There were two murders in Union county, S. C., last week.

Rev. Dr. Milburn, the blind orator, is in New York City at present.

The sun is now reported to be on thig spree and is painting the Amerien towns red.

For a man of his size and character John Roach is filling intirely too much space in the newspapers.

If Austria objects to Mr. Keiley and his Jewish wife the Administration should let Austria severely alone.

At Kingston, N. Y., a Mrs. O'-Reilly got on her mettle and put a number of telegraph linemen to flight. She drove them off with pistol in hand.

The National Educational Association should invite Gen. Logan to address them on his short method "Of Doing English," It would prove a most serviceable discussion.

Dr. Ferran sticks to his inoculating theory. He has been trying to impress his views upon the French Academy of Science. His theory fails somehow when reduced to

Barnum's large elephant "Albert" killed his keeper, James Sweeney, at Nashua, N. II., last Saturday. On Monday he was shot to death by the Keene Light Guards. He was valued Lamont says his reported coming appointment is ridiculous. Look here, Lam, suppose you hand it over to a friend, who takes to you wonderfully though he has never shaken your honest paw.

The Texas Land Board has cold 200,000 acres of land at $2 an acre during the present month to actual settlers. It has also leased 1,250,000 acres at 6 cents an acre. It is by such operations that the school fund is so abundantly supplied.

It was 91 yesterday in our office. That was the hottest with but one exception. A few weeks ago there was one day when the mercury stood at 91. Our human thermometer ran out at the top wilting a shirt collar and watering a bald head.

Our new travelling agent, Col. John A. Nicholson, opens his campaign well. His first day's work, at one postoffice, on the Carolina Central, is nine new subscribers. We trust our friends will give him a cordial reception and many shekels.

Lord Houghton, himself a poet of 80me cleverness, is very confident that Wordsworth's "Ode to the Intimations of Immortality" is "the greatest poem in the English language." What would Sir Henry Taylor, Matthew Arnold, Swinburne, Morris, and greatest of all, Tennyson, say to that?

What is a "ganga eater?" He is a fellow that eats "ganga." Is not that plain enough? Ganga is an herb that grows in India and is used by natives and it makes them perfeetly mad and a dangerous as wild beasts. While under the phrensy the victims will kill at will. It is a terrible drug.

There was a serious revolt in the King's county (N. Y.) penitentiary. Eighty convicts were ready to murder their keepers. The warden was a very brave man. The convicts swore they would kill him if he opened the door to arrest one Tivey, the ring-leader. An account says:

"All of the thirty-nine cells are fastened with connected locks and all open when one is, but the warden summoned his keepers and ordered them to shoot the first convict who put his body outside the cell door. The lever was turned and every cell door was opened but not a convict attempted to come out. The warden went in and took Tivey from his cell and had two of the keepers give him a dozen lashes on the bare back. He was then taken back to his cell and promised to go to work. The prisoners were all at work again to day."

It requires culture to appreciate fine work even in the humorous line. We read two specimen's of the late N. P. Clingman's fun to a cultivated Irishman, a gallant Confederate, who appreciates wit and humor, and he declared that they were quite up to the early sketches of Charles Dickens. Unless the taste is cultivated the fine points in the workmanship will not be seen, and only that which is broad and grotesque. What man ever really relished Charles Lamb's exquisite "Disserta tion on Roast Pig" who was not a man of culture and had an acute perception of the quietly absurd?

Col. John A. Nicholson is a duly authorized Travelling Agent and Correspondent of the STAR. For the present he will operate on the lines of the Carolina Central, Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley, and Raleigh & Augusta Air Line Railroads. Any courtesies shown him will be appreciated by the STAR.

Gen. Grant is very near the end of his earthly career. In fact, when these words are read his spirit may have returned to the God who gave it. The Southern people wish well to the Northern hero, and would be glad to know that "after life's fitful fever he sleeps well."

- Rev. W. W. Albea is not dead as reported, but is in as good health as he has been for forty years.

- Mr. James Brown, of Charlotte, came very near drowning. He had sunk three times when he was pulled up.

- Charlotte Observer: Dr. Hepburn leaves August 1st for his new homin Ohio. — Two North Carolina post-masters were commissioned on the 16th: William E. Mills, at Tryon City, and Drayton M. Hamrich, at Stice's Shoal.

- Asheville Citizen: The prize flag and sword, offered by the citizens of Asheville to the best drilled regiment, and the commanding officer of the same, have arrived, and are beauties. This contest promises to be the most spirited, and we expect a lively time.

- New Berne Journal: The watermelon crop in Carteret was almost a failure. last week was shipping week, and every one's crop fell off more than half. About 2,500 melons were shipped from Sanders's wharf, where at the same time last year 6,000 were shipped.

