WILMINGTON, N. C., TUESDAY, OCTOBER 27, 1885.

WHOLE NO. 5960

MORNING EDITION. OUTLINES.

The success of the English Liberal party is predicted in the coming elections. The reports that the Servians had crossed the Bulgarian frontier are denied.

Dr. Armstrong, of Atlanta, is not to be tried until the 13th of January, 1886.

In South Carolina last week four murderers were tried and not one was sentenced to be hanged.

Pastor J. W. Kent, Methodist, of Marengo, Ill., has abandoned his wife and gone off with Miss Alice Burt.

Austria and Russia are reported to have agreed upon a basis involving the deposition of Prince Alexander of Roumelia.

Young U. S. Grant is now engaged in glaring very savagely at Ward, the prisoner, and this makes W., the p. feel badly, and he averts his head.

The President is simply amazed that anyone should question his Democracy. He is going home to vote for Gov. Hill, and has given $1,000 to the campaign fund.

Mrs. Langtry has been sued for clothing and household debts in London. Her plea is that they were bought when Mr. Langtry was responsible.

Circuses are in bad luck this year. Forepaugh has met with another accident. In Pennsylvania last Thursday five railroad cars were smashed.

It war comes in Europe Germany, Russia and Austria will be allied against England, France and Italy. Turkey is doubtful.

The little historic city of Petersburg fairly emptied itself on Saturday in its efforts to do honor to Gen. Fitz Lee.

Roseco Conkling has been interviewed, and he knives Blaine without mercy and pays his regards to candidate Davenport.

About the second name thereon is synonymous with wealth. The laudations of the candidate team with heraldic orisons to these gods of Mammon.

Mary Anderson disappointed the New Yorkers in Rosalind, but she seems to have made a fair impression in "Comedy and Tragedy."

"In both pieces Miss Mary Anderson appeared, and in both her statures beauty and the ringing tones of her magnificent voice were displayed to good advantage."

Of her Galatea he says with heartiness: "It is not too much to say that Miss Anderson's Galatea is wholly charming."

Vice President Hendricks says the Depew attack on Andy Johnson will not do. He is reported in the Indianapolis News as saying:

"I was in the United States Senate, and I both spoke and voted against the impeachment of Johnson. While I never had any conversation with him on the subject referred to by Depew, I am sure that Johnson had no such intentions."

Ex-Senator Conkling has considerable talents in measuring character and weighing probabilities. In the interview he is thus reported as he deals with the oracular and platitudinous Evarts:

"I suppose," said the reporter, "you are aware that Senator Evarts is to go before the people in this campaign?"

Gen. Sherman has spoken relative to the Andy Johnson-Depew matter. He has a bundle of letters from Grant covering the period in question.

Spirits Turpentine. Kellogg, the great singer, will be in Raleigh the 10th of December.

Warrenton Gazette: The cotton crop in this county is a failure. Henderson is booming; nineteen new brick stores built this summer.

Winston Daily: It is with exceeding sorrow that we chronicle the sudden and unexpected death of Dr. R. D. Hay, of this place.

Reuben Chappell, seventy-five years old, residing near Belvidere, Perquimans county, was found dead.

Asheville Citizen: Nearly four thousand people visited the Fair yesterday, and the universal acclaim was, "splendid."

The large cotton mills of the Messrs. Meade, at McAdensville, are located about one mile from the local station on the Air Line road.

about twenty miles from Charlotte. The wreck was caused by one freight train running into another, and occurred on the down grade at Lowell.

Raleigh Visitor: The Colored Baptist State Convention, which commenced in this city last Wednesday, adjourned to-day.

Statesville Landmark: The people of Alexander county have grown weary of waiting for the Charlotte, Columbia & Augusta Railroad to iron and equip the road which they have already graded to Statesville.

Raleigh News-Observer: Dr. James McKee, county and city superintendent of health, when interviewed as to the health of the city at present, gave a very satisfactory account.

Goldboro Argus: The big sheriff of Sampson, Mr. Buck Hill, passed through the city yesterday on route for Raleigh, with four negro male recruits for the penitentiary.

Wilson Mirror: Mrs. Annie Hudson, wife of Mr. E. T. Hudson, died at the residence of her husband, Sunday last, of consumption.

A New Postmaster. The announcement of a change in the Wilmington post-office, which has been expected for some time by all parties, reached us by telegraph last night.

Death of Mr. George F. Macindoe. Mr. George F. Macindoe, a well known machinist at the W. & W. Railroad shops, died yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock.

January Hibs. The young gentlemen of taurine propensities are now casting an evil eye on "January Hibs."

