MORNING EDITION.

OUTLINES.

The Treasurer of the United States makes his annual report. Mr. Pennington, U. S. Minister at Berlin, is dissatisfied with his position. At Manly, N. C., Saturday, Rufus Sigel, negro, cut the throat of Alex. Carter, white; the latter died; the negro escaped. Schooner Nellie Wadsworth wrecked at Hatteras; crew rescued; one man died from exposure. Troops are en route to Salt Lake City; rumors are afloat regarding a Mormon uprising. Congress met; the Senate organized by the election of Mr. Sherman President of the Senate; Mr. Carlisle was elected Speaker of the House; both houses adjourned out of respect to the memory of Vice President Hendricks. Jos. P. Gully, dry goods dealer, Raleigh, has made an assignment; liabilities $30,000. Three negroes were hanged for burglary at Gatesville, in Gates county, N. C., yesterday. H. B. Twining committed suicide by jumping overboard from the steamer Ashland, at sea. Four men killed and a fifth man fatally injured by an accident at the new Croton aqueduct, in Westchester county, N. Y. New York markets: Money 2 1/2 per cent.; cotton dull at 90 1/2; wheat, ungraded red 88 1/2; corn, ungraded 49 1/2; southern flour steady; spirits turpentine dull at 87 1/2; rosin dull at 1 02 1/2 to 10.

A negro boy 12 years old committed suicide at Atlanta the other day. He did it to spite his mammy. Fourteen vessels were lost in the gale at Colon, and many sailors are known to have been drowned. Louis Riel's last work was to write a brief history of his people and of the causes which led to the rebellion. Mr. Gladstone has issued an address to his Midlothian constituency. He takes a hopeful view and scouts the idea of a coalition with the Tories. Louis Martin wrote to the New York World that he raised six squashes, the largest weighing 80 pounds, the smallest 55 pounds, all 405 pounds. He lives in Indiana. It is reported from Washington that President Cleveland and the two New York members of his Cabinet are opposed to a change of the rules of the House. Randall is also opposed. The Irish will take nothing less than a full restoration of the Irish Parliament. They will get this provided the Tories and Liberals will let them have it. We hope they will be successful in this demand. The New Orleans papers are doing a bad business in pitching into the President for not attending the funeral of the Vice President. He acted prudently and in accordance with the wishes of most Democrats and the suggestions of the press. Canon Farrar, the eloquent English writer, has left our shores for his home. He is a man to be admired, and he has had, as the girls would say, "a good time" since he entered the United States. He carries back the good wishes of Americans and a pocket full of shakels. Mr. Beecher preaches to a crowded house, but he also preaches to a great many in their homes. The Brooklyn Eagle says: "Mr. Beecher's audience is larger than that which occupies the pews before him on Sunday, for he talks directly into a large telephone receiver, placed below the edge of his pulpit, and connected with wires that stray around to numerous residences of his friends and parishioners." Mr. Sam Randall professes to be very apprehensive of a raid on the U. S. Treasury, provided the rules of the House are changed. Boah! I am not Mr. Randall himself a strong advocate of the Blair raid on the Treasury, that proposes to take out and misapply some $90,000,000? The truth is Samuel is afraid of being checkmated in some of his plans. Hinc ille lachrymæ.

It is not probable, we suppose, that the Liberals will have a majority of the whole, if we may judge from the returns and speculations. The latest by mail is as follows: "Returns up to late to night from the constituencies thus far polled show that 318 of the Liberal candidates, 243 of the Conservatives, and 70 of the Nationalists have been returned. The constituencies yet to be polled are 22 in all, as follows: One in England, four in Scotland, and seventeen in Ireland. A careful estimate by the Central News correspondent of the places yet to be polled makes it almost certain that the next House of Commons will be composed of 331 Liberal members, 356 Tories and 84 Nationalists, making a total of 771."

