According to a remarkable dispatch sent to the State Department from Sierra Leone, 100,000 soldiers are in the interior of Africa. They are said to be led by an inspired general who is exterminating Paganism and opening roads for progress. The dispatch is from U.S. Consul Lewis. He says:

"It appears that in 1880 a Mandingo, named Samudu, of unusual intelligence and energy, conceived the idea that he was called of God to wage a war for the supthe reward in the hereafter promised to those who fight for their religion, but to carry off the rich spoils of time which these expeditions that battle for the faith are sure to win. It is said that Samuda's army is divided into three portions."

The KuKlux are operating Humphreys county, Tenn., if we may trust a special to the New York Times from Nashville, Tenn. Many specials from the South to Northern Republican papers are often sheer fabrications. One negro is reported killed in Tennessee, several as severely whipped, and others ordered to leave. It is said that the best citizens of Humphreys county strongly condemn these outrages, and will likely call upon the Governor to offer a guilty parties.

The papers are beginning to lie on Sam Jones. Tens of thousands who have heard him know that he extemporises, and yet Northern papers are trying to make it appear that his sermons are written out in advance and offered to the press for a consideration. The Cincinnati Commercial Gazette is responsible for starting this lame-legged falsehood.

But one person in Wilmington outside of this office has given us a contribution for the Shotwell monument. Can it be possible that so brave, so bold, so conscientious and independent an editor as he had no admirers in Wilmington? Send in your dimes and quarters and half dollars and dollars and as much more as you please to give. This is our last appeal.

Dr. Frederick Adler, a promising young German physician from Milwankee, has just been killed in duel at Heidelberg. A dispatch says:

"The story goes that he and another young German student were courting the same girl, and things had reached such a point that it was necessary that one or the other of the suiters must be removed. A challenge passed, and the duel was fought with rapiers in Southern Austria. Adier received his death wound, and lived only a

It is very laughable. — At the late term of Harlaughable. — At the late term of Har-nett County Superior Court, held by Judge Clark, a witness had testified that a certain party was a very peaceable man. On cross-examination he was asked if he did not know that said person had been engaged in several fights in the last two years. He answered indignantly, "No. sir, only a few." It seemed conclusive that if one had "only a few" fights in his neighborhood in two years he was a very peaceable citizens.

mber of fences and the prostration of shade trees, or the denuding them of many of their branches, the extent of the damage by the gale in Wilmington was not ma-terial. In prosecuting our inquiries we found that the tin roof of the building in which is located Corbin's Dining Parlors was blown off and the carpets and furniture were damaged to some extent; the store of Messrs. D. Newman & Son was partially unroofed; a shed on the wharf of Mr. F. J. Lord, foot of Ann street was partally blown down and a portion of belonging to Messrs. Kerchner & Calde Bros., broke from her moorings in the neighborhood of the cotton factory and was blown across the river, and lies in the rear of the wreck of the steamer Waccamate; a lighter belonging to the dredging company broke loose and stranded on Big Island; another lighter was in tow of the steam-tug Ethel, which was trying to get her into place of safety, but her progress in the teeth of the gale was backwards at the rate of about three miles an hour instead of forwards, and finally she parted the hawser and was driven on up the river at a furious rate, going through the jetties, where it was thought she would lodge, and finally stranding in the neighborhood of the "dram tree." Mr. Fred. Klein was on the lighter when she broke loose, and had about as much as he could do to keep from being blown off. He jumped overboard when the lighter stranded, waded ashore and came home with such speed that he reached here in advance of the Ethel. to the effect that a great many trees and fences were prostrated by the storm and boat [capsized. The stables of Mr. E Peschau were blown down and the top of his rocksway crushed in. The houses rocked badly, the gale being at its utmost severity at about 4 o'clock. Mr. Owen Fennell took several families into his house. which was thought to afford them better security than their own. One of the large pine trees at Pine Grove, Capt. Manning's place, was broken off about half way to the ground. Col. C. L. Grafflin's house was badly damaged, but is standing. The bath houses suffered very little, as the tide was not high. A batteau was found lying across the road near the entrance to Seaside Park, where it was thought to have been carried by the force of the wind. At Mr. Thos. Eden's place it was noticed that the late corn had suffered materially, and the same s supposed to have been the case wherever the storm struck. One of more trees were thrown across the turnpike, but they were speedily removed. The telephone wire was At Masonboro the bottoms of the bathing houses were washed out, and Mr. Geo. A. Peck's was blown down. The yachts Phantom, Isabel and Bessie Lee, dragged from their moorings, turned over and were dashed on the shore. The Mascott, which was pulled ashere in the morning, turned over on her beam ends. One row boat was picked up bodily by the wind and threwn on shore and smashed. The wind was terrific, some pronouncing it the severest they had ever experienced. A large number of fences and trees were prostrated, and some of the latter were blown across the road. but were cut out.

-AT SMITHVILLE. From passengers on the steamer Passport, esterday afternoon, we learn that the storm at Smithville Tuesday was terrific, and that much damage was done to buildings. Among those most seriously injured we mention the following: Residence of Dr. Frink partly unroofed; upper piazza of Mr. Thompson's house carried away and lower one damaged; upper piazza of the Hotel de Guthrie blown away and about half of the house unroofed, the family and boarders having to leave and seek shelter elsewhere; the piazza of the Morrison house, rented for boarders by Miss Kate Stewart, was lifted up over the house and carried across the street, falling upon the plazzs of Capt. Morse and doing it considerable damage; piazza of Capt. Wm. Weeks blown away and goods in store damaged by water to the extent of about $600. In fact, the damage to houses was very general throughout the town, though some suffered worse than others. The Norwegian brig Emma was blown ashore on Deep Water Point and dismasted. The little schooner Fairfield was blown up in the marsh. The pilot boat Pender Monkey was blown ashore, A nall schooner, name not remembered, was blewn ashore in the bay. The pilot boat Addie got across the bows of a barque and was badly damaged. The little schooner Argyle was blown into the street in the lower part of the town. The pilot boat Levensettler was reported ashore. It is mentioned as a singular fact that several of the large white oaks in the town were blown down Tuesday, which have withstood all the other storms that have visited the place.

AT THE BOCKS.

The gale was very furious at the "Rocks" and the visitors all repaired to the Government house on the mound for safety; b as it turned out there was no necessity fo these precautions. About 8 o'clock the wind changed and the tide commenced going out. The only damage done was the wash Beyond the blowing down of a large ing away of the bath house and the gang-

Robbing a Store. For some time past Capt. J. L. Boat wright has been missing articles from his store, but had been unable to spot the thief. A detective was employed to work up the case, and at his instance, on Tuesday, one Julius Jones was arrested at the corner of Front and Mulberry streets, by Officer Marsh Walker with a bag in his possession, containing six hams, which were identified as the property of Capt. Boatwright. Subsequently, Jim Collins and Nick McDuffle were arrested by Officer Piver, on a warrant issued by Justice Hall, charged with being implicated in the robbery. It was shown that Collins had been repeatedly seen going to the place occupied by Jones, and under very suspicious circumstances. At the close of the examination Jones and Collins were required to give bond in the sum of $300 each for their appearance at the next term of the Criminal Court, failing in which they were committed to jail.
