and sell where they can sell highest That the Tariff is repressive rather than otherwise and destructive rather than really protective;

That taxation should be levied under the Constitution solely for the maintenance of the political fabricthe National Government.

These are some of the simple can one that are true and when understood will be accepted by an overwhelming majority of the electors of the United States.

Of the new party the New York

Times says:

"The latest new party is to be 'the party of protection;' it has its cradle in the city whence the Declaration of Independence was sent out, and its initial organization is known as the 'Union League of America.' That body, which has had a career lasting many years, though not many of our readers may not be aware of it, met yesterday morning at the Continental Hotel in Philadelphia, and its Secretary announced the object of the meeting to be 'to take a decided stand for protection in its fullest sense.' 'Hitherto,' he declared. 'the League, while professing to be committed to the doctrine of protection, has given its attention simply in behalf of the Republican party.' Now the League is going to cut lose from any such narrow plan of ope-rations. 'All are now welcomed, no matter of what peculiar political faith; for the party of protection is to be made up from all parties.' This sounds formidable, and, we should say, it must fall on the ears of the Republicans of the old school with much harshness."

It would have been well for Henry Ward Beecher if he had confined his lecturing tour to the Northern States. This remark is not made with reference to dollars but to character. He will coin the "dollars of our daddies" but he will be subjected to such a scrutiny as he has not be accustomed to. His intellectual power is confessedly very great. He is possibly the most gifted mnn in America. But this said, nearly all is said. He is a man not to be followed or trusted in the discussion of great moral and religious questions. He has got so far away from what the best and purest people in the land hold as orthodox Christianity that to follow him is to German gymnasium are greater proficients than our college boys. Here is an account, in part, of the mode of instruction in Latin. Says Prof. Lord, and, we wish we had room for more of his letter than we are able to give:

"I attended recently an exercise of the upper class; it was a recitation in the satires of Horace. The exercise began with the recitation of a passage from one of the satires, one boy repeating a few lines and another immediately following. No hesitation was allowed. At a moment's delay another was called. After this the teacher began to ask questions and make remarks in Latin upon some passage or subject already studied. First one and then another were called to answer in German. Few failed to understand what was said. This practice, begun as early in the course as practicable, trains the ear as the book trains the eye, so that the students, when they leave the gymnasium, though they may not be able to talk in Latin, yet understand it when it is spoken. A Latin sentence is more to them than a juggler's abracadabra. This exercise is supplemented in Latin composition. What is true of Latin is true of Greek. After the talking came reading of passages at sight. The teacher first pronounced the Latin and then the scholars translated. In most of the cases they understood the passage. About fifteen minutes, at the close of the hour, was devoted to the recitation of a lesson previously assiged.

Is not teaching in this country a long way below that standard!?

Bradstreet's, a very able weekly commercial paper published in New York, a week or two since showed the decline in wages since 1882. I had 250 reports from sixty cities, and they showed that the decline in wages as compared with the decline in food and clothing was of but little importance. The New York Sun says of the report: "In fact, all the industries, outside of coal mines, iron and steel works and cotton and woollen factories, are now really pay ing higher wages, when measured in staple commodities, than they ever did before."

REGISTRATION OF DEEDS.

An Act to repeal Section 1,245 of The Code, and to require the Registraton of Deeds. The General assembly of North Carolina do Let: Sec. 1. That section one thousand two hundred and forty-five of The Code be stricken out, and the following inserted in lieu thereof: No conveyance of land, nor contract to convey, or lease of land, for more than three years shall be valid to pass any property, as against creditors or purchasers, for a valuable consideration from the donor, bargainor or lessor, but from the registration thereof within the county where the land lieth: Provided, however, that the provisions of this act shall not apply to contracts, leases or deeds al ready executed, until the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-six: Provided further, that no purchase from any such donor, bargainor or lessor shall avail or pass title as against any unregistered deed executed prior to the first day of December, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-five, when the person or persons holding or claiming under such unregistered printed notices explaining the provisions thereof and notifying all per-provisions of said act. In the General Assembly read three times, and ratified this the 27th day of February, A. D. 1885.

AN APOSTLE OF GOG AND MAGOG.

Richmond Christian Advocate. Mr. Beecher is making a lecturing tour through the South. He will have large audiences. His peculiar history piques cariosity and invites the crowd. It is safe to say Mr. Beecher will reap a golden harvest from the sale of seats to his ledtures.

He spoke for two hours in the thestre in this city last week to a full house. His subject was Evolution and Revolution. He told his audience that he would shock and disgust many of them. He achieved success in that direction. He ridiculed the account of the fall of Adam and evangelical views of the Scriptures making jokes on Biblical themes and ministers of religion. He declared his belief in the "Gospel of Dirt" and the Darwinian origin of man Men were the progeny of beasts All these atterances amazed the decent people before him. The conservative and churchly citizens o the South will stand aghast at such outrages on accepted and revered creeds and the sacred book of God, We were too familiar with the Northern newspapers that report Beecher to have a wish to hear his hideous mockeries. This editor was not in the Richmond Theatre.

