The Washington Post is much improved. It has returned to its four page form.

The great European war predicted by Gen. Lew Wallace hangs fire. The flint needs picking.

A U. S. Senator wearing $30,000 worth of jewelry shows his "raising" as Jo Turner would say. But who knows that Teller's diamonds are not rhinestones?

The returns thus fer in show that n Christmas day in the United States there were fourteen murders, seven suicides and twelve attempts at either murder or suicide.

The hard times told upon the fire caskers and fireworks generally on Christmas. In Wilmington not a fourth of the usual sales was made. Money is too scarce to be burnt up.

What a pity Vanderbilt did not give the Grant monument fund $500,000 and close up the business. it would have been to his credit in this world and he has no use for the noney where he is.

ator McPherson, of New Jerby, is hard at work on a speech in of to Senator Beck and in behalf of the bankers and brokers, But Beet can handle him without help. The strongest blows will come from Sherman and other Republicans 'against silver.

Ex-President Arthur is worth $100,000. Considering how obnoxious he was to criticism when a candidate for the Presidency his present standing is something remarkable. He commands more of the respect of Democrats than any Republican President since the war and by a very great deal.

And now Mr. John M. Francis. late Republican Minister to Austria, is out in a cut-and dried interview in which he tries to show that the Secretary of State has committed a diplomatic blunder in dealing with Austria. To make this appear he denies every thing asserted or assumed by Mr. Bayard in the Keiley affair.

THE MORNING STAR.

VOL. XXXVII.--NO. 82. WILMINGTON, N. C., WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 30, 1885.

W. C. is always doing something | Va., being represented. — We sincerely regret to hear of the death of Mrs. John W. Cunningham, formerly Miss Sue Somerto use his riches. The wife of the editor of the New York World, Mrs. Pulitzer, gave on the same day overcoats, shawls and other garments to 300 poor boys and girls. This was

Judge Hugh Campbell, ex-Carpet Bagger and Governor-elect of the State of Dakota that is to be one of the days to come, is out in a letter replying to Senator Vest's charge that he belped to rape Louisiana in 1876, and got office from Haves as pay for the same. He denies the charge, saying that he had nothing to do with the count, and only made a few speeches for Hayes, He is known to have been an active worker in carrying out the fraud, and stealing the vote of Louisiana, whether he was in at the count or not. Of course he is anxious to have Dakota in the Union, but he is not the kind of statesman the Democrats are in Europe had any thing else than a Merry Christmas. The outlook is most depressing The universal complaint is hard times, and the gravest issues are unsettled. In London there is unmistakable distress. The London correspondent of the New York Times telegraphs on the 26th inst .:

"Any day during the past fortnight one could see thousands of faint and ragged wretches prowling outside of the wharves, each ready to fight the other in order to be one of a score who were admitted to a day's work for forty cents if a ship happened to come in. Everywhere business is reported to be worse than it was a year ago. It is said that not a single Christmas publication has yielded a profit. At the London docks less than one half the quantity of wine has been taken out of bond that was taken out last year. More tangible luxuries suffer in

It is more apparent now that Mr. Gladstone can command the most of his followers in his efforts to deal with Ireland. Several of the leaders have signified their willingness to accept the reported plan of the great leader. Mr. Chamberlain, the leader of the Radicals, it was thought, would strike out an independent plan and would mutiny against the Gladstone policy, but he is becoming more tractable, it is reported, since he felt his stiength. The London correspondent of the New York Times writes of Mr. Chamberlain as

"A conversation has been reported to me privately as occurring between him and an ex-Minister who went from Hawarden to probe his intentions. He was extremely bitter, and swore he would revolt. "How many members do you think would follow you? asked his visitor. "Sixty, said Mr. Chamberlain.

"Not six,' was the answer. But all the country victories were won my name. I was the one man whom the new voters always cheered. "Yes, your name was excellent with Mr. Gladstone as its endorser; but it would not have been worth a rush without it. Make no mistake; inquire before you act."

- Marlin (Texas) Ball: The Ball is called upon this week to chronicle the sad death of Msj. T. D. Williams, which occurred very suddenly in his room in Marlin on Monday evening last. Mr. Wil-liams was a graduate of the University of North Carolina, in which State he was born. He graduated with the very highest honors and was a class mate of Senator Zeb Vance. Mr. Williams was on the staff of the brave and intrepid Gen. John B. Hood, and distinguished himself for gallant services on many a hard fought field,

- Edenton Enquirer: The Washington & Jamesville Road, which was purchased a few days since by parties representing the Pennsylvania Railroad, is to be extended to Suffolk, Va., on an air line. The distance from Washington to Suffolk is about one hundred miles through a country level and very productive. It will cross Roanoke river at Jamesville, Cashie river a few miles below Windsor and Chowan river at Holi-

C. is opening a new mine on Bailey Mountain, near the one mined by Gould & Watson. Many farmers are working mines on their farms. The celebrated Clarrissa has been ielding a good supply. The Cranberry iron mines and the large lumber interest in the upper part of the county, are carried forward with undiminished energy. -TROUTMAN'S, N. - Weldon News: Several days ago an affray occurred in Northampton county between James E. Goode and Wm. Wheeler, both white. It appears that the difficulty occurred near Jackson, and is said to have originated in the following manner: Mr. Goode's cattle destroyed a uantity of fodder belonging to Mr Wheeler, for which he thought Goode ought to pay. The two men met on a county road and had some words in reference to the matter which finally led to a fight, in which a pistol and a knife figured prominently. Goode is said to have been shot twice by Wheeler, while the latter was terribly cut by the former. At last accounts t was thought that Wheeler was not in danger, while Goode's wounds were of such a serious character that if he recovers it is feared he will be a cripple for life. It seems that the only witness to the fight was a negro boy.

