OUTLINES.

White men who are members of Indian tribes are eligible as postmasters. The west coast of Mexico is free from yellow fever; an outbreak of the disease is reported on the Saltillo islands, near Cayenne. A vessel from the West Indies has arrived at Delaware Breakwater, with the captain sick with yellow fever. Eight postmasters were suspended yesterday for offensive partisanship. Paymaster General Smith of the Navy Department, is to be court-martialed. The Post-office at White Springs, Fla., burned, with all its contents. Hibbs, the defaulting postmaster of Lewiston, Idaho, has been arrested in Victoria, B. C.; he will resist extradition. Jas. H. Milliken shot and killed James Lee, at Weatherford, Texas. Gen. Grant has gone to Mount McGregor, N. Y. Cholera is raging in several provinces in Spain and in the city of Madrid; thirty thousand people have fled from Murcia to escape the epidemic. The "Liberty Bell" passed through Washington, D. C., and arrived at Philadelphia last night. Ross Coleman, colored, of Edgefield county, S. C., is accused of murdering her husband's legitimate child. Col. J. S. Burke, one of the most prominent farmers of Virginia, died suddenly at his home in Bedford county. Kerr Boyce appointed Postmaster of Augusta, Ga. A large number of the Marines at the Charleston Navy Yard are sick with a disease supposed to be cholera fever, contracted at Panama. New York markets: Money 1 per cent; cotton quiet at 109-110; 10-11-16; wheat, ungraded red 90-94; southern flour steady; corn, ungraded 50-52; sugar dull at 15-16; spirits turpentine 6m at 37c.

Miss Cleveland is 35 and not handsome. There now!

The best excuse for Ward Beecher's theological vagaries is to call him a "crank."

Father Jeremiah Ossilvan is the name of the new Roman Catholic Bishop of Mobile.

Conductor James S. Clemence was killed in South Carolina on the 14th by striking his head against a tree while backing his train and signalling the engineer.

The annual death rate of Charleston is, whites 23.86. This is far ahead of Wilmington. Last week the death rate was 14.56 for whites. There were 22 deaths, whites 7, blacks 25.

Ex-Empress Eugenie had given an annual allowance of 24,000 francs to young Victor Bonaparte. It is reported to her as being so very vicious that she has withdrawn the pension.

The politicians in the District of Columbia are represented to be in a woeful state of suspense, and all because Mr. President will not appoint the successors of the enemy. Some of them are cursing lustily.

The newspapers have at last got Rev. Sam P. Jones's picture. He has a strong face with combative qualities. The forehead is not high but broad. He wears a moustache and a standing collar. He ought to be invited to North Carolina.

The child that died at Gratha, opposite New Orleans, caught the disease from a ship moored at the wharf and that came from a yellow fever post. The only safety is non-intercourse. Cut off trade for the time.

Even the Richmond Dispatch did not know Gen. Lee's name. At Lexington, Va., is his tomb, and on it is inscribed: ROBERT EDWARD LEE, Born January 19, 1807; Died October 12, 1870.

Cut this out and paste it in your Bible. The New York World has pushed its pedestal fund beyond $70,000. It is bound to get the $100,000. It is astonishing that Mr. Vanderbilt and Mr. Gould do not appreciate a vigorous pursuit of right. Each one could draw a cheque for $15,000 and make it up in a few minutes by their large incomes. Give the fund the needed lift and relieve the World.

Bradstreet's reports last week 197 failures in the United States, as against 182 the preceding week. The South, omitting the States with but one failure, furnished as follows: Georgia and Tennessee 2 each; Louisiana 3; Maryland and Texas 4 each. North Carolina reported one—W. J. McGinnas, Cherryville, liabilities $10,000.

GOLDSBORO.

