EVENING EDITION

CONTRASTS

The South is old fashioned and we are glad of it. It is conservative and we rejoice thereof. It believes that "men, high-minded men consti tute a State." It believes that there are elements that enter into the forming of a great heroic people that no material prosperity can ever procure It believes that virtue, honor, courage, nobility of soul, are of the first importance among a free people. It would be impossible in any Southern State that a hoary old villain and murderer like John Brown should ever be canonized and made the theme of story and of song. In enlightened, rich, progressive New England the literary men-the religious people also-worship old Ossawattomie and hold him up as a mar tyr, as a saint, as a hero worthy of all emulation. This could never be in the South. It is very comforting to believe this. In Philadelphia Methodist Church formally celebrated last year the first quarter-century of his martyrdom. The Chicago Current is not an extreme paper, and it has been appreciative of the South. In its last issue it is so impressed with the certainty of Brown's canonization in history that it indulges

"No one thought John Brown's sou would go marching on after he dropped from the scaffold at Charlestown, but it did. In the very city of New York, where mobs burned colored asylums, and defied the draft, when mobs gather to-day they sing of John Brown's soul. In any Northern city the Glory Hallelujah of that weird song has become the gloria of the people's mass. North and South alike may say of John Brown as of George Washington, Had his idea failed he would have been a villain; às his idea succeeded he became 's saint. If one generation deny this logic of events, its posterity must and will accept it.
It is but a matter of time."

Now so such unvarnished villai and cut-throat could be the hero of people who take George Washing ton, Robert Edward Lee and Thomas J. Jackson for their ideal heroes.

Then look at the divorces in the whole North, and especially in New England. So wide-spread is the mania, and so weak has grown the attachment of the people to the marriage vow, that the ministry have been compelled to agitate for reform, and are gathering and publishing statisties to show the sad decadence in virtue and regard for marital vows. In the South the whites look upon marriage as a sacred bond that may not be broken except most rarely and under the greatest provocation, and they are old-fashioned and unprogressive enough to stand by the laws of God in this matter.

Then again, the worship of the "almighty dollar" is not everything in the South. While money is desirable and men like to accumulate property, men are not idolized simply because they are immensely rich. despised in the South if his corruption is manifest.

men in the North as John Davis and Robert C. Winthrop, of Mass.; as Horatio Seymour, Allan G. Thurman, Jeremiah S. Black, Thomas J Hendricks and some few others. The South can never admire, support, defend or glorify such fellows of the baser sort as Seward, Stanton, Garfield, Blaine, Sherman and Logan.

When such things can be said with truth it is certain that there is a genuine, a radical difference in the people of the two great sections, and that they regard moral, religious, political, educational and social questions from very opposing standingpoints and under very different light.

That gifted and true North Carolina production, Senator Vance, looks at this question of difference very much as the STAR regards it. In his Henderson lecture he said, and it is worth repeating and worth reading daily for a week:

"There are no new sects, isms or ologies in our religion; no communism or exotic factions in our politics; no patriot philanthropy or sentimental humbug in our morals; no chartered scoundrelism or joint stock villainles in our financial life. In this respect we are contented to be behind some States and get along the best we can with the old Ten Commandments. Our people are moving slowly in the production of wealth, it is true, but they are moving pretty much together. As yet there are no startling inequalities among our people; as yet there is no great gulf between the rich and poor which may not be passed. As et we have no Fifth Avenue and no Five Points; no monied aristocracy; no subvert-ing communism. * * * Greater activity and more material progress not the chief aim. The preservation of our free institutions the principal object of our State existence. In these lie the deepening and broadening of our civilization and the general improvement and bettering of our peoole. In our State there is perfect toleration of religion; no communistic uprisings; and absolute safety is guaranteed to life, iberty and property.

THE LIFE SERVICE.

