NOTICE.

Col. John A. Nicholson, of Rockingham, N. C., has taken the agency for the STAR on the Carolina Central and Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley Rail Roads, and is authorized to receive subscriptions and advertisements and to receipt for same.

Grant has rallied again, but that is a peculiarity of his disease.

The new Tory Minister of War asks for an additional force of 35,000 men.

Grant's physician, Douglas, is breaking down from the constant strain upon him.

The scourge in Spain is spreading and now the number of cases of cholera is placed at 30,000.

Shelby Female College was well patronized the last scholastic year. Rev. R. D. Mallory has charge.

The New Orleans Exposition plant buildings have been sold for $175,000. They were purchased for the new Exposition company.

As far as we have observed this is a poor fruit year. We have no good apples, peaches or melons. The peaches are extremely inferior.

Gen. Buckner, of Kentucky, recently called to see Gen. Grant. They were students together at West Point. It is hard to outgrow boyish friendships.

There is a revival of a rumor that the Czar Alexander is to be crowned soon. He ought to be careful to remember that "uneasy lies a head that wears a crown." A good soft hat is much better.

Sixty persons were poisoned at Kankakee, Ill., by eating dried beef from the Rice Butcher and Supply Company, of Chicago. Only one death, but the other victims are suffering terribly.

Gen. Wolsey is in London. He does not bring back many honors, and the Tory Cabinet fooled him by doing just what they pretended to condemn in Mr. Gladstone—ordering an evacuation of troops.

A negro named Ed Shaw, a former bitter Republican, is a prominent candidate for Port Surveyorship at Memphis. He turned Democrat in good time. The Tennessee Democratic papers are much agitated over the matter.

The New York Times devotes space equal to three columns of the STAR to proving that Prof. Charles Kendall Adams, who is about to be elected President of Cornell University, N. Y., is a plagiarist, and what is more it proves it. Prof. A. stole well from Buckle's great work.

The Prince of Wales was so shocked over his toast at the revelations in the Pall Mall Gazette that he ordered it to be discontinued at once. The Prince, you know, has such a very high moral reputation it was just too bad to have him exposed to the awful details that appeared in the Gazette.

THE MORNING STAR.

VOL. XXXVI.--NO. 98.

WILMINGTON, N. C., THURSDAY, JULY 16, 1885.

WHOLE NO. 5873

The President calls a halt. He says the axe is falling too fast to suit his ideas. The Washington Star says:

"A week ago a stop was put to all work in the appointments division of the Treasury Department, and the appointment clerk was told that no more commissions were to be made out or papers considered until further orders, and a lot of changes that were contemplated by him were killed in their conception. Commissioner of Pensions Black was sent for personally by the President and was given to understand that the 'offensive partisanship' had become too indefinite in its meaning, and that no more changes in his official force were to be made until there was a thorough understanding of the subject on the part of the President."

A dispatch from London, dated 11th inst., says:

"The exposures in the Pall Mall Gazette are creating a public interest. The charges that the police department was suborned in the interest of the process and that the police officers were bribed to allow the assassins to escape, and a government investigation is probable. If the alleged imputations of the Gazette can be substantiated the peerage and the throne itself are shaken."

At Oxford, Miss., a negro was lynched for the same old crime, or attempt at crime. He failed, being frightened off. Five hundred people engaged in his hanging at the town where the University of Mississippi is located. Many negroes aided. He was hanged in the back yard of the Methodist Church.

The book critic of the New York Tribune says that Miss Cleveland's first attempt at book-making is "of slight material, but it is graceful, pleasantly written, and its innocent air of omniscience is rather typical than individual." The price in Washington City has declined nearly half what it began at.

Attorney General Garland has added to his legal reputation by his dissection of the Dolphin fraud. Alas! poor Roach.

Spirits Turpentine

—Lexington Dispatch: Mr. Numa F. Helman returned last week from the University of Virginia, where he has taken the law course.

—The marrying business by correspondence has opened in the Durham Reporter. That is not the best way for future happiness.

—Beaufort Telephone: Fruit is coming in in small quantities yet, the early peaches and apples not existing in such abundance as the abundant blossoms forecast.

—Kernersville News: Rev. M. J. Hume thus far has 32 families in this county destitute of the Bible. No one knows what is in the land until he or she goes round and sees.

—It turns out that the special from Monroe, in Chatham, about the threatened insurrection of the negroes was a hoax. A public meeting was held in Pittsboro and resolutions were adopted denouncing the whole matter.

