MORNING EDITION. OUTLINES.

A saw and shingle mill in Tallman, Mich., destroyed by fire; loss $20,000. A mob of seventy-five persons captured the jail of Blanco, Texas, and hanged Locke, the murderer; he said he intended to kill all the members of three or four families but was prevented by his cartridges giving out. Two of the three officers who constitute the police force of Geneva, N. Y., were found murdered in the streets of that town Thursday night; it is supposed they were killed by burglars. H. K. Goodwin shot and killed A. D. Swan in Lawrence, Mass. A number of colored soldiers from Fort Meade, Dak., arrested, threatened to burn the town of Sturgis, the scene of the lynching of the colored soldier who assassinated Dr. Lynch; they were captured and returned to the post. Mails from Canada are to be furnished as a precaution against small pox. Julius Stahel has been reappointed U. S. Consul General at Shanghai, China. Spanish officers on furlough have been ordered to rejoin their regiments. Two men were drowned while bathing at Cape May, N. J. Florida has sent the first bale of new sea island cotton to market. New York markets: Money, 1 1/2 per cent; cotton quiet at 10 1/2-16 1/2; wheat, ungraded red 84-89 1/2; corn, ungraded 54-55; Southern flour quiet and heavy; spirits turpentine steady at 35; rosin quiet at $1.08 1/2.

The royal conference is over, and what was done? The world still moves, and, if Parson Jasper is correct, the "sun do move" with it.

John and Mrs. Logan were upset in the St. Lawrence River. She was saved by a pilot and John swam ashore. Why did not John save his better half striedly?

The Grant memorial fund in New York now amounts to $62,121.30. It will take three or four years to raise the million dollars needed if the present pace is continued.

John Sherman has raised the bloody-shirt in the Ohio campaign. He is mean enough to do anything. At Mount Gilead he made a bitter, sectional, vindictive, demagogical speech. John is a corrupt knave.

North Carolina produced a 77-pound watermelon and it was a "great big thing." But Los Angeles, California, went 101 pounds better, and sent to London one weighing 178 pounds, and don't you forget it.

At Ferandina seven houses were badly shaken up by the storm and many vessels were damaged. At Beaufort, S. C., the people had a terrible experience and three lives were lost. They belonged to the pilot boat Schoper.

Bradleigh, the irrepressible, has issued a manifesto in which he urges his constituents to force the British House of Commons to submit to their will and admit him as a member. He is anxious in some sense to do the another John Wilkes.

It is stated by Dr. E. H. Graham, of Boston, that Maxwell, the St. Louis murderer, impressed him from the first of his acquaintance with him as being of his mental poise. He claimed that he was the illegitimate son of Lord Farnham, of England. He once asked Graham to procure him a corpse.

The Charleston News & Courier has displayed very remarkable enterprise in writing up the storm. On the day after it contained between three and four pages devoted to the storm, and now, in its issue of Thursday, it prints twelve pages, and devotes five pages to further reports. That is a feat of enterprise worthy of any daily.

As yet the revival of business is scarcely perceptible. When cotton begins to come in briskly we hope trade in Wilmington will live up. We shall have good hope of improvement until September ends, but if business continues slack until then we shall be forced to think that the Northern papers in their hopeful speculations were a "little too previous."

Beecher has served Plymouth Church for probably thirty-five or forty years. He is now more than seventy and a most remarkable man. There are rumors that the Blaneites in his congregation are plotting to drive him out. If they try it, all

Beecher has to do is to set up another big house and it will be crowded. More than half his old flock would follow. Beecher voted for Cleveland and that's what's the matter with Hannah.

More rascalities are coming to light at Washington. It has been ascertained that a corrupt ring made up of barfaced thieves have been fleeing the Government. The report is that it has been ascertained that a row of cottages on the Potomac river have been actually built and furnished at the expense of the people. The thieves belong to the Pension Building. Mr. Shuckers, the new Superintendent of that building, made the discovery. The former Superintendent (Republican of course) was one of the six engaged in the swindle. John Sherman, while Secretary of the Treasury, is believed to have swindled the Government in many ways. Another leak has been stopped, this time in the Court of Alabama Claims. So Walter Blaine, son of Jim B., is adrift. He received $2,500 salary. Several of the officers were not authorized by law. This is the way the Cleveland Administration is steadily reforming the Government and "turning the rascals out."