The annual report of L. I. Kimball, General Superintendent of the Life Saving Service, shows satisfactory and instructive results. At the close of the last fiscal year there were 203 stations, 157 being on the Atlantic, 38 on the lakes, 7 on the Pacific, and 1 at the Falls of the Ohio, Louisville, Ky. We give the summary of operations: "The number of disasters to documented ressels within the field of station operations during the year was 256. There were on board these vessels 2,206 persons, of whom 2,196 were saved and only 10 lost. The number of shipwrecked persons who received succor at the stations was 568, to whom 1,686 days' relief in the aggregate was afforded. The estimated value of the vessels involved in these disasters was $3,519,550, and that of their cargoes $1,-084,905, making the total value of property imperiled $4,604,455. Of this amount $3,352,760 was saved and $1,251,695 lost. The number of vessels totally lost was 56 In addition to the foregoing there were during the year 115 casualties to smaller crafts, such as sailboats, rowboats, &c., on which were 233 persons, 232 of whom were saved and 1 lost."

The STAR has always been glad to say a hearty word for this important and humane branch of the service. The rescuing from death of one immortal being is a great deed. The benefits of the Life Saving department of our country are so apparent that no words are needed. The Congress ought to foster it and to do all that can make the men belonging to it comfortable and give them good pay. Men who are exposed so much and make such great risks deserve liberal compensation.

It is the clear duty of the Congress to see to it that they receive it. There are some occasions when it is criminal to stint, and there are men so deserving that parsimony must not be considered in remunerating them. Here is a service so merciful, so needed, so commendable that a reform may well be practiced if it is to place it upon the best possible foundation and to give the hardy and gallant men liberal pay

The North Carolina Conference, in session at Charlotte, decided by a vote of 92 ayes to 116 nays against the division. There was but 9 majority among the preachers. The lay majority against the division was 15. The total majority against was 24. This whole matter will be gone over again in 1889, we suppose. With only 24 against them the advocates of division will doubtless take heart and enter with renewed hope and courage upon another contest. Eight years ago the Conference decided that division was desirable. The Conference has grown much since then. It will probably increase in the next four years and then will be seen what will be seen by those living. The STAR has no opinion of the question of division. is a matter for those concerned. merely notes the above as a vehicle of public intelligence.

The STAR would be glad indeed if Ireland could obtain her independence. She richly deserves it if long oppressions and sufferings can qualify a people for self-government and freedom. It is not that we do not It is quite possible for a Crœsus to be sympathize with those who are trying to bring about separation and independence that we pointed out the Once more: the South reveres such | folly of the Parnellites combining | reports of the committee on the subwith the Tories. History has many lessons for the patient student. W are fully satisfied that no great prosperity and no great political privileges additional to what it has awaits Ireland under continued Tory rule.

Mr. Parnell has experienced in his own person the intolerence of men. He has seen that his own countrymen are as capable of hooting him down when he does not happen to suit their mood or the peculiar complexion of the crowd as they are of hissing and deriding any Liberal. At Dundalk he undertook to speak. There were 4,000 Callanites (friends of the candidate opposed to Mr. Parnell), and the following occurred:

"Four thousand Callanites assembled and prevented the erection of a platform. Mr. Parnell, who was present, attempted to speak from a wagonette in the market square, but was howled down. He retired, shouting 'You hired rufflanst' A number of fights took place, and Mr. Nolan, who also attempted to address the crowd, was hooted and pelted. The Parnellites withdrew to a hotel, and similar scenes were witnessed. In one of the fights a youth was stabbed and dangerously wounded."

There are said to be 200,000 colonels in the State of Georgia. Lately, near Atlanta, two men met who mutually acknowledged that they were not colonels. They embraced each other. Said the first. are an oasis in a desert of dignity. have refreshed my lonely heart." Said the second, "you have dropped like an angel from heaven;" and then each laid his head on the shoulder of the other and wept .-Richmond State.

This is too affecting. It was sight for angels and high privates to gaze upon and wonder. It is estimated that North Carolina has 8,500 Generals and 139,963 "Kurnels." Of these 37,439 are "Yarboro House Kurnels." North Carolina seems to be behind Georgia in "Kurnels," but it is away ahead on Judges and Honorables. Sure thing that.

THE PERIODICALS.

