Strange to say the city of Paris is iosing its population. It has 115,000 less than it had four years ago.

It ar the opinion of the cheer that the majority has it and I'll be shaved if hit ain't got to stand so. - John Logan as President pro tem.

It is hard to decide which is the bigger fraud as a military man. Thebaw or Milan. A court martial ought to be called to decide.

Representative Scott, of Pennsylvania, was once a page in the House of Representatives. He was born in Virginia and is booked as worth $15,000,000.

It was charged that a physician bled Mr. Hendricks and killed him. A mistake. The physician denies it and says that the Vice President was not bled at all.

Rah! for Logan. He was nominated in the Republican caucus for President pro tem. of the Senate and declined. This is the "greatest effort of his life."

Gen. Toombs is not only alive but Dr. Logan, of Atlanta, says there is no reason to believe that he is near death. The whole South will be glad at this announcement.

Rev. H. D. Moore, editor of the Masonic Review, has been suspended indefinitely by a committee of the Grand Commandery of Ohio Knights Templar. An appeal is taken.

There are hundreds of preachers in the North that war upon tobacco, billiards and Sunday papers. They may be bad, but there are worse things in the North than those.

The Norfolk Virginian has just commemorated its twenty years of newspaper life, and issued accordingly a large and attractive edition. Capt. Orr is making it very acceptable no doubt to its subscribers. In his hands it has not certainly de-

Now the news comes that peace in Europe is very uncertain, as Austrian and Bulgarian interests begin to clash. If Austria pushes her nose in the Bear and the Lion and some other "varmints" may go to nosing around also, and there may be "a meantime the Turkey gobbles and enters Eastern Roumelia.

Vice President Hendricks was perpendicular man with no foolish gush or sham about him. But he did not love the Mugwamps. He is thus reported:

"He said the shifting from party to party might do in England, where it was done because of some overshadowing principle of foreign or domestic policy, but in this country the only thing controlling the shifting reads."

Louis. He was attacked in advance by the press. But he is waking up the people. Fully 5,000 male adults heard him. Sam wept often, and an account in a hostile paper says that he "swayed the vast audience like a sorcerer, now moving them with his terrible denunciations to repentant terror, and now convulsing them with laughter by his dry, searching wit and humor." Here is one of his most amusing sketches:

"Not along ago a loving wife slipped a little indicator into her husband's pocket, and that night when he came home she took the little indicator out and found that her husband had walked seventeen miles. " 'Why, husband, where have you been? she asked.

"'Down to my office posting my books.'
"You don't walk when you post your books, do you ?"

"'No, I sat at my desk."
"Well, it's a half mile to your office and a half mile back'—and then she stuck the record before his eyes and asked him to explain. He was then compelled to acknowledge that he had walked sixteen miles around a billiard table playing pool."

The Irish are naturally very greatly elated over the defeat of the Liberals, in as much as they voted with the Tories. The Liberals attribute their defeat to Parnell and his crowd. Bnt this was before the tide had turned in favor of the Liberals. They have made heavy gains and are now in the lead. There were many bloody riots on Tuesday. Thus far the vote stands, 237 Liberals 193 Tories and 44 Parnellites. A tie but with the chances of a majority over all in favor of the Liberals. A dispatch from the Tory correspondent of the New York Times, dated London Dec. 3d, says:

"In the old constituencies the Tories have gained 38 seats and the Liberals 6, while in the newly formed constituencies the Tories have won 108 seats and the Liberals 107. The net Tory gain is 33.

"For the first time since the beginning of the elections there is a likelihood of the Liberals exceeding the Tories and Parnellites. It is admitted that Saturday's vote will decide the contest The Liberals have become jubilant over their later successes."

If the Liberals should have a majority of one it is almost certain that Mr. Gladstone will be at the head of the Government again. The Irish Liberals have not elected a member. The Standard, Tory, declares "that nothing less than two-thirds of the remaining seats will give Lord Salisbury an adequately strong following, and that a vigorous and united effort is imperative."

P. S .- The Liberals have 4 majority up to the latest returns.

N. C. CONFERENCE.

Last Day-The Seventh. Charlotte Observer.

After the reading of the previous day's journal, reports were read by various committees. W. H. Bobbitt moved that the collection to defray the expenses of the delegates to the General Conference be taken up not later than the middle of next April, and forwarded to the nearest delegate. This motion was adopted. On motion of E. A. Yates, the hour of 10.15 a. m., was set apart for memorial services.

Question 1 was recalled, viz: Who are admitted on trial?" William A. Forbes, of Person circuit. Question 20 was recalled, viz:

'Are all the preachers blameless in their life and official administration?" W. S. Creasy, elder of Salisbury district, passed the examination of The hour of 10.15 having arrived, the memorial services were begun. It was announced that since the last annual Conference, the following members had died: Jno. W. Lewis, Robt. P. Bibb, Henry Gray, John W. Floyd, Chas. H. Phillips, John N. Andrews, Baxter C. Phillips, Lemuel H. Gibbons, William I Hull. The Bishop announced the hymn: "Why do we mourn departing friends?" and the memoirs of the deceased members were then read. T. S. Campbell read the memoir of John W. Lewis; R. T. N. Stephenson that of Robt. P. Bibb; Henry Gray's memoir was read by J. R. Griffith, John W. Floyd's by T. S. Campbell: Chas. H. Phillips' by J. R. Griffith, on behalf of S. V. Hoyie; Baxter C. Phillips' by Sames H. Southgate; Lemuel H. Gibbons by Joseph D. Arnold; Wm. I. Hull's big old fight sure enough." In the by Hugh F. Wiley; John N. Andrews by Wm. L. Cunninggim, in behalf of John M. Rhodes.