—Goldboro Argus: Mr. Andrew Flanner has returned from New York, where he found that there will be no difficulty in his getting the $50,000 or $60,000 that falls to his share as soon as the uncle's large estate can be settled up.

—Lumberton Robesonian: We have been constituted a member of the Shoe Heel Guards, and if they (the boys) can stand it, we hope to go with them. The only trouble is that we will have to furnish our own rations. We might be able to furnish everything else, but rations, in our case, mean a great deal.

—For summer complaint the following remedy is said to be good: A handful of common mullein stewed in a pint of milk. —New Observer. Another remedy, and a good one, is a handful of persimmon bark—chew it and swallow the juice. It has cured numerous cases almost instantly. —Greensboro Workman.

—Louisburg Times: Bro. Henry A. Foote, editor of the Warrenton Gazette, was in Louisburg this week, and paid our sanctum a very pleasant visit. He reports his town as improving since the completion of the railroad, and that the road is paying well. The farmers of his county are in better condition than for some years, and the crops—especially tobacco—are fine.

—Asheboro Courier: The C. F. & Y. V. Railway is now located to Mt. Airy. There is one stockade 28 miles this side, another being built at Mt. Airy. The road passes within three miles of Pilot Mountain. —The Baptist Orphanage Association meets in Thomasville, August 5th. Eminent speakers will be present. The corner stone of one of the buildings will probably be laid.

—Graham Glenner: The list-taker took down some 125 dogs and sheep, and found there are 285 sheep—not enough to feed the dogs for another year. —We regret that the firm of Neel, Hornaday & Co. declined to make an assignment Tuesday for the benefit of their creditors. It is thought that the assets will be sufficient to fully reimburse all of their creditors.

—Winston Leader: One of the colored base ball players, Samuel Talliaferro, broke his leg a few days ago while engaged in a game. The Teachers have come up here from at least five different States for the special purpose of attending the Normal School. The enrollment at the end of the last week was over 200. More than fifty counties are represented, variously scattered from New Hanover in the East, to Buncombe in the West.

—Raleigh Register: From this date Mr. Stephen G. Worth, late Fish Commissioner of North Carolina, is connected with the Raleigh Register as its corresponding editor. —The STAR's opinion is very generally entertained, and Dr. Shepherd's return to North Carolina was earnestly desired by its people. It is a matter of very great regret to them and to Dr. Shepherd himself that there was an insuperable obstacle to his acceptance of the position which, undoubtedly, would have been offered him if he could have accepted it. Many trustees wished to elect him anyhow, unless it would have been to do so.

—Raleigh Visitor: The Governor has offered a reward of $400, each for the apprehension of Ray and Anderson and rewards will no doubt be offered for the others. —Major J. M. Wilson, Chief Engineer of the Western North Carolina road, is now with a working force of the road five miles north from the mouth of the Nantahala river. He reports the work as progressing finely. At Balsam station, the meeting point for trains going east and west, the road is 3,000 feet above the sea level, being higher than any other railroad east of the Rocky mountains.

—Charlotte Observer: Mr. Peter S. McLaughlin, foreman of the Observer office, received a telegram Sunday morning announcing the death in Florence, S. C., of his only daughter, Julia, who left home a few weeks ago on a visit to friends at that place. —Our business men generally have been of the opinion all along that the reduced rates of telegraphy were too good to last, and none of them there will be surprised to learn that the cheap rates are to be withdrawn. The Western Union and the Southern Telegraph offices have both received instructions to restore the old rates to-morrow morning on messages of ten words. There will be no more fifteen word messages for fifteen cents.

—Raleigh News-Observer: One thousand dollars worth of N. C. 6s were sold in New York last week at 112. —We are pleased to learn that Mr. Edmund Jones, of Caldwell county, has, through the exertions of Senator Ramsey and the influence of Senator Vance, been appointed a chief of division in the Customs Bureau at Washington. —The State Board of Assessors yesterday fixed the valuation of the railway franchises in North Carolina. The variations in value as shown by the report elsewhere printed are interesting. The highest valuation appears to be that of the Piedmont Air-Line—$1,500 a mile; the lowest, that of the University, the Alma and Little Rock and the Milton and Sutherland ranges, each $100. The longest line of road within the State is that of the Western North Carolina, which is 276 1/2 miles in length, while the Milton and Sutherland line extends but one half mile within our borders.

