MORNING EDITION. OUTLINES.

Two colored well diggers in Atlanta, Ga., blown to atoms by an explosion of blasting powder. Ex-Senator Sharon is dangerously ill. Dorman B. Eaton temporarily appointed Civil Service Commissioner, in order to familiarize the new members with their duties.

Governor Lee—that sounds very well. Do you not hear the death knell of Willie Mahone as it rings out on the air.

Hugh J. Grant, Tammany candidate, was elected Sheriff of New York City. The Democrats need not look to Pennsylvania or Massachusetts for favors.

The "solid South" still remains solid and what will Gen. John Sherman do about it? Gen. John Sherman, rumor says, came to Virginia to be rotten-egged. He wants to be a martyr.

Some Tory candidate is trying to prove Mr. Gladstone a liar. But fortunately he has character enough to stand all kinds of assaults.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean has engaged Joel Chandler Harris ("Uncle Remus") to furnish a series of "Br'er Rabbit" stories for its columns. Johnny Wise has deserted his own home, Richmond. He is dying of chagrin and cannot bear to see the splendid ovation that awaits Gen. Lee.

The Republicans have carried the New Jersey Legislature. So there is no chance to alter much the present Senate. The Republicans will have control. We regret to see it stated that the venerable Bishop W. M. Green, of Mississippi, is in such feeble health that he is not able to attend his fall appointments.

The girls in Boston gathered around Ward Beecher and kissed him after he had pronounced his grand oration on Grant. This made the salacious old fellow's heart happy doubtless. The tremendous defeat of the Mahone-Wise combination rejoices every body. "The magnificent Virginians" certainly did their duty and sat down upon the two traitors in magnificent style.

In our notice of the two novels, "On Both Sides" and "Aurora," which appeared yesterday, it should have been stated that they were received from and are for sale by P. Heinberger.

The Charleston News and Courier is after the foolish way Charleston people have of blocking up the sidewalks. It tells every body to keep to the right always in walking. It has a long article on the subject. In every subsequent campaign the Democrats ought to pay the expenses of Blaine, Logan, Foraker, Hoar and Gen. John Sherman to come South and "orate." A fund set apart for this purpose should be called "The Safety Fund." It will pay.

With the exception of Brooklyn, Gov. Hill seems to have gained on the Cleveland vote throughout the State. If Tammany had stood by Cleveland in 1884, and the Mugs had voted for Blaine, Cleveland would have carried the State by at least 10,000 majority.

THE MORNING STAR.

VOL. XXXVII.--NO. 38. WILMINGTON, N. C., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1885. WHOLE NO. 5969

Mary Anderson is evidently improving in the judgment of the theatrical critic of the New York Times. Of her Pauline, in Bulwer's "Lady of Lyons," he grows positively enthusiastic in the following: "The beauty of the famous Lyons maiden, the dignity of her womanly pride, and the grace of her action have all been given to Miss Anderson by nature. Nothing but the quaint old French dress was needed to transform her into a living picture of Bulwer's heroine, full of subtle harmonies and crowned with a loveliness that belongs to no one period of art. Miss Anderson's powers as an actress are now the realms of her chosen art. If her Pauline is not a great performance, it is possibly because the part is not great. It is certain that in the expression of unbending pride, of superb dignity, of scorn, of hatred and outraged womanhood Miss Anderson rises to a lofty level and impresses her audience with a sense of strength and of reserved force. In her defiance of Beausant last night her trumpet tones of defiance and triumphant scorn rang through the house and stirred the deepest pulses of her auditors, moving them to warm applause. Her portrayal of the contending emotions that struggled in the bosom of Pauline when she learned how she had been duped by Melnotte, yet could not hate him, was conceived in an artistic spirit and executed with refined skill."

Paul H. Hayne concludes his series of papers on ante-bellum Charleston in the Southern Bivouac for November. His last words are very beautiful and touching. After quoting from some of his own verses on his native city and referring to her apparent coldness to her children, he says with poetic tenderness: "Oh! Queen; oh! madre imperiale, when the sun has faded, and the twilight gone, and the night descended, wilt thou not call the wretched exile home? "He would fain sleep within the sound of thy waters, under the shadow of thy immortal oaks, near the sacred dust of his fathers!"