- Concord Times: The Odell factory manufactures 10,000 yards of plaids every day, besides a large amount of other goods. - Mr. J. A. Faggart, on two acres of land, cut 112 shocks of oats, and from this threshed 168 bushels, making 84 bushels per acre, and 14 bushels to the

- Goldsboro Argus: The Summer Normal at New Berne, for colored teachers, we learn, is quite largely attended. -The scores of the game yesterday was 7 to 4 in favor of Durham.. Well done for the new Nationals. Durham played four professionals and all her home boys are experts, whereas the Nationals are a new club of all home boys except the "battery."

- N. C. Presbyterian; A friend writes from Greensboro that Rev. D. E. Jordan and his family are sadly bereaved. Miss Belle, eldest daughter of the brother, accompanied by her sister, three weeks ago went to Greensboro seeking medical aid. All human efforts were unavailing, and she was called from the pains of earth to the joys of heaven at 4 o'clock on Sabbath last. Her father had been summoned and was at her bedside in the critical hour.

-Asheboro Courier: Master David Milton Petty, son of John W. Petty, can boast of relationship through four living generations. He was entertained on last Sabbath by his father and mother, by ers, by his two great grandmothers and by his great great-grandmother, five generations having met at the residence of D. M. Petty. — The corn crop will double that of last year if present indications are worth anything.

- Lumberton Robesonian: Last Sunday morning's mail brought Mr. A. M. (Gus) McLean's appointment as Postmaster at this place. We heartily congratulate Gus upon his appointment. — We think, upon the whole. the crops are damaged. With the most propitions weather for the next six months an average crop of cotton may be had, but the corn crop is materially cut short. The Baptist revival con-tinues. Up to Sunday night there were ten candidates for Baptism, while a greater number than ever manifested an interest in their condition. - Raleigh Recorder: Our aged brother, the Rev. David Harrell, of Windsor, is dead. He passed gently away the first of the month. — Dr. B. F. Dixon, the energetic Superintendent of the Oxford Orphan Asylum, was in Raleigh on Thurs. day last. He reports the work progressing well at the Asylum. - There are one hundred and sixty-five Baptist ministers in North Carolina who received a college education. — "The breaking of four jails within a fortnight is not the best tribute to North Carolina jurisprudence, or common sense prudence; and the escape of five des-perate and bloody-handed murderers from the heart of Asheville is not a pleasant reflection for ladies, now that the Ku Klux Klan has disbanded."—Chronicle. There is no mystery connected with that Asheville affair. The parties were rich. - Raleigh News-Observer: Mr

William A. Hicks died at the home of his father, Mr. John W. Hicks, near Williams-boro, Vance county, of typhoid fever, Sat-urday night. — Dr. William Royall, of Wake Forest College, addressed the Newton Normal school. He made remarks on the difference between the old way of teaching things and the present. — Shaw, who was killed at Manly Saturday night by a drunken desperado, is a well known young man of Moore county, and has hundreds of relatives there. The other three men shot were Calvin Ray, Gaston Prince and Tom Kelly, the injuries of the former being thought fatal. There was no provocation and no reason for the shooting save that the murderer, John Lucks, had taken several drinks. Lucks is a desperado from Texas, with a record as a man-killer. — Oxford, July 20.—The game here this afternoon between Raleigh and Oxford was well played. Housman's pitching and batting were excellent. O'Donnel also pitched a fine game. The score 7 to 3 in favor of Raleigh. — FRANKLIN, July 14th.—The normal school opened at this place June 27th, with sixty-sexen pupils. The first week closed with 120, the second with 137, and now in the middle of the third week we have 160 teachers and young people preparing to teach in actual attendance. The school is in charge of Dr. George G. Groff, of Lewisburg, Penn., assisted by Prof. S. G. Boyd, of York, Penn., and Prof. J. H. Rayhill, Jacksonville, Ill. [Every teacher is from the North.]

- Raleigh Visitor: The Raleigh Reading Cub, organized by Messrs. Alfred Williams & Co., opened its Library to-day at the book store of Messrs. Williams & Co. The club is very large, including nearly all the literary people of the city, and they anticipate much enjoyment from their library for the city. — The North Carolina Local Minister's Conference will meet at Thomasville at 9 a. m. on Thursday, July 23rd, Rev. R. L. Abernethy D. rites over the remains of the late Col. I. J. Young took place in Burwell Hall, in Henderson, at 5 o'clock yesterday after-noon, and were attended by a large con-course of relatives and friends. The exercises were conducted by the Rev. W. S Pettigrew and Rev. J. A. Ingle, of the Episcopal Church, assisted by the Rev. A. Sprunt, of the Presbyterian Church, Rev. J. J. Benn, of the Methodist, Rev. R. C. Rymer, of the Methodist Protestant, and Rev. M. V. McDuffle, of the Baptist Church. - No town in North Carolina is progressing faster in all that pertains to business prosperity than Henderson, in Vance county. New and elegant brick buildings are going up in every direction, and everybody seems to be busy. It is a go ahead town and no mistake. — The Superior Court met at 9 o'clock this morning, His Honor Judge Walter Clark presiding. The following business was transacted: State vs. Duncan C. Haywood, forgery; the jury on yesterday having returned a verdict that the defendant was insane and the Court having committed him to the Insane Asylum, on the opening of Court this morning Solicitor Galloway moved that the verdict of the jury be set aside for that it was against the weight of evidence, and that Duncan C. Haywood be brought into Court. An order was thereupon issued to the Superintendent of the Asylum to pro-

Gen. R. F. Hoke Meets Our Business Men on 'Change, and Talks to Them About an Extension of the C. C. R. R from Lincolnton to the Cranberry Iron Mines.

