

BY WM. H. BERNARD. PUBLISHED DAILY EXCEPT MONDAYS. RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION IN ADVANCE...

MORNING EDITION.

OUTLINES.

U. S. deputy marshals who went to Paris, Idaho, to arrest eight polygamists, were driven off by an armed mob...

There is no doubt about it, it is catching. This time it is a thirteen-year-old girl, who runs away with her father's coachman...

From Chicago comes a regular dime novel tragedy. A chap of fourteen tries to kill his sweetheart of twelve summers and then to kill himself...

Misery and despair! A very poor and aged couple, Charles Lemian and wife, living in New York city...

Russia will not negotiate with reference to Herat. She means to have the way open to that cherished spot.

The Russian Foreign Minister, De Giers, is to be superseded, reports say, and Prince Rastowski given his place.

Three negroes in New Orleans have been sentenced to be hanged, and two of these are for rape.

The two Southerners appointed by the President among the visitors to West Point are Gen. Fitzhugh Lee, of Virginia, and James C. Tappan, of Arkansas.

Alfred Paraf, the foreigner who introduced oleomargarine into this country and who so easily swindled scores of cuto Yankees, is dead, aged 40, at Lima, Peru.

Prince Bismarck, in a debate in the Reichstag, declared that England was centuries in advance of Germany in civilization.

There is a rumor in London that the difficulty with Russia is in a fair way to be settled without arbitration.

Rebecca Casey did live at Dandwood, Nova Scotia. She is dead, aged 115. Thanks to newspapers North Carolina still leads.

A humane asylum keeper at Norristown, Pa., recently exhibited his profound sympathy for the poor inmate by beating to death one of the inmates.

In 1851, at the World's Fair in New York, North Carolina captured the two highest premiums on apples, beating all Northern competitors.

Yesterday was the anniversary of the death of our dear old friend and classmate, Gen. Junius Daniel.

Mississippi made a ten strike at the New Orleans Exposition. A dispatch says:

Mississippi was awarded the grand sweepstakes prize of $100 and a gold medal for the best collection of varieties of fruits in solution in glass of one hundred or more jars at the competitive display at the Exposition Saturday, which was open to the public.

Roostingham Spirit. Frank Scott, a young half-witted colored man of this town, some how or other, became possessed of a cap which exploded a dynamite cartridge, and last Wednesday night he touched a lighted match to it to see if it would "go off."

Greenville Reflector. We learn that many people are coming to town next Friday to witness the hanging of John and Parker Guislin.

Pittsboro Home. An artisan well was bored to the depth of 17 or 18 hundred feet some two or two and a half miles from the surface...

Wilson Mirror. Prof. Hassell, a young man of high school, Prof. A. J. McInnis, who was Chief of Police of the city of Charlotte for several years past, publishes a card, withdrawing his candidacy for a re-election.

Goldboro Messenger. Mr. Joseph E. Kennedy, a worthy citizen of this county, died of apoplexy at his home in York township, on Friday last, aged 84.

Local Notes. The Henderson Base Ball Club has applied for membership in the North Carolina League.

The Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows of North Carolina was to meet in Wilson last night.

Hon. A. M. Waddell, of this city, was to deliver the Memorial address at Raleigh on Monday.

Mr. Lawson K. Skipper, a well known citizen of Brunswick, died at his home in that county on the 9th inst., aged about 55 years.

The sum raised at the First Baptist Church for the church in Henderson, Sunday morning, finally reached $100. Rev. Mr. McDuffie's appeal was not in vain.

There were several sound and picnic parties on Memorial day. The colored people had a big picnic in the neighborhood of the mineral spring on the turnpike.

Messrs. Paterson, Downing & Co. cleared the British barque Hattie H., Capt. Cochran, yesterday, with 500 cases spirits turpentine and 3,489 barrels of coal, valued at $10,603.

A match game of base ball was played yesterday at Durham, between the Raleigh Club and the Durham Club. Durham was with a score of three to nothing for the Raleigh boys.

The blackfish excursion on the steamer Italian, which was to have taken place this morning, was postponed until Friday morning, on account of the fact that a gale from the southeast prevailed outside yesterday.

It took Mr. Long just 32 minutes to deliver his Memorial address. The entire address was compressed into the space of one sheet of letter paper.

One appreciative gentleman offered to subscribe one dollar yesterday towards publishing Mr. Long's memorial address in pamphlet form.

The Annual Convention of the Episcopal Diocese of East Carolina will meet in Kinston to-day. Bishop Watson, Rev. Dr. Carmichael, Rev. Mr. Ambler, Dr. A. J. DeRosset, Col. John W. Atkinson, Mr. Gabriel Holmes and Mr. H. G. Smallbones will be present from this city.

We learn from the Newbern Journal that the remains of the late Joseph H. Flanner arrived there by the train Saturday night, from Paris, and were interred in Cedar Grove Cemetery Sunday morning at 10 o'clock, from the residence of his sister, Mrs. Mayhew, on Middle street.

Fair Helen. "said the sailor bold, His ringlet let me share, And he reached out, 'twas cold— And caught her tress of hair, Alas, it was a bitter day, He captured the whole 'rig, For when he drew his hand away It held the maiden's wig, And then she faded— Chinaman.

The Croceting Works—A Practical Test, which Proves Satisfactory. What is claimed to be one of the most economical and best croceting arrangements in the United States has just been patented and erected in this city by Messrs. Hansen & Smith, some reference to which was made in these columns a week or two ago.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS. MURKIN—Superb fits. GEO. P. LAMB—Boots. COLLIER & Co.—Auction sale. STAR OFFICE—Printer for sale. E. G. BLAIR—To fruit growers. FESTIVAL—Will Light Infantry. P. HEINSDORFER—Bookseller, etc. W. E. DAVIS & SON—Kennebec flint ice.