The other day at Augusta, Ga., a one-armed Confederate named S. A. Stroud, at the great risk of his own life, saved a fourteen year old girl from instant death. She was right in the way of an engine, became paralyzed with fear, stood motionless as it was almost upon her. Mr. Stroud bounded on to the track and seizing her with his one arm made good his retreat.

Victoria's subjects now number 310,000,000. That number is great enough to satisfy the ambition of any woman. Read the following figures and reflect: "The trade carried on by these 310,000,000 amounts to $5,500,000,000 a year. Their flag floats over three fifths of all the shipping on the seas. London, their capital city, has (with its suburbs) a population of 5,350,000."

Here is the supposed strength of the parties in the French Chamber: Monarchists, 150; Bonapartists, 55; Moderate Republicans, 185; Ferryites, 70; Radicals, 124; or a total of 379 Republicans to 205 Conservatives. The Republicans lose 88 and the Reactionaries gain 110.

Spirits Turpentine. Raleigh Visitor: The medical branch Shaw University, in this city, opened yesterday with a good number of students.

Morganton Star: Rev. J. N. Payne informs us that he baptized 17 persons Sunday at Macedonia Church. 3 by immersion and 15 by sprinkling or pouring.

Lincolnton Press: Sheriff Nixon exhibited to us a beautiful specimen of water-bearing amethyst. The crystal is a double terminal, richly colored and was found in the western part of Lincoln county.

Darham Reporter: We have been informed by a prominent Knight of Labor that the accessions to the Order here within the past ten days number 80, and that some gentlemen have connected themselves with it who do not rank as laborers.

Elizabeth City Falcon: The oysterman down the sound complain that the Dutton Bros. are catching oysters and planting them in Virginia waters. The Elizabeth City Oil Mill will start up next week with about 600 tons of seed. The mill will likely be kept busy all the time. The largest crop of turpines ever raised in Pasquotank county was raised this year.

New Orleans Peacemaker: Among the commissioners to be appointed by the Government of North Carolina, to the Exposition in London, to represent the products of the State, is one to look after the mineral exhibits. For that place Capt. T. K. Bruner is warmly recommended. He has charge of the fine mineral display from North Carolina at the late World's Exposition in this city and he discharged the duties of his trust with algal ability. No better man can be found for it.

Salsbury Watchman: The press of the State, with one accord, hand the laurels to the Wilmington STAR. It is just tribute to merit. A little son of the State appears on the streets last Friday with a black eye and a bloody twitch mark on his temple. He said he got it at the Graded School in Mr. Harry Overman's department. It is a case for the School Committee to look after.

Goldsboro Argus: Those fine lemons in Agricultural Hall are from Lenoir county, and were raised by Mrs. R. E. Davis. One of the sweetest things in Florida Hall is a bouquet of flowers composed of 64 varieties. It is just lovely. The graceful and exceedingly appropriate opening address by our eloquent and popular townsman, Capt. Swift Galloway, speaks for itself in these columns. It will be highly appreciated by every one of our readers, and no one will say that it is any less the polite reason of the very brief notice the scholarly gentleman had for preparation. The crowd at the opening was rather small.

Greensboro Workman: We never knew Mr. Muse, but we greatly admire the character given him by those who knew him best. The loss of his services in the office of the STAR will be sensibly felt, we are sure. We remember an old lady in Granville county who claimed to be 96 years of age, but after some little inquiry we found that she was scarcely 70, for her youngest son was then in his 28th year. The only person we ever saw that had any very probable claim to more than one hundred years, was "Syphax," a former servant of John Randolph of Roanoke. The records marked him 104, and he lived several years later.

New Berne Journal: We are authorized to state that the first number of the Kingston Item will be issued on or about the 15th of November. Secure your seats for Clara Louise Kellogg Company, Thursday 9 a. m., at Meadows's drug store, as the management must know on that day whether or not a sufficient number is taken to justify him to make a contract. In Craven county there were polled in the last year 1,339 votes for Scales and 2,585 for York, a total of 3,923. The present year there has been listed for taxation 2,127 polls. Now, is it possible out of a voting population of 8,563 there are 1,795 this number above the age of fifty? We hardly think so.