At the conclusion of the memorial exercises, Bishop Keener proceeded with the interesting business of reading the appointments.

- Wadesboro Times: Through a private letter we learn that the editor of the Times is quite unwell in Washington, but as soon as he gets out he will be heard from. — Amos Little, the colored man who was shot by Tom Pratt, also colored, in the thigh near Morven several days ago, died from the effects of the wound last Saturday evening.

Chadbourn Times: At Abbotts. burg last Saturday night week a colored woman left her two children and went to "meeting." When she returned the house was on the and the children were on the inside begging their mother to relieve their, but she could not without losing her wn life, and the children begged until the ire burned them and hushed their voices. They were burned to ashes.

- Raleigh Visitor: The Rev. Wm. Franks, a prominent member of the Christian church, died at his residence in Swift Creek township, Wake county, on Tuesday afternoon last, after a brief illness, aged 61 years. — The Board of Agriculture met vesterday. Mr. Montford McGehee, the Commissioner, submitted his report. Dr. Charles W. Dabney, State Chemist, made a full report, showing the expenses of his department to be $7,855.

- Fayetteville Observer-Gazette; We were glad to meet yesterday Mr. Williams, of Rockingham county, who, in company with two or three other gentlemen from that county, is on a visit to this section, with a view to selecting lands for the purpose of tobacco culture. Mr. Williams expresses himself as highly pleased so far, and says he finds much of the land here peculiarly adapted to tobacco. Some of the seemingly worn-out and exhausted lands he thinks the very best for tobacco.

- Wadesbero Intelligencer: Mrs. N. R. Crowson, beloved wife of Mr. Thos. Crowson, died at her home in Wadesboro, on the 25th of November, after several months' intense suffering. — About ninety negroes left Laurinburg last Saturday week for the far away land of Arkansas. — Mr. John S. Atkins, one of Stanley's best men, boarded the train at Wadesboro with his family, last week en route for Texas. — On Friday afternoon last, when Mr. Staton, the jailor, went above to transfer the prisoners from the day room into a cell, he was assaulted by the prisoners, who attempted to overpower him and escape. He was ready for the emergency, however, and shot the foremost one through the thigh, which had the effect of subducing the rest.

experience of the writer. The following by W. G. Whitmore, a pilot of Port Adelaide, is a fair example: "The first time I saw the soothing effect of oil on the sea was in the year 1848, when serving my time in a whaling ship in Davis Straits. I have there seen the ship lying to in a gale of wind cutting in a whale alongside, and the sea for a circle of many miles was quite smooth, caused by the oil from the whale. My next experience was in 1868. I commanded a ship bound from New Castle to Melbourne. When off Sydney Head I encountered a terrific gale. followed by a tremendous sea, my ship making a great deal of water, and found i necessary to run for a port of shelter. After getting the ship before the wind, the heavy sea that was running sometimes broke over the stern to the danger of the ship and crew. I then tried the oil bag, putting about one-half gallon in the bag, ying the neck tight and towing it astern of the ship. After a short time the effect was wonderful, for what was a very heavy running and dangerous sea was reduced by the use of the oil into what a seaman would call blind rollers, quite harmless to a ship; in fact, the effect was so marked that it appeared by looking astern that the vessel was passing through a lane of smooth water. I ran my half sinking ship from Sydney Head to Port Stevens, a distance of 68 miles, in 84 hours, on a consumption of gallons of oil. My subsequent experiences have convinced me that a ship could run in any sea with safety for 24 hours on a consumption of five gallons of oil."

Mineral oil, it is said, will not do for this purpose; it must be either animal or vege-

Sheriff Manning Says that Tony Ashe is Not One of his Deputies.

OFFICE SHERIFF OF NEW HANOVER CO., WILMINGTON, N. C., Dec. 4th, 1885. Editor Star: - Will you be kind enough o state in your paper that Tony Ashe is not a deputy sheriff of this county. Some six or eight-years ago he was deputised to serve papers for a magistrate, but on get-ting drunk his commission was revoked. For the past several years he has built the fires and cleaned out the Sheriff office. We have never known anything dishonest about Tony, but he has a failing, common to many in and out of office, of getting drunk occasionally.

Very respectfully, S. H. MANNING, Sheriff

As Ashe had been acting as jailor during the absence of Jailor Nichols, and as he had the keys of the county jail in his possession when arrested, it was a natural supposition that he was one of the Sheriff's deputies. Furthermore, when Ashe was brought before the Mayor yesterday morning, his Honor told him that but for the fact of his being an officer, he would bind him over to the Criminal Court for carrying concealed we apons. We were not aware before that the keys of the jail were ever put in the possession of any one but a

A DOWN TOWN MERCHANT, having passed several sleepless nights, disturbed by the agonies and cries of a suffering child, and becoming convinced that Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup was just the article needed, procured a supply for the child. On reaching home and acquainting his wife with what he had done, she refused to have it administered to the child, as she was strongly in favor of Homeopathy. That night the child passed in suffering, and the parents without sleep. Returning home the day following, the father found the baby still suffering; and while contemplating another sleepless night, the mother stepped from the room to attend to some domestic duties and left the father with the child. During her absence he administered a portion of the Soothing Syrup to the baby, and said nothing. That night all hands slept well, and the little fellow awoke in the morning bright and happy! The mother was delighted with the wonderful change, and although at first offended at the deception practiced upon her, has continued to use the Syrup, and suffering crying babies and restless nights have disappeared. A single trial of the Syrup never yet failed to relieve the baby, and overcome the prejudices of the mother. Sold by all Druggists. 25 cents a bottle.
