Rev. Dr. Deems was called on to address a meeting called to ratify the nomination of Stephen Merritt for State Senator. He spoke at length. The New York Times gives his first political speech in part. He began by saying:

"I have never attended a primary or other political meeting, until I dropped in at the opera house when you had your first meeting to nominate Mr. Merritt,' he said, 'I am now over 60 years of age, and never made a political speech in my life. a more innocent and unsophistocated American citizen never was called upon for a political speech. This has been so far from my course of life that I wish here, n the presence of my fellow-citizens, on the first occasion I have ever been called upon to speak on politics, to make a very numble and humiliating confession. Gentlemen, I hardly ever voted until I was past 50 years of age. Now and then, when there was a good man in the field and a bad one on the other side, without even elling my wife, I voted for him.

The Robesonian cays: Travis Bass got down upon the two engaged, and in a little while sang out that "he has cut John and me too," and at the same time pulled John Bass up, who immediately fell back and never spoke again. Davis got off and shortly afterwards was found lying a short distance off in the corner of the fence, apparently very drunk. Travis Bass received a slight cut in the left arm. He says Davis did it, intending the blow for his brother John. It is reported that Davis says that Travis Bass did the cutting, taking John for him. All the parties were drunk. A coroners jury was empanelled by Dr. Lewis, special coroner, whose verdict was that John Bass came to his death at the hands of Robert Davis aided by Travis Bass. These two were brought to Lumberton Sunday hight and placed in the county jail. Bass was stabbed in the chest in three places, one entering the cavity of the heart and wounding that organ. All engaged in this affair were very young men. Davis appears to be a badly grown boy of 18 years.

NEW THOROUGHFARE.

Project for a Turnpike Road from Wilmington to Jacksonville, in Onslow County.

The project of an air line turnplke road from Wilmington to Jacksonville, in Ooslow county, has been mooted here for some time past, and we have been enabled to glean the following facts in relation to the

It is proposed to cross Smith's creek near Quince's mill. From this point to Aman's Store, which is in seven miles of Jackson ville, the route would be, with the exception of about two miles, all the way through bays and pocosins owned princi pally by the State. Holly Shelter swamp is nearly forty miles long, and it is proposed that the road enter the southern extremity of this swamp and follow through the centre of the same to Aman's Store. which is on the northern edge of this swamp.

It is naturally supposed that if the Board of Education will with the aid of convict labor construct the road through Holly Shelter awamp, New Hanover county will build the turnpike from Wilmington to Quince's mill, while Pender county would construct the mile or so at the gap of the pocosin at White Marsh: while Onslow county would extend the road from Aman's Store to Jacksonville. The route of the road upon leaving Quince's mill would enter bays and pocosins, and with one main drain ditch would reclaim valuable lands along the head waters of Smith's and St. George's creeks. The road would pass over large and valuable deposits of marl in the blue clay savanna section of the country, valuable lands would also be drained along the crossing of Trumpeter and Ashe's creeks, while still larger areas of good land would be reached in the Blue Juniper and Shaking sections. Upon leaving Shaking creek the road would pass over a level plain of clay subsoil land of most excellent ity. From this point the route wou pass numerous cypress swamps, when Sandy run would be reached. This great basin or awamp would be reclaimed by diverting its waters directly to Holly Shelter creek. There is a great difference between Holly Shelter and Angola pocosins; in Angola, the interior is devoid of streams or basins, and hence its lands are peaty-its best lands being on its margins; while it Holly Shelter pocosin there are found numerous streams and basins containing the finest mud lands in the world.

It is proposed to memoralize the Board of Education to transfer the convicts to this road as soon as the Angola road is finished-which will be soon. It is thought that the memorial will at once receive the prompt action of the Board, as the Cowan's Bridge people have had sufficient influence to get the Angola road cut which only connects two neighborhoods, while this turnpike would be great thoroughfare between Wilmington and Jacksonville, that would obviste the present tortuous sandy roads now in use. This road would not only be used by the people of Onslow, including the Richlands section, but by the East Duplin and Pender people, and also by those living along the Sound, as there would be lateral roads made intersecting this thoroughfare for its entire length. It is proposed to call a meeting of the citizens of Wilmington shortly, for the purpose of making some organized effort to push this matter.

