Oxford vs. Wilmington On Friday and Saturday, 26th and 27th, the Oxford team will meet the Seasides on their grounds in this city. The Oxford boys are considered the hardest hitters in the league, and their fielding work is fully up to the average. They have done some fine playing lately, and the team is stronger now than at any time this summer. They have a remarkable record for tying their opponents, having tied Raleigh, Durham. Henderson and the Seasides; but the Seasides beat them on the tenth inning. They have beaten Raleigh one game, Durham two and Goldsboro one. They have McDonnell in the box, and it is claimed no better ever came to this State to do the honors here. He has a record in one game of "striking out" seventeen men, and in another of twenty four. The men that recommended him claimed that he was superior to Jacobi, of the Henderson's, or the wide awake, active, vigilant little Shaw of the Durham's. The success of the team since leaving home, having won three games out of four, justifies the boasts of his admirers. The Oxford team is composed of the best boys in that town, and they play in a gentlemanly way. The Seasides were treated well while there, and everything was done to make their stay kindness. Are the Seasides prepared to meet this nine? We think not. There has been a noticeable lack of unity of play lately. There has been looseness and need of change in two or three particulars. There must be more united and determined effort on the part of our home boys or their present supremacy is gone. Wilmington takes a pride in you. Prove that you are worthy of it. Can Kurtz pitch another game like the one with the Durham's? Let Friday and Saturday answer.

Carolina Yacht Club.

This organization is growing yearly, and has assumed proportions which make it the chief attraction of our city during the summer months. The club owns a large and commodious house on Wrightsville Beach. where members and their visiting friends can enjoy a look at old ocean and be fanned to their satisfaction by its health-giving breezes, to say nothing of the comfort and convenience of a good substantial shelter. Mr. S. P. Cowan has taken charge of the property, and at sunrise and sunset one can hear the boom of the cannon and see the flag waving in the breeze.

The Club numbers about one hundred and fifty mem bers. Four new yachts will be added to the fleet, being swned by Commanders H. M. Bowden, Jno. W. Atkinson, Jr., H. R. Latimer and Commodore Pembroke Jones. They will add greatly to the interest in the races, and it is predicted that they will prove very fast sailers. The Sound will look quite gay, with twenty or thirty flitting about. At night each yacht carries a light, and at anchor they add greatly to the beauty of the

The first regular regatta for the present season will be sailed on July 4th, over the regular course. Among the entries for the annual race are the Bubble, the Mable, the Restless, the Loulie, the Frolic, the Rosa, the Phantom, the Mist, the Ripple and the Idler. The latter, Commodore Jones' new yacht, arrived by the steamship Regulator yesterday morning, and was the admiration of all who saw her. She is nineteen feet and eleven inches in length.

Cutting and Slashing.

The cases of Ulysses Richardson and William Brown, the two young colored men alluded to yesterday as having been arrested on warrants charging them with assault and battery upon each other, had a preliminary hearing before Justice Millis yesterday morning. According to evidence the first assault was made by Richardson upon Brown with a razor, on the assumption that Brown and other young men with him did not get out of the way with sufficient celerity when he (Richardson) passed with Ida Fisher, a young colored woman whom he was seeing home from the entertainment at Minnie's Hall. Some words passed between Richardson and Brown, when the former left his companion and commenced the assault. Soon Brown exclaimed that he was cut and ran across the street, followed by Richardson. Brown fell down and Richardson made several lunges at him with the razor. Upon gaining his feet Brown snatched a paling from a fence and gave his assailant several blows with it. Fortunately nobody was se-

At the close of the examination, Richardson was required to give bond in the sum of $100 for his appearance at the next term of the Criminal Court in the case of assault and battery with a deadly weapon, and $50 in the matter of carrying a con cealed weapon; while Brown was required to give bond in the rum of $50 for his appearance to answer to the charge of assault and battery. Brown furnished the necessary security and was released, but Richardson failed and went to jail.

Sudden Death. The wife of Mr. C. M. Bonham, residing about two miles and a half from this city. on the turnpike road, died suddenly yester day morning. She was out in the garden during the forenoon, picking beans for dinner, and Mr. Bonham left her up and about when he went out to drive up the cows in the evening. Upon his return he found her sick, and sent to the city for a physician. but at 5 a. m. she breathed her last.

- Watermelons have been arriving quite freely here for several days past.

"Sea Gulla" vs. "Benevolent Nine."

The much expected match game beween the "Sea Gulls" and "Benevolent Nine" was played yesterday afternoon, and was called after the eighth inning, as it was getting dark and there was great difficulty n distinguishing the umpire, Mr. Koockogey, from Mr. M. S. Willard, one being appealed to for the other, thereby creating confusion. The game was hotly contested on both sides and stood-"Sea Gulls" 43, Benevolent Nine" 34.

There can be "no discount" on the pitchng of Mr. W. L. Smith, Jr., and if he were given "three days grace" there is no telling nto what he would develop.

The willingness with which Mr. Sweet struck at the ball was only equalled by the facility in which he was missed being caught out. This caused a smile to appear on the face of Mr. Sweet so often that he was by unananimous consent dubbed 'Sweet Sixteen."

The graceful manner in which Mr. Bolies glided over the field, and the nonchalant way in which he let grounders pass through his hands, were applauded by the audience with a fervor that was so genuine that even the participants were forced to join in.

Mr. Ricaud took the place of Mr. Lilly. who was hurt by a ball, and the rapid metamorphoses which he underwent were striking and marvellous, and were more loudly applauded than his playing.

The senior member of the rice mill firm essayed short-stop, but was contented with cooler berth out on a line with the left fielder. His stoppage of one ball out of four was credited by the scorer as an accident, and the sky scraping fly that some one accommodated him with struck the rubber padding of his hands, bounded in the air, gracefully performing its gyrations, and fell laughing at his feet. Dumbfounded the sage looked on, then examined his hands to find the hole the ball went through. but seeing the runner making bag after bag he seized the ball and in a left handed way threw it wildly over the baseman's head.

Some of the batting done by both clubs was excellent, and all the "boys" need is practice and plenty of it, but this we are afraid they will not have, as the clubs will disband after to-day.

The clubs realized a snug little sum, which will be given to the Ladies' Benevo-

LEAGUE GAMES. At Durham, on Monday and Tuesday, games were played between Oxford and the home club, with the following score: First day-Oxford 13. Durham 7. Second day-Oxford 27, Durham 7. In Goldsboro yesterdsy, the Nationals played the Oxford club. Score-Nationals 10, Oxford 5.

School Entertainment of Misses Burn

There was a large and greatly pleased audience at the Opera House last night to see the school entertainment of Misses Burn and James. The artistic manner in which the stage was decorated with beautiful flowers, and the tasteful costumes of the young ladies who took part in the entertainment, received many favorable comments.

The first part of the programme was devoted to calisthenic exercises, and the grace and precision with which the difficult feats were executed, redounded much to the credit of Misses James and Burr. The second part consisted of a schoo opera in one act, which was much enjoyed and loudly applauded. Below we give the characters: Madame,

Mistress of the School, Miss Peschau; Mignon, afterwards Lady Elizabeth, Miss Lippitt; Lady Clare, afterwards Landgrave of Thuringia, Miss Barlow; Pholoe, Miss Hall; Grazeilla, a dumb girl, Miss Jewett; Madeleine, a poor Alsatian, Miss Hintze; Jeanne, Margot, Anna, Nellie, scholars, Misses Agostini, McPherson, Blue and French; an Under Teacher, Miss Sallie Stone; Milkmaid, Miss Mary Bridgers; Poor People of Thuringia, attendants.
