In Paris very handsome and sweety-toned and highly-polished pianofortes are made out of paper. An account says:

"The color was cream-white. The tone f the instrument is reported not to be loud, but very sweet. The short, broken character of the sounds emitted by ordinary pianofortes is replaced by a soft, full, quasicontinuous sound, resembling somewhat that of the organ. It has been suggested that the evenness of texture of the compressed paper may have one influence in effecting the modification of sound."

Colored Girl Fatally Burned-Excitement Caused by the Distressed

Yesterday morning Maria Elkins, wife of York Elkins, a well known colored cooper of this city, left her home on Second. between Marsteller and Meares street, in the extreme southern section of the city, to visit her husband for some purpose, who is employed at Mr. Alex. Oldham's Cape Pear Mills, leaving at home her daughter Minnie, between 9 and 10 years old, in charge of the baby. Not long afterwards (about half-past 10 o'clock) the whole neighborhood was startled by what appeared to be an explosion in the Elkins house and all rushed to their doors to see what had happened Next appeared to their horsor-stricken vision the person of the little girl, her clothing in a light blaze. Several persons rushed to the assistance of the poor creature, and easily extinguished the slight remnant of fire, which had destroyed almost the last vestiga of the unfortunate girl's clothing and reduced her entire person almost to a crisp. One scream was heard from her immediately after the occurrence of the noise -supposed to have been an explosion-and one cry, "Oh, Lord!" when she appeared at the door, after which she seemed unable to utter a sound. When the neighbors got to her she was gasping for breath, She was taken into the house, when every care and attention was bestowed upon her, while in the meantime a messenger had been dispaiched for her mother. There was no means of ascertaining exactly how the accident occurred, but as a kerosene oil can with the bottom blown out was found near the stove, it is supposed that the girl was in the act of pouring oil into the stove when the can exploded. The baby made a narrow escape, as one end of the carriage in which it had been alceping was burned.

The mother of the unfortunate girl wa found on Front street, near Chesnut, and informed of the terrible accident, when she was so overcome with grief and horror that she commenced acreaming at the top of her lungs. Her distressing cries were heard for squares around, and crowds ran in the direction of Front and Princess, some thinking there was an alarm of fire, and that some woman had been penned in by the flames, while others were bewildered. not knowing what to think. Soon, however, the cause of her heart touching cries became to be generally known, and all felt sympathy for the poor heart broken moth er, who continued her cries all the way home and long after she arrived there. In deed, she was so overwhelmed by a sense of what had occurred that she fell down once or twice and had to be assisted to her feet, and was finally lifted into a vehicle and thus conveyed to the side of her suffering and dying daughter. It was understood when the reporters arrived at Elkins' house that the burns could not prove otherwise than fatal. Since writing the above we learn that the child is dead.

The visitors to the grounds were not so numerous as had been expected; a fact which may have dampened the ardor of the players somewhat. At the conclusion of the nine innings the score stood-Eureka 18, Enterprise 6.

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SY RUP.—Rev SYLVANUS CORE thus writes in the Boston Christian Freeman:—We would by no means recommend any kind of medicine which we did not know to be good—particularly to infants. But of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup we can speak from knowledge; in our own family it has proved a blessing indeed, by giving an infant troubled with colic pains, quiet sleep, and the parents unbroken rest at night. Most parents can appreciate these blessings. Here is an article which works to perfection, and which is harmless; for the sleep which it affords the infant is perfectly natural, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." And during the process of teething its value is incalculable. We have frequently heard mothers say that they would not be without it from the birth of the child till it had finished with the teething slege, on any consideration whatever. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle. MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP.-REV

TRIBUTE OF RESPECT.

As God, in his divine wisdom, has, on the first day of May, 1885, removed from our midst our beloved Brother Fireman, W. H. GROTHJEN, and although we cannot understand His ruling, we humbly bow to His will, knowing that every thing He does is done for our welfare; therefore, the Committee appointed at the last regular meeting of the Howard Relief Fire Engine Co. No. 1, held June 1, 1885, adopted the following Resolutions: Resolutions:

1st, That in the death of our Brother this Company has lost one of its highly respected members, and that we will always cherish his memory,

2nd, That we deeply sympathize with his bereaved widow and children.
3d, Thas these Resolutions be spread on our inscribed with his name, date of birth and demise; and that a copy of these Resolutions be sent to his widow, and to the daily papers with request of publication.
