WILMINGTON, N. C., SATURDAY, SEPT. 19, 1885.

WHOLE NO. 5929

There is no doubt that in many of the counties of North Carolina the srops have been much injured and will be short. Probably this can be said of half the counties. In the fine tobacco section tobacco is very greatly damaged, and in some of the best counties the corn crop even will be short. A gentleman who travels all the time and is very familiar with every section of the State says he never saw money so tight before as it is now. He says this applies to the East, and some of the best Central

The New York Tribune, cantank erous Republican, has taken a scare over the Ohio outlook. It admits much apathy among Republicans, and says:

"The reports from Ohio, private and therwise, indicate a close contest between the parties. The danger appears to lie in the apathy of the Republicans.

With a Democratic Administration at Washington and Columbus, the Democrats are nerved to their strongest efforts to retain the State. It is evident that to carry it for the Republican cause will require the nstant and cordial cooperation of the leading Republicans from all the States."

Lawlessness continues in Kentucky. Human life is cheaper in "the dark and bloody ground" than leaf tobacco. At Owingsville, as Jack Ballard was being taken to jail after having been sentenced to twenty years' imprisonment, his brothers Mose and James fired upon the guard. They were both killed instantly and the guard were unhurt.

- Fayetteville Observer: The tobacco crop in this county is reported to be

- Wadesboro Intelligencer: On last Thursday morning Mr. J. T. Henley's tobacco barn with its entire contents was destroyed by fire.

- Greensboro Workman: There seems to be considerable trouble in regard to the postoffice at Chapel Hill, some parties urging the appointment of a successor to the present incumbent, on the ground that he is a Republican.

- Weldon News: The Roangke river is as low, almost as was ever known. The prospects for a good fair were never better. - Recent rains have improved crops though there is much rust in cotton an average crop cannot be realized.

- Goldsboro Argus: They (lawyers, juries, witnesses,) have thus early realized that Judge Clark means business, and that instead of their being a clog to the wheels of business, they have got to be there on time to turn the crank and keep the thing agoing.

- Wilson Advance: Five hundred insolvents in Edgecombe, but they have a large negro population in that county. — We are pained to be called upon to record the death of Mr. John Allie Richardson, which sad event occurred at Whittakers on Tuesday last. He was about 23 years of age.

- New Berne Journal: We learn with pleasure that there is a movement on foot among our business men to organize an association for the improvement of New Berne. Such an organization would be capable of doing much good, and there are many ways in which this city might be very materially improved if there was concert of action among its business men.

- Oxford Torchlight: An offer of a hundred dollars a front foot was refused for a lot on Commercial Avenue last week. - About a week ago a young man by the name of Roger Norwood was shot in the lower jaw near the mouth by the accidental discharge of a small pocket pistol. - Mr. Alexander Parham about the same time fell from a barn and received a severe cut in the arm by an axe.

- Asheville Citizen: The corn crop of the Western counties is now made and past the danger of injury except from freshets on very low ground. The quanti-ty will be more than double of what was ever raised before. — Weaverville Col-lege opened its new session on Thursday last with fine prospects, the attendance of students, old and new, showing a marked

- Clinton Caucasian: We learn that the corn and cotton cops will be considerably short in Wayne county, and this fact alone is calculated to depress business. - Rev. J. T. Kendall is now conducting a protracted meeting at McGee's. We learn that the meeting is growing in interest every day. He is assisted by Rev. Charles . Soon, a converted Chinaman, who is a zealous, earnest preacher.

- Charlotte Democrat: A cotton buyer of this city requests us to call the atsome of the cotton offered this season for sale. — Wilson McCombs, colored (known in this community as "Wilse" died on Tuesday last, aged about 75 years. He was in the Mexican war and the Confederate war as servant to white men, and since then has had a porter's place in stores in the city.

- Charlotte Observer: The new training school for teachers opened yester-day at the graded school building at 3 p. m. There were present eighteen young ladies, with the prospective addition of several others. —Col. E. P. Thomas has been appointed General Manager of the Richmond & Danville Railroad Company, vice Col. A. I. Rives, who lately tendered his resignation. Col. Thomas was formerly General Manager of the Cincinnati, Cleveand, Columbus & Indianapolis Railroad.

- Tarboro Southerner: The cot-Tarboro Southerner: The cotton season is opening most encouragingly; the building and manufacturing in this section is something unprecedented. The cheerful sounds of well directed labor salutes us on all sides. — Mr. O. C. Farrar has given the corner lot on St. James and Trade streets to the Missionary Baptist Church of this place and that congregation proposes, with the help of the liberal citizens of the town and county, to erect a building that will reflect credit on them and be an ornament to the town.