Col. E. R. Brink, the retiring postmaster, a word should be said. He has been very attentive to his duties, and has always been accommodating and easy of approach.

Lectures. Rev. Charles J. Soon delivered a characteristic lecture on China last night in the Memorial Hall of the Lutheran Church.

Ladies' Benevolent Society. The officers and visitors are desired to meet, without fail, at Miss Hart's school room, at 4 o'clock p. m., on Wednesday.

MAINDOR. Yesterday, Oct. 26th, 1885, at 5 P. M. GEORGE PATRICK MAINDOR, aged 63 years, a native of Scotland.

Receipts of cotton yesterday 1,477 bales. The matrimonial market has commenced booming.

Wood is arriving quite plentifully in this market at present. The magistrates had no criminal cases for their consideration yesterday.

Mr. John Baumag, an industrious shoemaker of this city, who was at his place of business on Saturday morning last, was taken sick Sunday morning and died in the afternoon.

Nelson Stewart, one of the colored men recently sentenced at Charlotte to be hanged for the crime of burglary, was a street hand for years in the employ of the city authorities of Wilmington.

The Parcell House has been repaired, refitted and otherwise materially improved. The hotel facilities of Wilmington are now better than they have been at any time during the past twenty years.

We learn that Lonnie, the little son of Capt. T. J. Southerland, who was so badly injured Saturday afternoon by being thrown from a horse, rested very badly Sunday night, and was no better yesterday morning.

Thanksgiving Day is approaching, and it is hoped that the religious and social press of the State will not fail to extend the notice suggesting a collection for the benefit of the Oxford Orphan Asylum, wherever religious services are held that day.

At the meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church of North Carolina, held at Raleigh, the following ladies of this city, were elected officers:

The Fifth Street Methodist Church was crowded Sunday night with persons who were anxious to hear and see the converted Chinaman, Rev. Chas. Jones Soon, who also preached in the Lutheran Church Sunday morning.

Messrs. W. E. Worth & Co. have just received from Kansas City, Missouri, about 30,000 pounds of dressed beef and mutton.

The announcement of a change in the Wilmington post-office, which has been expected for some time by all parties, reached us by telegraph last night.

Mr. Parsley is not unknown to the people of Wilmington. He was born and raised here, and has throughout his life been prominently identified with the interests of the town.

Mr. Parsley, we feel assured, will make an excellent postmaster. He will devote his whole time to the duties of his position, and his quick perception will soon enable him to become master of all the details of the office.

Col. E. R. Brink, the retiring postmaster, a word should be said. He has been very attentive to his duties, and has always been accommodating and easy of approach.

Lectures. Rev. Charles J. Soon delivered a characteristic lecture on China last night in the Memorial Hall of the Lutheran Church.

Ladies' Benevolent Society. The officers and visitors are desired to meet, without fail, at Miss Hart's school room, at 4 o'clock p. m., on Wednesday.

MAINDOR. Yesterday, Oct. 26th, 1885, at 5 P. M. GEORGE PATRICK MAINDOR, aged 63 years, a native of Scotland.

Mr. Samuel Peterson, who was raised in this city, is now visiting his friends and relations here for the second time since the war.

Capt. Wm. M. Parker has returned to the city much improved in health. Mr. Edward H. Eilers, who has been absent in the Western portion of the State for several weeks, returned home on Sunday morning.

Col. W. P. Canaday is here. The Washington correspondent of the Raleigh News-Observer says he hears of no opposition to his re-election to his present position.

Mr. A. D. Brown, one of the Commissioners of the State Penitentiary, has just returned from an official visit to Raleigh. Mr. Cobb, of the Goldsboro Messenger, was here yesterday.

Capt. Stodger, of the Colfax, has returned from his vacation, and is now ready for action. Mr. J. C. White, of the Telephone Exchange, has returned from a short trip to Richmond.

The Shooting at Laurinburg. Later intelligence in regard to the shooting of young May, in Laurinburg, last Thursday, warrants us in making the statement that there is a conflict of opinion as to the cause of the act, and that it is now generally thought it was accidental.

There are conflicting reports as to the cause of the affair, but it is generally believed to have been purely accidental. The principal witness was a little girl who was in the street near the boys, and who says she heard Clark ask May, "Give me leave to shoot you!" at the same time pointing his gun at May.

At the meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church of North Carolina, held at Raleigh, the following ladies of this city, were elected officers:

The Fifth Street Methodist Church was crowded Sunday night with persons who were anxious to hear and see the converted Chinaman, Rev. Chas. Jones Soon, who also preached in the Lutheran Church Sunday morning.