Savannah suffered from the storm. It was badly shaken up. Two barques were driven ashore and went to pieces. The steamship Marion drifted from her anchorage. Two pilot boats were blown on the Marsh. The William Lawrence, a steamer, was disabled and her second officer was drowned. The Savannah News says:

"Few people slept after 3 o'clock and those who slept through the storm of 1881 were fearful of a repetition of their experience then. The wind then kept on increasing and buildings were shaken to their foundations. The City Exchange bell and the bell in the Independent Presbyterian church were swung and rang in the height of the gale. The police on duty dodged into hallways and under porches to escape the limbs and branches of trees, which were blown across sidewalks and into the streets from curb to curb. Stout trees in many of the squares and in the Park were uprooted and their trunks twisted off near the ground. To the few people who were abroad at that hour it was a dismal scene."

The storm struck Savannah on Monday night. It is noticeable that within a few days it has been announced that three of the supposed defunct Republican papers will be revived. There is also talk of a fourth. This looks as if "our friends the enemy" were counting upon a split in the Democratic party and that they mean to get ready for a hot contest next Summer. The Democrats will hardly split enough to give the Republicans the State.

The reported duel to come off between Mr. Gantt and Mr. Connell is still the talk at Atlanta. A special dated the 26th says: "Mr. Gantt is at New Holland Springs, where he has been since Sunday last and where he will remain, so his friends say, until matters are settled one way or the other. Mr. Connell is here, where he has been since Monday, and has nothing to say. He was away last week, and a letter from Mr. Gantt through W. B. Burnett, of Athens. To this communication his friends made a reply."

Spirits Turpentine

Mr. Henry Humphrey was tossed by an enraged bull at New Bern and much bruised. "P." in the Raleigh News-Observer, asks who is "Q?" Now it is "Q's" turn to ask who is "P?" Wilson Advances: Mr. C. F. Finch says he has an oil well on the land near his mill, in this county. He has not bored for the oil yet but he says the indications are sufficient to convince him that he has "struck it."

Murfreesboro Index: Bugs are damaging the cotton crop in this section very much. Many of the farmers think that clover produces them, but some farmers are troubled with them, who have never raised clover on their lands. Statesville Landmark: As an evidence of the magnitude of the fruit crop in the mountains and of what is being done with it, Mr. James C. Armstrong, of New Castle township, Wilkes county, who was in our office yesterday, reported seventeen brandy distilleries in operation in his township alone. Goldsboro Argus: Prof. M. C. B. Noble, Superintendent of the Wilmington Graded Schools, who has many friends in this community, passed through this city yesterday with his bride, Mrs. Alice Yarborough, of Wilmington. They were en route for the North on a bridal tour. Weldon News: The crops are suffering greatly for want of rain throughout the county. It is rumored that as soon as the Atlantic Coast Line gets control of the road to Quantico the engineers and conductors will stop here. The run will be from Wilmington to this place and from Quantico here. It is probable that the change will be made in December, if at all. Wadesboro Times: Dr. S. B. Carpenter was kicked by a mule on the leg one day last week, and was painfully but not seriously hurt. The mule was taken right seriously injured by the dry weather, but not so badly as some seem to think. A good revival meeting at Morven is going on in the First Baptist Church. Six sessions and more are expected. Oxford Torchlight: Mr. Knott informs us that the tobacco crop is particularly fine. We were pained to hear of the death of Mr. Belle Thomas, the wife of Mr. L. Thomas, the worthy manager of our esteemed contemporary, the Orphan's Friend. Many give it as their belief that the population of Oxford has doubled since the census was taken in 1880. A colored boy about sixteen years old named Phoebe Graves, while employed in the private room of Mr. W. T. Williams last Monday, entered Mr. Williams' trunk and appropriated $116 in money.

Asheville Advance: The corn crop all over Western North Carolina is the finest known, and some predict that next spring it will not be worth more than thirty or forty cents per bushel. Mr. D. P. Lane, a young man 26 years of age, met with a painful and serious accident near Busbee Monday morning. He was loading a wagon with cross-ties, when a spring pole, used to hook the ties on the wagon, struck him with great force in the face. His left cheek bone was fractured and his entire face frightfully mutilated. His face is yet so badly swollen that it is impossible to tell the extent of his injuries. New Bern Journal: An old-fashioned camp meeting will begin at Hatteras to-morrow. The steamer Elm City will take down all who desire to attend at reasonable rates. The news from Morehead City is that the storm on Tuesday was the most terrific since the August storm of 1879, when the Atlantic Hotel washed away. The damage to sail boats and buildings is counted in the hundreds of thousands on the A. & N. C. R. R. was blown down, the track below the hotel washed away so that the train could not reach the warehouse, and the roof of the Atlantic Hotel considerably damaged. Every sharp corner on the outside of the hotel was swamped. Many of the residents say the wind blew with as much force as the storm of 1879.