Lippincott's Magazine for December opens with a description of a Tobacco-Plantation in Virginia, written evidently with ample knowledge of all the details of the subject, including the condition and habits of the laborers and their present relations with their employers. In "Scenes of Charlotte Bronte's Life in Brussels," Dr. Theo. Wolfe gives a deeply interesting account of a recent visit to the "Pensionnot Heger," and brings up vividly the localities and characters immortalized in "Villette" and "The Professor." "Cackham Dean," by Margaret Bertha Wright, is a very amusing sketch of artist life at a favorite resort on the the Upper Thames. "Birds of a Texan Winter," by Edward C. Bruce, is agreeable and suggestive reading, though it requires for its appreciation a love of nature which is more commonly talked about than possessessed. Te many persons the most attractive article in the number will be the "Letters and Reminiscences of Charles Reade,' by K. Cornwallis. We notice that, commencing with the New Year, this popular Magazine will be reduced in price to $2 per annum, and other important changes will

The December Eclectic keeps up the rep utation of the magazine. The leading article, by Cardinal Newman, studies the "Development of Religious Error" from the Papal standpoint. Mr. H. D. Traill's article on the "Novel of Manners" is suggestive, and Walter Pater, author of "Marius the Epicurean," is represented by an Eighteenth century study under the head of "A Prince of Court Painters." "Carlisle as a Political Teacher" is discussed by Standish O'Grady. The article by Max Mulier, entitled "The Lesson of Jupiter," will command the attention of scholars. "Men and Manners in Constantinople," by Philo Turk; "As You Like It and Stratford-on-Avon," by Sidney L. Lee; "Competitive Examination in China," from Blackwood's; "The Recipe for Genius," from Cornhill, and "The Story of Helene Gillet," by S. Baring Gould. North Carolina Medical Journal for November has a paper by Dr. W. C. McDuffle, of Fayetteville, entitled "De Lunatico Inquirendo." Dr. J. M. Hays, of Oxford, contributes a report of a "Case of Casarian Section after Death of Mother-the Living Child Removed." This is a very remarkable case, we believe. There are several selected papers and copious reviews, book notices, notes and gatherings from current medical literature. A really excellent publication that cannot fail to be of special beneat to the profession at home and abroad. Price $3 a year. Dr. Thomas F. Wood, editor, Wilmington, N. C.

N. C. CONFERENCE.

Charlotte Observer.

Fifth Day. The fate of the Conference division agitation was decided for the present at the session yesterday, after a hard fought battle. The question was made the special order for discussion at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, and from that hour the day was devoted exclusively to its consideration, the arguments being earnest, warm, and in several stances unusually eloquent.

Question 20 was taken up, viz: "Are all the preachers blameless in their life and official administration?" The following elders passed the examination of character:

Raleigh District-N. H. D. Wilson, W. C. Norman, W. L. Cunning-gim, J. B. Bobbitt, J. D. Buie, J. T. Gibbs, Daniel May, T. A. Boone, J. J. Renn, J. E. Thompson, J. W. Avent, F. L. Reid.

Durham District-W. S. Black, J. E. Gray, J. T. Lyon, L. L. Nash, J. B. Martin, A. W. Mangum. Greensboro District-L. W. Crawford, T. H. Pegram. The hour of 10 o'clock having arject of a division of the Conference, was announced. The question recurred on the motion of J. E. Mann to take up the minority report as a substitute. Pending discussion the hour of one o'clock arrived, and on motion of J. R. Brooks the time of the session was extended indefinitely. On motion of V. A. Sharp it was ordered that when the Conference adjourn it be to 3 c'clock p. m. At 1.25 o'clock the Conference adjourned with the Bishop's benediction to 4

On the reassembling of Conference at 4 p. m. the discussion of the division question was resumed. Arguments were made in favor of division and for the minority report by R. O. Burton, L. S. Burkhead, J. E. Mann and W. M. Robey, and against the minority report by T. P. Ricaud, N H. D. Wilson, L. L. Nash and E. A.

The vote was called on the adoption of the minority report, with the following result:

The afternoon session was wholly taken up with the consideration of this question, except partial proceedings under the call of the 20th question, "Are all the preachers blameless in their official administration?" when the Rev. J. R. Griffith, of the Durham district read his report and and his character passed.

OUR STATE CONTEMPORARIES.

It cannot be sound statesmanship or genuine wisdom for the Federal Government to collect taxes from the people of the States in order to send it back to the same States to educate their children. Because each State could do this with much less expense than the general government. The pretext that the money is already in the Treasury and cannot otherw out is all nonsense and bosh. The government is in debt more than one billion five hundred millions of dollars, which must be paid some time between this and judgment day, by this generation or some gen-eration which shall come after us.—Sectland Neck Democrat.