The writer spent Sunday and Monday at Goldsboro, the most flourishing town in Eastern North Carolina. It was very warm, and the shady side of the house was the most acceptable place. The burnt district is being rebuilt with more substantial houses than those consumed. But the work of rebuilding is not yet half done. Our friend Bonitz, of the Messenger, was kind enough to show us through his large and commodious three-story building that stands upon the site of the burnt structure, and is quite superior to it in all respects. He will soon have the most complete establishment by far in North Carolina. He has just added, at a cost of $7,000, an engine and press of the best make for that price. He has built up a paper that has real merit, is the largest in the State in circulation and size, and that exerts no little influence over a wide scope of country. His energy, pluck and "go" have done this. We called to see our young friend Robinson, of the Daily Argus, but were not fortunate in meeting him. His neat paper is at present well received, and we hope he will be so much encouraged that it may grow and develop so that in circulation it may be all that he can desire. He occupies nice quarters also.

We do not believe there is much building at present going on except in the burnt portion. The new Methodist Church, St. Paul by name, is a very neat and handsome structure. It was completed a few months ago. It is much the handsomest Methodist church building in the State, so far as we have seen, and is the handsomest church of any denomination in the State unless we except the First Baptist in this town. The shaft is very high and graceful. It does not equal the high shaft of the First Baptist, which is of marked grace and excellence of proportion, but it is nevertheless a noble steeple. The interior is neat and tasteful. The architect failed in the seats, but these will be remedied in the future. The pastor, Rev. Mr. Harris, is a diligent worker, a man of intelligence and marked devotion to his duties, and is held in high esteem for his piety and zeal by his people, and, as we learned, by the community at large. There is one drawback in the arrangements of the auditorium. The choir sits above and in rear of the preacher. This particular choir is a good one and contains several uncommonly handsome girls. It is impossible to keep the eye from wandering from the preacher to a pretty girlish face a foot or two to the right or left. That does not aid devotion. Either move the choir or swap the pretty girls for some ugly ones.

The two hotels are renovating and improving. The Bonitz House has passed into new hands and they are making changes that will be of advantage to the travelling public. Goldsboro is steadily growing. We once visited it when it had but three houses, and now it is certainly one of the most inviting and progressive towns in North Carolina. We are partial to Goldsboro.

At the Carlton and other Tory Clubs in London it is agreed that there is a necessity for the further coercion of Ireland. The Parnellites are already losing favor with the Tory leaders. A London dispatch says:

"It is not believed that the Marquis of Salisbury will seek assistance from any of Gladstone's ministers in forming a policy towards Ireland. His plan will be to split the Liberal party completely by proposing a measure of coercion based on Spencer's report, a measure the same as the Marquis of Hartington, Gladstone's War Minister, and a majority of Gladstone's Cabinet insisted on continuing in spite of the opposition of Sir Charles Dilke, Joseph Chamberlain and Mr. Trevelyan. Such a line of Irish policy would be almost certain to lead to at least a temporary coalition between the moderate Liberals and the Tories against the Radicals and Parnellites, and give the new government a tremendous majority."

It is said that Grant repeats in his book the shameful falsehood as to Mr. Davis being caught in woman's attire. This is disgraceful. Is Grant an inveterate liar that he should say such a thing? It is bad to falsify the numbers of the Confederate forces he fought; it is worse to give his indorsement to a foul slander and falsehood against an eminent man, civilian and soldier.

Queen Victoria is very happy in Gladstone's overthrow.

Her standard of a man was Beaconsfield. It is not surprising, therefore, that she neither appreciates nor understands the great Liberal leader. A special from London says: "The Parnellites who accomplished Gladstone's overthrow are going to encounter the hardest times they have ever had. The Marquis of Salisbury, everybody begins to see, lacks self-confidence. He has been bold but never fastidious as a leader of the opposition. Gladstone never asked a 'show' from anybody. The Queen could not conceal her satisfaction over the change in politics. She never liked Gladstone. He was too superior to etiquette, could not flatter, and was impatient as a State servant to the throne."

It is said that the postmasters at Petersburg and Woodstock will be retained although Republicans. The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun thus explains the matter: "Under the rule of 'senatorial courtesy' it has never been customary for the Senate to confirm the appointment of any postmaster at the home of a Senator who was personally objectionable to such Senator, and this rule goes so far as to disregard all political considerations. It is only a short time since, it is said, that the Republican majority of the Senate permitted Senator Ransom to control the appointment of the postmaster at his home, Weldon, N. C."

