and looked long and earnestly into the tomb. She was quite overcome with emotion, and had to be helped to the carriage and assisted by Revs. T. C. Lovin and J. by her son. She was dressed in deep mourn ng and her face was covered by a heavy

Mr. George W. Childs, Grant's particular friend, says that the General fully believed that Tilden had been elected President. He says Grant was at his house during the canvass of the election returns between Tilden and Hayes, and said that Tilden was elected. Afterwards when the question became complicated and the country greatly excited, Mr. Childs says he was sent for to come to Washington and that the President said to him:

"I have spoken of an electoral commission, and the leaders of the party are opposed to it, which I am sorry torsee. They say that if an electoral commission is appointed you might as well count in Mr. Tilden. I would sooner have Tilden than that the Republicans should have a President who could be stigmatized as a frand. If I were Mr. Hayes I would not have it unless it was settled in some way outside of the Senate. This matter is opposed by the leading Republicans in the House and Senate and throughout the country."

The proof in favor of the sea serpent is simply overwhelming, as may be seen by consulting an article on the subject in the Atlantic Monthly of a year or two since. Captain Roberts, of the ship Emblem, and all of his crew have just had a good look at the monster. The account telegraphed to the New York Herald says: "As we brushed past its entire length of body was visible, as there were only a few inches of water over its back, and it was within a few feet from the side of the vessel. All the crew, numbering twenty-one, by this time assembled on the starboard side, were looking in amazement and wonder at the strange spectacle. My carpen-ter suggested that we should harpoon the thing and bring it to the first port, but none of the crew seemed inclined to have anything to do with it. 'Now ask the crew.' I closely examined them, but they all agreed in stating that the length could not be less than sixty feet, its girth about seven feet. The Captain said he had sailed in latitudes. tudes; some of his crew were very old salts. Never had he nor any of his crew ever before seen such a monster in the sea."

— Mt. Airy News: The water-melon crop this year is the largest ever raised in Surry country.

- Henderson Gold Leaf: There is talk of a cotton oil mill being built at Louisburg. — A cyclone struck Sassa-fras Fork in Granville unroofing houses and damaging crops.

- Greensboro Workman: We are informed by friends who went on the late excursion to Asheville that there was a fall of snow at that place on the 28th ult. There is no mistake about it.

- Salem Press: Jackson Hill, in Davidson county, has a cornet band. The tobacco crop in this section is considered the finest for a number of years past. The tobacco business is immense. All the tinsmiths are busy.

- Reidsville Times: Hop. Jas. W. Reid delivered a speech at Caswell court, which was pronounced by one of Virginia's most prominent lawyers to be the finest of its kind he had ever heard, and it was highly complimented on all

- Kernersville News: The ship ment of fruit from Kernersville was never larger than it has been this season. It in-creases each year and should encourage the farmers to direct their attention to growing more fruit and better fruit than they do, here is money in it.

- Clayton Bud: Last Monday night Mr. Benjamin H. Yelvington's store was robbed of about $50 in money and a lot of goods. — A young man named John Barbour, about 13 years of age, was killed this morning by an ox cart wheel passing over him. - Stonewall Enterprise; The dry weather has materially injured the cotton-erops in the past ten days. — On Mon-day last F. X. Tutterton, about 17 years of age, and a son of Mr. Nathan Tutter-ton, living near Trend creek, was acci-dently killed by the falling of a tree.

- Winston Daily: The internal revenue collections for the branch office at this place for the month of August foot up $44,044.65, while the revenue collections in the 4th district amount to only $25,480.24.

New residences are going up, both large and small, in all parts of Winston.

- New Berne Journal: Mr. Farnell killed two large rattlers last week, one with fourteen and one with eleven rattles.

Mr. Frazell also killed one with thirteen rattles. This is good work.

Sheriff Koonce, of Jones, reports that his section has not had too much rain, and the prospect looks brighter.