Gen. R. F. Hoke, who is not unknown to our older citizens, having made a gallant defence of Wilmington during the memorable campaign below this city in the early days of 1865, met a number of our prom nent business men at the rooms of the Pro duce Exchange yesterday, to talk to them about a different matter. His object now is to get our people to arouse themselves to a realization of the importance of a connection by the Carolina Central Railroad with the Cranberry Iron Mines, in the Western part of the State. He said Cranberry was anxious for an outlet at Wilmington and then he went on to show what s great advantage it would be to Wilmington. The one thousand tons of ore per day would not only give work for the road; it would be the basis for other freight, to say nothing of the mexhaustable supplies of coal a few miles from Cranberry Forge, to which it is proposed to extend the road, and the consequent con nection with Cincinnati and other points in the West, which would find, through this road to Wilmington, a nearer outle by perhaps two hundred miles than a any other point on the Atlantic Coast. He said those interested in the mines had been struggling for a long time with the Legislature at its late session to put things inthe right shape to bring about the desired result. He said he didn't want the people of Wilmington to do anything now. He simply wanted them to take the matter into consideration, so they could act intelligently when the time came for action. Col. Robinson had promised to put down the iron and furnish the rolling stock for the extension and take pay for the same in stock; he being allowed to operate the road, as a matter of

The distance from Lincolnton, on the Carolina Central, to Cranberry Forge, is about 75 miles, being less than to Shelby. It is proposed to make the connection from Lincolnton. The counties interested on this side of the North Carolina Railroad would build the road as far as Morganton, and it is for the remainder of the route, from Morgan ton to Cranberry, which is through a poor country; that assistance will be needed; but it will not be asked for until there is ample assurance that the other part 'of the road will be built. The distance from Lincoln ton to Morganton is about thirty five miles and from Morganton to Cranberry about forty miles. There will be opposition lines when the road is completed, but all the advantages, including grades, would be in favor of the route to Wilmington.

Gen. Hoke had the necessary maps, and traced out the different lines so that all could understand the various suggestions and propositions thrown out by him for the future consideration of our citizens. There were quite a number present, and we are quite satisfied that Gen. Hoke succeeded in interesting them to no slight extent in the important matter which had called them together.

Pronounced Insane.

A commission to examine into the mental condition of Betsy Shaw (as her name now appears to be), consisting of Dr. F. W. Potter, Superintendent of Health, and two Justices of the Peace, met at the Mayor's office yesterday morning. The woman was brought into the room and questioned. She was in a much milder mood than on the previous day, but her conduct and lan guage left no doubt as to the fact of her in sanity. Among other things she claimed that she had a rattlesnake in her arm, and that it was the work of conjuration through the instrumentality of a ring. Her motherin-law, who was a witness in the case, said that her malady first displayed itself during a recent religious meeting, and it was no doubt due to religious excitement. The Board pronounced the woman insane, and she was ordered to be confined in the insane department at the County Poor House until arrangements can be made for her reception at the Insane Asylum at Goldsboro.

The British barque Susan L. Campbell, in which he sailed, was sold in Liverpool, having belonged to parties in Nova Scotia.

Mr. R. J. Scarborough and family leave this morning for Ocean View, Delaware, which will be their future home. They have two daughters residing there.

Robbing a Truck Garden. Virgil Simmons and Peter Elliott, two colored boys, had a preliminary hearing be fore Justice Millis, yesterday, charged with the larceny of a quantity of tomatoes, cucumbers, etc., from the truck garden of Mr. J. M. Hardwick. At the conclusion of the examination the defendants were required to furnish bond in the sum of $50. each, for their appearance at the present term of the Criminal Court, failing in which they were sent to jail.

The Seaside Gain a Victory Over the Durham Nine by a Score of 8 to 1-The Game To-Day.

The friends of the home team had the pleasure of seeing them win a game yesterday, which was rather refreshing after the four defeats they sustained at the hands of the Henderson and Raleigh clubs. We have never lost confidence in our nine, even though of late the fates seemed against them; but have always believed they could hold their own with any club in the State when everything was in order and their men properly placed. The Durham boys played loosely one or two innings, and it was at that time our boys made their scores.
