If the President is prudent he wil not take the trip to Indianapolis.

Mr. Gladstone is said to be very deeply chagrined over the defeat of his party. Say, what has become of Billee Mahone? Is Johnny Wise or otherwise just now?

Did Mahone eat goose or turkey for Thanksgiving dinner, and if turkey what kind?

Sherman, Logan and Edmunds are all candidates for the Presidency of the Senate. Give us Edmunds. We would rather risk an ice man than a fire-brand. But will Logan certainly get in the Senate?

Two Liberal Ministers have been defeated for Parliament. There is but little doubt of a Tory majority. The Liberals ought to stand off and let the Salisbury crowd deal with Ireland. If they are wise they will make the Tories and Parnellites sick of their alliance.

How do you like Col. Wharton J. Green's idea-that three Vice Presidents should be voted for, one to act as President of the Senate and the other two to be in the line of succession in case of death or removal? By voting for three the people themselves would choose the succession. The proposition strikes as favorably. It is better than having the Cabinet in succession.

It is to be hoped that as soon as possible the Senate will settle the question of succession. It is too perilous to have the country disturbed as it is. If Mr. Cleveland were to die naturally or be murdered-and two Presidents have been murdered head of the United States, and chaos might come. At least three or four persons should be in the line of suc-

Among the exhibitors at the New Orleans Exposition is Gen. James H. Lane, so well known in Wilmington and in North Carolina. He exhibits "an attractive display of mechanical drawings from the department of civil engineering and drawing" under his charge in the Alabama Agricultural and Mechanical and Polytechnic Institute, as we learn from a New Orleans letter in the Montgomery (Ala.) Dispatch.

To aur an audience in good humor for three hours is a very serious undertaking, and yet, according to the Herala, autis what "The Rag Baby" did in New York a few nights ago. "The play is a comedyfarce, and is cut into three acts. There is a rattle and sparkle about such nondescript performances which are eminently fascinating, and if laughter and applause be the criterion, then 'The Rag Baby' is a success." The Herald further says: "The Rag Baby' owes its paternity to Mr. C. H. Hoyt, author of the 'Bunch of Keys.' It satirizes the drug business and the sporting craze. It afforded a capital company an opportunity of displaying their talent in song, dance and humor. Old Sport, once a drug clerk, but who has given up the business to become an athlete, was exceedingly droll. The piquancy and charm of the acting of the ladies of the company as the boarding school girls were not lost upon the audience. The characters were all well filled." Savannah has abolished its tax on drummers, and in Charleston, three hundred taxpayers, including in their number the presidents of nearly all of the city banks, together with wholesale and retail dealers in every department of business, ask the City Council to repeal the tax on drummers, and express the opinion that the license system in general is a heavy drag upon the city. It would seem that if our sister cities south of us find these taxes objectionable after a long and fair trial, there must be some good reason for their abolition.

There is general complaint among retail dealers of dull and unsatisfactory trade for in twenty years—there would be no the season. The low prices for cotton and other country produce probably account for it; farmers holding back their crops from market with the expectation of getting better prices. A merchant in South Carolina says that never before has he seen such a disposition on the part of farmers to hold back the cotton crop. This he says accounts for the fact that although the crop is better than that of last year, no better speed is being made in the settlement of their accounts.

CHARGED WITH MURDER.

Attempt to Argest a Well Known Colored Man for a Crime Committed in South Carolina - Escape of the Culprit.

Something of a sensation was created on Water street yesterday afternoon by the attempt to arrest an alleged murderer and his escape from the officer of the law.

The man accused of the crime is a colored drayman of this city known as Henry James, but whose real name is said to be Julius Bell, and who has been living quiet ly in Wilmington for the past eight or ten years, having a family consisting of a wife and several children, residing on Seventh between Nixon and Swann streets, in "Brooklyn." He is charged with being an accomplice in a murder committed in Darlington county, S. C., some ten years ago. It is alleged that he and his brother were arrested for the crime, that his brother was hung, but Julius managed to make his escape, and thus far had eluded the officers of the law. He was on Water street yes terday afternoon about 2 o'clock, when Officer Strode came up, and accosting him as Julius Bell, attempted his arrest. The man resisted and succeeded in breaking loose from the officer and ran. He was pursued up Chesnut to Front street, up Front to Mulberry, and up Mulberry to Second, where he took refuge in the sunken lot on the west side of that street between Mulberry and Walnut, and managed to elude the officer. Bell, or Henry James as he is known, is a short stout negro, about thirty-five years of age, and at the time of his escape from the officer yesterday wore a light suit of working clothes, an oil cloth cost, and a snuffcolored cloth cap. As he has been shrewd enough to evade the law for ten years past, it is not likely that he will be readily

The concert to be given at the Opera louse on next Friday night for St. Paul's church, promises to be a noteworthy musical event. Prof. Jos. H. Dencke, the great pianist, will render some of his choice solos. The following talent have kindly volunteered their services : Mrs. D. Kahnweil-

The concert will be under the experienced di rection of Profs. Denck and Van Laer. I s useless to add that a rich musical treat may be expected; and the object being most worthy one, a crowded house should greet the performance, and may be expected. Seats on sale at Heinsberger's.

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP.—Ray. SYLVANUS COES thus writes in the Boston Christian Freeman:—We would by no means recommend any kind of medicine which we did not know to be good—particularly to infants. But of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup we can speak from knowledge; in our own family it has proved a blessing indeed, by giving an infant troubled with colic pains, quiet sleep, and the parents unbroken rest at night. Most parents can appreciate these blessings. Here is an article which works to perfection, and which is harmless; for the sleep which it affords the lufant is perfectly natural, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a buttom." And during the process of teething its value is incalculable. We have frequently heard mothers say that they would not be without it from the birth of the child till it had finished with the teething siege, on any consideration whatever.
