

D. BIGGERS

HUCKLEBERRY CORDIAL

Should Be Kept in Every Household.

It is the GREAT SOUTHERN REMEDY for the bowels. It is one of the most pleasant and effective remedies for all summer complaints. As a laxative when violent attacks of the bowels are so frequent, some speedy relief should be at hand. The weakest mother, losing sleep in nursing the little one, should use this medicine. It is a bold, healthy, stimulant to WALTER A. TAYLOR, Atlanta, Ga., for Huckleberry Cordial.

Taylor's Huckleberry Cordial of Sweet Gum and Huckleberry with Cacao, Cocoa and Cinnamon. Price 50c and 1.00 a Bottle.

Magnolia Balm

is a secret aid to beauty. Many a lady owes her freshness to it, who would rather not tell, and you can't tell.

Man and Beast

Mustang Liniment is older than most men, and used more and more every year.

OUR CAPTAIN SLEEPS.

HENRY GUY CARLETON.

"It is written that the dead shall rise at last from their forgotten places, and find life; But he who loved the people in their need, Though given back to nature dieth not; He shall continue with us till that day. Great soldier, who didst never break our trust, But kept it well,—if that strong hand of thine Which led the Nation upward into peace May draw the darkness fall 'twixt us and thee, View these sad hosts here gathered from thy fields To watch thy bringing home. Pass into Forth from that high place thy worth has wrought Above the troubles of dead time, hasten The last red ember of the camp fire quenched, The battle cloud blown seaward, and the land Whose once dividing furrows thou didst smooth, Quiet in harvest. Sound the last tattoo: Roll, war drums; colors, dip; and ye grim throats That spoke his iron menace, wake again To chant a requiem to the awning hills: Our Captain sleeps." August 28, 1885.

Gen. Sherman on Grant's Religion.

J. C. Crawford in New York World.

The army people who have been assisting in the Grant funeral ceremonies do not think much of Newman's attempt to make out Grant a devoutly religious man. They all say that Grant had a sincere respect for people's religious views, but that he never in all his life made any professions of piety. They point to the fact that while the General was writing nearly every day up to the day of his death, he never made in all these writings a single reference to religion. Gen. Sherman, who is about as religious a man as was Grant, was approached by an intimate army friend soon after the Newman sermon. Said his friend: "You see what is before you. Grant has been made a religious man. Within the next twenty years you will probably be held up by some person as a saint." Sherman's reply was irreverent but very characteristic. Said he: Grant is dead and doesn't care what is said about him now. No more will I when I am dead and gone.

How Old Sol Used to Shine in Summer.

Washington Star.

In 1803 and 1804 the Rhine, Loire and Seine ran dry. The heat in several French provinces during the summer of 1705 equalled that in a glass furnace. Meat could be cooked by merely exposing it to the sun. Not a soul dares venture out between noon and 4 p. m.

In 1778 many shops had to close; the theatres never opened their doors for three months. Not a drop of water fell during six months.

In 1773 the thermometer rose to 118 degrees.

In 1779 the heat at Bologna was so great that a number of people were suffocated. There was not sufficient air for the breath, and the people had to take refuge under the ground.

In July, 1793, the heat again became intolerable. Vegetables were burned up and fruit dried upon the trees. The furniture and woodwork in dwelling houses cracked and split up; meat went bad in an hour.

COTTON.

N. Y. Commercial and Financial Chronicle.

New York, Aug. 7.—The movement of the crop, as indicated by our telegrams from the South to-night, is given below. For the week ending this evening (Aug. 7) the total receipts have reached 2,038 bales, against 2,588 bales last week, 2,194 bales the previous week, and 1,972 bales three weeks since; making the total receipts since the first of Sept., 1884, 4,736,584 bales, against 4,808,030 bales for the same period of 1883-'84, showing a decrease since Sept. 1, 1884, of 71,496 bales.

The exports for the week ending this evening reach a total of 13,955 bales, of which 6,603 were to Great Britain, 5,305 to France and 2,047 to the rest of the Continent, while the stocks as made up this evening are now 191,075 bales.

Yesterday a decided advance at Liverpool was but feebly responded to with us, till toward the close, which was firm at some advance. Today the opening was buoyant on the Liverpool report, but the favorable crop accounts from the National Cotton Exchange and the rumors of fresh complications in Afghanistan caused most of the early advance to be lost. Cotton on the spot has been only moderately active, whether for export or home consumption, and under the very free deliveries which were made on August contracts there was a decline of 1-16c on Wednesday. To-day the decline was fairly recovered, but the close was fairly active at 10 1/2c for middling uplands. The total sales for forward delivery for the week are 290,100 bales.

A Sleepy Sermon.

The poor person is overworked, underpaid and underfed. His blood is thin. His stomach is ailing. His liver is all wrong, and of course his digestion is poor. It is any wonder he puts his congregation almost to sleep by giving out the text? Brown's Iron Bitters will repair his broken-down system and make him a new man. Rev. J. S. White, of Rockhill, S. C., writes, "I used Brown's Iron Bitters for general debility." It has restored me to health and vigor." Many other clergymen give similar testimony.
