Hon. Fitzhugh Lee has been nominated for Governor by the Demoerats of Virginia. Possibly this is good nomination, but it is said Lee cannot meet Wise on the stump. Probably Daniel or Barbour would have been a better selection. The Richmond Dispatch, of yesterday, gives the following account of the nomination of Gen. Fitzhugh Lee for Governor by the Democratic State Convention of Virginia: 28 —Henderson used her amateur hattery and yet won by a fine score. The batteries were Fleming and Overton for Henderson and Chapman and Childs for Durham. The answer of the defendant in this action, (Addison vs. R. & G. R. R. Co.,) which was filed before Judge Clark on Tuesday, shows that the affairs of the company have been managed with economy and prudence, and that all the investments made by it have been judicious and profitable, in accordance with law, and approved by a unanimous vote of stockholders and never objected to before. That the company is in no wise operated in the interests of the Scaboard & Roanoke R. R. Co. That in view of its bonded debt of $1,000,-000, which according to its charter, it must provide for, by a reservation from its net earnings each year, it cannot legally, safely or prudently pay a larger dividend than it has been declaring. - Charlotte Observer: Henry Nesbit, colored, the well known well cleaner, is now laid up with a patched skull, received while he was down in a well in the Greenville suburbs of the city. A citizen of Cabarrus, who was in town yesterday, tells us that since Wm. H. Tagler, the desperado, shot Albert Sanders, he greatest excitement has prevailed in the neighborhood, and a body of armed men, numbering thirty or more, have been hunting the woods for Hagler. They were out all day Saturday, Sunday and Monday, and they are determined to capture him. Hagler has sworn to kill eight citizens of Crab Orchard and Clear Creek townships, in this county, and Rocky River township, in Cabarrus. He is a very desperate character, heavily armed. Mr. William Hinson, a resident of Hagler's neighborhood, was in the city yesterday, and told of a meeting he had with the dreaded character last Friday. Hagler confronted him in the road rather suddenly, but appeared to be quite friendly. Mr. Hinson had a long talk with him and is satisfied that the

C. Eagle, one of our well known citizens, met with an accident yesterday morning, through which he lost one of his legs. In arranging his box by this pile, something occurred to make the lumber tumble, and a portion of it fell on Mr. Eagle's right leg, in such a manner as to break it in several places between the knee and ankle. The flesh was torn from the broken and shivered bone, exposing a shocking wound to view, — The barn of Mr. Isaac Teeter, in the Harrisburg neighborhood, Cabarrus county, was struck by lightning and burned last Sunday afternoon. Mr. Teeter lost last Sunday afternoon. Mr. Teeter lost one hundred bushels of wheat, besides a lot of forage. — Mr. John Crowell, a painter, yesterday morning received a severe, but not a fatal, sunstroke.

During the prevalence of a thunder storm yesterday afternoon, Isom Fulenwider, one of the county convicts, was struck and knocked senseless, in which condition be remained for twenty minutes. —— At the time the flash came, Price Coker, a colored time the flash came, Price Coker, a colored boy 18 years of age, was walking along Poplar street between Second and Third streets, in the vicinity of the jail. He was walking in a southerly direction, but immediately following the thunder clap he turned completely around, threw up his hands and fell heavily backward to the pavement. Mr. Bob Jamison was standing in the street within twenty feet of Coker, but strange to say, he was not shocked.