- Raleigh Visitor: A white man named Frederick Ostridger was killed on Saturday evening last, just this side of Durham, by the down mail train on the N. C. Railroad. The man was deaf and dumb and therefore did not heed the approach of the train. No blame can be attached to the engineer. - Services of the most interesting character took place at the First Baptist Church Sunday school yesterday afternoon, consisting of singing and other exercises, which were participated in by the Sunday school scholars of different denominations — The National Knights of Labor Tobacco Company of this city was organized on Saturday night last, by the election of a president and six directors. - There was an absence of riotous conduct, accident, calamity and public drunkenness and disorder. The fair fame of our lovely city was not fouled and many claim it to be one of the best spent Christmas days on record - It was rumored here to day that 63 convicts and two guards who had been at work on the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railroad near Mount Airy, were met at St. Sophia church, Stokes county, on Saturday last, on their way to the Western North Carolina Railroad. There are three vessels in port with cargoes of railroad iron for the Wilmington & Weldon R. R. Co., to be used on the line under construction from Wilson to Fayetteville, known as the "Short-cut." The track for this road has been graded from Contentnea Creek to Smithfield, in Johnston county, and the work of laying the iron will soon begin; at the former place. There will be an iron bridge across the Cape Fear and an iron bridge across Neuse river. At the Fayetteville end of the road iron has already been laid to the Cape Fear river, about two miles above the town, and the bridge is under construction.

The Raleigh and Albemarle branch of the W. & W. R. R. Co. will soon be extended to Nashville. There is much speculation as to the continuation of the road beyond Nashville. Those likely to be best informed in the matter say that it is not yet determined. The resolution adopted at the recent stockholders' meeting in this city, as to the extension, said "to a point on Tar river." It has been suggested that the objective point is the town of Durham, on the N. C. R. R.

Messrs. Adkins & Barbour are pushing a broad gauge road from the new town of Adkins, on the Wilmington, Columbia & Augusta Railroad, in Sumter county, S. C. to Bishopville, a distance of sixteen miles. They have four miles of the road now completed, and trains are running to Hope Swamp. They expect to finish the road to Bishopville by September next, and then push it on towards the North Carolina line via Stokes' Bridge.

Why not make Wilmington or Smithville a Coaling Station.

It is stated in a recent number of the Savannah News that a firm in London, England, "the largest colliery proprietors and coal dealers in the world," are about establishing an agency there for English coal, making Savannah a supply depot for foreign steamships trading at South Atlantic and Gulf ports. The Savannah paper says the first cargo of 1,200 tons will be brought over by August 1, 1886, and will be followed by others as the trade de-

Most people hereabouts are aware that there are large deposits of bituminous coal at the Egypt mines in Chatham county, and that during the late war quantities of it were brought to Wilmington to supply the fleet of blockade runners plying between this port and Nassau, and for other purposes. Why the coal is never seen here now, we are unable to say. It is said to be an excellent article of steam coal, and according to a report of a committee of Congress made years ago, (so we are informed) is the nearest to the Atlantic coast and the most accessible of any deposit of coal fit for steam vessels, in the scope of country from the St. Lawrence to the Gulf of Mexico. This being so, why should not Wilmington, or Smithville, be made a coaling station for foreign steamships trading at South Atlantic and Gulf ports, with great advantage over Savannah or any other city on the coast ?

Christmas Tree. The Sunday School teachers and members of Fifth Street M. E. Church gave a Christmas tree to the Sunday School'scholars at that church on Monday night last. There was a large concourse present, and the interest manifested by all showed their appreciation of the efforts that had been made to please the recipients of this Christmas offering. The exercises were opened by the choir with the beautiful Christmas anthem, "The Wondrous Story." Following this the choir and children sang with animation and spirit "Beautiful Christmas." At its conclusion the Rev. D. Herndon Tuttle presented the Christmas tree to the children in a neat and appropriate address, abounding in excellent thought and advice both to the young and the old. At the conclusion of the address the presents were distributed, much to the delight of the little ones, who were extatic over their good luck. It is pleasant to note also that the pastor of the church and his estimable wife were not forgotten in the distribution of presents, they receiving many souvenirs of the friendship and esteem in which they are held by the people of this

The Cold Wave Signal. The fact that the cold wave signal was not displayed here on two or three occasions when people expected it, has been commented upon, Gen. Hazen, the chief signal officer, in relation to the matter, says, in a letter to the Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of Richmond, Va., "that orders to hoist the cold wave signal are sent only when it is expected that there will be a sudden and decided fall in temperature of from fifteen to thirty degrees, or more. The display of the signal is not ordered as a warning of the gradual approach of cold weather when the temperature falls slowly and less than fifteen degrees within a short period of time, for the reason that, in such cases, the gradual change is sufficient to read take the necessary precautions."

Maj. Roger P. Atkinson and daughter, Miss Kate Atkinson, are in the city, the guests of Mr. Kingsbury.

Miss Mary J. Salter, a blind lady, who is canvassing the city for the sale of two books of which she is the authoress, called at the STAR office yesterday, accompanied by a young lady, her constant companion and attendant. We commend them to the good will and liberality of the community, and hope they will reap a generous harvest of subscribers.

The Festival at Germania Hall. The Sunday School children of the Second Presbyterian church held a festival at Germania Hall last night. Conspicuous, of course, among the ornaments of the hall, was a large Christmas tree, loaded with presents for the little ones. These were distributed by Santa Claus and his wife, who entered the hall gether; Santa Claus costumed in the traditional ermine robe with a pack on his back and jingling sleigh-bells, and his wife (for the nonce) properly disguised. The presents to the children were distributed, and after the distribution supper was served to the grown-up folks in attendance. A handsome sum was realized for the benefit of the Sunday School.