A large anti-stock law meeting was held at Asheville. The Lenoir Chronicle has completed its first year. Brother Blair is giving his subscribers a quid pro quo. Concord Times: Mr. J. A. Lilly, of Albemarle, father of Dr. Lilly, of this place, had a stroke of paralysis Thursday morning last.

The second number of the daily North Carolina Teacher, published at Black Mountain during the session of the Teachers' Assembly, has been received. It is small and handsome. Dr. R. H. Lewis is President.

Rev. L. C. Vass, of New Berne, delivered an excellent address before Vine Hill Academy, Scotland Neck. His subject was "Meditations on an Infidant." He is one of the best furnished ministers in North Carolina and writes well.

Pittsboro Record: On last Saturday a colored man, named William Martin, was brought here to jail to await his trial for having cut with a knife a white man named Aaron Dunlap. They were working together when they got into a fight, and Martin drew a knife and cut Dunlap quite severely.

Kinston Press: Mrs. H. E. Peebles has two thousand silk worms and is embarking in the culture of silk. Several of the young people were at La-Grange yesterday, to hear the words of beauty and eloquence as they fell from the lips of the inimitable and charming Blount, who delivered the address at Davis High School commencement.

Charlotte Observer: Mr. I. W. Aulen, of Long Creek township, this county, lost a valuable horse last Friday by hydrophobia. According to Mr. Aulen's statement the horse was bitten by a mad dog two months ago, but showed no bad effects until last week, when it began acting strangely. It was taken to a veterinarian and appeared to get stark crazy. Friday it was seized with convulsions and died.

Lenoir Chronicle: At the recent session of Alexander Superior Court, Calloway Marley was convicted and fined for carrying concealed weapons, and sentenced to the penitentiary for six months. He was arrested on the 14th inst. at the jail and broke down the door and released him. It is said there were about fifty in the party. The release of a crowd in Caldwell will be at least four times as large this year as it was last year.

John N. Long, Esq., of New Berne, delivered the literary address before the Laurinburg school. The address was his effort. Mr. Long discussed exhaustively the inspiration and ideals of youth, showing the powerful influence upon the moral and intellectual life of the young. He wields his polished scimitar like a warrior of old. He glances his eye over the audience, and the last day it was uttered when his rays shone on every countenance. His periods were rounded, his curves graceful, his figures beautiful.

Asheville Advance: Dr. F. M. Rountree, of Kingston and Dr. J. L. Watkins, of Durham, N. C., have recently purchased lots from R. S. Dougherty, at Black Mountain, and the next day will erect thereon handsome residences. A little daughter of J. M. Gudgeon, of Marshall, was thrown from a carriage at the depot at this place, yesterday, and seriously injured by the wheels of the train. There were eight persons in the carriage at the time. It is feared that the accident may prove fatal.

Carthage Gazette: There are four brothers living in this State, who were born and raised in Harnett county, who seem to hold a special lease of life. One is living in Cumberland county, one in Sampson and two in Harnett; their native county. It does not seem a very remarkable fact that four brothers were raised and are yet living, but this instance will prove very much so when we state that Robert Norris, the oldest one, was born in 1795, William Norris, the second, in 1801, James Norris, the third, in 1801, and James Norris, the youngest, in 1804, making him 81 years of age and the oldest 90.

Shelby Aurora: Cleveland county is free from debt and has several thousand dollars in her treasury; Burke owes $28,595. The last year's valuation of property in Cleveland was $2,899,563, while Burke's was only $1,006,765. Rev. Dr. H. T. Hudson's residence was struck by lightning during Monday's storm, and its six inmates narrowly escaped death. The lightning divided its strength and descended the northeast and southwest corners of the dwelling to the foundation, knocking off three pieces of timber and throwing down a rock from the foundation. Lightning rods in good order did not ward off or conduct the electric fluid to the earth.