The promise is that Maj. John W. Daniel will win the Virginia Senatorship, in spite of the confident prediction of the press favorable to Mr. Barbour. Mr. Daniel would reflect more honor on Virginia. He is the most accomplished orator of the old State, and a man of splendid parts, as his masterly oration on Lee shows. We thought this oration at the time it was delivered to be the most consummate effort of the kind in Southern eloquence, and we have had no occasion to change our view.

John Sherman, the bosom friend of Eliza Finkston, and the chief conspirator in the rape of Louisiana and Florida—a bad, open, wicked, able, aggressive political slinger—has been elected President pro tempore of the United States Senate. Let the American eagle fly to his mountain eyry and the Goddess of Liberty seek refuge in the mountains of North Carolina. But he will not endanger the life of the Republic, as the order of succession will be soon changed we have no doubt.

Mr. Chamberlain, the leader of the extreme wing of the Liberal party, made a speech at Leicester, in which he gave his opinion of the situation. He said among other things: "Mr. Parnell boasted that he had throttled the Liberal party. He would probably regret the boast. If it were true, then he had throttled the only great machinery that existed for securing justice to Ireland. Mr. Chamberlain said he did not believe that there would be a permanent alienation of the Irish voters from the Liberal party. The country would probably have for a short time a weak government, existing by the sufferance of its opponents. If it did no mischief it might live; if it did harm the Liberals would speedily end it."

A curious case occurred at Montreal. Three women claimed the same child. This beats Solomon's case by one. The child was in the small-pox hospital, was two years old, and was to be discharged. Three women claim it. It is much disfigured and is too young to recognize the real mother. The confusion has resulted from several children having been buried without their parents having been notified.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.

There are nine towns with daily papers. Raleigh has three flourishing Baptist churches. Rev. Ed. M. Poter has accepted the Assistant Professorship of Languages in Wake Forest College. New Bern Journal: A large quantity of rice in market yesterday, which sold at $1.00 to $1.08 per bushel. We are glad to see the excellent Goldsboro Argus reditatus. Our young friend Jo Robinson is on deck. Young voyage. Jim Robinson is with the Messenger and that paper is fortunate. Great success Jim. Durham Reporter: Real estate in Fayetteville is on a boom. Two stores on one of the business thoroughfares sold the other day for $3,925 and $4,000 respectively, which could have been bought before the completion of the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railroad to Greensboro and Bennettsville, a year or two ago, for $1,800 or less. Elizabeth City Economist: The scarcity of farm labor is getting to be a serious matter in many of the agricultural counties in Eastern North Carolina. The process of removal is not conducted on the large scale reported from some parts of the State, but there is a gradual decrease of farm labor until it has come to be regarded as a very serious matter. Greensboro Workman: Forty-eight new looms have been received here for Naomi Factory. Mrs. Elizabeth Reid, sister of Mrs. Permelia Smith, of this place, and aunt of Mr. W. S. Moore, died in Reidsville this morning. She was the relict of the late Alfred Reid, of Rockwell, and grand aunt of the late Sidney Lanier, of literary and poetic fame. Asheboro Advance: The divers made two unsuccessful attempts to find the body of Fireman Whitley yesterday in the railroad wreck near Warm Springs. Gen. Johnston Jones, of error to represent the eye by the Wilmington, North Carolina at the National Military Convention to be held in Washington, D. C., on the 15th inst. Charlotte Observer: Mr. A. M. Penneck, the popular manager of the Western Union telegraph office in this city, has tendered his resignation, for the good and sufficient reason that he has been promoted, having been appointed manager of the Western Union office in Chattanooga, Tenn. We regret to announce the death of Mrs. Samuel J. Pemberton, who was burned by the overturning of a kerosene oil lamp, at her home in Albemarle, two weeks ago. Pemberton's death occurred on the evening of December 8th. Stateville Landmark: There were three good old fashioned "fat and skull" fights in town Wednesday, with the old fashioned accompaniments of broken noses, black eyes, &c. The most notable of the engagements was that between Messrs. W. E. A. Gregory and W. R. Maxwell, two prominent business men. Both camps off worked. Mr. Alfred N. Proffit, of Reedy Branch, Wilkes county, was during the late war, a member of Company D, Capt. A. H. Moore's company, and in the battle of the Wilderness was shot between the eyes by the Rebels. He was taken until the 4th of last month, when he was taken with a sneezing spell and sneezed it out through his nose. The ball was not much larger than a buckshot. Capt. J. O. McLeod, of Concord township, raised this year an 85 bushel crop of wheat, and a crop of 50 bushels of corn, and a crop of 1,500 pounds of seed cotton. One acre of this land, which, in wheat last year produced 22 bushels, yielded 1,380 bushels of this cotton. And the story of the whole story is that this excellent return was without the use of a particle of commercial fertilizer compost only having been used on the land.

