King Milan would fight anyway and he got licked badly. He is now willing to make peace on the best terms he can get.

All papers of all parties and sections concede the honesty of Vice President Hendricks. There was not a truer Democrat in the land.

King Alfonso had been on the throne for eleven years. He was born in Madrid in 1857. He lacked four days of being 28 years of age.

Vice President Hendricks is the fifth Vice President who has died in The others were Clinton, Gerry, King and Wilson. William R. King was a native of North Car-

There is strong opposition to Senator Beck developing in Kentucky. Bets are taken that he will not be reelected. He is a sound and able Democrat and Kentucky cannot improve on the Scotchman.

The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun says that Mr. Randall "will take a leading part in any effort to reform the Tariff." Time will test the truth of this statement which we would be glad to

The successor to Vice President Hendricks will be a Republican and the Senate will name him. In Washington John Sherman, meanest of the mean, is named for the Presidency of the Senate. Edmunds is to be preferred to Sherman or Ingalls.

Mahone's charge of fraud in Virginia is ridiculous in the light of the returns. The vote fell off from the Presidential vote in this State of last year 3,571. The Democrats gained 6,878 on the vote of last year and the Republicans lost only 3,127. The charge falls to the ground. The only vote canvassed thus far was for Attorney General.

The result of the election last Wednesday, in Fulton county, Georgia, which includes the city of Atlanta, was a victory for the Prohibitionists by a majority of 219 in a total vote of 9,000. The city was carried by the "wets." but the majority was overcome in the rural precincts. The law will not go into effect until August 1, 1886. Prohibition is much stronger in Georgia than in any other Southern State.

THE MORNING STAR.

VOL. XXXVII.--NO. 56. WILMINGTON, N. C., SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 28, 1885.

THE VICE PRESIDENT.

The Voice of the Press. Norfolk Landmark, Dem.

He was a statesman of the old school: Democrat who made the Constitution the foundation of his faith; and in the midst of civil commotion he never forgot that the people of the South were his countrymen. As a public man his career was without a stain, and it was marked not only by per-fect integrity but by the loftiest courage. In his personal character he was exceedingly attractive. Bland, kindly, candid and honest, he had a claim on the affection of those who were near him, and commanded the respect of all who had the honor of his acquaintance. Qualified to adorn any sta-tion he would have been a power for good in the Republic had he lived.

Savannah News, Dem. Mr. Hendricks's death will be deeply and ally mourned. He was a good man statesman. He may have been ambitious, but his ambition was an honorable one. The good of his country was his first consideration. His public life was marked by a high and pure patriotism. He aimed at truth and right, and his methods of accomplishing his purposes. were those of an honest and honorable man.

Raleigh News-Observer, Dem. Mr. Hendrick's death, too, removes from the Democratic party one of its truest sons, its hardest workers, its staunchest supporters. Since years before the war he has done battle fearlessly and ceaselessly for its immortal principles, and he has gone to the grave now clad in full armor and with the laurels of victory still fresh upon his brow. He cannot well be spared. but the Ruler of the Universe has called him hence, and nothing is left but to sub mit to the decree in humility.

Richmond Dispatch, Dem. His record is the best monument to his memory. His worth, his patriotism, and his devotion to principle are best illustrated in the sacrifices he made; and political friends and political opponents alike must admit that he stood up for what he held to be the right, regardless of consequences or the dictates of personal ambition. The Democratic party is deprived of a staunch champion, American statemanship of an ornament, and American citizenship of a good man.

Washington Post, Dem. None of his friends have any reeson reproach themselves or him for any shortcomings in his private or public career. In the former he was above reproach. In the latter he was a subject for discussion only because he was a Democrat, and criticism has been confined to his political opponents. No man ever had more of the confidence and affection of the people of his own State. The loss of such a man bears heavily, as such losses will ever do, upon his party, his country and the enlightened world.

N. Y. Star, Dem. Though Mr. Hendricks has been the ob ject of many bitter attacks by his political opponents, he was a man who, throughout a long public career, retained the respect of intelligent men of all parties. A strong partisan, and a man of pronounced political convictions, he naturally became the object of fierce party aniagonism, but through all these attacks his personal charall men can now sincerely join in mourning the loss of so pure and upright a public acter stood unquestioned and unassailed.

As political hostility ceases with his death,

Phil. Press, Rep. He has been always a strong Democrat and he enjoyed the reputation among a large body of Democrats of being also a great statesman. But, though his claim to statesmanship may be questioned, no one has ever impeached the strength and sincerity of his convictions as a Democrat. On the majority of questions on which party lines are likely to be drawn the late Vice President much better reflected the views of the great body of Democrats than the President does or can do.

