The Philadelphia News refers to Sam Jones as "the great Baptist revivalist." He is a Methodist.

At Springfield, Mass., on the 9th inst., W. A. Rowe beat the world's 20 mile bicycle record-time 58:20; previous time 58:564.

Mies Mary, daughter of Robert E. Lee, the South's most precious here, is a great traveller. She has almost compassed the world and is still agoing.

On Wednesday night the mercury fell more than twenty degrees. Or Thursday morning early it stood at 49 degrees, the coldest of the season by five degrees.

The STAR has again to thank many of the State contemporaries for the very kind words they have said in its behalf. They were very highly appreciated by us.

Senator Gorman will probably be re elected from Maryland. He is an able party manager. He is accused of belonging to the "Maryland ring" whatever that is or means.

"Mary Murfree, the Charles Egbert Craddock of the magazines, says she will never marry."-Exchange.

She is said to be fearfully homely. Is there any connection between that fact and the resolution?

The heads of fourth class postmasters are rolling rapidly into the baskets, and they are Republican heads at that. Good, very good. Let the wheel revolve.

At Summit, a town in New York, there are twin sisters who were born on the 6th of August, 1791, and are now in their 95th year. They have been married and are now widows living together. Their maiden names were Bess and Kate Tinklepaugh.

The New York Times has an article that is a complete answer to the Shermans, Logans and Hoars. It gives an account of the marvellous changes that have taken place in the South within ten or a dozen years. It shows that business has established satisfactory political relations between the whites and blacks.

Rev. Dr. James Woodrow has addressed a letter to the Charleston News and Courier relative to his views on evolution. of truth. He says that the evolution theory is probably true but provided the Bible teaches nothing to the contrary.

According to Chauncey M. Depew, of New York, who claims to have heard a conversation between President Johnson and Gen. Grant, the former was het for executions and court martial, and the latter stood up firmly between Johnson and the South. Johnson is represented as being terribly bitter against the South. Depew says:

"He saw President Johnson on the subject, only to be informed that the President was, by the Constitution, the Commander in Chief of the army, and that anything done by the commanding General on the field, was done subject to his approval or rejection, and he rejected the terms. Gen. Grant urged that the rebels had surrendered on these conditions, disbanded their organizations, submitted universally to the situation, and were carrying out in good faith their part of the agreement, and every consideration, both of honor and expediency, demanded equal good faith on the part of the government. The other course would have led to endless guerrilla warfare, conducted in a country admirably adapted for it by desperate and hopeless men.

'President Johnson obstinately adhered to his view, and assumed the authority of Commander when Gen. Grant flatly told him that if there were to be any courtsmartial one must be called for Gen. Grant first, that he would by every means in his power protect his parole and appeal to Congress and the country. In the halt called by this attitude of Gen. Grant a very remarkable change occurred in the views and policy of President Johnson. Gen. Grant discovered that the most frequent and favored visitors to the White House were men whom the President had proscribed.'

Col. Fred Grant says he has been able "to verify the facts" as given by Depew, "from documents, letters and personal recollections."

Gen. Bradley T. Johnson, who married a daughter of the late Judge Saunders, of Raleigh, in a recent speech in Maryland, bitterly denounced Senator Gorman calling him the Maryland Tweed. Representatiue Gibson replied and went for Johnson with ungloved hands calling him a traitor and renegade. The af fair is the talk of Baltimore.

The Cincinnati repeaters are indeed experts. They can give South Carolina or Louisiana repeater six hours start and then distance him. One fellow was seen to vote seven different times. The registry book was stolen from one precinct. The boys were paid to vote and divided their profits at a saloon.

Its independence of speech, literary ability, consistent advocacy of Democratic doctrine, devotion to the institutions and interests of North Carolina should commend it to every citizen and cause it to be read in every family.

- The United States District Court is in session at Elizabeth City. - Beaucatcher mountain at Asheville is 369 feet higher than the foundation of the court house, says the Advance. Associate Justice A. S. Merrimon has declined the appointment by the President as one of the inspectors of the Northern Pacific Railroad.

- Goldsboro Messenger: Trinity College will award thirteen medals this year. W. J. Exum, class of '85, has just established a "Declaimers' Medal in the Columbian Literature Society."

- Raleigh News-Observer: The Baptist Association is is in session at Inwood church, five miles from this city. Mr. Willie Williams, of Fayetteville, sold some tobacco here at $65 and $100.

