Gov. Scales has published his decision relative to the Third Regiment, State Guard. It is to the effect that Col. Glenn ordered his men to leave camp belore his application was acted upon, that Col. Glenn acted upon a misapprehension and that the members of companies A, E and K broke camp and went home under the belief that leave of absence had been obtained for them from the proper authority. In view of these facts the officers and men of these companies, are acquitted of blame in the premises.

Cluverius gets his meals from a restaurant and is very liberal to the other prisoners. The Richmond Dispatch says:

"No man in the prison seems to have a less troublesome conscience. He talks, eats, and sleeps like one who has a pleasant future before him. He still receives regular visits from Mrs. Tunstall; still refuses to see visitors who are not personal friends: still declines to discuss his case or to explain his movements on the night of the murder, and still says he feels sure of a new trial."

Col. C. Chaille Long, the well known African traveller, who served on Gen. Gordon's staff once, gives it as his opinion that he escaped from Khartoum and is alive. The New York Times has interviewed him at much length and in a very interesting way. But there is very little doubt that the gallant Englishman McIesyre & Hoath's Minstrels. The season opened last night at the Opera House with McIntyre $ Heath's minstrels, and the and sence was one of the largest we have ever seen there.

The programme presented last night was most inviting one, and everything precented was done so well that it is hard to tell what in particular pleased most. The jokes were new and full of humor, and the hearty manner in which they were received were sufficient evidence of their apprecia-

The principal features of the entertainment were the wonderful "Shadowgraphs" and the marvellous performances of the "Frog" and the "Clown." In addition to there were songs and dancing, which were most loudly applauded and intensely enloyed.

McIntyre & Heath's Minstrels are in every respect worthy of patronage, and will draw good houses wherever they go, for there is nothing that takes better than a good minstrel show.

Yankee Electrician Trying to Swindie a North Carolina Lady. A correspondent of the N. O. Picayune writes from New York : Virginia McRae, daughter of Col D. K. McRae, of Wilmington, N. C., has a large type-writing bureau on Broadway. Some years ago she conceived the idea of an electrical connection which would enable a single operator to run two or more 'instruments at once. This idea carried into practice revealed the possibility of an important improvement in telegraphy, since a similar process would, dispense with the necessity of copying the messages when received and insure absolute accuracy and privacy in their transmission. Miss McRae worked and was then introduced to George Hatha-

WEDNESDAF, Aug. 26.-Rev. J. G. Fry

A Suggestion. A friend suggests, in view of the terrible destruction elsewhere by the late storm, and our own city's wonderful escape in a great measure from the results of the fearful visitation, that in all of our churches, on Sunday morning, "praise and thanksgivings be given to Almighty God for His goodness and mercy towards us as a city and as families and individuals."