—Warrenton Gazette: The thermometer registered 99 yesterday. —A newspaper is generally such as its patronage makes it. —Warren is about the only county in the State that produces the beautiful curl hickory. —Last year Capt. Richard Bobbitt, living near Warrenton, cultivated 7 1/2 acres in tobacco and it in cotton. From the latter he got nine bales of cotton, a first rate yield, which he sold for $400. His tobacco he sold for $1,500. There was nearly twice as much cotton as there was in tobacco and the tobacco brought nearly four times as much money as the cotton did. —We observe that the crops are better in Warren than they are in Vance, Franklin and Wake. Having had a flatting and advantageous offer, Mr. John W. Hicks, the editor and proprietor of the Warrenton Home Journal, has decided to move his paper to Murfreesboro, and will publish his last issue in this place to-day.

LOCAL NEWS.

—The guard house is now empty.
—The "Mulligan Guards" were out serenading last night.
—There were no cases for the Mayor yesterday morning.
—Don't forget the Lutheran Sunday School excursion to Seaside Park this morning.
—The new bulletin boards for the Produce Exchange are in readiness to be put in position.
—Our friends of the Fifth Street Methodist Church give an excursion down the river to-day.
—The elegant spread at the City Hall last night was prepared by Mr. R. J. Lewis, under the general direction of Capt. Jno. L. Boatwright.
—The "Young Americas," Capt. Julius Taylor, and "Wide-Awakes," Capt. Samuel Greenberg, played a match game of base ball yesterday afternoon, which resulted in a score of 13 for the former and 7 for the latter.

Discovery of the Last of the Victims of the Steamer Wase.

Yesterday morning the mutilated remains of a man were found in the hull of the steamer Wase, which had been raised by Capt. Sam. Skinner and taken to Messrs. Morton & Hall's distillery wharf, near the Carolina Central Railroad. The hull, which was suspended between two lighters, was being unloaded of the remains of the cargo which was on board of her when she sank, and under a lot of sacks of guano the dead body was found. The head of the unfortunate man was entirely gone, and one of the feet was missing. It is supposed that the head was blown off by the explosion and the foot, being exposed, was eaten off by fish. The remains are supposed to be those of Neel Jessup, colored, who was one of the victims of the explosion of the boiler of the steamer Wase on the afternoon of Thursday, March 5th, of the present year. Coroner Jacobs was notified, who had the body buried in Oak Grove Cemetery at the expense of the county. No inquest was held.

Base Ball Under Difficulties.

We learn that the Little Giant and Hook & Ladder nines played a match game of base ball in the wet sand at the Rocks yesterday afternoon. Each side had a professional battery and Mr. W. C. VonGlaban, of the Little Giant, acted as umpire. The result was 4 to 4, and no more.

VISITING FIREMEN.

The Contest Between the Newbern and Wilmington Firemen—The Newbern Firemen Win the Prizes—A Large Crowd Witness the Contest—The Excursion Down the River—The Supper at the City Hall—Speeches, Toasts, &c.

We are glad to know that our Newbern friends enjoyed themselves very agreeably after a slight rest from the fatigue incident to their somewhat protracted trip and the reception and parade, which took place after their arrival here.

We append a list of those present, as taken from the register at the Purcell House:

E. M. Pavie, John Greer, P. M. Draney, Jno. Dietrick, Charles Sweet, C. Erdman, Lee Taylor, R. W. Moore, J. H. Hilton, Jas. M. Howard, H. E. Baxter, W. S. H. Turner, John Diakins, N. M. Agostini, S. B. Walters, J. M. Harget, George Ash, Wm. Ellis, J. B. Young, John C. Green, John McSorley, E. M. Duguid, S. K. Eaton, W. R. Walters, Ed. Lewis, Jno. B. Young, W. B. Phillips, Jos. Duguid.

In this list is embraced the name of Mr. Wm. Ellis, who is Chief of the Newbern Fire Department, and a fine looking Chief he is, too.

Following are the officers of the company:

Foreman—E. M. Pavie.
Ass't Foreman—S. B. Walters.
Engineer—R. H. Hilton.

Yesterday morning the companies marched down to the foot of Chesnut street, where a test of the engines was to be made. In the meantime the streets and sidewalks had become thronged with people, while a large number occupied positions on adjacent sheds and fences and gazed from the surrounding verandas, porches and windows. The deck of the steamship Benefactor, which was lying at her wharf, foot of Chesnut street, was also lined with people. Among the spectators were quite a number of ladies, who appeared to take a lively interest in all that was going on.

A good deal of time was taken up in adjusting the engines and hose, measuring distances and in other preliminaries, and in the meantime Wilmington Hook & Ladder Company No. 1, under direction of Foreman J. H. Daniel, exhibited the working of their extension ladder, which can be made to reach to a very great height. The extension is made by the turning of a crank and requires no great amount of muscle.