Charlotte Observer: While standing in one of the business houses up town yesterday Mr. Joseph McDade was suddenly stricken with paralysis. An examination proved that the stroke was a serious one, all his left side being paralyzed. In Lemley's township, night before last, a housing big corn shucking was held at Henderson's, near Sheriff Pott's farm. While the shucks were flying one way and the corn another, two white men, Will Brown and A. J. White, got into a difficulty which soon culminated in blows and bloodshed. During the encounter Brown whipped out a knife and used it with deadly effect upon White, who was cut in five or six different places before the fight was over. He bled copiously and was very nearly dead before medical assistance could be procured.

Hickory Press: President Andrews tells us that the many North Carolina italists who have recently visited Western North Carolina are highly pleased with our mountain and piedmont country. Notwithstanding our market is full up the best mountain produce is bringing very fair prices. Apples 50 cents and upwards per bushel, and cabbage 1 1/2 cents per pound. The protracted meeting in the Methodist Church at Statesville has been continuing for several weeks, and much good is being done. The popular young pastor, Rev. Mr. Cordon, has been assisted in these meetings by Revs. Willis, Stamey, Rowe, Bagby, Dr. Wood and others. There have been about one hundred conversions.

Two little boys, aged about ten years, sons of Franklin H. and Abner Knipe were loading a shot-gun with wheat and shooting rats in Huffman's mill, Thursday last, when the Houston boy discharged one barrel of the gun, emptying the contents into the back part of the head of the other sportsman.

Raleigh News-Observer: Rev. Dr. Sutton says the attendance at St. Augustine's normal school is not as large as last year. About 60 students are present. Formerly the State exchanged its Supreme Court reports with other States. Now it has made a new departure and exchanges also with quite a number of foreign countries, dependent colonies, such as Canada, New Zealand, etc. Mr. Jere Perry, of Louisville, last week took 242 lbs net of honey from four beehives. This beats the best record.

There was some ice yesterday morning. Brunswick Courier: A good many are sending a professional tramp to the penitentiary for five years, for vagrancy. Mr. Thomas Payne, at Stonewall, N. C., in attempting to take a weapon from Dorsey Grogan last week, was shot and in a few minutes thereafter expired. A Jew named Abrams, who was arrested by an officer from Caswell last Friday, at Ruffin, for stealing money, and was carried to Yanceyville and lodged in jail, committed suicide in his cell the same night.

Escaped Prisoner Captured. A colored prisoner at the County Work House, named Dan Huggins, who was sent out at the last term of the Criminal Court for six months for an affray with some women, made his escape on the 9th of October. It seems that on that day Capt. Savage was sick, and the prisoner, taking advantage of the guard, left for better quarters, carrying with him an axe belonging to the Superintendent. On Wednesday, Capt. Savage, hearing that Huggins was at a certain house in Pender county, just across Island Creek, started after him. He was accompanied by Deputy Sheriff Chadwick, S. H. Terry, James Murray, James Newton and Wm. B. Savage, the latter a son of Capt. B. The posse arrived at the house (which was occupied by one James Wilson) Wednesday night, and were refused admittance, whereupon they forced their way in, found Huggins, handcuffed him and brought him to the Work House, arriving there about 4 o'clock a. m. The prisoner is regarded as a very dangerous man, and much credit is due Capt. Savage and his posse in thus securing and placing in the clutches of the law so desperate a character.

Colored Preachers' Association. At the regular monthly meeting of the Colored Preachers' Association of the county of New Hanover, held at Mount Olive A. M. E. Church, in this city, Wednesday night, the following subject, in pursuance of previous announcement, was discussed by a number of the preachers present, to a large audience: "Are Judge Lynch and his Jurors countenanced by the authorities of our State and National Governments?" After the conclusion of the exercises, it was resolved that the next monthly meeting be held at Rev. A. M. Conway's Church, corner Sixth and Campbell streets, when the same subject will be resumed.

