First Bale of New Crop Cotton.

The first bale of new crop cotton was received by Messrs. Hall & Pearsall yesterday, having been raised by Mr. J. W. Mc. Laurin, and shipped by Messrs. McKinnon & Bros., of Laurinburg. It was put on 'Change and sold at auction, Messrs. Alex. Sprunt & Son becoming the purchasers at 111 cents per pound. The bale weighed 567 pounds and was graded Strict Low Middling, Messrs. J. M. Chasten & Son being the weighers.

The first bale here in 1884, was received on the 25th; in 1883, on the 23rd; in 1882 on the 28rd; in 1881 on the 16th, and in 1880 on the 18th of August.

Since writing the above we learn that Mesars. Geo. W. Williams & Co. also received a new bale yesterday. It was shipped by Mr. B. W. Thompson, of Red

A Remarkable and Sad Accident. A letter received from Germany brings the information, that the Queen Elizabeth mine in Clausthal Hanover, caved in on the 10th of July. It was several thousand feet deep and when the ground gave way the building over the mouth of the mine, fell in and disappeared. The saddest of all was that three young men were at the bottom of the mine, engaged in extracting some of its treasures, and on these the mighty masses fell, burying them thousands of feet below the surface of the earth. One of these young men, August Mueller, was a cousin of Rev. Mr. Peschau, of this city. No accident like this has ever hap-

Wednesday night is named for another moonlight excursion on the Passport under the management of Mr. Geo. N. Harriss. The boat will not go as far down the river as the "Rocks" on this occasion; returning promptly at 11.30 o'clock.

The many friends of Capt. J. C. Borden will regret to hear that a telegram was received here from Goldsboro yesterday morning to the effect that he had again been stricken with paralysis, and this time in a much more aggravated form, he being speechless.

Messrs, John J. Fowler, G. H. Green and L. J. Poisson left for New York yesterday on the steamship Gulf Stream.

A letter was received from Hamburg, New London, Connecticut, yesterday, stating that Capt. W. M. Parker was not so well, but a telegram subsequently received brings the gratifying information that he is much better.

We are glad to hear that Mr. J. M. Cronly has been reinstated in the position in the Custom House to which he was appointed by Collector Robinson, but which position was abolished before he had filled it by the Secretary of the Treasury, and is now re-established by the same authority.

Rev. V. J. Millis, who is now living at St. James', Missouri, writes that he has been very successful in his ministry so far, seventy-five having connected themselves with his church this year. He says he is getting along very well, but times are hard. The wheat crop in that section is almost a total failure.

Mr. E. J. Fuller, of Fayetteville, has accepted a position as book keeper with N. D. McDonald & Co., and will locate in this city.

After Many Days.

A very affecting scene occurred in this city yesterday. Two colored women, who are sisters, one of them residing here and the other at or near Meares' Bluff, had not seen their mother for the last 35 years, and had almost concluded that she was dead; but during the last session of the North Carolina annual Conference in this city. one of the sisters met on the street one of the ministers who was well acquainted with the old owners of her mother, who had been carried to Alabama, and upon making inquiries about her mother, as to whether she was dead or not, the minister promised to try, by correspondence, to ascertain for her. This resulted in a correspondence and exchange of pictures, and yesterday morning the sister residing in this city received a postal stating that her mother was on her way to Wilmington, and would arrive here on Friday or Saturday. Her joy was great, when, a few moments later, she was called by a friend, who was to look out for the arrival of her mother at the train, and informed of her presence. She dropped everything and ran to embrace her mother, when the manifestation of her love by her kisses, embraces and exclamations were very affecting. Sudden Death. Yesterday morning a German tailor, by the name of A. Pannach, was found dead in bed at the New Scarborough House. The coroner was notified and viewed the remains. A military pass book and the picture of a lady, said to be that of the dead man's sister, were found on his person. He came from Stettin, Germany, and had probably not been in this county long, as he could speak but little English. He had been in this city since the 6th of June, and during a part of that time had been in the employ of Mr. A. David. He never appeared to be in very good health. From the pass book it was ascertained that he was born February 27th, 1841. Dr. F. W. Potter, who examined the body, says the unfortunate man's death was caused by congestive fever. No inquest was held, but Coroner Jacobs superintended the buri al of the body, which was interred in Oak Grove Cemetery, yesterday afternoon, at the expense of the county.

Carolina Oll and Creesote Company. Articles of incorporation were filed yesterday for a joint stock company, for the manufacture of creosote oil and the preservation of wood, by processes patented by Messrs. Hansen & Smith, of this city. The capital stock of the company is $500,000, and the incorporators are Messrs. Andrew Smith, Ludvig Hansen, Jno. R. Turrentine. R. E. Heide, E. J. Pennypacker, W. P. Canaday and J. F. Divine. Messrs. Hansen & Smith have works already in operation in this city, and these will be the basis of opera tions for the present, with works hereafter to be established by the new company at other places North and South. Some of the most promident capitalists in the country are interested in the matter, and the business bids fair to ultimately become of great importance and to grow to large proportions.

Fire in Brunswick. Friday night, about 10 o'clock, persons in this city who happened to be looking towards Brunswick county, in the direction of Brunswick Ferry, were surprised by the sudden bursting forth of flames, which were plainly visible and evidently coming from a burning building. Upon inquiry vesterday we learned that the house de stroved was about four miles from the city and was owned and occupied by a colored man named Nick Nixon. It seems that Nixon and his wife and children were all at church not far off, when they discovered the house to be on fire and hurried spot, but were too late to be of much vice. They succeeded in getting a out containing the wife's clothing, which was about all that was saved. There was no insurance.

RIVER AND MARINE.

- The schr. Rover passed out yesterday - The steamer D. Murchison started up the river yesterday at 2 p. m. She will probably go as far as the "Cypress. - The German barque Fidelio at quarantine at 5.55 p. m. Friday. Won't Bet on Cotton.

We hear of the following patriotic sentiment being enunciated by one of the descendants of the late William Penn, now residing in the neighborhood of Wilmington: "The East and the West are bound to have a row yet, on account of the revolutionary tendency of them tramps and dissatisfied element and silver bill (wish to amend, say currency); and that is the reason I won't bet on cotton."

For the Star. CANTWELL LIGHT GUARDS.

I was very glad to see that the young ladies who organized themselves into a company last night for the purpose of having a flag drill, selected as a name the "Cant-well Light Guards." This is a well deserved compliment paid to an old soldier, and our fellow comrade, Col. John L. Cantwell. who has been an active worker in the Wilmington Light Infantry ever since its organization in 1853. It shows in what great esteem he is held by those interested indi-rectly in the Company as well as those directly so, and it is to be hoped that the young ladies will work as faithfully for the ultimate success of the Cantwell Light Guards as the Colonel has done for his Company. There was an enthusiastic meeting last night, I hear, and the enrollment of nineteen members for the beginning must be very gratifying to those having the matter in charge.