- Laurinburg Exchange: The total shipments of cotton from this point up to last Saturday night were 868 bales.

We hear that Sheriff Bryant has of-fered a reward of $100 for the arrest of John Braxwell. — A regular Republi-can paper is to be published in Rockingham, edited by J. G. Brummell, formerly of the Shoe Heel Print. First the editor of a Democratic paper in Shoe Heel, then an applicant for a position as a Carolina Central route agent under a Democratic administration, and now to become the editor of a Republican paper. What next?

- Durham Reporter: Dr. McDonald, who was so unanimously and heartily agreed upon by the pastors and committee to do the preaching for us, and to take the eadership in the meetings to be held in the Gospel Tent, has accepted the invitation, and is expected to be with us on Tuesday, Sept. 22nd. —— Mr. Lee Perry, who has been spending several days in Granville, informs us that the crops are looking wel in that portion of the county where he vis ited. He also says that Messrs. Harris & Bro., at Wilton, have now in use a road steamer, which they use for hauling their goods from Franklinton to their store, a distance of eight miles over the roughest of roads. The engine guides itself and is a 24-horse power. The first trip was made last Thursday, carrying 12,000 pounds.

- Raleigh News-Observer: Gen Roberts says that there is half a crop of cot ton and perhaps a little over half a crop of corn in Gates county. — Tobacco flues for 170 barns have been sold to people in Moore county this season by Raleigh manufacturers. — Monday night there was an incendiary fire in Hadley's township, Chatham county, was destroyed $10,000 worth of property. The property burned was Wm. Hadley's merchants' mill; and machine shops, saw mill and cotton gin belonging to his son, F. M. Hadley. In the mill of Mr. Wm. Hadley were 2,500 bushels of wheat and a large quantity of lour, all of which was destroyed. --- As matter of interest the dates and place of holding the fairs in North Carolina are iven: Rocky Mount, November 10-18 Weldon, November 9-12; Wadesboro, Oc tober 20-23; Tarboro, October 26-30; Asheville, October 20-23; Fayetteville November 7-10; Charlotte, October 27-30; Raleigh, State, (white) October 12-17; colored, November 9-13; New Garden, October 22; Clinton, -; Woodland, (Roanoke district grange), October 13—15. — At Wake Forest College one hundred and forty-four students have registered so far; while last session we had only that number altogether. Escape of Prisoners at Smithville. Two prisoners confined in the county jail of Brunswick, at Smithville, made their escape on Tuesday night. They were both white men-Henry Williamson, charged with burglary, and Demsy Arnold, charged with f. and a, and also with trying to bribe a magistrate. They got out at the top of the building through a trap door and let themselves down by the aid of blankets, having no doubt received outside assistance. There were seven other prisoners in the jail who did not make their escape, and all were awaiting trial before the Superior Court, which convenes at Smithville next Monday. Nothing has transpired, Sheriff Taylor informs us, as to the whereabout rested for Hobbing the Mails. A telegram from Savannah, Ga., reports the arrest in that city on Wednesday last of H. E. Foster, of Wilmington, N. C. formerly postal agent, charged with the

A Small Fire. The roof of a house on Walnut, between Seventh and McRae streets, caught fire yesterday afternoon, about 1 o'clock, but the flames were extinguished by the neighbors before the fire department arrived. A general alarm was sounded.

A STARTLING EXPLOSION.

our Citisens Thrown Into a Wild State of Excitement by an Explosion - A Young Man Terribly fu-Jured-An Indiscriminate Shattering of Window Giass-Cause of Explosion Unknown.

Yesterday morning about half-past, 10 clock, those of our citizens residing and being in the lower part of the city were thrown into a wild state of excitement by a tremendous explosion, which shook everything for squares around, followed by rush of people from every direction towards the locality from which the sound em anated, which was on Front street, between Princess and Chesnut, where the facts in the case were soon ascertained: the most unfortunate and heartrending of which was the terrible injury sustained by Mr. Charles R. Smith, a son of Mr. J. C. Smith, and a clerk in the store of Messrs. Giles & Murchison, hardware and crockery merchants. It seems that the latter gentlemen keep a few kegs of powder in one or more iron boxes or chests on wheels. These have been kept outside of the store, and the one in question was on the sidewalk against a tree just outside of the vacant lot adjoining the store on the north, and a short distance from the entrance to the crockery store. Young Smith was sent to get a keg of powder out of the box, and had hardly been missed from the store when the explosion took place.