Fayetteville Observer: We had a delightful rain last Tuesday, but we fear it was too late. The farmers say that the cotton and late corn is burnt up. We have just heard that the smoke-house of R. E. Harris, in First street, was destroyed by fire on Sunday morning last. Mr. Harris lost all his provisions, his bee hives, and working implements; the dwelling was barely saved. From Moore Court we learn that Benj. Cole, a man over seventy years of age, who was on trial for September 1st, was found guilty. His wife, we understand, was a sister of the Solicitor, Mr. McIver. The case created considerable interest; able counsel were employed on both sides. Dr. Hinsdale had analyzed the stomach, and found strychnine in the contents. It was proved that her husband bought the poison, and there was other proof very damaging to the accused. Charlotte Observer: One of the Charlotte firemen had his throat badly cut in Greenville, at the late colored firemen's tournament. The Statesville American is to be revived at Statesville during the first week in September. Mr. E. H. Drake is to be the editor. For the first time in a great many years the docket containing civil cases will meet with thorough attention at the term of the Superior Court, to convene in this city next Monday. The term is to last three weeks. The congregation of the Second Presbyterian Church in this city have decided to invest in a parsonage for their pastor, and have purchased a building site. The total taxes of the county has not yet been figured up, but we learn that the money raised on the 10 cents levy for road purposes will amount to $8,000. It looks like this amount, judiciously expended, ought to make good roads throughout the county. The Carolina Central Railroad Company has brought an action against Mr. McGaskill, of Shoe Heel, that promises to be a lively affair in the courts. The railroad desires to have Mr. McGaskill ejected from a lot along which the track runs, and Mr. McGaskill, of course, doesn't intend to be ejected if he can help it.

Raleigh News-Observer: Yesterday Mr. Samuel Watts, an Englishman who for twelve years has lived in Raleigh, took out naturalization papers, in which he renounced the authority of Queen Victoria and became an American, full-fledged. He is a clever gentleman, a good citizen and withal a prosperous farmer and business man. He lives at Auburn. [A first-rate man as we know.—STAR]. The work of tobacco curing is now in most active progress in all this section. The Henderson base ball club has reorganized, and is now ready to play any amateur club in the State a series of games. The corn crop at Tuesday was too brief, and did practically no good to the suffering crops. The terrible drought of two weeks ago did its work, but too well. Many farmers estimate the loss to Wake's cotton crop at from one-fourth to one-third, and to the corn crop at from one-fifth to one-quarter. This is a bad showing. The rain came too late to avert this disaster, which costs Wake many thousands of dollars. Yesterday a business man remarked that the tobacco business industry took the lead. Four factories here have been running hard as ever all day, and two of them until 10 o'clock at night, and even then have had to work to keep up with their orders. Brewster & Co. have made a great number, and made them so cheaply and so well that they have filled and are filling orders from points as far distant as Morehead City and Salisbury. Mr. Nick West said yesterday that Julius Lewis & Co. had this season made flues for over 300 barns, working up 54,000 pounds of iron in their construction. Yesterday he said they had telegraphed for 20,000 pounds more of iron. Two other establishments here have kept constantly at work making flues. It is estimated that Raleigh has shipped about 900 sets. Of this number about 600 are said to have been for Wake.

THE CITY.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS. MUNSON—Children's suits at cost. F. A. NEWBURY—Virginia melons. HEINBERGERS—Pianos and organs. J. C. STEVENSON—Country produce. COLLIER & Co.—Crackers at auction. HOW, R. S. F. E. Co.—Card of thanks. OPERA HOUSE—Standard Dramatic Co. M. S. WILLARD—Mutual Life Ins. Co. Onslow County Enterprise. Messrs. F. S. Coburn and E. H. Foville, of Duck Creek, Onslow county, have bought the tract of land known as Lloyd's Meadow, in that county. They intend to put the larger part of it into rice, and will erect a rice mill in the spring. They will also raise an improved grade of stable-fed cattle for the Wilmington market. We think the young men success in their enterprise.

Local News. Seven bales of cotton received yesterday. No cases for the Mayor's Court yesterday morning. The delicious September mullet is now coming to market. The box sheet for the Standard Dramatic Company is opened at Heinbergers. Easterly winds have prevailed here ever since the late storm, and the weather has been cool. Bear in mind there will be an excursion sometime next week for the benefit of the Cornet Concert Club. Our band deserves encouragement. We learn that the music of the new Germania Cornet Band was highly appreciated on the occasion of the late excursion of the Howard Relief Fire Engine Company, adding greatly to the attractions of the trip. A gentleman who recently advertised in the Star for a farm informs us that he received scores of replies—so many, in fact, that he could not spare the time to answer them. And responses to the advertisement are still coming in by every mail.

