The annexed criticism of Rev Sam. Jones, from the Charlotte Democrat, is not out of place. It is likely there is some exaggeration as to the language he uses, but the accounts very generally agree that he often transcends the limits of decency and propriety, Says the Democrat:

"If Rev. Sam Jones, of Georgia, is doing any good let him go ahead, but much of his language (as published in the papers) is not fit for decent people to read, especially girls and boys. It must be a hard job indeed when it takes such talks as he makes to convert people from sin, profani-ty and vulgarity. Applying to mankind from the pulpit such epithets as puppy, dog, hog, scoundrel, infernal villain, &c., is not respectable and should not be uttered even in the presence of men tosay nothing of women and children."

T. C. Crawford writes to the New York World from Washington on

"There is to-day in the Interior Depart-ment nearly every one of the officials who have been responsible for the ring rule which has so long dominated this department. Some of them are kept to day, in the face of the fact that their presence in the department is certain to soon lead to open scandal. One of the prominent Re publican officials who occupies a very responsible place in the department was maudlin drunk in the corridors last Saturday. He is frequently under the influence of liquor during business hours. His condition is such nearly every day as to make his continuance in office a disgrace."

Austria is reported to be preparing to seize Bosnia. The Bulgarians are rather poor soldiers, but the Turk is an excellent fighter.

Thomas Thornveroft, a famous British sculptor, is dead. The London Times says of him:

"Like most artists of considerable abilities, his mental powers were various; he was quick in mechanical invention, and his son has always readily acknowledged the many valuable hints he received from him. His double talent was curiously manifested in his children, one of his sons being the well known engineer, and the other, Mr. Hamo Thornycroft, A. R. A., one of the most admirable sculptors of our time. He was also the father of Miss Helen Thornycroft, the flower painter."

During August there appeared in the New York Herald 588 columns of advertising; in the World there appeared 828. Two years ago in August there were 772 columns in the Herald, and but 294 in the World. We doubt if the history of journalism can furnish a parallel to the growth of the latter paper.

Seekers After Burled Treasure.

There seems to be an impression abroad in certain quarters and among certain persons that there is a good deal of buried treasure somewhere in this immediate vicinity. How such an idea can have been obtained we are at a loss to conjecture, but that it prevails, and that to a considerable extent, is a fact of which there can be no sort of question. Many will recollect that some ten or twelve years ago there prevailed quite a mania for money digging, and at intervals since we have heard of expeditions of this character, but it has never yet come to our knowledge that anybody has been made richer through the instrumentality of these nocturnal visits.

Yesterday we were informed that the treasure seekers had been at work on the premises of Mr. John S. Harriss, at the John A. Sanders place, about four miles from the city. Upon going out on his grounds early in the morning he discovered that several large holes had been dug during the night; one of them in the lane leading to the house being about nine and a half feet deep. Around these holes were the tracks of a number of persons and three or four carts and mules. In the course of his investigations he learned that the searchers after "filthy lucre" spent the whole night in digging, but he has been unable to ascertain the extent of their success, or obtain any clue to the identity of those engaged in the enterprise.

Criminal Court. The following cases were disposed of esterday:

State vs. Thos. W.Gordon, charged with burglary. Defendant was brought into Court for trial, but the case was finally continued for defendant, on affidavit; for the absence of Dr. F. W. Potter, claimed to be an important witness, and set for a hearing on Monday of the second week of the next term, at which time the witnesses for the State and the defence were recognized to appear.

State vs. Andrew Russ, assault and battery. Continued for defendant, who was required to give security for his appearance at the next term.

State vs. D. W. Trask, charged with having an unlawful fence. Case continued and defendant recognized in the sum of $50 for his appearance.

State vs. Julia Everett, unlawful fence.

Magistrate's Court. Richard Hopkins, the colored individual mentioned in our last as having been arrested on the charge of an attempt to commit a criminal assault of an aggravated character on one Amelia Lilly, colored, had a preliminary examination before Justice Millis, yesterday afternoon, and was required to give bond in the sum of $100 for his appearance at the present term of the Criminal Court, failing in which he manded to jail.

James Allen was arraigned for inhumanly beating his child, but the evidence failed to establish the serious charge and the defendant was discharged, the prosecutor being required to pay the costs.

The same defendant was arraigned on a peace warrant sworn out by the prosecutor in the above case, and he was required to pay the costs and give bond in the sum of $50 to keep the peace for sixty days.

Moving Day.

Next Thursday will be the 1st of October, the great moving day in Wilmington. Have you got a house yet? If not, now is the accepted time. Weather Observatory.

A great deal of curiosity was manifested yesterday to learn something about the queer looking structure which had so suddenly assumed a standing position on a pair of very long legs on the roof above the Signal office.