The shipment of grapes this season is far larger than ever before. It is roughly estimated that there are 8,000 acres in bearing vines. Along the Releigh & Gaston Railroad, near Ridgeway, are the largest vine-yards, and the shipments are speedy and the prices good. The crop is a pronounced — Louisburg Times: The tobacco crops is being cured in Franklin county, and it is a large one considering the fact that but few of our farmers knew anything whatever about it. Despite the protracted drought which has played such havor with other crops, good reports about tobacco continue to come in. — Mr. J. F. Wilson's dwelling in Hayesville township, was burned Sunday, together with all its contents except two or three beds and a piano.

U. Smith. There were twenty seven conversions and some fifteen or twenty joined the church at the close of the meeting on Friday. — Covington item: The intensely hot weather and the protracted drought have cut off the cotton crop and late corn in Steele's township at least one-

- Charlotte Observer: More rain fell during August, 1885, than during the same month of any year since the signal office was established in this city. The official record of the rainfall for the August just passed, shows the amount to have been 4.01 inches. — The water in the Haw River, and in the south fork of the Catawba is reported to be very low, and cotton factories along these streams have had to shut down in consequence.

Cole's circus will be here the 23rd inst. - Statesville Landmark: In the course of a conversation with a gentleman on the street, the other day, he said to the writer: "Why don't you come down harder on this arm clutch nonsense? It is idiotic, niggerish and indecent, and ought to be suppressed." Most if not all of which is true. — The work on the land adjoining that of the Emerald & Hiddenite Mining Co. has developed a mammoth crystal and beryl bearing vein. It is the largest yet discovered in the county, being six feet wide at a depth of 25 feet and over 50 feet leng on the surface. Already over 100 beryls have been found in it and many hundred pounds of quarts crystals. One group of water crystals weighs about 100 pounds. Three Hiddenite veins have also een discovered on the land within the past

- Raleigh News-Observer: The fifth annual fair of Roanoke District Grange will be held at Woodland, October 18th, 14th and 14th. — A considerable amount of money has been collected at various points of the State for the Shotwell monument fund. — We are glad to learn that there was no foundation in fact for the report of violence near Apex in connection with the enforcement of the no fence law. — The supply of water in many of the wells here, both public and private, is very low, and there are numerous complaints. In the past six years many wells have been deepened. —Gov. Scales came back yesterday, and as he sat in his new handsome office looked the picture of health. His pleasant holiday of aix weeks certainly benefited him. - Secretary Nichols is in receipt of another letter from Miss Von Blumen, the lady bicyclist, to race against both trotting and running horses. If the fair authorities do not feel able to engage Miss Von Blumen, could not a sufficient amount be raised by private subscription to secure her attendance? — WAKE FOREST, September 1.—The College spened its first day of the session of 1885-'86 to-day, with 110 students present. This is a larger number than ever attended on the opening day, and they are coming in rapidly on every train. This promises 175 or 200 during the

Our sister city of Charleston has suffered fearfully from storm and hurricane during the last eight or ten days. On the 25th ult. a cyclone played terrible havoc, leaving, it is estimated, about five thousand houses comparatively reoffess, and doing an immense amount of damage all over the city and to the shipping in the harbor. With characteristic energy everybody went to work to repair the damages, tinners and others being summoned from Wilmington, Savannah and elsewhere, but every day more or less rain retarded the movements of those engaged in the work of recuperation, until Monday last, when the storm which was reported here to be on the Georgia coast, and coming in this direction, struck the devoted city and deluged it with six inches of water, flooding the defenceless houses and the already sadly washed streets and submerged cellars. The rain commenced about 8 p. m. and continued until about 2 p. m., during which time it came down in torrents, the fall being fully six inches. It is estimated that this storm added at least $100,000 to the loss previously sustained, and the News and Courier now places its estimate of the entire loss from the two storms at $2,600,000. The rainfall from Monday, August 24th, to Monday, August 31st, inclusive, amounted to 13.69 inches. The wind on Monday reached a velocity of 35 miles per hour. The sympathies of our community are with our good friends of Charleston in their misfortune, but Wilmingtonians too well understand the energy, vim and enter prise of our sister city to suppose that she will be long in recuperating from the severe blow she has sustained.

A tinner who arrived here from Charles ton yesterday morning says there is plenty of work to do there and a plenty of force now on hand to do it.
