THE MORNING STAR.

VOL. XXXVI.--NO. 96.

We heard Rev. Dr. Moore at the First Presbyterian church at night.

His morning sermon is represented to us as being specially fine. He looks to be about 32 or 33 years of age, is tall and slightly built. He has an intelligent face, a fine head.

and a weak voice, but a pleasant one.

He did not use a note as far as we could perceive. His style is easy, without marked mannerism or excessive gesticulation. He speaks readily, felicitously and occasionally with earnestness. He is not an orator, but a very agreeable speaker. His sermon at night was on Regeneration, and the text was the famous one in John's Gospel and the interview between the Saviour and the Jewish teacher, Nicodemus. It was the best discourse on the subject we remember to have heard. The introduction was extremely happy-an excellent test of sermonizing. The discussion was clear, cogent and of sustained interest. The language was colloquial and easy, but scholarly and exact. In 32 minutes the speaker packed away about as much solid thought and illustration as many D. D.'s would be able to get in in an hour or perhaps a week. It was not a great discourse, but a very good one. The plan was simple and yet exhaustive. Judging the gifted Mayor's Court.

The Mayor's levee yesterday morning was quite largely attended, the attraction being the trial of Edward Thomas, colored, charged with acting disorderly on Saturday evening, and of Andrew Ross, colored. for interfering with the arrest and obstructing an officer in the discharge of his duty. It seems that Mr. G. W. Thames clerk of the market, was asked for assistance in getting Thomas out of a saloon near the market house, where he was acting disorderly, and, not seeing a policeman, he took charge of the man himself, intending to take him to the guard house or hand him over to another officer for that purpose. Thomas proved obstreperous, seized an axe helve, as if intending to use it on Mr. Thames, but put it down again, when it was removed out of his way, and finally succeeded in making his escape. He was subsequently arrested by Officer Bryan, and, in response to call from that officer's whistle, Sergeant Bishop and Officer White came up. Thomas told Officer Bryan that he would go with him or any one else except Mr. Thames, whom he cursed and abused all the way to the guard house, though he made no re sistance. A large crowd followed the prisoner to the lock-up, and Ross' offence consisted in urging them on when the offi cers tried to disperse them, saying "Come on! Come on! I pay taxes for you fellows to walk the streets. This is a free country," etc. Passing a saloon, Thomas asked to be allowed to get a glass of beer He was told by the officers that he could not have it while under arrest. Ross slipped into the bar room, got a glass of beer and had it in the prisoner's hands before the officers could prevent it, though one of them tried to knock it out of his hands, which he partially succeeded in doing. Some of the witnesses testified that Ross used language of an incendiary and riotous character. One witness also testi fled that Thomas carried an open knife in his hand. All agreed, however, that he of fered no resistance on his second arrest and his good behavior in that respect light ened the penalty imposed by His Honor, which was only $5; while Ross was re-

Mary Higgins and Georgiana Neill. charged with quarrelling and boisterous conduct at a house on Front street, near Ann, were fined $3 and $5 respectively.

Rev. Thomas Ambier, Rector of St Paul's Episcopal church, of this city, left last evening for Markham's Station, Va. where he will spend a month or so, on a visit to relatives.

Rev. Chas. E. Taylor, D. D., President of Wake Forest College, spent Sunday here, but was excused by Dr. Pritchard from filling his pulpit on account of fatigue. After the sermon by the pastor, Dr. Taylor presented the claims of Wake Forest College to the young men of our city, especially those of the Baptist faith, in the forcible and effective manner so characteristic of him. Yesterday he started around to talk to the boys about the advantages of collegiate education, when he received hasty summons home to greet a prospec tive student who had arrived there during

Rev. Walter W. Moore, of the Union Theological Seminary of Virginia, preached two sermons at the First Presbyterian church on Sunday, which were received with great favor by his congregation. He will spend the week on the Sound as the guest of Mr. George W. Williams, and on next Sunday will again preach to the people of that charge.

The Military Encampment.

