It is reported that an acrobat named Frank Livingston had jumped from Brooklyn Bridge and been killed. Put a guard to stop the epidemic of foolishness. That acrobat made his last leap and summersault.

The Massachsetts Puritans of the seventeenth century hanged women as witches. The decendants of these sorely persecuted women erect monuments to their memory in the nineteenth century, and it is nobly done.

A decree has been issued expelling thirty thousand Russian Poles from Prussia. Eight thousand have been conducted to the frontier by troops. This is regarded as a scheme to blot out Poland, but how we do not understand.

Jewish Advocate makes The good point against the Protestant noisers when it says:

"But it is strange that if accuracy was the object chiefly desired no representative of the Roman Catholic Church was invited to assist, and still more remarkable that in translating a book, the original of which was written in Hebrew by Jewish poets and seers, no invitation was extended to a Jewish scholar, who surely might have been expected to have superior qualifications for the work."

On yesterday the long summer vacation began. The past week has been one of un usual interest to the teachers, the pupils and the parents. Each school had a day appointed last week for the reception of visitors, and from the numbers visiting the various schools it is gratifying to see our people taking a greater interest in education every year. The willingness with which parents and friends have visited the schools has done much to encourage both pupils and teachers to make our city schools the best in the State. The term which has just ended has been remarkable for the good conduct, punctuality and stu-

pupils has steadily increased during the past three years and an increased enrollment is looked for when the fail term opens. Our people have good cause to be proud of the success of our Graded Schools. Narrow Escape and Good Luck. Saturday evening a colored man named

Jerry, well known about town, was sitting upon the cap of the wharf, near the foot of Market street, when, from dizziness or some other cause, he suddenly plunged headfore most into the murky waters of the Cape Fear. Instantly a crowd gathered on and about the wharf, and exclamations of "Oh he'll drown!" "Won't somebody help him! and "Throw him a line to cling to!" were heard on every side, but nobody seemed to be willing to venture to do what they would have been glad to see others undertake, until a colored man named Handy Robinson came slong, when, without stopping to divest himself of a single article of clothing, he plunged in after the fast drowning man, caught him as he was in the act of sinking for the third time, and brought him safely to shore. "Handy" is a good name for

That Drummer Tax.

The following, from State Treasu Bain, in reply to a letter from a busin house in Wilmington, throws some ad tional light on the question which has cently excited so much interest amo merchants:

RALEIGH, May 22, 1880 Dear Sirs:-I have yours of 21st in You ask, "Are merchants doing busin in this city (Wilmington) compelled to t out a drummer's license or be held liable the same fine that out of town drumm are, by inviting their customers on strects or at the hotel to call on them. or other words soliciting trade outside of the place of business."

I answer, if they solicit orders wholesale trade they are liable to the dru mers' tax. If they solicit as retail dea only they are not liable. Very respectfully, D. W. BAIN,

State Treasures

It is evident from the above that re dealers may solicit orders, and that who sale dealers may describe their goo prices, etc., to persons outside their sta and invite them to their place of busin it being only necessary for the dealers avoid soliciting orders outside. In of words, the wholesale dealer may praise goods and prices; and invite the pros tive purchaser to "call and examine."

C. Davis, of co sel for the State, who made the first spe During Saturday night, Sunday and day night the jury were kept in the C House in charge of an officer, their m being sent to them. Yesterday mornin 10 o'clock the argument was resumed Mr. J. T. Elliott for the State, who followed by Solicitor Moore for the S and Messrs. Ricaud and Darby for the fence, in the order named. Up to n the jury had not returned a verdict, an was then thought probable that they w pass another night in the Court House.

After the above case had been give the jury that of the State vs. J. D'La Smith, charged with criminal neglig in causing the explosion of the stea Wave, of which boat he was engineer. taken up, but before the State's witnesses were all examined the case was, at about 6:80 o'clock, continued over until this morning at 10 o'clock.
