The New York Critic, that is nothing if not critical, says of Miss Murfree's last novel, and with clear insight :

"It is one of the hardest stories to pick out the plot from. " " Even his tragic end dwells less forcibly in the mind than certain of the scenes set in quiet meadows or homely kitchens. But, as is not unusual in novels of this kind, the detail is perfect; each separate chapter is a delight, quite apart from its bearing on the whole; strong with powerful incident, or amusing with quaint bits of character, or beautiful with exquisite effect in landscape.

The STAR was mistaken as to the time of Mr. Gladstone's first speech in the pending canvass. He was billed for Wednesday, but on arriving at Edinburgh on Monday afternoon he was received with great enthusiasm, and made an anexpected and long speech in answer to repeated calls from the immense multitude. Of the Irish question among other things he said:

"Such will be a grave contingency. But sults, assuming always that nothing will be demanded that would jeopardize or connected with the honorable maintenance in the next Parliament will exceed that of the Tories and Parnellities combined. If it does not, the empire will be undangered. - The Greensboro Workman comes to the front with the biggest potato -8 pounds 7 ounces. - The dog Scout was not poisoned at Salisbury as reported. A post mortem examination revealed no poison. - We neglected to mention that the Asheville Citizen has changed from an evening to a morning paper. This is an evidence of prosperity we hope. - Burnsville Pioneer: Last week Miss Art. Wilcox and a little girl named Barnett were drowned in South Toe river, at the ford near George Robertson's. - Winston Daily: We learn that the Yadkin river is higher than it has been for many years, and it is still rising. Much damage will be done the corn crop.

- Salisbury Watchman: Mr. J. D. McNeely is still pushing the cotton factory scheme. The farmers seem to take to the idea very well, and the prospect seems fair for success. — The cotton receipts up to date aggregate some 1,300 bales.

- Goldsboro Argus: It would have been a good idea had the State Fair consolidated with some of our county Fairs. Suppose they put it on wheels and take it around to the Fairs down this way. It would do it good. - John Waggoner, the negro who was captured near Beston, and who was bound over to court, is now in the last stages of pneumonia with but little hope of recovery. Most of their baggage was saved, but one of our young ladies lost a dolman or circular, another a cloak, and another a breastpin, and another a dress. - Raleigh News-Observer: The Raleigh & Gaston railroad makes it a point to keep its rolling stock at a high point of efficiency. Last week two new passenger engines were purchased and have arrived. They are Baldwins, and their numbers are 28 and 29. — It was announced some time ago that a convention composed of delegates appointed by the Governors of the various Southern States would meet at Savannah the 25th instant, to consider questions relative to the improvement of harbors on the South Atlantic coast. The date has been changed to the 24th instead of the 25th inst. — The annual meeting of the directors of the Raleigh & Gaston and Raleigh & Augusta railroads will be held next Thursday.

— The Federal Court is in session at Asheville, and for this one term there are 300 cases on the docket, and these 800 cases have drawn 1,200 witnesses. Last week forty cases were argued by the District Attorney, Col. H. C. Jones, of this city, and thirty were disposed of by submissions, and the Court will be occupied for a week and a half yet on the remainder of the docket. — One of the curiosities on the market yesterday was a wagon load of black 'possums from Union county. Black 'possums, like black sheep, are scarce, and the fact of a whole wagon oad of them being captured at one time is something very remarkable.

— Col. Robinson, Maj. Winder and Col. Jones, officials of the Seaboard Air Line Company, spent Sunday at the Central Hotel, in this city, on their return from an napection of the new railroad work be-Shelby and Piney Ridge. They went as far as Mooresboro, and report everything working satisfactorily. In conversation with these officials, an Observer reporter was informed that there are now 400 hands engaged in grading the road bed for the Carolina Central extension, and that rapid headway is being made. That no obstacle may be thrown in the way of the rapid completion of the extension to Piney Ridge, the present objective point, the Carolina Central officials have given the contract for an iron bridge to span Broad river, two miles from Shelby, to the wellknown firm of bridge builders, the Phonix Bridge Company, of Pennsylvania.

St. James' Home this evening. The Home has in its day school 129 children receiving gratuitous education.