We have been asked to suggest-and think the idea a good one—that the Wilmington Light Infantry and Cornet Concert Band give a dress parade for the benefit of our citizens before proceeding to Asheville next week. Our people all feel an interest in the approaching encampment and want to see the company looking its best before it starts; and especially do they desire to see it with full ranks. It will not do for Wilmington, the largest city in the State, to send a handful of men to represent them in the grand encampment. It is not often our military go away from home, and this will probably be the last trip for some time to come; so it is to be hoped that employers will decide to throw no obstacle in the way of such of the members as may be dependent upon their permission to go. If to be given at all it should be given at once, too, in order that the commanding officer may know how many men he will be able to carry with him.

Foreign Exports. The British barque Ella Moore, Capt. Byers, was cleared from this port for Hamburg, Germany, yesterday, by Messrs, Paterson, Downing & Co., with 3,573 barrels of rosin, valued at $3,109. Also the schooner Lizzie Major, Capt. Foster, for Port-au-Prince, by Messrs. E. Kidder & Son, with 165,652 feet of lumber, valued at $2,761 24. Total $6,870 24.

Firemen's Reception. The members of the white Fire Department of this city are notified to meet at their respective halls this morning, at 11 W. Shaffer, of Raleigh. It is probably the o'clock, for the purpose of according a reception to the Newbern firemen, who are to arrive here this forenoon.

BASE BALL.

Henderson vs. Seaside To-Day. The Henderson team arrived unexpected y last night, and will play the Seasides this afternoon at 5 o'clock on their grounds. They have with them Williams and Jacobs, as fine a battery as there is in the State. Jacobs had the honor of striking out seventeen men in Raleigh last week, and is now known as the "Wizard pitcher." Williams has been here before, but his playing at that time was not so good behind the bat. He has his own pitcher to face now, and some fine work can be ex-

The Henderson boys are considered as good ball players as there are in the Association, and many think they are on the road to the championship.

Mr. Waddell's enforced absence from the field to-day weakens the home team more than it can well afford, and that clever fielder will be missed by the spectators as well as by the players. We hope he will be well enough by Friday to take part in the game against Raleigh.

The manager of the Seasides has issued tickets complimentary to the visiting Fire Department from Newbern, and to day will be a big day at the ball grounds. The Wilmington Fire Department will accompany their guests to the field, and we hope they will all be entertained by a well played game. The time for commencing to play has been fixed at five o'clock, to enable our citizens to see the Henderson boys wield the ash, and we hope and know a large crowd will be in attendance.

The California varieties of grape vines which Capt. S. W. Noble introduced in his vineyard recently are doing nicely, and some of them have good sized bunches of grapes upon them, although they were only grafted in the month of April. Capt. Noble thinks the soil here well adapted to them and expects them to do as well here as

Some of Capt. Noble's early varieties of grapes are turning, especially the "Champion," of which latter he will probably have some in market in a day or two. They are not so sweet as the later varieties, but are very good, especially to those who are "grape hungry."

Capt. Noble says the excessive rains have been against grapes, but his own are looking as fine as it would seem possible for them to look, which he claims is owing, first, to the entire adaptability of the soil and climate; and, second, to the careful attention which has been bestowed upon them. It is really wonderful to see the profusion of large clusters which are hanging from all of the producing vines.

The business of grape culture is a fasci nating one, and we expect to see it one of the most profitable industries of this particular section of the State.

Magistrate's Court.

Scilla Bradley, colored, was before Justice Millis, yesterday morning, charged with assault and battery upon Ann Davis, also colored. Judgment was suspended on the payment of costs, in default of which the defendant was committed to jail.

Ann Davis was next arraigned on the charge of assaulting and battering Scilla Bradley, and judgment was also suspended in her case, on the payment of costs; failing in which showas likewise locked up. Now both of these damsels were clamorous for "jestice," and they got it.

Fishing. We learn that there has been good fish ing at the Sound for the past two or three days. In trolling, the sport has been unusually fine. One gentleman caught a large mackerel a day or two ago, besides a number of other fish. The fishing at the Rocks has not been good for some days, though luck fluctuates with the tides there. One while sheephead and other fish will be abundant, and at another time no one can get a bite. A party went down yesterday for a day or Haptist Industrial School.
