Gen. McNeill was in command of the British in the Sunday's fight near Suakin. He was surprised because he had neglected "the elementary precausions that should be taken in scouting parties." A dispatch from Gen, Graham says:

Charleston last week had 8 white deaths and 24 colored total 32. This is about a fair average, we suppose. Wilmington everages not more than that any month, unless it be an exceptionally sick year like 1884. Put Charleston's population at 55,000, and the death rate would be, if last week was the average, about 24 in the 1,000 inhabitants. Wilmington has rarely gone above 19

 Goldsboro Messenger: We like roller skating—when somebody else does it. Now, a person to look at our foot might think we were capable of keeping any sort of a roller skate in subjection that was smaller than a canoe, but it would be a false conclusion. We have tried it, and our experience recalls a galaxy of meteors and fixed stars and heavenly bodies and things that haunt us like a nightmare. When we made a period in the rink, before an audience of five hundred people, perhaps such a tempest of enthusiasm never before nor since has swept across that insidious floor. We called on the earth to yawn and receive us, and when it wouldn't do it we walked on our hands to the general en-trance, where we were greeted with a howl of delight by the small boys who had assembled there. One of them suggested that we should half-sole ourself before we entered for the second performance, but we didn't deign a reply.

No more important act was passed by the last Legislature than that to enforce the collection of texes due the State on lands sold for taxes and purchased by the State. This act, it should be stated, refers to lands sold previous to 1800, since which time the lands have been purchased by the county, which becomes responsible to the State for its part of the tax.

Section one of the act extends the time for the redemption of land sold for taxes and bought by the State to January 1st, 1886; the person redeeming the same to pay taxes, 10 per cent additional, and taxes subsequently accruing. Section two provides that the Secretary of State shall furnish to the Chairman of the Board of Commissioners of each county a statement of taxes, costs and charges due frem each delinquent; each of which latter is to be notified by mail; creditor by judgment, mortgage, &c., also to be notified. Section three says if the delinquent can't be found, notice is to be posted at the court house door, and published in a newspaper where the lands are situated, the Secretary of State to make record of the notice. Section four makes it obligatory upon the Chairman of the Board of Commissioners to bring action for the recovery of the lands when instructed so to do by the Secretary of State, in the name and at the expense of the State. Section five provides that the defendant, before he shall be permitted to plead, answer or demur, shall pay into the Clerk's office all taxes, costs and charges and 25 per cent, additional, to be forwarded to the Secretary of State, the defendant to give security in a sum not less than two hundred dollars to pay such costs and expenses as the State may recover in the action. Section six makes the Sheriff's deed conclusive evidence that he or the tax collector has complied with the law. Section seven provides that a person not a party to the action, but claiming an interest in the lands sued for, may be made a party, and the court is authorized to dismiss the action when any person shall tender to the Secretary of State the full amount of taxes and costs and the additional per cent.fixed by the court, and as allowance to the attorney for the State of not over $20. A Dudish Tramp.

Citizens living in the eastern section of the city are frequently called upon by tramps for something to eat. One of these gentry, wearing kid gloves and a gold pin in his cravat, with a reversible overcoat on his back, entered the premises of a gentleman through his back gate, a few days ago, and went to the kitchen for something to eat. Of course, entering private premises in this way is calculated to frighten women and children, who are likely to be alone in the day time, and it is hoped that a watch may be kept on such intruders.

All Right Again. Our Baptist friends will be glad to learn that Rev. R. W. Sanders has got into his new church at Chester, S. C. The old building was destroyed by the cyclone of February, 1884. The building is of brick, and is of Gothic architecture, the interior being so arranged that the main auditory and the lecture room can be thrown into one room, thus increasing the seating capacity. The first services were held in the new building last Sunday. Rev. Mr. - Since publishing the account Sanders, who preached here several Sundays in 1888, is pleasantly remembered by all who heard him.