Raleigh Visitor: We learn that the Greensboro Spoke and Handle Factory Company failed last Tuesday for $30,000. Dr. R. B. Hayward had a slight attack of facial paralysis last night. He was reported better at last accounts. Died, at her residence, in St. Mary's township, Wake county, on Saturday night last, Miss Green, daughter of the late Furney Green, aged about 23 years, of pneumonia. Mr. George H. Gorman, a Raleigh boy, will engage this week at Washington-Lee University, and will wear of the orator's medal. Mr. Gorman is a son of the late A. M. Gorman, of this city, who once edited the Spirit of the Age. About six weeks ago we mentioned the fact that Mr. Wm. Rayner, son of the late Hon. Kenneth Rayner, had been shot and seriously wounded in El Paso, Texas. Information has been received here to the effect that Mr. Rayner died a few days ago from the effects of the wound he received.

THE PRESS GANG.

Annual Meeting of the North Carolina Press Association at Smithville. Held at the Hotel Brunswick To-night Complimentary to the Association, &c.

Mr. Joseph Daniels, of the Wilson Advance, is President of the Association. The following members have been selected to read essays: North Carolina in the Solid South, by Charles R. Jones, editor of the Charlotte Observer; The Ethics of Advertising, by Rev. J. L. Winfield, editor of the Watch Tower; Immigration, by Jno. H. Harrell, editor of the North Carolina Teacher. In addition to these essays it is expected that essays or papers will be read by Messrs. John D. Cameron, of the Asheville Citizen; J. D. Bundy, of the Laurinburg Exchange; W. J. H. Blount, of the Wilson Mirror; H. A. Foote, of the Warren County Gazette; R. K. Bryan, of the Hickory Press; H. S. Nunn, of the New Berne Journal, and probably by other members of the Association. Mr. Walter H. Page, of the Raleigh Chronicle, will deliver the annual oration.

We hope the meeting may prove a pleasant and profitable one; that the members may be blessed with propitious weather, and that the cool and healthful breezes from "old Ocean," whose "white caps" can be plainly seen from their place of meeting, may have a good effect upon their deliberations. The opening ball of the season will take place at the Hotel Brunswick this evening, and will be complimentary to the Association. A number of gentlemen of the Press, members of the Association, arrived in the city last night. Among others were the following: R. H. Cowan, Wadesboro Times; E. E. Harper, New Berne Journal; G. W. Hicks, Warrenton Home Journal; Hicks, Littleton Index. More of the members are expected to arrive this morning, on the Carolina Central train.

Mr. W. A. Strauss, who has been quite sick for a month or so, is able to be out again. The Art Loan Exhibition. Yesterday the Art Loan Exhibition, which has been open at Volkers' Hall since Wednesday last, was closed. The management deserve great credit, not only for the very meritorious exhibition which they so hurriedly improvised, but for the manner in which it has been conducted. We only hope that it will be found to have realized as handsomely for the object had in view as it deserved, for it was certainly one of the best, most attractive and interesting exhibitions of the kind ever given in this State. The proceeds are to go towards beautifying St. James' church-yard.

Accident to One of the Mail Carriers. F. C. Sadgwar, colored, letter carrier for the second district, living at No. 15 North Eighth street, has been laid up since May 28th from wounds received in slipping down a flight of stone steps. On Monday a surgical operation was performed upon one of his feet, when two pieces of bone were taken out of the bruised place. He expresses himself as very grateful to those he has been serving for their acts of kindness since he has been prostrated. He has proved a faithful carrier.

OPERA HOUSE.

Hazel Kirke. The well known play of "Hazel Kirke" was presented last night by the Standard Dramatic Company to the largest audience, that they have had during their present engagement. The performance was well received, and was greeted with frequent applause.

Miss Irving made an attractive and pleasing appearance as Hazel Kirke, and added to her reputation as Dolly Weston, performed her part well; and Messrs. A. M. Hamilton, as Dunstan Kirke, S. B. McElreth, as Pittigrew Green, Geo. E. Caulfield, as Epitro Rodney; and Wm. Harcourt, as Arthur Cairnsworth, played their difficult roles to the acceptance and satisfaction of the audience.