Mr. Beecher is the evangel of a new order of things. His theme, Evolution and Revolution, is significant. He is the daring scout of the host of Gog and Magog. He blows the defiant blast and champions the coming legions, which will threaten civilization, society and immortal

The House of Beecher seems set apart by Nemesis to scourge America. They are endowed with transcendent powers. Henry Ward Beecher is a monstrosity of brains and leads like a loadstone. His sister, Mrs. Stowe, wrote the stirring volume of the century, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," and made a crusade on the South inevitable. It is worth marking down that the leaders of the North, foremost in turning loose the dogs of war on the South, were enemics of the received religion or a scandal to its precepts. Theodore Parker, of Boston, denounced Jesus Christ as a bastard. Horace Greeley, the unbeliever and the semi-communist, and Beecher, unstable in all things except his lust for Southern slaughter, are other specimens. These restless spirits must ever be burrowing and gnawing at the roots of whatever flourishes in beauty and fruitage in human society. They bore into the body and boughs, leaving the eggs of evil and ruin. They undermine the religious faith and settled order of society. Wendell Phillips was not satisfied with the heaps of corpses, the wreck and waste of human happiness, and the confusions of bloody years. He began after the civil war, a clamor for the murder of rulers by dynamite and confiscations of property. Beecher is working the same line, but with more cunning. The success of Satan when "loosened" after "the thousand, years" depends on his finding willing tools. The reign of lust. plunder and chaos cannot come without an age of infidelity. Men must first rank themselves as common brutes. Death must be an eternal sleep. Governments rest on religion or bayonets. America conducts its affairs upon the basis of a public conscience. Life, liberty and the parsuit of happiness are possible among us only by reason of a belief in God Convince men that they are hogs, and that their duty and destiny is to root and rot, then civil freedom, domestic joys and ennobling thoughts are impossible. With the confiscating ballot in the hands of the mob, degraded in behef to personal estimates of themselves as a herd of swine, and they will play the part of the depredating wolf. All virture will perish. As in Paris under the Commune, war will begin against monuments to heroism, the works of immortal genius and sanctuaries of God. Property will be a crime. Frugality a folly. The decalogue a disgrace.

Presidential Nominations-Mr. Pear son, the New York Postmaster, to Retain his Place-Semi-Official Report as to the Reasons for Making the Appointment.

(By Telegraph to the Morning Star.) WASHINGTON, March 81 .- The President to-day sent the following nominations to the Senate:

To be Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States-Wm. R. Roberts, of New York, to Chili; Charles W. Buck, of Kentücky, to Peru. Charles T. Russell, of Connecticut, to be Consul at Liverpool, England.

Henry G. Pearson, to be Postmaster at New York, N. Y.

Norman J. Colman, of Missouri, to be Commissioner of Agriculture.

John T. McGraw, of West Virginia, to be Collector of Internal Revenue for the District of West Virginia.

Henry P. Kernschan, of Louisiana, to be Naval Officer at New Orleans.

Andrew J. Boyd, of North Carolina, to be Collector of Internal Revenue of the Fifth District of North Carolina.

Richard B. Hubbard, of Texas, to be Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States to Japan.

Wm. W. Long, of Texas. to be United States Consul at Hamburg, Germany. A gentleman very near the President and undoubtedly speaking from actual knowl-edge, reports that the reappointment of Mr. Pearson was made after the most patient examination of all facts connected with the charges against him and his answer to same, which was yesterday submitted and read by the President. The appointment, therefore, may be considered a complete vindication of the postmaster. It is further stated that the reappointment of Mr. Pearson will constitute a notable exception to the course which the President may be expected to pursue. The New York post office is the largest and most important in the country, and of interest to all people, especially to the vast business enterprises centered in the metropolis. It is to-day considered a complete illustration of the successful application of the civil service reform principles to an immense government establishment. "This condition." added the gentleman above referred to, has been brought about very largely by the intelligent effort of Mr. Pearson, and he is thus identified in the closest manner with this example of success of reform. To retain him in sures faith and confidence in a movement which would receive a shock from his removal. His retention was earnestly requested by a large number of business men of the city, both Democrats and Republicans, and very generally by the Independent Republicans, who did such good ser vice in support of the Democratic candi dates in the last campaign.

It is further authoritatively learned that Seizure of an American Steamship at Colon by the Rebels and Imprisonment of Officers-The Matter Consid. ered in Cabinet Meeting at Washington - War Vessels Ordered to the Scene-A British Steamship Fired On. By Telegraph to the Morning Ster "

WASHINGTON, March 31.-United States Consul Gen. Adamson, at Panama, has telegraphed to the Secretary of State this morning, as follows:

"Preston, the Rebel leader, has seized the Pacific steamship at Colon, and has imprisoned the captain, purser and agent of the Company, Consul Wright and other Americans. I have urged Commander Kane, of the Galena, to rescue the citizens and property at all hazards. Instructions are desired upon the receipt of this dispatch.

