MORNING EDITION

OUTLINES.

Two cars on the Virginia Midland Railroad went down an embankment; several persons injured. --- Preparations for the execution of Louis Riel on Monday have been completed. - War rumors cause depression in the London stock market. - Bulgaria is making active war preparations. - War declared between Bervia and Bulgaria; sharp fighting between the advance guards of the two armies. Destructive fire in Austin, Illinois. Officers of the Exchange National Bank of Norfolk, Va., admitted to bail. - Daughter of Chas. D. Powell, of Princess Anne county, Va., murdered by a negro; her head was nearly severed from her body. - The whole Servian army is now in Bulgaria. -- New York markets: Money 2 per cent.; cotton firm at 94@99 16c; wheat, ungraded red 78c@$1 081; corn, ungraded 50@55c; southern flour quiet and unchanged; spirits turpentine steady at 37c: dull at $1 021@1 15.

Eight thousand people viewed the remains of John McCullough.

There is a very active prohibition canvass now pending in Atlanta.

Ten thousand people attended the South Carolina Fair on Thursday.

In Harper's Monthly for Christmas Miss Murfree has a story called "Way Down in Lonesome Cove." The population of Brooklyn and

New York in 1880 was 1,774,962. United they now have probably quite 2,000,000. War is reported to have begun between Servia and Bulgaria. Now for an advance in prices. Wheat already feels the muss.

Mr. Gladstone is canvassing to get a majority for his party in Parliament. That is to elect more Liberals than there will be Tories and Home Rulers.

We have not seen Sunset Cox's book, "Three Decades of Federal Legislation," but it is not particularly important or just, if we may judge from some_notices we have n been denie ben m

The STAR is glad that the Colored State Fair turned out so well. It was a most creditable exhibit, as we learn from our Raleigh exchanges and those engaged in working it up have good cause for satisfaction and

The Washington correspondent of the New York Times says that the President and Secretary Manning will be agreed as to the suspension of silver coinage, and the President will ask the two Houses to support his views and give them a trial.

The Association of the Army of Northern Virginia have done the handsome thing in making the wife and daughter of Stonewall Jackson, the wife and daughter of Gen. Jeb Stuart, and Misses Mary and Mildred Lee, daughters of Gen. Robt. E. Lee, honorary members.

A Miss Miller, of Ruffin, N. C. sent a $500 Confederate note to the Grant Memorial Fund, and asked them to sell it "for a poor Southern girl." Nice and pitiful! She had heard that a Confederate note sent by "the champion mean man" in the South had been sold for $50 in good

We heard the great Sontag sing in opera in New York, supported by some forty singers. The price for reserved seats was $1. Prices have prices. No concert is worth more than $1. People can correct the evil of high charges if they so elect.

In yesterday's STAR, second page, first column, near bottom, for "the attention of Jim Blaine," read "attir tude, &c." On first page, first column, read "Don Carlos Buell. Read, "those fellows who are descended from a monkey." In the last paragraph, same column, for "emment scientists and physiologists of this country," read "this century." Second column, for "stupendous undertaken," read "undertaking." Farther to be appointed."

WILMINGTON, N. C., SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 1885.

Salvini, the greatest of all living actors, and one of the greatest of all time, has just played Coriolanus for the first time in his life. The New York Times has a masterly criticism upon it. We can only copy a few sentences taken here and there : "The whole performance was notable both for amplicity and finish, strength and refinement: and people who were wise or lucky enough to witness it will carry forever in their minds the memory of the grand, majestic figure of the insulted patrician, solitary among the empt yehairs of Senators, hurling a passionate malediction upon releases and citizens and their analysis. upon tribunes and citizens. * * * His performance is as remarkable for cuperformance is as remarkable for cumulative force as it is for naturalness, picturesqueness, and finish. * * * The bearing of the great actor during the affecting interview between Coriolanus and his mother deserves to be atudied by young actors. The value of repose was never more strikingly illustrated. Everybody capable of appreciating good acting abould see Salvini as Coriolanus, for the impersounation is of surpassing merit, truthful, vigorous, eloquent, and impressive."