The judges selected to decide upon the victors in the test and award the prizes, consisting of an elegant silver tilting pitcher and goblet and a handsome brass clock, were Capt. C. D. Myers, Chief of the Wilmington Fire Department; Mr. William Ellis, Chief of the Newbern Fire Department, and Mr. J. B. Magill, of the Charlotte Fire Department.

Everything finally being in readiness the signal was given, the match was applied, the black smoke soon commenced boiling from the stacks, and almost before you could say "Jack Robinson," streams were bursting forth from the nozzles; first from that belonging to the Newbern engine and then in quick succession from the two Wilmington engines. Loud cheers greeted the victors in this contest. The test was to throw fifty feet of water through fifty feet of hose, and the Newbern Engine accomplished the feat in 3.39.

The next test was to throw water through two hundred feet of hose. The contest was a spirited one, and all three threw powerful streams, although they had the disadvantage of forcing the water up hill. The rather dense foliage of the shade trees also interfered somewhat. The decision of the judges had not been made up and formulated up to the time that they started on the excursion down the river, except as to the first test, in which our Newbern friends were clearly and unmistakably the winners. We also await an official report of the time made by the home engines in the first test.

THE EXCURSION.

The contest over, the engines and hook and ladder truck were housed, and after much "blowing" on the part of Capt. Harper, the Newbern Company, accompanied by the most of the Wilmington firemen, embarked on the steamer Passport for a trip down the river. It was a late hour to start—half past 12 o'clock—but we have no doubt the trip will be pleasantly remembered by our visitors.

AWARD OF THE JUDGES.

The following is the official report of the judges of the contest:

STEAMER PASSPORT.

WILMINGTON, N. C., July 15, 1885.
At the contest this morning between the New Bern, Adrian and Little Giant Engines, the first test was as to first stream of water, through 50 feet of hose, thrown 50 feet. This was won by the New Bern Engine in 3 minutes 39 seconds, and they are awarded first prize.

A claim was made that the Adrian Company played through 30 feet more of hose than the Newbern, and that their hose was so laid, or curved, as to prevent their giving the full force from the engine. On the other hand, a member of the Newbern certifies to the fact that the Adrian's nozzle was fully 10 feet in front of the Newbern's. They also claim that they had 5 sections of linen hose 55 feet each in length in their line of 500 feet, which would make them play through 515 feet of hose. Your judges measured 3 sections of the Newbern's linen hose and found them to be each 53 feet in length.

Chief Fire Department, Wilmington.
WM. ELLIS,
Chief Fire Department, Newbern.
J. B. MAGILL,

THE SUPPER.

The banquet at the City Hall last night was an elegant affair. The spacious hall was most handsomely decorated with flags and wreaths. The long tables were arranged in the form of a cross, spread with a tempting array of eatables, and champagne and other wines flowed in profusion. Chief Myers, of the Wilmington Fire Department, presided, and presented the prizes to the victors in the morning's contest.

A number of toasts were given and responded to in brief speeches by Mr. F. Watters of the Newbern Company, Mr. Henry McQueen, Mr. Parmalee, of the "Little Giant," Col. Roger Moore, Capt. A. L. DeRosset, and Mr. John Daniel of the Hook and Ladder Co.

Chief Ellis, of the Newbern Fire Department, spoke as follows:

GENTLEMEN:—In behalf of the Newbern Company I extend to you your sincere thanks for your hearty welcome.

May the tie which cements us together in a common brotherhood, and which has been tried by fire and stood the test, be greatly strengthened by direct personal intercourse, and a more intimate personal association.

May Wilmington, renowned for her wealth, her enterprise, her intellect, and Newbern, the old City of Elms, the home of Gideon and Stealy, go onward arm in arm, in the race for every material improvement, and in the achievement of renewed victories. And while it is our common object to quench the devouring flame, a common enemy, let it be our present purpose, by a well seasoned, rational interchange of courtesies and sentiments, to add more fuel to the flame which should burn brightly in the breasts of all patriotic citizens.

Standing to-day, gentlemen, on the banks of the noble Cape Fear, its many, many hallowed reminiscences, which inspire alike the patriotic pride of Wilmington and Newbern, recalls to us all the brilliant history of the Neuse and remind us all to reverse the memory, and emulate the example of an illustrious ancestor, who were ever ready to sacrifice life and property in the establishment as well as the maintenance of constitutional liberty.

Again, I extend to you our sincere thanks.

Death of a Former Wilmingtonian at Florence.