Mayor's Court. The only case for consideration yesterday morning was that of Anna McNeill, colored, charged with being drunk and very disorderly in the "Hollow." She was ordered to pay a fine of $3 or be confined in the city prison for four days. Personal. Mr. George L. Morton, who has been quite sick for about two weeks, was out for a short while yesterday. Mayor Hall, who has been to New York for several weeks, is expected to return tomorrow.

FIRE IN FAYETTEVILLE. Destructive Conflagration in our Sister Town—Fayetteville Hotel Burned—Great Excitement Among the Citizens—Heavy Loss—Insurance $11,000. Quite an excitement was created here yesterday afternoon by reports that a tremendous fire was raging in Fayetteville. These reports were so meagre and so vague that thoughtful men could form no conclusion except that they were wildly exaggerated. It was very generally rumored that the "whole town was burning up."

The first reliable information that could be obtained by a STAR reporter was that a telegram had been sent from Fayetteville to Major John C. Winder, at Raleigh, stating that the town was threatened with a destructive fire, and asking that one of the Raleigh steam fire engines be sent at once by special train. Major Winder responded promptly, and the engine was soon on its way at a thirty-mile gait.

Next came a report that the entire block of buildings from Fayetteville Hotel to the Williams building inclusive had been destroyed, and that the fire had crossed Donaldson street and was spreading in an easterly direction. Then came a telegram from Mr. John M. Rose saying, "Nothing burned down except Fayetteville Hotel. Other buildings under control."

Meantime, the STAR had ordered a special. If that special comes it will be given below. Otherwise, the above is all the information we can give. [Special Star Telegram.] FAYETTEVILLE, N. C., November 5.—At 12 o'clock to day the Fayetteville Hotel was discovered to be on fire. The fair being in progress the town was somewhat deserted and the flames spread rapidly before much force was brought to bear upon them. As the news reached the Fair Grounds great crowds of people, hurrying in carriages and on foot, rushed wildly into the town, and very soon good work was being done; but it was too late. With a somewhat inefficient fire organization and an insufficiency of water, it was impossible to arrest the destructive and lurid flames, which leaped high and grew fiercer. The crowd worked manfully, but to no avail. The Fayetteville Hotel building, covering about a block, was consumed, and for awhile it seemed that all of upper Hay street, including the Opera House, would be burned.

About 2 o'clock Raleigh was telegraphed to for assistance, and at five a special train brought their fire engine and part of the company. The flames are now (at 7 o'clock) fully under control, and no further danger is anticipated. The loss is quite heavy. The building, which was owned by a joint stock company, and was insured for only $11,000, not half its value; and W. G. Matthews, keeper of the hotel, loses nearly everything in the way of furniture, &c., having not a dollar of insurance. The fire created great excitement for a while, it appearing that the whole town would burn, but everything is quiet now. J. R. M.

Wilmington Presbytery. The Presbytery of Wilmington met Wednesday last at Duplin Roads, Rev. Geo. W. McMillan Moderator. There were present seven ministers and ten ruling elders. The principal object of the meeting was to license Mr. Jno. D. Standford, of Duplin county, to preach the gospel. His trial sermon before the Presbytery was satisfactory and he was licensed after the usual form. The Presbytery resolved to hold an adjourned meeting at the First Presbyterian Church, this city, on Saturday before the third Sabbath in December (the 19th), for the purpose of receiving Rev. Peyton H. Hoge from the Presbytery of East Hanover, Virginia.

Wilmington Cotton Mills. We hear that the Wilmington Cotton Mills, which have been closed for several months, will resume operations again early next week. The management propose to run off the cotton now on hand and in the looms, which will require about a month's time, after which they will turn their attention to the experiment of manufacturing yarn. The starting up of these mills will give employment to quite a number of operatives.