The Secretary of State and Secretary of the Navy held a consultation. An order was also sent to the commander of the Alliance, now at Key West, instructing him to proceed at once to Aspinwall.

The Secretary also telegraphed to Commander Kane, of the Galena, which is at Aspinwall, and asked why he had not protected American citizens and property in the trouble yesterday. He directed him to afford all the protection possible while the difficulty continues.

TUESDAY EVENING, MARCH 31, 1885. EVENING EDITION

A NEW PARTY OF PROTECTION. The High Protectionists in the North are organizing not only for an active campaign, but for a new party. They have fought so long under the Republican flag and have been so successful that it may sur prise many that they should undertake the formation of a broader party. But when it is borne in mind that there is a very respectable portion of that party that is dissatified with Protection as an economic theory and is ready to co-operate with Reformers in the Democratic party of a cayenne pepper poultice. We to readjust, reduce and simplify the War Tariff, it will be seen that the Protectionists can no longer rely upon the Republican party for success. Furthermore, the Democratic party contains an element that favors Protection, and that would vote against their party upon a single issue of a Tariff for Protection with incidental revenue and a Tariff for Revenue with incidental protection.

Hence the new movement. It is in the hope of attracting to it as many or more Democrats in the South as they have lost Republicans in the North.

But can a new party based on Protection succeed in this country? That depends upon two things: the thoroughness of the discussion and the intelligence of the American voters. If the people are properly instructed they will not indorse any party or support any theory as unfair, as unjust, as oppressive and as immoral as Protection.

Let the American people understand well the actual principles of a Protective policy and they are too fair-minded and just to ever make it the American policy. Teach the plain fundamentals to the people and they will never accept the Rob Roy policy for this continent. Men may advocate it from a purely selfish consideration, as thousands do, but the great mass of the people will not agree to it whenever properly informed and enlightened.

There was never in the history of We knew an Englishman, an Oxford civilization as monstrous and un-follow a theological will-o'-the-wisp that will land you in the quagmire of scepticism if not in the slough of despond. He is not in his teachings quite as bad as Bob Ingersoll is, but he is as to his moral character what the ignorant man said of his physical condition-"he enjoys bad health."

When Beecher was in Richmond, Va., he got the ablest editors in Virginia after him with a very hot poker. Rev. Dr. Lafferty, in the Richmond Christian Advocate, applied an iron that was so warm it fairly "sissed," whilst Dr. James Southall. in the Central Presbyterian, applied a more delicate corrective in the shape make room for the following from the Presbyterian:

"Mr. Beecher has a bad face; and as stood there denouncing the churches and all that Christians have been taught to revere, looking to gather applause from the element that was hostile to the churches, we felt that it was one of the most repulsive exhibitions that we had ever witness ed. Mr. Ingersoll hoists the death's head and the cross-bones of the pirate; Mr. Beecher sails under the Christian flag, and speaks to the people in priestly robes. In the fierce and blasphemous assault on the churches and the evangelical theology there is very little difference between the two

However just and pointed the criticism may be the South will still go to hear him for even Ingersoll can attract in his disgusting and blasphemous assaults upon the Bible and upon millions of intelligent people who cling to it as the only hope and refuge and consolation. If there was no other reason for believing in future retribution the fact that such a fellow as Ingersoll lives and blasphemes is argument and reason enough.

THE CLASSICS IN GERMANY.

That teaching is far more thorough in the great schools of Europe than in this country is beyond question. The results are seen in the accomplishments of the statesmen, teachers and men of letters. His Condition Greatly Improved -How He Passed the Night-Consultation as to Allowing Him to Take a Drive,

(By Telegraph to the Morning Star.) NEW YORK, March 81 .- The following bulletin was issued this morning at 6.30 m. by Dr. Shrady:

Gen. Grant has thus far passed a very uiet and comfortable night, sleeping by turns in his chair and bed for five hours. At 3.30 a. m. he coughed considerably op account of the irritation in his throat, but obtained relief after the use of a gargle. His pulse is regular and has a fair amount of force, His breathing is easy, and he swallows without difficulty, having just taken some liquid nourishment.

At 9 o'clock this morning callers at Gen. Grant's house were told that the General was sleeping quietly. A little after that hour Mr. Cyrus W. Field called at the house and left a basket of flowers. He was told that the entire family had been up all night, and that Dr. Shrady had ordered them to bed this morning. Mr. Field then drove away in his carriage. Dr. Shrady was still on duty at that hour, not having then been relieved by Dr. Douglass. At 11 a. m. Dr. Shrady issued the following bulletin: "Gen. Grant feels much refreshed after a good night's rest. His pulse has improved somewhat in fullness and force. He has taken his breakfast with some relish. A slight amount of soreness of the throat has been relieved by local application.

Sortly after this Dr. Douglass called, and was said had a consultation with Dr. Shrady about the advisability of allowing the General to go out for a drive.