Work Progressing on the New Hotel. Work on the new hotel, to be known as the Orton House, on Front, between Princess and Chesnut streets, has progressed so far that the general arrangement of the building, the size of the rooms, etc., can be readily seen and understood. There are forty good sized rooms. The building will be furnished with water and gas throughout. There will be three bath rooms on each of the two upper floors, the first floor being occupied by Messrs. Giles & Murchison's hardware and crockery stores. Verandas are being extended around southern and western sides and balconies placed in front. The office will be in the second story front, and is connected with the dining-room and kitchen in the rear by the newly patented bell speaking tubes. There is also in the office one of the electric bell call and needle annunciators, put up by Mr. E. W. Foster. This is a new and very convenient arrangement. The number of such room appears conspicuously on the face of the instrument and each number is supplied with what is termed a needle. The pressing of an electrie push button in any room, all of which are connected with the annunciator by a wire, will ring a bell to attract attention and the proper needle will be found pointing to the number of the room from which the call proceeds. An elevator leads from the basement in the rear to the fourth floor, which will be devoted to the use of the culinary department. The rooms are all arranged with a view to proper ventilation. The location is ad mirable in many respects. The view is a magnificant one. Looking from the western and southern verandahs the beautiful Cape Fear is spread out before you for miles in two directions. From the former the Navassa Guano Company's Works at Meares Bluff are visible. The view of the city and the surrounding country is also very fine. The cool breezes from oceanward, too, will in summer prove an inviting feature, having free access. Col. K. Murchison, the proprietor, intends making the Orton House a first-class hotel in every

At 6 o'clock yesterday morning the long roll was suddenly sounded, and in five minutes every man was in fanks to report a night attack. There was rapid and heavy firing along the lines; and the enemy were driven back without the loss of a man on the part of the defenders.

The camp witnessed a more quiet scene when the Sabbath sun was somewhat high in the heavens. Bishop Lyman, of the Episcopal Church, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Carmichael, Chaplain of the 2ad Regiment, held divine service, the improvised pulpit being placed under a tree in the ravine near the camp. On the sloping sides of the ravine the troops were grouped, the 2nd Regiment in full strength. Other troops were present, and a considerable number of citizens. Bishop Lyman preached a most admirable sermon, the leading idea, that the soldier, equipped for physical battle had suggested to him that he was engaged in a great moral battle, of which the world was the field, but the consequences of victory or defeat reaching into eternity. The reference made by the Bishop to the dead General Grant was feeling, eloquent and most beautifully expressed in language and

Surgeon General Grissom arrived yesterday morning, and was warmly welcomed. Among the marked men in the camp is the handsome Capt. Wood, of the splendid Elizabeth City Company. The street parade by the visiting mili-tary last Monday evening was a grand and imposing success. The streets were literally lined with people to witness the inspiring procession, and every porch and window on Main street and Patton Avenue was crowded. Each regiment was to it-self, and followed one after another. A good band headed each regiment, and the martial music of them all, the steady step martial music of them all, the steady step and glittering bayonets of the "soldier boys," re called many sad recollections of the past, and enthused the crowd to the fullest extent. The affair was most brilliant, and surpassed in magnitude and grandeur the expectations of the people. No one who witnessed the scene, could but feel the deepest pride and satisfaction in the soldiery of North Carolina. Too much credit cannot be given the officers for the excellent management of the affair. for the excellent management of the affair.

Splendid Crops. A travelling acquaintance of ours, who has lately been through about twenty countles of the middle and western parts of the State, says such fine crops of grain and cotton have not been seen for years. Our friend was particularly struck with the appearance of the crops in Columbus, which were exceptionally nae. He looks for a material revival of business at an early day as one of the con-

Yesterday morning it was reported at po-lice headquarters that a colored boy, who gave his name as Thomas Smith, aged about 18 years, had been discovered under the school house on Fifth street, between Red Cross and Campbell streets, suffering severely from a wounded ankle, and that he had been these ever since Monday. He says he was employed at the mill of Messrs. Kidder & Son when he hart his ankle, getting it mashed between two logs. It didn't hurt very much at first, and he started to walk to his stopping place over the railroad (he seems to have no regular home). He got along very well until he reached the vihe had to stop for rest, and when he attempted to start again his ankle was so stiff and painful that he could not walk. He then crawled under the house, where he had remained until yesterday. He says he sent several messages to the police headquarters, but they were never received. Chief of Police Brock ordered that he be taken at once to the City Hospital, During his sojourn under the house the colored people in the neighborhood fed him.
