WICKED EMISSARIES AMONG THE NEGROES

EVENING EDITION.

A negro from the Feasterville section who went to Arkansas several months ago has returned and is organizing clubs of emigrants to go to Arkansas. He informs the negroes that as soon as they reach Arkansas they are presented with an absolute title to 500 acres of land, a mule, and provisions to run them for one year. All the property is exempt from taxation for five years. The negroes are taking this yarn in with as much confidence as if the leader was a new prophet arisen to lead them to a new-land of promise.—Winnsborough, S. C., News and Herald.

The South Carolinians in some sections have cleaned out the so-called emigrant agents and forced them to leave and to stand not on the order of their going. It is a wonder that the Feasterville people have not compelled this modern Munchausen to gather his traps and be off. When a fellow enters a community and begins his work of lying and deception, the purpose of which is to render laborers discontented and to allure them with false promises to break up and go a thousand miles away to seek new homes under no better conditions than those they have left, and, in many instances, under worse conditions, then such a nefarious plotter ought to be dealt with. If he does not like the Arab silently steal away when ordered to depart then a little gentle coercion should be tried. Such visitors are public nuisances and are a positive injury to society and to the industrial interests of com munities.

Only yesterday the STAR published an account of one hundred negroes being in Charlotte in a destitute condition. They were from the Laurinburg section, and had paid their way that far expecting to meet an agent from Kansas who was to pay their way to that distant State. They are without funds or provisions and are at once reduced to a most helpless and pitiable condition. There are over two hundred more on the Carolina Central Railroad awaiting the coming of the wicked and lying agents with their highly colored descriptions and false promises. Probably as many as one thousand negroes in that section have been induced to break up and either go or prepare to go to Arkansas and Kansas A

The Secretary of the Treasury is an aggressive official with very positive opinions. He is showing considerable ability, although his management is often sharply criticised by newspapers not in the interest of the gold bugs. We refer to his report now to reproduce just one point he makes in connection with the present High Tariff that rests upon the energies and industrial interests of the country like a mighty incubus. We find the point thus stated in the New York Times, a Republican paper:

"The Secretary justly declares our tariff laws to be 'a legacy of war.' He describes their character concisely but with comprehensive clearness. He points out that 'the highest endurable rates of duty which were adopted in 1862-4 to offset internal taxes upon almost every taxable article have in most cases been retained now from fourteen to twenty years after every such internal tax has been repealed.' The average ad alorem rate last year was over 46 per cent., but 24 per cent. less than the highest rate of the war period, and nearly 4 per cent. higher than before the revision of 1883. These rates have been retained while purely revenue rates upon articles not competing with anything produced in the United States have been discarded. Other rates have been maintained on materials for manufactures (in 1884 adding $30,000,000 to their cost) which cannot be exported without coming into competition with for eign manufactures of which the material is free. This is the situation in a nut-

The Tariff in 1885 is but 21 per cent. less on an average than it was in the very heat and tempest of the war. A great shame and blunder ! The Secretary aims his shafts at silver coinage, and in that is in perfect accord with the President. He objects decidedly to its continuan ce and, right or wrong, believes that evils to the country will follow if coinage does not cease. He makes a very plausible argument for the suspension of the coinage of the silver dollar. Strange to say, he is not in favor of increasing the weight of the dollar. The main argument of the monometallists is the short weight of the dollar. But this is not true as there was no change made in the weight of our silver dollar until 1837. In that year it was reduced from 416 grains to 4121 grains. There were 31 grains of copper eliminated from each dollar, and that is the only debasement or clipping the dollar has ever received. The silver dollar 18 now worth 100 cents in silver, Mark that. If the coinage of the of the country he names men of Southern birth. It is estimated that the expenditures for the present fiscal year that ends the 30th of June, 1886, will be $290,750,000. The estimated receipts are $315,000,000 -leaving a balance of $24,250,000. So here is a surplus. But the estimates for the fiscal year ending 30th of June, 1887. are $339,589,552.34. So if the revenues should not be greater than they promise to be for the current year (and there is no prospect of any increase.) then there would be a deficit, instead of a surplus of $24,589, 552. So advocates of the Paternal Pedagogy raid upon the Treasury need not be in a hurry to get rid of the surplus in that way.

THE MESSAGE AMONG CON-GRESSMEN.

New York Times's Washington Letter. Senator Beck was not satisfied with the President's views on the tariff, and he does not think the silver notions will suit the South and West. Senator McPherson thinks the President is sound on silver. On the tariff question he says he adheres to the Democratic platform. Senator Warner Miller says: "On the tariff the message is a straddle; on the silver it will suit the business men of the East and North." Senator Ingalls, of Kansas, characterized the message as "an incoherent mass of dogmatic platitudes, unrelieved by a single novel idea from beginning to end." The suggestions about silver, he said.