Thirteen Knights of Labor have been indicted at Seattle, Washington Territory, for assaulting Chinamen.

had no effect in thinning out the crowd art, etc., was fully equal to any display that has ever been made in our city on similar occasion. The ladies deserve great credit for the interest manifested, and the efforts they exerted to make the Fair a success, and the result is a splendid triumph of industry, taste and concentration of labor over the hardness of the times and the tigituess of the money market. The Fair realized about $3,500. The response of the citizens at large to the invitation of the Fair managers was most liberal and cordial, and our Catholic fellow citizens express the highest appreciation of the support they received. The interest manifested in the different voting contests was lively and spirited. The Germania Cornet Band walked off in triumph with the handsome gold medal by by a vote of 326, to the Cornet Concert Club's 242. The Adrian Fire Company was the victor over both its competitors for the silver pitcher; to Capt. Slocumb was awarded the conductor's lamp, and to Mr. H. H. Watters the military smoking stand. Besides these the following are a few of the most important articles raffled, together with the names of the lucky ones: An elegant piano cover, by Col. A. G. Magistrate's Court.

Before Justice Millis, yesterday morning, John Holland, white, had a hearing on the charge of assault and battery with a deadly weapon upon Samuel Gregg, colored. At the conclusion of the evidence for the proecution the Justice bound Holland over in the sum of $100 for his appearance at the next term of the Criminal Court. This is the case mentioned in our issue of Tuesday morning last. Gregg, who keeps an eating house in the "Hollow," was going home on the Saturday night previous to the affray, and when on Nixon street, near Eighth, was assaulted by two men, one of whom, according to the evidence of the and then robbed him of $3.70.

Before the same Magistrate Henry Bissell, colored, was arraigned on a peace warrant worn out by Hester Williams, also color ed. Defendant was discharged and the prosecutor required to pay the costs. The same defendant, charged with assault and battery on Heater Williams, sub-mitted, and judgment was suspended on the payment of costs.

Rev. T. M. Ambler, of St. Paul's Episcopal church, will deliver a lecture at Library Hall, on Friday night next, under the auspices of the Wilmington Library Association. The subject chosen for the lecture is "Spiritualism," and is one that cannot fail to prove both entertaining and instructive in so competent hands.

_ Mrs. C. G. Kennedy takes this method of returning thanks to Col. F. W. Kerchner, who, in behalf of the ladies of St. Thomas' Church, kindly contributed a barrel of flour for the inmates of the "Old Ladies' Rest." OPERA HOUSE.

Young Mrs. Winthrop. "Young Mrs. Winthrop" was presented at the Opera House last night, and it was not acted in a manner which either reflected credit on the company or gave pleasure to the audience. The company arrived ate, and the curtain did not rise till twenty minutes to nine o'clock, consequently the audience were tired out before the performance began, and when it did begin it was not much calculated to dispel their weariness.

Miss Lena Langdon, as Constance Winthrop, did well, but her support was not good, and therefore the play did not come up to general expectation.

On next Wednesday and Thursday nights our theatre-goers will be treated to Edward E. Kidder's comedy, in three acts, entitled "Sis," with Miss Myra Goodwin as the star.
The Hotel Gasette of a late data says of the play:

of the year, a large and appreciative audience welcomed Miss Myra Goodwin on her first appearance as 'Sis' at the Fourteenth Street Theatre on Monday night. The play itself was a setting in which Miss Goodwin displayed her varied accomplishments to the greatest advantage. The comedy parts, in the hands of Mr. George Richards as Hickory Hawkins (a relic of the circus) the circus), was especially good—in fact, the life of the piece. Miss Goodwin was called before the curtain several times, and received namerous floral tributes. Mr. Edward E. Kidder, author of the play, has succeeded in producing an original and very strong play. A number of prominent managers and professional people were
