The result is fairly doubtful in Ohio to day, with as nearly even chances as possible between Hoadly and Foraker, and with the odds in favor of a Republican Legislature."

The Catholics are speculating as to the probable next American cardinal. It is said that Archbishop Gibbons stands but little chance. The New York correspondent of the Baltimore Sun says:

"Monsignor Farley said yesterday: "The Cardinal is not necessarily an Archbishop, nor even a Bishop, and may be appointed from any rank the Pope pleases. It is not a matter that can be speculated upon, but it seems probably that the dignity will come to New York again."'

"The Banker's Daughter was produced at the Opera House on Friday night last before a large and appreciative audience. The cast of characters was excellent, and notably Mr. Harry Linson as John Strebelow, Mr. A. W. Gregory as Mr. Babbage, senior, of the firm of Babbage & Westbrook, G. Washington Phipps, an American tourist, and Lillian, the banker's daughter, while the gradual development of the plot of the play appealed directly to all that is good in human nature. The scene in the ruins of Chateau, near Paris, with its snow and moonlight, and the duel between Harold Rutledge and Count de Carojac, a French nobleman, is one that rivets the attention and is cold, bleak and terrible, while the reunion of John Strebelow and his wife, in the sixth act, is pathetic in the extreme. We hope this company will come again, for this class of entertainments is very popular in Athens."

The Gulf Stream. Some uneasiness was felt here yesterday for the safety of this steamer which left New York Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock, and was due here Tnesday. There was a rumor affoat on the streets that she was aground on Frying pan shoals; but it was without the slightest foundation. She probably encountered the gale off Hatteras and put well out to sea. The matinee yesterday was well attended and the performance was of course enjoyed. Highway Robbery,

Mr. James Hewlett, of Masonboro Sound, reported at the City Half yesterday evening, that he had been stopped on his way from the market house to his home, about 4 o'clock in the afternoon by two young colored men and robbed of a pistol. The place of the robbery was reported to Chief of Police Brock as just within the city limits on Church street, near the intersection of Fifteenth street. The Chief sent two policemen to the place designated Mr. Hewlett saying that some members of the Wilmington Fox Club, who were out hunting, had surrounded the swamp where the rebbers were supposed to be hiding, and would remain on guard until the officers arrived. Two members of the police force were at once dispatched to the place indicated; but after diligent search, in which they were joined by two county officers, they failed to find the robbers and returned to Police headquarters. Mr. Hewlett said that he was driving quietly along the road in his cart, when the two young colored men came out of the woods and stopped his horse. He asked what they wanted, when they demanded his money, saying that they knew he had but were frightened off by the appearance of a colored man in the road ahead of them and jumped out of the cart and took to the woods. They left behind them a bag containing lightwood splinters. Shortly afterwards several members of the Fox Club who were hunting in the neighborbood came up and put their dogs on the trail of the robbers and chased them into a swamp, where they thought they could keep them coralled until the arrival of the officers from Police headquarters. But when the officers came it was found that they had escaped.

SYLVANUS COBE thus writes in the Boston Christian Freeman:—We would by no means recommend any kind of medicine which we did not know to be good—particularly to infants. But of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup we can speak from knowledge; in our own family it has proved a blessing indeed, by giving an infant troubled with colic pains, quiet sleep, and the parents unbroken rest at night. Most parents can appreciate these blessings. Here is an article which works to perfection, and which is harmless; for the sleep which it affords the infant is perfectly natural, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button."