A good deal has been said about breaking up the "Solid South" by dividing the negro vote. It is conceded that if the negro vote were divided the white vote would also divide. But the Republican party has heretofore been able to carry the negro vote by appealing to the race prejudices of the black man. Will that party cease to work that prolific soil? We fear that it will not. The solidity of the white race of the South is, under existing conditions, a guarantee of good government and internal quiet. We see no good reason why it should be dissolved.—Hickory Press.

Sensational Scene in the Reichstag - The King of Burmah Surrenders Himself to the British. (By Cable to the Morning Star.)

BERLIN, December 2.—There was a sen sational scene in the Reichstag yesterday when the President read the Emperor' message, which was countersigned by Prince Bismarck. After Bismarck's speech which created a still greater surprise, Dr Wendthorst, who was greatly excited and hardly able to speak, moved to discuss his interpellation. The motion was carried, the whole House, with the exception of the Conservatives, voting in its favor. Thereupon Prince Bismarck, followed by all of the members of the Bundsrath, lef

Dr. Wendthorst then moved to withdraw the interpellation, in order to consider the Emperor's message.

The Progressives, led by Herr Richter wanting immediate discussion of the mes sage, challenged a division on Dr. Windthorst's motion, which was carried. In the discussion of the Budget, when the item of Bismarck's salary was reached Dr. Wendthorst renewed his question regarding the expulsion of the Poles. Prince Bismarck, who had re-entered the Chamber while Dr. Wendthorst was speaking, refused to discuss the matter. The salary tem was then voted.

Two Dreams. Americus (Ga.) Republican.

Last fall Dr. Easom, a clever and reliable gentleman, well known in Americus, had a dream that he visited the residence of Dr. D. B. Searcy, in Monroe county, and when he few days he received a notice by mail that on the day preceding the night of his dream the doctor died. Last Friday night he dreamed that he entered the same room and Mrs. Searcy was not there. The dream awoke him, and recalling his former experience, he awoke his wife and told her that his cousin, Camilla Searcy, was dead. On Monday last he received a letter stating that Mrs. Camilla Searcy died on the day preceding his dream. Dr. Searcy and Dr. Easom were cousins.

New York Naval Stores Market.

N. Y. Commercial Bulletin, Dec. 1. Receipts to-day, 41 bbls rosin and 120 do. spirits turpentine. Stocks of spirits turpentine have not been added to very largely the past few days, and sellers were apparently in no hurry to force sales, but were still asking 37tc for merchantable order. The business has been of a retail order, and moderate at that. Options remain totally neglected. In rosins a few small sales are being made, which reduces the stock from 100 to 300 bbls daily, but, beyond this, nothing is doing.

> Savannah Rice Market. Savannah News, Dec. 1.

RICE.-The market was dull and inactive; nothing doing of consequence The sales for the day were only 25 barrels. The Board of Trade's official quotations were as follows: Fair 44@44c; Good 5@51c; Prime 51@51c. Rough rice—Country lots 95c@$1 10; idewater $1 20@1 45.

New York Peanut Market. N. Y. Journal of Commerce, Dec. 1. Peanuts are without change in price. A moderate demand is noted. Quoted at 41@ 44c for best hand picked, and 8@34c for farmers' grades.

GOUT, RHEUMATISM, AND DISEASES GENE-

DR. JAMES L. CABELL,

"The water of Spring No. 2 contains in notable quantities two of the Alkalies, which are accredited as extremely valuable in the treatment of Gout, Lithiasis, and Liver Affections. I refer to the Carbonates of Potash and Lithia. It is now well known that both of these alkaline carbonates have an ascertained value in cases of Uric Acid Diathesis connected with Gravel, and in cases of Chronic Gout, because of their affinity for Uric Acid, and the great solubility of the salts which are formed by their union with that acid."

DR. ALGERNON S. GARNETT,

"Hence, it is a prophylactic as well as a remedy in Nephritic Colic and forming Calculi, when due to a redundancy of Lithic Acid."

Gout. Rheumatic Gout, Rheumatism, Stone in the Biadder, and all diseases of Uric Acid Diathesis, I know of no remedy at all comparable to Buffalo Lithia Water, Spring No. 2. In a single case of Bright's Disease of the Kidneys I witnessed very marked beneficial results from its use, and from its action in this particular case, I should have great confidence in it in this disease."
