Messrs. Hansen & Smith, of this city have put up apparatus and machinery for creasoting timber on the site of Wilson's saw mill (recently burned), at the foot of Dawson street. The works are quite extensive, being designed for the treatment of timber on a large scale and in the most complete manner. The machinery and apparatus are all new and were tested yesterday; everything working in the most satisfactory manner. The "plant" consists of a large iron cylinder, in which the timber is placed for treatment, two powerful hydrau lic pumps, a steam engine and boilers, vats for holding the creasoting agent, derricks, &c. The cylinder is made of half-inch iron, is sixty five feet long and six feet in diameter. The timber is placed upon iron trucks which run in and out of the cylinder frosts have killed the greater portion of the peaches in many localities; but we hear of many orchards in the upper part of this county and Forsyth in which there is still on iron rails. When charged with timber the doors of the cylinder are closed hermetically creasote oil is pumped in and under power ful pressure is made to thoroughly permeate the wood. Before this treatment, how ever, the timber undergoes a preliminary operation by which it is thoroughly dried and "seasoned," and in the case of piling is charred on the surface. Creasoting wood is said to add many years to its durability. This treatment also renders available the use of "sap" timber, which more readily absorbs the preservative agent. we have heard, our county lost only some four or five thousand dollars by the Norfolk failures. — Mr. Parker sold a tract and that otherwise is considered "unmerchantable." Robbery by the Wholesale - Several Colored Women Jatled-What Seame Warrante Brought to Light-Silks and sating and Richly Furnished Pariors, &c., &c.

A number of our dry goods merchants have been missing goods for some time past, but it was not until yesterday morning that any of them obtained the slightest clue as to what was becoming of them or the mysterious manner in which they were disappearing. About 8 o'clock J. W Whitney, colored, was passing Taylor's Bazaar, on Market street, when he noticed several women coming out of the store They were immediately followed by Mr. Taylor, who asked Whitney to stop the women, as he had lost two pieces of lace and had teasen to believe that the women had taken them. Whitney stopped one of the women, whose name is said to be Lizzie Riley, when two women in front of her ran. The captured woman was taken to the office of Justice Millis, when the basket she carried on her arm was searched, but, although it contained different articles of dry goods to the value of about five dollars, the missing lace was not among them. The woman up to this time had declined to say who the women were who had run at the time of her capture, but now she said they were Mag Fisher and her daughter, Sophia Fisher. Mr. Taylor thereupon procured a search warrant, which was about to be placed in the hands of officers, when Capt. R. M. McIntire came up and said that he had lost two pieces of fine brocaded silk and satin. This called for another cearch warrant, and the two documents, when ready, were placed in the hands of Deputy Sheriffs Strode and Brewington, who proceeded to the house of Mag. Fisher, situated on McRae, between Campbell and Hanover streets. Here they found a large amount of dry goods of every description, some with the marks of the merchants from whom they were stolen attached. These goods were taken to the court house and placed in the sheriff's private office and the key turned upon them. Still the lace lost by Mr. Taylor-some of which he retailed at $2.50 per yard, the two pieces being worth $20-had not been found, and another warrant was issued authorizing an officer to search the premises of one Mary McNeill,

All during the afternoon people thronged the street in the vicinity of the court house, while Sheriff Manning and Deputy Sheriff Shaw were overrun by applications to see the stolen property. Among the articles, besides the silks and satins, we noticed a sixteen dollar jersey.

Several women have been concerned in these robberies, their plan being to visit the stores early of mornings, before the arrival of the proprietor and all the clerks, and, while one or more would engage perhaps the only clerk present in showing them goods, the others would fill their baskets, or hide the goods under their cloaks and carry them off. Among those who have thus suffered are Messrs. M. M. Katz. R. M. McIntire, Brown & Roddick, J. Samson, H. H. Munson, and Taylor's Bazaar.

At last accounts Officers Strode and Brewington were still on the war-path. The three woman mentioned above were all arrested and committed to jail.

LATER. Late vesterday afternoon Officers Strode and Brewington arrived with three more prisoners and another quantity of stolen goods. The last arrests were Ida Fisher and Fannie Fisher, living with Mag. Fisher one of the two women first arrested, and Lizzie Riley, living on the opposite side of the street from the Fishers, who was under arrest at Justice Millis' office in the forenoon, but was permitted to go, because the stolen lace was not found in her basket. In her house was found quite a quantity of stolen goods, including pants, dress patterns, shoes, etc. These women were committed to jail with the others, being six of the gang altogether that have come to Chinese Laundry. We omitted to state in our last that a veritable Chinese laundry is about to be established on Second street, in the store formerly occupied by Mr. A. G. Hankins. Wa Lee, the proprietor, came here from Boston for that purpose. With an eye to economy, so characteristic of his race, he purchased his own lumber and is doing the carpentering work necessary in fitting up his laundry himself, dividing it into the laundry proper, the drying room, sleeping room, etc., by the erection of partitions. Wa Lee appears to be a jovial, jolly Celestial, ready to crack a joke with a Melicanman or anybody else that comes along, but he don't let his fondness for the social amenities interfere in the least with his work. MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP.—Rsv. Sylvanus Cobs thus writes in the Bosion Ohristian Freeman:—We would by no means recommend any kind of medicine which we did not know to be good—particularly to infants. But of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup we can speak from knowledge; in our own family it has proved a blessing indeed, by giving an infant troubled with colic pains, quiet sleep, and the parents unbroken rest at night. Most parents can appreciate these blessings. Here is an article which works to perfection, and which is harmless; for the sleep which it affords the infant is perfectly natural, and the little cherub swakes as "bright as a button." And during the process of teething its value is incalculable. We have frequently heard mothers say that they would not be without it from the birth of the child till it; had finished with the teething slege, on any consideration whatever.