MAYOR'S COURT. John Watson was arraigned for acting very disorderly in the southern section of the city on Monday night, for which he was arrested by Officers Chadwick and Terry. He was ordered to be confined for fifteen days in the city prison.

Ramey Pearsall and Mary Eliza Lively, both colored, were engaged in a scuffle on the "Hollow" Monday night, for which they were arrested by Officers Costin and Sholar. The two belligerents were fined $5 each.

Henry Clinton, a colored youth, said to belong to a gang of boys who have lately been proving themselves a great annoyance in the vicinity of the Purcell House, was arraigned for acting disorderly in that neighborhood yesterday morning, for which he was arrested by Officer Everett. He was sent below for three days.

PERSONAL. J. S. Long, Esq., the memorial orator, leaves for his home in New Bern this morning. Mr. Long, who was formerly a member of the North Carolina M. E. Conference, was stationed at Front Street Church in this city about twenty-five years ago. He was at Raleigh during the war.

Rev. A. C. Dixon, of Baltimore, arrived here yesterday morning. He leaves this evening for Charlotte, where he preaches to-morrow night, and from there goes to Shelby, his old home. He is much pleased with his residence and success in Baltimore.

Excursion. The Young People's Association of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church proposes giving an excursion to Smithville about the latter part of this month. The date will be shortly announced in this paper. It is expected to be a grand affair, as the committee will spare no pains in making everything very pleasant.

WILMINGTON LIGHT INFANTRY FESTIVAL. The festival for the benefit of the Wilmington Light Infantry, next Tuesday and Wednesday nights, May 19th and 20th, promises to be a grand success. A committee of ladies has been formed, whose reputation as successful managers of entertainments of this character are well known. Besides having everything that festival-goers could wish for in the way of edibles, &c., competitive drilling by members of the company will be an attraction. A special feature will be a contest between the two best drilled tours.

200 Roses. JUST RECEIVED, TWO HUNDRED MARSHAL ROSES, of the most beautiful variety, for sale at a moderate price. For particulars inquire of W. E. DAVIS & SON, 106 North Sixth St. my 13 1/2

A Pointer for Sale. A FINE POINTER PUPPY, NINE MONTHS old, is for sale at a moderate price. He is healthy, well grown and intelligent. Stock sold by W. E. DAVIS & SON, 106 North Sixth St. my 13 1/2

Just Arrived. 400 SONS PURE BLENDED WINE, for sale at a moderate price. For particulars inquire of W. E. DAVIS & SON, 106 North Sixth St. my 13 1/2

Notice. IN ORDER TO KEEP PACE WITH THE RAILROADS, THE WILMINGTON LIGHT INFANTRY will always have the best of Wines, Liquors and Cigars on hand to meet the demand of its patrons. W. E. DAVIS & SON, 106 North Sixth St. my 13 1/2

Weather Indications. The following are the indications for today: For the South Atlantic States, cloudy weather and rain, easterly winds becoming variable, slight rise in temperature, except in extreme northeastern portion, stationary temperature.

St. James' Episcopal Church. We learn that Rev. Mr. Lewis stated to his congregation on Sunday that at a meeting of the vestry, held on Saturday night, plans and specifications of different architectural features to be proposed in connection with the church edifice were submitted, and the one prepared by Mr. Dudley, of New York, had been adopted.

Remaining in the City Postoffice, Wednesday, May 13, 1885. A—C Anderson, Richard A. Jett, B—Dennis Brown, P B Best, Julia Burghwin, Nelson Brown, C—Roena Carey, D—V H Dickinson, Allen Davis, Anthony Doyette, Carl Richard Field, E—D E Elzik, F—John W. Faison, G—B J Gibbs, Hamilton A. Green, Herbert B Galloway, Mag A Green, H—Robert Hunter, Margaret B Hill, Hopsy Hall, Adeline Himond, I—Emma Jones, Mary Jane James, Peattie E Johnson, Rev Peter Jones (2), B. H. Jones, L—Jennie Lee, M—Rachel Mitchell, Mary Catherine Miller, J E McNeil, Irat Moses, P—G A Pope, Eliza Jane Price, Jasper P Bailey, Q—J C Quincey, R—James Richardson, J D Robins, Mrs Dr James Robinson, Martha N Roberts, S—E H Smith, Martha Stryker, Jane Stokes, John Swain, Hannah Smith, Thos Spokes, Annie Telder, Henry Tolbert, T—Alice Vance, W—H Z Wolf, Lewis Waddell, Jno W Wells, Y—Vol J A Young.

SHIP LETTERS. Capt W T Gillikin, Capt Geo S Mehlman, Capt John Jordan, Capt Metcalf, James Chadwick, Samuel H Richards, G W Reardon, Louis Agnis, Jas O Johnson, Philip Nelson.

CONGRATS AND COLDS can be cured with a bottle of Sine's Syrup of Tar. Only 25c. For sale by Messrs. H. W. DAVIS & SON, 106 North Sixth St.

THE FLORENCE MEMORIAL OF THE NURSERY. The following is an extract from a letter written to the Wilmington Messenger, by the author of the Florence Memorial, which will open the door for her and Mrs. Winslow will prove the American Florence Nightingale of the North. "My dear Sir, I am glad that you will teach our 'Sisy' to say, 'A blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest daughter. It is a great blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the terrible cholera, which, in 1849, killed Mrs. Winslow's youngest son, and which, in 1850, killed her youngest daughter, and which, in 1851, killed her youngest son, and which, in 1852, killed her youngest