- Floating item: The factories are beginning to make music again. The Randolph Manufacturing Company started a day or two ago and the Franklinsville factory will be put in operation next week. The factory at Central Falls is also being put in running order and will soon begin

- Clayton Bud: The work of grading is being pushed on the Wilson & Fayetteville road. It will soon be completed from Wilson to Neuse River. There are two or three camps of hands at work beyond Neuse, and in Ingram's township. From the present outlook trains will be running from Wilson to Fayetteville in May of 1886.

- Winston Daily: Our county gymen are present, among them the hotel has 22 inmates. — Mr. Lee Beck, working with Mr. C. A. Hege, in his foundry, was caught in the machinery yester day morning and badly hurt. He was thrown over and over several times by the shafting, and then whirled to the ground, The distance being about 20 or 25 feet. He was up near the ceiling oiling the shafting when it happened. His clothes was almost severed from him,

- Goldsboro Argus: A regular old fashioned mountain wagon was seen upon our streets yesterday. It came from Randolph county and was loaded with earthenware—jugs. — John and Louis, the two little sons of John Godfrey, the well known driver of the bakery wagon, were badly scalded late Monday evening. The appearance in this city of Miss Clara Louise Kellogg, the celebrated prima donna, with her splendid musical support, would be an event seldom accorded to church at Laurinburg on Thursday, the 15th, and continued three days. The churches were nearly all represented, many visitors were welcomed, and Laurinburg was filled with intelligent strangers. The deliberations of the body were very interesting, conservative and harmonious.

- Asheville Advance: Last Friday night a colored brakeman, named Geo-Best, on the Western North Carolina Rail-road, met with a very sad and tragic death. A freight train coming toward Asheville was crossing a bridge a short distance this side Old Fort, and Best was standing on the tender of the engine. As the train ran up on the bridge, a beam of the bridge framing struck him in the back part of the head, knocking him off, the tender, over the bridge and into the water some distance below. He was taken up and brought to Asheville where he died Saturday night.

ver, a white convict, made his escape from Arden Sunday morning last taking one of the railroad mules with him. — We feel fistered at the increase in the circulation of the daily Other during the parties weeks. Just six months old, we are proudof its reception by the public, in this and surrounding towns. — The progress of the Asheville and Spartanburg railroad is entirely satisfactory. Six miles and up-wards of track are laid, and it is pronounced the best new track ever laid in the State. The grading of the unfinished part is being pushed, and there seems to be no doubt that connection with Hendersonville will be perfected by the 10th of December, perhaps by the first. Additional convicts will be added this week. - New Bern Journal: We think. however, if the Democratic party undertakes to conduct a campaign three years hence in accordance with the Chronicle's idea of civil service reform, as indicated by President Cleveland, it will be a tame affair. - Greenville dots: The funniest thing that has happened for a long time was last Wednesday, when John Ben, colored, fell in Dr. James's well, sixty feet deep. Said B. was somewhat in liquor and went fooling around the well and fell in. He was drawn out, however, with only a dislocated shoulder instead of a broken neck. -The news of the death of young Thos. King, the son of Sheriff King, was read with much sadness on Saturday evening.

-Trenton items: Death has visited eight of our citizens during the fall and summer. — Died, at Trenton on Saturday last, Mrs. Stella Herritage, wife of James D. Herriottings: Sickness has increased considerably of late about here. - The Associa tion of Primitive Baptists at Mewborne's meeting house was largely attended.

says that he has really decided to build a palace hotel in Asheville and that many of his arrangements to commence work have already been completed. -- Considerable business was done in the Criminal Court yesterday, and the decks were cleared for adjournment to day. The grand jury submitted its report and was discharged, pressing Mr, Parsley's cause, but does not appear to be encouraged. He complains of the slowness of action on all matters. I asked how the people in his district felt, and he replied that there had been no paricular change in sentiment, that there had been all along an intense desire to have the Republican office-holders removed and Democrats put in their places. The peo-ple were dissatisfied. The Administration could never please the people by pursuing the present course. I asked if they talked less on the subject. 'No," was the reply. "They say that we lost, Ohio by the retention of so many im, portant offices in the hands of Republicans, and that there is great danger of losing Virginia and New York. The postmaster at Wilmington should be, should have been removed. The people have demanded it, and the matter pends, with some doubt as to whether it will be settled soon." This morning just before meeting Judge Bennett I talked with Connecticut Democrat, who had just returned from New England. He said that hardly any Democrat he saw endorsed the conduct of the Administration. A distinguished gentleman from North Carolina writes that the people are with the Presi-dent, and that he should persevere. An able politician from North Carolina says that he thinks the people are just as much opposed as ever to the civil service reform policy, but they talk less about it and are hoping that things will eventuate all right. They confide implicitly in Mr. Cleveland's honesty and moral courage.

