place, died at his residence in the southeastern section of the city on Friday. Mr. Redd had long been a sufferer from consumption, and during the past two years has never left his house. Deceased served during the late war in Company I, 10th Regiment Artillery, under command of Capt. T. J. Southerland, of this city. In the words of Capt. S., who knew him well, "he was a good, straightforward, honest man, and a good soldier." He was aged about 42 years. The remains were interred in Bellevue Cemetery yesterday afternoon, at 8 o'clock. He leaves a wife and five children.

Invitation to Lecture.

Geo. W. Price, Jr., a prominent colored man of this city, has received an invitation from the colored members of the General Assembly to deliver a lecture in the city of Raleigh, at an early day, on "The Negro of the South—His Future Status as a Political Factor on the Body Politic of the Country—His Prospective Position under the New Regime." He informs us that he has accepted the invitation.

A Plucky Lady.

On Thursday evening last, Mrs. Jane F. Evans, of Town Creek, Brunswick county, killed with a stick a large hawk, measuring forty-four inches from tip to tip, while he was in the act of killing a hen in the barn-yard.

Weather Indications.

The following are the indications for today: For the South Atlantic States, increasing cloudiness and local rains, variable winds, generally from north to east, slight rise in temperature in northern portions and stationary temperature in southern portions; generally lower barometer.

New River Improvement.

In the House of Representatives, on Wednesday, in advocacy of an amendment to the River and Harbor bill appropriating $10,000 to continuing improvements on New River, Onslow county, said:

"Mr. Chairman, the amendment just read is certainly worthy of adoption. The mouth of this river is one of the most important harbors of refuge for small craft on our dangerous coast. Last session $5,000 were appropriated for its improvement, as a like sum had been by the preceding Congress. If the work is to stop here these sums might as well have been thrown in New River, so far as the good effected is involved. The engineers in their estimate recommend an appropriation of $15,000 to continue the work; but it has pleased the committee to ignore its claims altogether. For what reason I can not conceive. It was told last summer by a gentleman living near there that a short time previously a steamer in a crippled condition attempted to put in at that inlet in a storm, but being unable to cross the bar was compelled to put to sea again, and as a consequence was lost with all on board. In view of these and other reasons I do most earnestly trust that the amendment may be adopted."

The bill failed to pass by a vote of 65 to 32.

The Alarm of Fire Yesterday Morning.

Yesterday morning, about a quarter past 8 o'clock, the alarm was sounded for fire in the Second fire district. Though with the mercury at from 15 to 18 degrees above zero it would seem to have been a good time to go to a fire, yet very few (we learn) responded to the call so cheerily rung out on the cold morning air. The fire was found to be located in the basement of the residence of Mrs. Alex. Sprunt. A male member of the family was awakened by a slight noise and he thought he smelt smoke. He got up and in the pursuit of his search he opened the door leading into the basement and discovered it to be full of smoke. The fire was extinguished without much difficulty and the damage proved not to exceed $150 or $200 in amount, which was covered by insurance with Messrs. Atkinson & Manning. The fire is supposed to have been caused by mice gnawing through a trunk in which the cook kept a box of matches, with other things.

Nothing in It.

As there continued to be much misunderstanding and some uneasiness abroad in the community, in regard to the alleged passage in the House of what purported to be "a bill to allow Wilmington to issue bonds to the amount of $100,000 for street improvements, &c.," Col. E. D. Hall, Mayor of the city, yesterday telegraphed to Lieut. Gov. Stedman as follows:

"What about bill of one hundred thousand dollars for street improvements in Wilmington? Is there anything in it? Our people are uneasy. Answer at once."

Following is the reply: "RALEIGH, N. C., Feb. 21.

"I know of no such bill. It cannot pass the Senate, in my opinion, if introduced. CHAS. M. STEDMAN."

This, of course, settles the matter. We were satisfied there was some mistake about it.

Hotel for Colored People.

We learn that leading colored men of this city are taking the preliminary steps towards the erection of a hotel for their race at Greenville Sound, or some other point not too far removed from the terminus of the turnpike road.

Suffering.

We learn that there has been a great deal of suffering on the outskirts of the city, on account of the scarcity of wood this cold weather. In the absence of other fuel it is said that fences are rapidly disappearing in some localities.

DIED.

ONLY THIS!

AT THIS SEASON OF THE YEAR THE AVERAGE Clothing dealer is striving to rush off the remnants of his Winter Stock to make room for SPRING GOODS, and in order to do so he is very apt to indulge in some extravagant advertisements.

One of the greatest dodges is the cry of "cost." Every one is ready and willing to sell AT AND EVEN BELOW, COST.

Now this may be true, and granting that all are selling at cost, the question that naturally arises with the shrewd and careful buyer is, who of the several dealers buys his goods the cheapest? And there is the question. All sell at cost, but whose cost is the least? That is the place to go to get the greatest benefit from this marvelous reduction.

Now we claim that we can give the GREATEST INDUCEMENTS in that way, and all we ask is a chance to prove it. Price goods elsewhere, and then come and we will show you that we can verify our statement.

A. DAVID, Merchant Tailor and Clothier. Feb 22 tf

Before investing, let it will pay you to post yourself where low prices prevail all the year round.