- There is said to be considerable sickness in the city, owing in part to the unseasonable weather we have been having during the past two or three weeks.

- The weather yesterday was what the ladies would call "perfectly love ly:" and they took advantage offit to gladden the streets with their presence.

- We are requested to state that Rev. Peyton H. Hoge will conduct the services in the Lecture Room of the First Presbyterian Church to-night at half-past 7 o'clock. Strangers are cordially invited. - There'll be fun across the river this afternoon. When Corporal Haney and our field editor "come to the scratch" there'll be such a shivering of flying targets into infinitessimal small particles as was never seen in this climate before. - An alarm of fire was raised last night, about half past 6 o'clock, in the neighborhood of the Front street market, caused by the explosion of a kerosene lamp in the store of Mr Harriss Yopp. The flames were immediately extinguished, however, and no damage was done.

- Says the New Berne Journal: 'We heard an excellent sermon last Sunday at our church here by Rev. P. J. Carraway, P. E. of the Wilmington District. He held his quarterly meeting at Queen's Creek church Saturday and Sunday to a large congregation. Everybody likes Mr. Carraway both as a man and a preacher."

Magistrate's Court. Before Justice Millis, yesterday, the folowing cases were disposed of :

Mark Johnson, charged with assault and battery on Sam. Larkins. Defendant submitted and judgment was suspended on the payment of costs.

The Catholic Fair Last Night.

The fair at the City Hall was in full blast last night. The crowd was as large as on any previous night, and the interest is on the increase. The crowd was particularly gratified at a surprise they received. At about 9 o'clock the Germania Band walked in with stately tread and took their places on the platform and proceeded to regale the immense crowd assembled by a few choice selections. They present a fine appearance, and their music last night evidenced the high proficiency they have attained in a very short time. Their appearance was highly gratifying to all and their music was loudly applauded and warmly appreciated. There were sev eral interesting raffles last night, among others a handsome and valuable rug, which was won by Mr. J. K. McIlhenny.

Judge McKoy was well known in this city and throughout the State, and al though his death was not unexpected, there will be a host of readers of the STAR who will receive the announcement with deep regret. Only a few weeks ago he was in our midst, but there was then evidence in his enfeebled appearance that his valuable life was nearing its end. It is with unaffected sorrow and regret that we have to announce the death of Judge ALMOND A. McKoy, that occurred yesterday morning at Clinton, at 6 o'clock.

DEATH OF JUDGE McKOY.

Judge McKoy was, we suppose,

son of the late Dr. William McKoy, of Clinton. He began the practice of law in 1850. He served several terms in the Legislature, and was member of the Constitutional Convention that met after the war. He served a short while in the war.

with the rank of Colonel. In 1874 he was elected a Circuit Judge, and he was serving his second term at his death. He was a strict communicant in the Episcopal Church, and was exemplary and conscientious in every

The writer of this went to school with Judge McKoy, so that his knowledge of him is sufficiently long and exact to enable him to write understandingly of him. We have known but few men who impressed us as favorably. He was indeed an excellent citizen-public spirited, patriotic, useful. He was a genuine

man. Of remarkably sweet, equable temper, and of exceeding gentleness, cordiality and affability, he was one of those men liked by all men who might know him. He was a man of virtue, a man of strictest probity, a man of simplicity, of most unassum-ing, pleasing manners, easy of approach, warm and sincere in his attachments, and of rare frankness and kindness. This is not overdrawn, as all who knew him intimately will indorse. All well disposed men were drawn towards him.

We know nothing of his domestic relations, but no man of his temper and principles could fail to be affectionate and considerate and self-sacrificing and dearly loved. He was, in the best sense of the word, a nobleman-a man of high principles and let it not fill us with alarm, because as long as we give liberally, equitably and prudently, it will be needless to fear recompromise the unity of the empire. If such demand be made we will know how to deal with it. It is unjust to the people of Ireland to suppose that any other basis is contemplated. Whatever demand Ireland may deliberately and constitutionally make, unless it infringes on principles good man, the true friend, the worof the empire, we are bound at any rate to treat with careful attention. [Loud cheers.] thy citizen, the upright Judge, is To stint Ireland in powers necessary or desirable for the management of purely Irish matters is a great error.