The Fox Club. The Wilmington Fox Club has a magnificent fox which they will turn loose this afternoon back of the poor house. The animal promises an excellent chase, having run over four hours on Monday. The public, and especially the ladies, are invited. Those desiring to do so can follow the run in buggies. All participants are requested to meet at Mr. Orrell's stables at half past 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Branson's Almanac. We return thanks for a copy of Branson's North Carolina Almanac for 1886. It is full of valuable information, containing the calendar phases of the Moon, weather receipts, anecdotes, Superior, Supreme and United States Courts, list of counties and county seats, members of the Legislature, State Board of Pharmacy, Agriculture, &c.

RIVER AND MARINE. The steamer Susie, which has been undergoing repairs on the marine railway, has completed the same and is once more afloat. The steamship Fannie, which cleared from here Wednesday, got aground near Big Island, and tugs were endeavoring to pull her off when the Louise passed yesterday.

Opera House. Mixed Pickles. The performance last night of "Mixed Pickles" was delayed in the commencement on account of the late arrival of the Company, but when it did commence it was mixed so well that all were repaid for their long waiting. The play was put on the boards well, and the spicy manner in which all went through their parts gave a keen relish to the audience. Mr. J. B. Polk as Joseph Pickles furnished the fun, most ably assisted by the different members of the Company, and the manner in which he dished it out was most creditable to himself and pleasing to his audience. The play is divided into three acts, and each act and every actor was a source of amusement and pleasure to every one who witnessed the entertainment, and we must say it was done up "Brown."

Oxford Orphan Asylum Entertainment. The entertainment by the Singing Class of the Oxford Orphan Asylum, assisted by Prof. J. H. Denck, came off as advertised last evening at the Lutheran Sunday school room. Long before 8 o'clock every seat was occupied, and standing room was at a premium. Many were unable to gain admittance. The programme as announced was carried out to the letter, and it was simply wonderful to see the proficiency attained by the little ones in their songs and recitations. The singing far exceeded the expectations of every one, and if we should again be favored with a visit from them we can safely guarantee a much larger audience than that of last night. The selections by Prof. Denck were highly enjoyed by the audience, if they could be judged from the applause that greeted him, and the committee desire to here express their thanks to the Professor for his kind assistance; also to Rev. Mr. Peschau and to the Lutheran Sunday school for the use of their room.

The Recent Mail Robbery. A correspondent at Red Banks sends us some additional particulars in regard to the mail robbery at that place on the night of October 31st. Red Banks is a flag station where a crane is used for hanging out the mail pouches, and it is the deputy's duty, between 12 and 3 o'clock a. m., (train time), to exchange pouches. He, on the night in question, on examining the pouch put off by the western bound train, found there was no mail in it. Upon a closer inspection Sunday morning it was found that the pouch had been cut open and robbed of its contents after it was thrown out of the mail car. The perpetrator of the theft was tracked Sunday morning by articles of the STAR first and then by letters directed to different parties, torn up and scattered promiscuously, for nearly two miles. A young colored man, that suspicion pointed to, was arrested and is now under bond awaiting developments. There were no registered packages in the pouch, and it is supposed that the thief got nothing of value for his trouble.

WHO IS MRS. WINSLOW?—As this question is frequently asked, we will simply say that she is a lady who for upwards of thirty years has untiringly devoted her time and talents as a female Physician and nurse, principally among children. She has especially studied the constitution and wants of this numerous class, and, as a result of this effort, and practical knowledge, obtained in a lifetime spent as a nurse and physician, she has compounded a Soothing Syrup for children teething, which operates like magic—giving rest and health, and is, moreover, sure to regulate the bowels. In consequence of this article Mrs. Winslow is becoming world-renowned as a benefactor of her race; children certainly do run up and down here; especially in this case in this city. Vast quantities of the Soothing Syrup are daily sold and used here. We think Mrs. Winslow has immortalized her name by this invaluable article, and we sincerely believe thousands of children have been saved from an early grave by its timely use, and that millions yet unborn will share its benefits, and unite in calling her blessed. No mother has discharged her duty to her suffering little one, in our opinion, until she has suffered the benefit of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. Try it, mothers—TAYLOR & SON, -Ladies Tailor, New York City, N. Y. -all druggists. 25 cts a bottle