The sad announcement was received here yesterday morning of the death, rather suddenly, at Florence, S. C., of Mr. F. C. Walsh, son of Mr. David S. Walsh, of this city. He was seized Monday night with an attack of congestion of the liver and died yesterday morning at 8 o'clock. Deceased was about 25 or 26 years of age, and was united in marriage only one month ago to Miss Mamie Hudson, of Williston, S. C. He left here for Florence about three years ago, and at the time of his death was manager of the dry goods house of E. Sternberger. Mr. David Walsh and the remainder of the bereaved family left for Florence last night. The funeral will take place there to-day.

Deceased had an attack of typhoid fever some weeks ago, but had recovered from it. Before he left Wilmington he had quite a severe attack of congestion of the liver. He was a genial, warm hearted young man, and his attractive social qualities had gained for him many friends. His business qualities were also of a superior order.

Personal.

Prof. E. A. Alderman, principal of the Goldsboro Graded School, left Wilmington yesterday morning to deliver a lecture before the Wilson Graded School last night. We know that Wilson enjoyed a treat. Mr. Alderman will return to this city to-night. An effort should be made to get him to deliver his lecture for the benefit of the Library Association.

We are glad to learn that Mr. John Grant, who was injured by a fall at the depot Tuesday morning, is doing as well as could be expected.

Mr. Samuel Hunter, of Laurinburg, an old Newbernian, was here yesterday and the day before for the purpose of seeing and mingling with his Newbern friends.

We were glad to meet Messrs. Sam. Watters and N. B. Agostini (old acquaintances) from the Newbern firemen.

Mr. C. T. Willis, of Goldsboro, is here on a visit. He has been travelling a good deal recently and reports the crops throughout the State as the best since 1875.

Bicycle Racing.

In the five-mile bicycle race for the championship at Charlotte on Tuesday, which was between Wm. Maxwell, Jr., of Charlotte, and John H. Polipill, of Macon, Georgia, the former was the winner. There are three heats, and the one who wins the best two out of the three will be entitled to the championship.

O. F. Asbury was the victor in the one-mile race, and B. J. Overcash in the half-mile race.

We get this information from Mr. J. L. Yopp, of this city, who was a contestant in the one-mile race.

These Charlotte fellows know how to handle a bicycle.

Wild Goose Plums.

Mr. J. B. Farrar showed us yesterday a specimen of the variety known as "wild goose plums," which were the largest and finest fruit of the plum species we have ever seen. They were raised by Mr. D. P. High, of Whiteville, who, it is said, raises bushels of them. We measured one which was three and a half inches in circumference and over an inch in diameter. Later in the day we were shown by Major Young some equally as large grown in a garden in this city. Capt. S. W. Noble is making an effort to propagate them on his place near this city.

BASE BALL.

The Henderson Nine Again Victorious—Score 7 to 2.

We were disappointed in yesterday's game, both as to the result and the playing of the Seaside. We had hoped that they were going to return the compliment paid them the day before and send the Henderson boys home with one game less than they now have won, but Jacobs' pitching proved too much for the home team, and the visitors scored a second victory. William caught finely, and Hart, Jacobs and Williams did some heavy batting.

The Seaside played five or six innings well, but were very loose on the others, especially the first. Monroe was not well and unfortunately had his finger hurt, which prevented him catching as well as he usually does. The Seaside were outplayed all around, at the bat and in the field, and the Henderson boys deserve credit for the manner in which they won their games. No pleasanter games have been played here this season and the visitors have acted in the most quiet, gentlemanly manner at all times and under all circumstances. They have commended themselves to our people by their conduct, and we shall be glad when they visit us again, though we hope next time they will not win both the games they will play with the Seaside. The Raleigh club will play here Friday and Saturday, when a lively game can be expected. The new pitcher, H. E. Force, will relieve Kurtz one day. "Old Keockey" can be seen on Friday behind the bat, and he wants all of his friends at the grounds, so that he can show them what he can do.

First Presbyterian Church.

The regular weekly service of the First Presbyterian Church will be conducted by the Rev. W. W. Moore, D. D., to-night, at 8 o'clock. There will also be service in the Church to-morrow (Friday) night at the same hour.

RIVER AND MARINE.

The river is getting so low as to interfere considerably with navigation, and as a consequence the boats are now arriving somewhat behind time. Since the above was written we learn that there has been a rise of nearly three feet in the river.

CITY ITEMS.

MOTHERS! MOTHERS! MOTHERS!—Are you troubled at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, get once and get a bottle of Mrs. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it! There is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child. It is perfectly safe to use. It is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere. 25 cents a bottle.