---- The Wilmington (N. C.) STAR calls John Sherman, recently elected President of the United States Senate, "a bad, open, wicked, able, aggressive, political slugger.' It should have added that otherwise Sherman was a small potato white man generally, and could hardly flourish in any other sphere than the contracted one which gave hun birth and stamped its indelible impress on him.-Richmond State.

--- There is no further doubt about it. Mr. Randall feels it to be his duty to oppose any change in the House rules which will allow the House to make its appropriations in its own way. There can be but fifteen honest men in the House at one time, and if they are not fortified against the attacks of the 310 thieves there will be a deficit in the Treasury .- Washington Post, Dem.

The Republican Leader of the House Carp's Washington Letter.

I saw Tom Reed to-day. What an immense man he is! He is nearly six feet high, and his frame must weigh considerably over two hundred pounds. He has a big head and its features, which are much like those of a fat Chinaman, have been said to be the exact counterpart of those of the Stratford bust of Shakespeare. He has eyes which are almost almond shaped, and his head sits flat upon his shoulders. His hair is reddish in color, and he wears a thin little red moustache. He will be the leading speaker during the next session, and he is pointed out as the Republican leader. There is no man in Congress, or, indeed, in pub-lic life, unless it be Senator Ingalls, of Kansas, who has been so keen a wit as Tom Reed. There is not one, except Ingalls, who approaches him in the bitter sarcasm and cruel thrusts at an adversary. He has a most tantalizing manner when he gets into a quarrel on the floor of the House, and he does not care if he wounds his enemies so deeply that they carry the scars to their graves.

THE COOKING SCHOOL.

The average girl at marriage is well instructed in sewing. To take her place at the head of a family without a fair knowledge of this useful household art would be to disgrace her mother and herself in the eyes of all her acquaintances. The average young bride goes to a home of her own with a few practical ideas on a matter which will have to come before her thrice a day, and one in which the health and general prosperity of herself and others most essentially depend. Then, if ever she acquires even a passable skill in cookery, it will doubtless be through much wasting and worrying, and manifold non-successes. Meantime dyspepsia, or other evil angel, is lurking in the shadow of her table. To the young wife and housekeeper so circumstanced half the terrors of the kitchen are at once removed by the introduction of the everready, always reliable, Royal Baking Powder. With its proper use there can never be failure in bread, biscuit, or cake, while the perfect healthfulness of the food produced is likewise so well assured that all who partake may defiantly snap their fingers in the face of old Dyspepsia. This point gained, the victory over inexperiences and bad luck in other things is speedily won. The Royal Baking Powder, on account of its superior powers as a leavening agent, the great facility with which it may be used. its proved economy, and its thoroughly established wholesomeness and purity as established by the tests of government chemists and others, has become the general substitute for cream of tartar and soda in the making of nice, sweet, flaky, digestible bread, biscuit, etc. With its use, the young mistress of the house may take a pardonable pride in the work of her hands.

Buffalo Lithia Water __IN___ GOUT, RHEUMATISM, AND DISEASES GENE-RALLY OF URIC ACID DIATHESIS.

DR. JAMES L. CABELL,

Professor of Physiciogy and Surgery in the Med-ical Department of the University of Virginis and President of the National Board of Health, and former Resident Physician, Hot Springs,

"The water of Spring No. 2 contains in nota-ble quantities two of the Alkalies, which are ac-credited as extremely valuable in the treatment of Gout, Lithiasis, and Liver Affections. I refer to the Carbongtes of Potash and Lithia. It is now well known that both of these alkaline carbon-ates have an ascertained value in cases of Urie Acid Diathesis connected with Gravel, and in cases of Chemic Circle barries of Urie of Chronic Gout, because of their affinity for Urie Acid, and the great solubility of the salts which are formed by their union with that acid."

DR. ALGERNON S. GARNETT,

urgeon (Retired) U. S. Navy, Resident Physician Hot Springs, Ark.

Hot Springs, Ark. "My experience in the use of Buffalo Lithia Water is limited to the treatment of Gout, Rheu-matism, and that hybrid disease 'Rheumatio Gout' (so called), which is in contradistinction to the Rheumatoid Arthritis of Garrod. "I have had excellent results from this Water in these affections, both in my own person and in the treatment of patients for whom I have pre-soribed it. Of course the remedial agent is its contained Alkalies and their solvent properties. "Hence, it is a prophylactic as well as a reme-dy in Nephrltic Colic and forming Calcult, when due to a redundancy of Lithic Acid."

DR. W. B. TOWLES,

Member Medical Society of Virginia, Resident Physician Hot Springs, Va.