N. Y. Sun. Adopting the Democratic faith at the beginning of his career, he was faithful to it to the last. There was no eccentricity and no compromise in his political ideas. The doctrines of Jefferson and Jackson were his doctrines, and he held fast to the traditional statesmanship of his party. He belonged to the people, and knew nothing of that Pharissic and Federalist pretension which holds them in distrust and contempt His political speeches were filled with this spirit, and, like his forensic arguments, commanded respect by their breadth, ele-vation, vigor of reasoning, and catholic

New York World, Dem. All over the United States, in all parties and among all descriptions of men, there will be genuine heartfelt sorrow at the na tion's loss. As an active, aggressive states man, strong in his convictions and staunch in his constancy to the Democracy, Mr. Hendricks naturally was honored by political enmities and the hostile criticisms of Republican organs. But no epponent could gaineay his ability, and no assailant of his partisanship ever dared to question his purity and his honesty.

New York Times, Rep. Mr. Hendricks wrs a type of the sincere and earnest partisan Democrat, of upright personal character and considerable abili ies, whose views too restricted to permit him the place in political history to which he aspired. But his partisanship never took him to a point where his probity was in doubt or his entire fidelity to conscience

The joint Thanksgiving services of the Presbyterian, Methodist, First Baptist and

Lutheran Churches, held at the First Presbyterian Church, were well attended, and the following order of divine service was Anthem by the choir. Reading of the 103d psalm by Rev. T. H. Pritchard. Hymn 508, "God of the passing year, to Thee our hymn of gratitude we raise;" read by Rev. J. W. Primrose and sung by the choir and congregation. Prayer by Rev. Dr. Pritchard. Scripture lesson-186th and 188th psalms, by Rev. F. W. E. Peschau. Hymn 504, "Swell the anthem." &c.

Rev. J. W. Primrose then delivered an impressive and appropriate discourse from the words, "Thanks be unto God for His unspeakable gifts." He tenderly alluded to the death of Vice President Hendricks, whose family were remembered in the prayer by Rev. F. W. E. Peschau, which followed the sermon. A collection was then taken up by Col. John D. Taylor and Messrs. C. P. Mebane, G. W. Williams and D. G. Worth for the Oxford Orphan Asy lum, when the exercises were closed with the doxology and benediction.

The River and Harbor Convention. The delegates from this city to the Convention in Savannah speak in glowing terms of their hospitable reception and entertainment in that city. The occasion was one of profound importance to all cities on the Atlantic coast, and the action taken by this body of representative men cannot fail to be felt by Congress. Eight States were represented. Mayor Hall was chairman of the delegation from this State. Mr. F. W. Kerchner was one of the Vice Presidents, and was also appointed on the committee to personally memoralize Congress, for adequate appropriations to continue and complete improvements now in progress without delay. Mr. J. H. Currie was a member of the committee on resolutions. A grand banquet was given to the members of the Convention on the steamer City of Augusta, at which Mayor Hall, in response to the toast to North Carolina, made an eloquent response.

Girl who Caused the Arrest of her

Father Sent to Jail. Alice Johnson, a colored girl about seventeen years of age, had her father, Charles Johnson, who lives on Eleventh street, between Church and Castle, arrested yesterday for assault and battery. The justice before whom the case was heard finding that Alice was under age and that, therefore, her father had the legal right to chastise her, dismissed the case against the defendant, while Alice, the prosecutor, was committed to jail in default of the payment of the costs. She will remain in jail thirty days, unless her father succeeds in getting her out, which he appeared very anxious to do yesterday.

The Gunners. The woods and fields around Wilmington were filled with sportsmen on Thanksgiving Day, and the town seemed almost deserted. Outgoing trains Wednesday night were crowded with men equipped for the fray with breech-loaders, muzzle-loaders, gamebags and pocket-flasks. It reminded one of war times, when the "Home Guard" was ordered out. The "slaughter of the innocents" may have been immense in the aggregate, but we doubt if an equitable division would have given each sportsman even a feather. They had lots of fun, though, for all their bad luck, and fortunately no accident occurred.

Ladies' Benevolent Society. The annual meeting of the Ladies' Benevolent Society took place Tuesday, the 24th inst., and it is a matter of regret that the gathering was so small, and that not enough money was paid in to pay the indebtedness of the Society. Rev. Thomas H. Pritchard, D. D., made an appropriate address, which was well received. After the transaction of the business before the meeting it was adjourned to meet at 3 o'clock p. m., on Tuesday next, at Miss Annie Hart's school room. It is hoped that there will be a full attendance, as it is an important meeting-to arrange the wards and appoint visiting committees.