The Carolina Central Ra Iroad Exten-

The Shelby New Bra, in relation to the extension of the Carolina Central Railroad from Shelby to Rutherfordton, says:

"On Saturday night a corps of engineers, in charge of Mr. Moncure and in the employ of the Carolina Central Railroad Company, arrived in Shelby, and next day went to Forest City. A few colored men were put to work cleaning off the old road-bed. The engineers then went to work to run a line from Forest City to Rutherfordton. Up to Tuesday the line had been run to within a mile of Rutherfordton, part of it passing through a ravine, the object seeming to be to get as low a grade as possible. The line to get as low a grade as possible. The line of the Carolina Central crosses the line of the Massachusetts & Southern Construction Company about two miles this side of Rutherfordton. It is not generally be-lieved that the Carolina Central has any bona fide intention of building to Rutherfordton, but its movements are regarded as an attempt to drive off the Massachusetts & an attempt to drive off the Massachusetts & Southern Construction Company or to sell out its partially graded road bed. The officials of the latter Company state that the action of the Carolina Central will not affect their course in the least. Major Jno. C. Winder, General Manager of the Seaboard Air Line, came to Shelby yesterday and started immediately for Rutherford-

From the information we have which w believe to be entirely authentic, we have no doubt that it is the intention of the owners of the Carolina Central to extend their road from Shelby to Rutherfordton, and to complete the work at an early day. Their engineers are now at work on the line, and we are satisfied they "mean business."

Brunswick Superior Court. This tribunal, which has been in session at Smithville since Monday, Judge Jas. C. MacRae presiding, adjourned for the term vesterday, and the Judge and members of the bar from this city returned on the Passport in the evening; among the number were Maj. C. M. Stedman, Messrs. Russell & Ricaud, John D. Bellamy, Jr., Esq., and Thos. W. Strange, Esq.

Cases before the Court were not of great importance. A negro hailing from South Carolina was convicted of larceny and sentenced to three years in the State penitentiary. The trial of another negro, charged with larceny in stealing a turkey, excited much merriment. It was shown that the turkey was found in a bag in bed with the darkey.

Dr. W. H. Green is home again after an absence of six weeks in the Western part of the State. Capt. W.G. McRae, now engaged with the engineer corps on the Wilson and Fayetteville railroad, was here yesterday, looking bronzed and hearty. Miss Kate Koch, a former resident of this city but now of Brooklyn, who has been nlawful Fences.

Considerable of a stir has been created among the farmers of the county by apprehensions of indictment for unlawful fences. Section 2799, of the North Carolina Code says: "Every planter shall make a sufficient fence about his cleared ground under cultivation at least five feet high, unless there shall be some navigable stream or deep water-course that shall be sufficient instead of such fence, and unless his lands shall be situated within the limits of county township or district wherein the stock law may be in force." It is claimed that very few fences meet this requirement, particularly in regard to height.

The River. Telegrams from Fayetteville received yesterday reported a rise of twelve feet in the river at that place. The steamer Bladen was the first boat to come down on the freshet. She left Fayetteville at 12 o'clock Tuesday morning and reached here yesterday at 4 p. m. The steamer Hurt was tied up nine miles below Fayetteville when the rise began; she will probably reach here this morning. The steamer D. Murchison cleared for Fayetteville yesterday. "The Cypress" has been her up-river destination heretofore during the low stage of water in the river.

The second game between the Mutuals, of Wilmington, and the Nationals, of Raleigh, (both colored clubs) was played at the Seaside grounds yesterday, and on this occasion victory perched upon the banner of the Wilmington nine. There was good playing on both sides-each having a strong battery in the field-and a goodly number of spectators to see it. The score was 12 to 4 in favor of the home club.

Wilmington Light Infantry. The regular monthly parade and inspection of this Company will take place this evening, in front of the City Hall, at halfpast eight o'clock. Lieut.
