Capt. W. H. Bixby, engineer in charge of improvement of rivers and harbors in North and South Carolina, with headquarters at Wilmington, has made his annual report to Gen. Newton, Chief of Engineers. This report is in regard to appropriations for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1887. In the telegraphic department of the STAR an interesting synopsis is given.

We see from the telegraphic report that Capt. Bixby recommends an appropriation of only $38,000 for the Cape Fear river below Wilmington. This we conclude is an error, made probably in Washington, as the sum of $60,000 is considered necessary for the upper Cape Fear; and, moreover, Capt. Bixby says subsequently in his report: "The commerce of this harbor, now $18,000,-000, is regarded as sufficient to justify an expenditure of several hundred thousand dollars for this improvement."

Capt. Bixby has made a thorough examination of the work in his charge, and we are glad to see that he appreciates the importance of liberal appropriations.

The Pall Mall Gazette seems to have lost ground by its curious course in regard to the protection of girls up to eighteen. It opposes this, saying that it will be an interference with vested interests, and will destroy the means of a livelihood of a host of girls under eighteen. The Spectator declares that it is impossible to attribute noble motives to the Pall Mall Gazette after reading this grossly cynical and atrocious palliation of prostitution.

House Robbed. When Mr. A. Weill, who resides on the orthwest corner of Fourth and Chesnut streets, left his bed about 4 o'clock Sunday morning, he found a closet door open in his room. His suspicions being excited by this circumstance, he went into the room occupied by his children and found one of the bureau drawers on the bed, but nothing had been taken from it. He then returned to his own room and felt under his pillow for his pocket-book, but it was missing, and he afterwards discovered it on the

in money, which had been placed by the side of the pocket-book under the pillow, was found undisturbed. The money was in bills, mostly of the denomination of $5. An alarm was given and Sergeants Bishop and Green, of the police force, were quickly at the spot, but could do nothing towards arresting the thief or recovering the stolen money. How the thief got into the house is a mystery. It is thought he must have been concealed in the house when it was closed at night, as all the doors and windows on the first floor were found securely fastened, and only the lattice door in the rear open, and that had the key in the lock on the inside. There were lights burning in all the rooms and the upper windows were raised.

Wilmingtoniane North. The Brooklyn Daily Eagle, of a recent date, makes mention of several former resi lents of Wilmington, by which we find that our young friends are not only making their mark among the business community, but take prominent parts in the various schemes for recreation and pleasure which are so necessary and proper for those who are so much of their time immured in the cares and perplexities of business ... Among the crew of a four oared barge connected with the Columbia Club, which recently paid a visit to a rural Club, the "Nereids," pulling through Coney Island creek, we noticed the names of Messrs. Perry S. and J. F. Mallett, sons of Col. Peter Mallett. In another paragraph two other former well known Wilmingtonians are mentioned as follows: "Among the members of the Club it is facetiously said that Mr. H. P. Russell is in training to pull either Teemer or Hanlan, in a five mile race. He has given up his rooms in Brooklyn and made his headquarters at Bath. Mr. E. S. Yesterday afternoon a young man by the name of Thos. W. Gordon, aged about 20 years, had a preliminary hearing before J. C. Hill, J. P., charged on the affidavit of Mrs. Georgiana Newton, a widow lady, with burglariously entering her dwelling house, through a window, between midnight and day of the 5th of August. Mrs. Newton testified that she was awakened by some person choking her, when she asked, Who's there?" The person replied that he wanted money. She aroused her young daughter, who was sleeping in the same bed with her, when she jumped off the bed and called for a gun. This frightened the intruder and he thereupon fled through the back door, but was fully identified by all the members of the family—the widow and her two daughters and also by Susan Pearce, colored, who lived "next door to Mrs. Newton, as he passed out of the house. It was also in nce that the burglar was barefooted and bareheaded, and that barefoot tracks were next morning discovered leading from the residence of Mrs. Newton to the house occupied by the defendant, about one hundred yards distant. Mrs. Newton swore that her pockets had been rifled and her dress thrown upon the floor. She was positive that she securely locked every door and fastened every window that night before retiring. She further testified that she overheard the mother of young

THE FLORENCE NIGHTINGALE OF THE NURSERY.—The following is an extract from a letter written to the German Reformed Messenger, at Chambersburgh, Penn.: A Beneratorness Just open the door for her, and Mrs. Winslow will prove the American Florence Nightingale of the Nursery. Of this we are so sure, that we will teach our "Susy" to say, "A blessing on Mrs. Winslow" for helping her to survive and escape the griping, colicking, and teething siege. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup relieves the child from pain, and cures dysentery and diarrhoes. It softens the gums, reduces inflammation, cures wind colic, and carries the infant safely through the teething period. It performs precisely what it professes to perform, every part of it—nothing less. We have never seen Mrs. Winslow—know her only through the preparation of her "Soothing Syrup for Children Teething." If we had the power we would make her, as she is, a physical saviour to the infant race. Sold by all druggists.