It is reported that on Wednesday night the police were prohibited from ringing the fire alarm attached to one of our colored churches because the congregation were at worship. If this report is correct our Board of Aldermen should make some other provision, as it is in a section which does not enjoy water facilities and where a good deal of damage might be done before the unsatisfactory alarm could be given from the tower on Fourth street.

"A Rag Baby,"

This piece will be presented in the Opera House here on Tuesday and Wednesday next. It is represented to be a combination of satire, comedy and burlesque. It was played in Washington on the 10th inst., and the Oritic of that city says:

"The National Theatre was crowded last night with an audience that came to be amused, and it was not disappointed if frequent loud and long continued laughter is iny indication of enjoyment. The 'Rag Baby' was put on, and, although it was pre sented here last season, seems to have lost none of its drawing capacity. It is one of those productions which is designed only to create a laugh, and in this it succeeds. As presented last night, the 'Rag Baby' is an mprovement on that of last season. To be sure the 'Baby' is a year older and is expected to show signs of improvement. New and pretty songs have been introduced, which are cleverly done. The dancing of Miss Elmore, the soubrette, was quite a feature of the performance. Mr. Craven as Old Sport and Mr. Riddle as Tony Jay did excellently and kept the house in a roar, while the rest of the company ably seconded them. The setting was sppropriate and pretty. The 'Rag Baby' will be continued through the week, with a matinee on Satur-

The small store and dwelling on Gwin street, belonging to Rev. A. M. Conway (colored), and destroyed by fire Wednesday night last, were insured with Mr. W. L. Smith, in the Crescent Co., for $370 on dwelling, store and stock. The house adjoining that was burned belonged to Mr. D. O'Connor, and was insured with Messrs. Northrop & Hodges in the Western, of Toronto, Canada. The fire is supposed to have been caused by the explosion or upsetting of a kerosene oil lamp, left burning in the store.

Gun and Kennel Club.

A good many people went out to the Seaside grounds Thanksgiving day to enjoy the fun at the "shoot" of the Gun and Kennel Club. Messrs. Wallin, Green, Loder, Davis, West, White and Pigford, of the Club, were on the ground. Mr. Wallin's gun got out of fix and he did not enter the contest. Mr. Loder took the cup with score of five. while to Mr. White was awarded the leather medal "studded with goose eggs."

Duplin County Bear. The appearance of a big black bear in the neighborhood of Sarecta, Duplin county, on Wednesday last, created great excitement among the people of that place. The bear was pursued and killed by Mr. Branch, Mr. Williams, Mr. Bond and others, after being shot twelve times and stabbed with a pitchfork. The animal weighed 250 pounds.

Skipped by the Light of the Moon. J. M. MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP.—Rev. SYLVANUS COBB thus writes in the Boston Christian Freeman:—We would by no means recommend any kind of medicine which we did not know to be good—particularly to infants. But of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup we can speak from knowledge; in our own family it has proved a blessing indeed, by giving an infant troubled with colic pains, quiet sleep, and the parents unbroken rest at night. Most parents can appreciate these blessings. Here is an article which works to perfection, and which is harmless; for the sleep which it affords the infant is perfectly natural, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." And during the process of teething its value is incalculable. We have frequently heard mothers say that they would not be without it from the birth of the child till it had finished with the teething slege, on any consideration whatever. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle. MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP.-REV.

Only Thirty-Three. TT IS JUST THIRTY-THREE (33) DAYS TO

Christmas, and in that time the bulk of Winter Clothing that will be sold this season will have been disposed of. Very little Winter Clothing will be sold after the holidays. Every Clothier knows this, and every one from now on will do his best to dispose of as much of his stock as possible before the 25th Dec.

We are not an exception, and want to make heavy sales every one of these thirty-three days, and we are sure we can offer inducements that no other house in the city can. NOTICE OUR BIG ONE. Our stock is probably twice as large as any other in the city. This enables the purchaser to make a more satisfactory selection, having so large a quantity to select from, and the bigger the stock the larger the variety of styles, not only in shapes of garments, but in colors of the goods.

Every purchaser appreciates facts like these, and a close buyer likes to go where he is sure he can get the biggest value for his money. We think we are the one that can meet such a customer kindly and courteously, for we are close buyers ourselves and appreciate his feelings.

To-morrow we will make some SLEDGE HAM-HER BLOWS at our already low prices, and ex-pect to make things lively. A. DAVID,

Merchant Tailor and Clothier.