A Free Ferry Over Northeast River. A correspondent at Long Creek, Pender county, whose communication is too long for our columns, mentions the fact that the late Legislature enacted a much needed law for the relief of the farmers of Pender, New Hanover, Sampson, Duplin and Onslow counties, by giving the Commissioners of Pender and New Hanover the right to establish and maintain a free ferry across the Northeast river, and says the people of the counties interested demand that the commissioners aforesaid proceed at once to establish the free ferry, for the convenience of the travelling public. The law provides that the expenses shall be borne equally by Pender and New Hanover counties, and our correspondent thinks the ferry can be purchased, put in order and run for a year for $500. Private parties will give and buy the right of way, make the road and keep it up for two years, provided it is located below the railroad bridge. Flat, chain and ferryman can all be had for $500, leaving $100 for repairs the first year. Three hundred dollars for each county the first year and one hundred thereafter will be about the amount of expenses. Our correspondent thinks the ferry is so much of a necessity that the people of Sampson and Duplin will give $100 each towards its establishment. Let us have the free ferry.

The Pireway & Calabash Tramway. The much talked of tram road leading from Pireway Ferry, Columbus county, to Calabash, Brunswick county, which was commenced some time ago, and which was heretofore managed, owned and controlled by Capt. G. W. H. Malpass, has recently been transferred by him (including right of way, road, implements, etc.) to a joint stock company which has been formed and will push the work through at an early day. At a meeting held at Calabash a few days ago much interest was manifested in the enterprise, $900 were subscribed, and officers were elected as follows: Jonathan Gore, President; A. C. Meares, Secretary; C. Thomas, Treasurer; S. H. Thomas, Jesse Wilson, T. K. Thomas, Jabish Frink, Benj. Benton and G. W. H. Malpass, Directors. This is considered an enterprise of much importance, and, as it is expected to prove a good feeder to Wilmington, it is thought by its friends down there that the merchants of Wilmington should make themselves interested in the completion of the road. Persons desiring information about the proposed road should apply to Mr. Jonathan Gore, President.

The Storm in Brunswick—The Crops Damaged. Mr. J. B. Mercer, writing from New Supply, Brunswick county, under date of the 26th, says: "The heaviest of yesterday's storm lasted about three hours here, beginning to blow very hard at about 1:30 o'clock, and lasting until about 4:30 p. m. The wind had been blowing from the south for about twenty-four hours before the storm. At about 4 o'clock it veered slightly to the southwest, when it soon began to abate. I think it blew harder than during the storm of September, 1883, and if it had lasted as long much more damage would have been done to life and property. So far I have heard of no loss of life. Several buildings were wrecked; standing timber, fences, and almost all growing crops were laid low. Cotton and corn were badly damaged. Crops were looking very promising until the storm came upon them."

Magistrate's Court. W. M. Well, charged with an assault with a deadly weapon upon Joachim Schmitt, had an examination before Justice Mills yesterday. There was no evidence to sustain the charge and the prosecutor was required to pay the costs. C. C. Hill, charged with assault and battery upon S. Jevins, by striking him with a rock, had a hearing before Justice Mills, when the difficulty proved to have been an affray, and both parties were bound over in the sum of $50 each for their appearance at the next term of the Criminal Court.

Heavy Weights. We were informed yesterday of a resident of this city who has five children—three boys and two girls—whose aggregate weights amount to 935 pounds, while neither the father nor mother weighs as much as 150 pounds.

Personal. Capt. Washington Gattet, principal of the Cape Fear Academy, returned from his usual summer vacation to Virginia Thursday night, and will at once commence preparations for the opening of his school on the 28th of September. We were sorry to hear yesterday that Capt. H. C. Brook, our efficient Chief of Police, was quite sick. Hope it will not be for long. Rev. F. T. Wooten, a student of Wake Forest College, is here on a visit, and was expected to preach at Brooklyn Hall last night.

The Second Bale. The second bale of new crop cotton, which came in right on the heels of the first, was from Mr. B. W. Townsend, of Red Banks, and not B. W. Thomas, as was inadvertently stated at the time. It was received by Messrs. G. W. Williams & Co., and was the first bale shipped from Robeson county.

Virginia Melons. A car load of fine watermelons arrived here from Richmond, Va., yesterday, consigned to Mr. F. A. Newbury. An old railroad official informed us that it was the first consignment ever received here from Virginia to his knowledge. Shipments of melons generally come from the South.

Fine Buck. Another fine buck was killed in the neighborhood of Castle Haynes yesterday, and will be for sale in the market to-day. The lucky shot was fired by a man named Bordeaux. The buck weighed about 150 pounds. Deer driving has proved to be a paying business herabouts lately.

Quarterly Meetings. Fourth round for the Wilmington District of the Methodist E. Church, South Bladen Circuit, Windsor, August 29th and 30th. Elizabeth Circuit, Elizabethtown, September 5th and 6th.