Upon investigation it was found that a deadly weapon had been used by both, and they were bound over for their appearance at the next term of the Criminal Court in a bond of $50 each. The commitment was placed in the hands of an officer and taken over to the Sheriff's office, and while the officer's back was turned Anderson rushed through the court house and escaped, and up to the present writing has not been captured.

- The Raleigh News- Observer announces the death of a colored woman said to be 105 years old. Just hold on, sonny. We expect to be able to reverse those figures very soon. We have our eye on the old lady now.

- We doubt if any city of similar size leads Wilminglon in the number of its drug stores. We have thirteen or fourteen. It is creditable, however, to the character - Charlotte Observer: Col. Cox of our druggists that Wilmington is one of. the healthiest cities in the United States. - Several of our State exchanges lovely October days that bring out Nature's beauties in all their magnificence. And not only that. It brought out the ladies in such numbers that our streets presented an unusually bright and attractive appearance. It was just such a day, too. as dry goods dealers delight in.

- Col. John M. Robinson, President of the Carolina Central Railroad, has given another evidence of his generosity in ordering that all supplies for the Oxford Orphan's Home, shipped over the lines under his control, shall be carried free of charge. Nor is it as an official only that his acts of liberality are known. In private life he shows the same commendable spirit, giving freely to many charitable

Havana Tobacco. We clip the annexed paragraph from a letter of "D. R. Walker" in the Raleigh News Observer:

"Col. B. R. Moore informed ye pencil driver that some years ago he imported some Havans seed and gave them around for trial and that a gentleman at South Washington, in Pender county, raised some tobacco which he (the Colonel) had made into cigars, and that a cigar dealer in Wilmington, after a fair and thorough test, placed them at $60 per thousand, and was astounded when the Colonel informed him of the tobacco being raised so close to home. This goes to show then that East-ern North Carolina can be made to produce cigar tobacco. In speaking to the Hon Wharton J. Green on this subject, he concurs with Colonel Moore, but says that the seed will become hybridized, and suspects that fresh importations of seed now and then will be necessary."

Water Works. Following the example of Wilmington, Charlotte and other towns, Goldsboro has voted an appropriation of $35,000 in bonds for the construction of water works. In this our neighbor has acted wisely, as we think. No town can be exempt from disastrous fires that depends entirely on the antiquated system of cisterns for a water supply in case of fire. In Wilmington it is a source of common remark that a fire has but small chance of spreading since the introduction of water works, with their well arranged system of bydrants or "fireplugs;" and if their value is considered in this connection alone, the people of Wilmington have ample cause for satisfaction.

Advertising. The following remarks from the Raleigh Visitor are both true and suggestive: "Some persons imagine advertising does no good, but the prudent business man is of a very different opinion. As a general rule the most successful merchants are those who advertise most extensively-and newspaper advertisements are considered the most valuable. Look in your own community and see who the most successful men of business are, and you will find they are the ones who have faith in printer's ink."

EDITOR OF STAR :- Some of the progressive farmers of Rocky Point Township, Pender county, succeeded in obtaining the passage of a law, at the last session of the Legislature, for the protection of live stock, or a no-fence law, for certain portions of said Township. A majority of the land owners and best farmers, living in the boundaries of the operations of the law, are pressing its enforcement, and with every prospect of success, during the approaching winter. The fence commissioners are Messrs. G. Z. French, Chairman; John E. Durham and Cad Robinson, who are engaged in efforts to make this much needed law a success, and with as little expense as possible. There is no doubt, we are informed, that the twelve miles of fence required will be built, and equipped with gates, &c., between now and next spring. Innovations upon old customs and usages always arouse prejudice and excite opposition, and this wise movement to improve the lands, farms and stock of Rocky Point is no exception to this law of human nature, and of blind devotion to obsolete methods of farming. There is some opposition to this new-awakening of

That night the child passed in suffering, and the parents without sleep. Returning home the day following, the father found the baby still suffering; and while contemplating another sleepless night, the mother stepped from the room to attend to some domestic duties and left the father with the child. During her absence he administered a portion of the Soothing Syrup to the baby, and said nothing. That night all hands slept well, and the little fellow awoke in the morning bright and happy! The mother was delighted with the wonderful change, and although at first offended at the deception practiced upon her, has continued to use the Syrup, and suffering crying babies and restless nights have disappeared.