Raleigh News-Observer: The editor of the Baltimore Manufacturers Record, who is still sojourning in Western North Carolina for the benefit of his health, writes in his paper from Tryon City: "Without an exception, so far as I have been able to learn, there is not a resident here, who came for either throat or lung affections, that has not been either entirely cured or greatly benefited and is still improving. The State auditor is busily engaged sending out warrants on the State treasurer to the pensioners under the new law. He has done a very thoughtful thing in sending to each pensioner a circular letter, as follows: 'Enclosed I send you warrant No. for the sum of $14.75 1/2, on the public treasurer of the State, your pro rata share of the annual appropriation made by the General Assembly for the relief of Confederate soldiers, etc., under act entitled the 11th day of March, 1885. You must endorse on this warrant, by writing your name across the back of it, or in the event you cannot write your name, then by making your mark in the presence of a witness, and upon its presentation to the treasurer he will pay it; or, it will be cashed by any bank, merchant, or country officer, without discount or shave.' Yesterday Governor Seales wrote the sheriff of Gates county, declining to change the sentence of the law in the case of Isaiah Richardson, John Swanson, and Edward Sanders, all colored. On petition for a respite the Governor granted it until Dec. 7. His action in the matter is now final and the men will all be hanged next Monday. Yesterday the Governor sent a similar notice to the sheriff of Mecklenburg county, in the case of Nelson Stewart and Anderson Davis, the two negroes who September 21 committed a burglary at the residence of Capt. S. G. Strickland, at Charlotte. They were convicted in October and sentenced to be hanged November 25. They were reprieved until December 9. They will now be hanged that day, which is next Wednesday. Moore county data: John Melver, who lives near Jonesboro, had a cerebral at his house a short time since. The occasion was the celebration of the 100th birthday of his mother, Mrs. Jean Melver. This old lady came from Scotland, in her girlhood, and is still in good health and vigor. She resides in the house, Mr. Malcolm Morrison, one of the most respected members of his community, died at his home near Cameron on the 23d ult.

Raleigh News-Observer: Maj. Finger, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, is preparing his report of the year's work. He is also preparing the reports of the various counties. Some of these reports, in fact quite a number, have to be returned to the treasurers for correction, owing to errors. We regret the fact that it was thought necessary to postpone the action on the industrial school question. Mr. Chas. Emerson is here, preparing a directory of the North Carolina tobacco belt, including Forsyth, Guilford, Rockingham, Alamance, Orange, Durham, Granville, Vance and Wake counties. Yesterday State Treasurer Bain received a N. C. treasury note issued in 1824. He will file it in the "archives." We have read a three-column article in the Charlotte by our friend Mr. Walter H. Page, and are glad to learn from it that his address is No. 448 Fifth street, Brooklyn, N. Y. It is understood that the appointment of Mr. Charles S. Lambeth to the position of route agent, made vacant by resignation of Mr. Gorman, has been received. The congregation of the First Baptist church at its meeting Friday evening accepted the resignation of Rev. Dr. Skinner as pastor. No names were presented for the new vacant position. At a meeting of the members of the First Presbyterian church Thursday evening to elect additional ruling elders and deacons, the following were elected: Elders, E. R. Stamps, Leo D. Heatt, B. R. Harding, Deacons, John M. Sherwood, Geo. C. Jordan, Walter Hay, C. G. Whiting. State Treasurer Bain received a N. C. treasury note issued in 1824. He will file it in the "archives."
