Rev. Dr. Pritchard, of this city. Our good friend, Mr. James H. Low left here a few days ago for New Orleans, where he is to labor for the cause of Home Missions. He has accomplished great good in a quiet way in Wilmington, and it is hoped that he will be even more successful in the larger and more promising field upon which he has entered. Our Baptist friends sembled in the neighborhood of the City Hall yesterday afternoon, at half-past 6 o'clock, to witness the dress parade of the Wilmington Light Infantry and Cornet Concert Club, which were inspected by Col. W. C. Jones. Among the spectators were a large number of ladies. The company was out in good force-nearly fifty, rank and file-and, together with the band, made a fine appearance and elicited remarks of approval and admiration from all who saw them. The gentlemen of the band were dressed in their new and handsome uniforms and attracted universal attention.

The company was put through the manual of exercises by the officers and executed all the movements and evolutions with their usual skill and accuracy, at the close of which, headed by the band, they marched up Third street to Chesnut, down Chesnut to Front and down Front to Market, up Market to Third and up Third to their armory, the band dropping out of the line at the corner of Front and Princess streets. In the meantime the large crowd in front of the hall dispersed and went their various ways, the sidewalks being thronged for awhile with a moving mass of humanity,

Savage, formerly of this city, where he was employed in the telephone exchange for awhile when it was first established here, but now a resident of Alexandria, Va., and telegraph operator for the B. & P. R. R., was seriously injured on last Tuesday afternoon, near Washington, D. C. It seems that "Jack" had obtained a temporary leave of absence from his office and was en route to Washington to meet and spend the evening with some friends who visited Washington on the excursion that left here on the afternoon o the 13th. He was standing on the platform of the rear car of the train, which had been running rather slowly around a curve in the road, and on rounding the curve the engineer increased the speed of the train so suddenly as to cause Jack to fall to the ground, striking on the cross-ties with such force as to break one leg above the knee and otherwise badly bruise him. The train was stopped and the young man picked up and conveyed to Washington to be cared for, but as he insisted on being taken back to Alexandria, he was taken there, and at last accounts was suffering considerably, but we are assured by those who know that he is in good hands and that all that can will be done for his comfort and to bring about a speedy recovery

The Hebrew Cemetery. The Hebrew Cemetery, a spot of ground which was purchased, laid off and enclosed in Oakdale Cemetery in 1855, two years after the latter was opened, by our fellowcitizens of the Jewish faith, and which has been added to once or twice since, is now again undergoing considerable enlargement They have purchased the beautiful piece of ground fronting the cemetery on the west comprising twenty-two full-sized lots, which has been laid off and is now ready to be enclosed. In doing this the object of putting the entire lot in better shape than before will be had in view. This addition gives the Hebrew Cemetery thirty five full sized lots altogether, or an average of four hundred square feet, which will allow them sufficient ground for a good many years to come. This arrangement changes the ave-

The Wilmington Light Infantry leave this morning for Asheville, where they go to participate in the grand encampment of the North Carolina State Guard, being a part of the Second Regiment, commanded by Col. PAUL J. CARRAWAY, Presiding Elder,

The Mayor's Court yesterday morning was characterized by more than usual interest, and quite a congregation of spectators were present, especially among the colored population.

John Thompson and Jennie Thompson, both colored, were found fighting about 9.30 o'clock Saturday night, in the neighborhood of Ninth and Castle streets. Jennie was proving the best man of the two, and was beating her liege lord over the head and shoulders with what was described by one of the witnesses as a big club. Thompson said the difficulty grew out of some remarks made to her about not having supper for him when he went home from his business. The parties, who were arrested by Officer Turlington, assisted by Officer Woobse, were required to pay a fine of $5 each.

Samuel Reese, colored, was next called.

Officer Woebse testified that a few minutes after 12 o'clock Saturday night he observed s crowd of colored people gathered in and about a store in the neighborhood of Twelfth and Market streets. Reese was singing and otherwise acting boisterously, and, after notifying the storekeeper that it was time to close, he spoke to Reese about the noise he was making. In the meantime most of the crowd were dispersing, and the officer remarked that they were right in doing so. Reese called to them to come back. Finally the officer arrested him, He resisted, and Officers Turlington and Murphy went to Officer Woebse's assistance. In the scuffle Officer Turlington was knocked down twice and received a cut in his coat, under his right arm; and the prisoner said he received two blows. one on his head and the other on one of his arms. Officer Murphy testified that he detected an open knife in Reese's hand and during the scuffle he succeded in wrenching it from his grasp. Officer Woebse also testified to having been struck, when he drew his revolver as a matter of intimida-The whole evidence on the part of the prosecution went to show that Reese was very disorderly, that he threatened violent resistance, swore he would not be taken and defied the officers in every possible way. A number of those who were in the crowd at the time he was arrested were called upon as witnesses for the defence, and testified to the effect that Reese was not behaving at all improperly; that he was only singing a little and was very respectful to the policemen.

Defendant was required to give bond in the sum of $50 for his appearance at the present term of the Criminal Court.

Robert Stock, a somewhat elderly man of decent appearance, was arraigned for being drunk and down on the streets about 5 o'clock Sunday morning. His face wore the marks of severe treatment, and the prisoner declared that he had been beaten badly by some one to him unknown. He being a stranger in the city, and this being the second time he had been before the Court, he was given twenty-four hours within which to vacate the municipality or go to the County House of Correction.

James Hand, a hard-visaged stranger, who claimed Plymouth as his home, was taken out of a bar room Saturday night, at the request of the proprietor, where he had been behaving very badly, and Officer White, who made the arrest, said he resisted and fought all the way to the guard house, making an effort at one time to draw a pistol. He was ordered to pay a fine of $25 or go below for thirty days.

Alice Hall, colored, was arraigned for vagrancy, in that she "is a person who is able to labor and that she has no apparent means of sustenance, and that she spends her time in dissipation and sauntering about without employment." Defendant was sent to the sheriff under a bond of $50 to appear at the present term of the Criminal Court. Siddy Shaw, a colored woman, with all the appearance of a lunatic, her hair resembling the "quills on the fretful porcupine," was taken out of a house in the neighborhood of Front and Market streets, at 11.15 o'clock Sunday night, by Officer Bender, at the request of the proprietor, who said she was crazy. She was sent below to await further action.

This completed the morning's work, and Court adjourned.

Eureka vs. Enterprise.

There will be a match game at 41 o'clock this afternoon, at the Seaside grounds, between the Eureka and Enterprise Base Ball Clubs. As both clubs are about equally matched, a closely contested game is expected. The Eurekas will appear in full uniform. The admission fee will be only ten cents; ladies free. Help home enterprise.

Arrested for Larceny

Virgil Simmons, a colored youth, was arrested yesterday on the charge of stealing a lot of cucumbers and tomatoes from the truck garden of Mr. J. M. Hardwick, a short distance beyond the city limits, on Friday last. He was required to give bond in the sum of $50 for his appearance before Justice Millis to-morrow at 10 o'clock.
