THE MORNING STAR.

VOL. XXXVI.—NO. 118. WILMINGTON, N. C., SATURDAY, AUGUST 8, 1885.

WHOLE NO. 5893

MORNING EDITION.

OUTLINES.

Three murderers hanged on one gallows... In Fayetteville, N. C., the execution was public and was witnessed by about 5,000 persons...

not tell where their money is concealed, smash things generally and 'make Rome howl.' Here is just one specimen of their devilry:

'After a night of debauchery the negroes crossed the mountain and raided the saloon kept by Louis Shafer. They took Shafer and his delicate wife into the woods, stripped them of all their clothing, and tied them to separate trees. Leaving them there the negroes returned to the house and gutted it completely. They secured $100 in money, besides a large quantity of whiskey and tobacco. They then returned to their captives and through the remainder of the night forced them to undergo indignities of the most brutal character. Mr. Shafer was unbound and carried further into the woods, where he was found in the morning in a dying condition.'

—Durham Reporter: The new buildings which have been built and are now in course of erection in Durham would astonish any man from any other town or city in the State.

—Wilson Advance: If the weather is fairly good from now until harvest time the cotton crop throughout this section will be larger and of better quality than any for the last five years. Work is not as good as it was last year, but it may turn out well yet.

—Laurinburg Exchange: Mr. W. B. Barker is the successful applicant for the position of postmaster at Shoe Heel. A true blue Democrat and an honest, upright man.

—Charlotte Observer: Mr. S. A. Phillips, constable for Clear Creek township, was in the city yesterday, and reported another death by lightning, making the fourth in this section since the last week in July.

—Raleigh News-Observer: John H. Williamson, Secretary of the North Carolina Industrial Association, says the next fair will be the best thus far.

—Durham N. C., August 4.—Gen. W. R. Cox telegraphed here to-day that he had seen in the name of Joseph Allen for postmaster. Mr. Allen is book-keeper at Moorehead's Bank.

—Wadesboro Intelligencer: The people of Wadesboro and Wason county appreciated Capt. Shotwell. He had bitter enemies in some parts of the State, but he had only friends here.

—New Berne Journal: A friend writes us an account of the dinner party given by Col. E. W. Fonville, of Onslow county, on the 30th of July.

—Fayetteville Observer: We hear of another cow killed by eating mock orange. Mr. J. S. Breese, Cumberland's enterprising nurseryman, has presented us with the finest watermelon that we have seen this season.

—Goldboro Messenger: We learn with pleasure that Mr. Jas. H. Barnes has received the appointment of postmaster at Fremont (N. C.) district.

—Springfield, Mass., Aug. 3, 1885. To the Captain of the Goldboro Rifles. DEAR COMRADE:—We have in our possession a flag bearing the name of the Goldboro (N. C.) Rifles.

—Elizabeth City Economist: Mr. Robin, of Hertford, proprietor of the Eagle Hotel, was wounded in an encounter with Mr. Cook Winslow, of Windfall, Perquimans county, on the 28th of July.

—Raleigh News-Observer: A gang of negroes are terrorizing it over the inhabitants around Huntington, Penn. They are said to number 80 and came out of the mountains of Virginia.