Those who witnessed the explosion say that the unfortunate young man was blown some distance into the air and over some intervening crockery crates, falling face downwards upon a pile of lumber near the middle of the street. The force of the explosion had nearly stripped his person of clothing, and the few remnants were burning and thus adding to his torture. Mr. Miles Smith, a brother of Charlie, knowing that the latter had gone to get the powder, rushed to the scene and was the first to each the side of the suffering youth, fro whose powder-blackened body he removed the fragments of clothing, and then, assisted by some men from the neighboring stores, he was removed to the establishment of Messrs P. L. Bridgers & Co., where he had the immediate surgical attention so necessary at that critical moment. He retained his consciousness and bore his sufferings with great fortitude. Some thirty or forty minutes after the accident the government ambulance, which had been kindly called into requisition by Dr. Peckham, of the U. S. Marine Hospital, who was present and assisting, drove up, when the young man was placed upon a litter and carefully and tenderly transferred to the vehicle, when he was carried to his home, No. 608 Dock street.

As we write, we are glad to learn, his condition was as comfortable as could be expected, and strong hopes are entertained of his recovery.

The concussion from the explosion played havec with the glass windows of the stores and other buildings in the neighborhood. Such a crash and jingle of glass was hardly ever heard before. One fine plate glass window in the Murchison building was smashed and some of the plastering was knocked down. But it was on the opposite side of the street that the greatest destruction ensued. There was hardly a whole glass left in Mr. D. A. Smith's store, even those in his back office being shattered. Mr. Smith was in the act of selling an article to a customer from the country, when the explosion took place and they were almost thrown from their feet. The customer made for the back door in double-quick time and has not been seen since. The store of Mr. Geo. R. French & Sons is pretty badly riddled, and the upward tendency of the concussion is shown by the fact that the glass in the windows on the fourth floor was all demolish ed. Two large plate glasses on the first floor were smashed, and the Messra. French say it will take two hundred dollars to replace them. Mesers. McDougall & Bowden, P. L. Bridgers & Co., and the Southern Express office suffered very little less. Panes of glass were also shattered in the residence of Mrs. Quince, just north of Messrs. McDougall & Bowden's, and in the office of Dr. Pigford, adjoining. On the west side of the street Mr. John Maunder's marble establishment and the office of Dr. J. H. Durham suffered pretty badly, not only in the way of broken windows, but in the knocking down of plastering. A window sash in a rear room of Mr. Maunder's establishment was broken up.

On the wharf the explosion created a perfect panic among the draymen and others, and the actions of a badly demoralized colored individual, who ran down the street shouting "More powder! "More powder!" added fresh apprehension and increased the speed of the panic-stricken

The cause of the explosion is a profound mystery. Messrs. Giles & Murchison had taken every precaution to prevent any accident. The powder, in hermetically sealed kegs, was kept in the iron safes alluded to, and the safes placed outside of the building, as a matter of precaution in case of tire. Then one key to the safes was kept in the hands of the firm and the other placed in the keeping of the Chief of the Fire Department, which arrangement had the sanction of the authorities. No loose powder was allowed; all of it being in whole packages. The box or safe has a capacity for six kegs, but it is thought there were only three or four in it at the time, one of which did not explode, being blown against the crockery crates. The iron box was completely demolished.

It was reported that the wounded youth was smoking a cigarette when he went to the safe, but this is positively denied, as it is well known that he never smokes. He told his brother after the accident that he did not know how it occurred. Great sympathy was felt for bim on all sides, and frequent were the inquiries during the afternoon as to his condition. Crowds remained in the vicinity of the scene of the accident during a good portion of the day. Capt. W. W. Carraway, of the Raleigh News and Observer, had passed the spot where the explosion took place just a movement or two before it occurred. Mr. S. H. Burt had also just passed and entered Messrs. Giles & Murchison's store. Later-Death of the Injured Young Man. The unfortunate victim of the above terrible accident died last night about quarterpast seven o'clock. A few moments before his death he was conversing with one of his brothers, when suddenly he grew faint and began sinking. A messenger was hurriedly sent for his attending physician, but before the latter could reach the bedside of the sufferer he had expired. It was evident that he had sustained some fatal internal injury.

The funeral will take place this afternoon at 4 o'clock, from the residence of the family on Dock street. Mr. J. C. Smith, the father of the young man, is in Chicago, where he is engaged in business.
