We believe there was no one killed in the big London riot. Very remarkable that.

Since 1875--ten years--the valuation of property in New York State by assessment has increased 802 million dollars.

It is lugubrious reading in a socalled Southern Democratic paper to see it arguing for monopoly and gold bugs and bondholders.

Ber Hill and Lamar and Bayard and Garland are very much missed in the Senate now. Fortunately Conkling, Blaine and some of the other stronger Republicans are not in the Senate at this time.

It is conceded that the Washington society women show more of their persons now than in the time of President Arthur even. Some of them pay the penalty of such folly and vulgarity by dying.

There will be no change in the law by this Congress concerning the Civil Service humbug. It will remain until the Republicans sweep the country again and then it will go and Democratic official heads with it.

Mr. Dosheimer, editor of the New York Star, desires to give all of his time to his paper, which is already a decidedly good one, and he he has, therefore, resigned his office of United States District Attorney.

Maj. John W. Daniel had a very severe and painful fall in Washington. He fell upon the remaining portion of his amputated leg, and he says that the pain was more severe than when the operation was performed. He is confined to his bed.

Mr. Conkling is reported to be instigating the assaults upon Messrs. Lamar and Garland. Roscoe could better employ his talents. A speedy trial of the Bell Telephone suit is being urged upon the counsel. The attacks of a bribed press are below

The world moves. The New York Star, Dem., indorses ex-Senator Bruce, of Mississippi, colored brother for Eaton's place on the Civil Service Commission, and Speaker Carlisle and the entire delegation from Kentucky present a negro Democrat to the President for a chaplaincy in the navy.

The New York World's last Sunday circulation was 213,040. It has an immense patronage but it really does not deserve it. It is trying to drive Attorney General Garland from office, but it will fail. Lying and slander cannot work successfully in the open daylight. It is not much more of a Democratic paper than the Times is (which is Republican Independent) and it is not half such a paper.

Somebody with nothing else to do is talking of Samuel J. Tilden for "worthy of all honor."

County Roads-Duties of Supervisors and Overseers.

A case against two overseers of roads in Harnett township was heard before a Justice of the Peace yesterday. They were charged with failing to make report to the Board of Supervisors, as required by law. After hearing the case the magistrate discharged the defendants, it being shown that no legal notice had been given the overseers by the chairman of the Board: and, also, that the meeting of the Board had not been held in the township, as the law requires. .

It is a question how many magistrates are informed of their duties in connection with the public roads. At the investigation of the matter above alluded to there seemed to be considerable misunderstanding concerning their duties in this important particular. The law requires that the justices of the peace in each township shall have supervision and control of the public roads in their respective townships, and shall be known as and styled the "Board of Supervisors of Public Roads." They are required to meet on the first Saturday of February and August, each year, for the purpose of consulting on the subject of the condition of the roads in their townships, and during the week of their meeting in August, go over and personally examine all the roads in their township. And, annually at their meeting in February they are required to elect one of their number chairman, and at the same meeting to divide the roads of their township into sections and appoint overseers for said : ections. The overseers are required to make sworn reports at each and every meeting of the Board of Supervisors, and upon failure to do so, are liable to arrest, fine and imprisonment.

The Board of Supervisors is required to make report to the first term of the Superior Court of their county after the first Monday in August, of the condition of the public roads of their township, and if the meetings provided for have been held by the board; and upon failure to make report or to discharge any other duty imposed, 'shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof shall be fined or imprisoned, or both, in the discretion of the court, and the indictment may be either against the Board of Supervisors or against the individuals composing it as justices of

The Approaching Execution of Henry

Henry Scott, the negro sentenced to be hanged on the 24th inst., is said to be greatly impressed with the gravity of his situation, and yet to be buoyed up with false hopes of a commutation of sentence: some of the colored ministers who visit him frequently having been active in getting up petitions for an exercise of clemency in his [behalf. No preparations for the execution have yet been made. A carpenter yesterday inspected the old gallows used at the last execution in the jail-about two years ago-when Allen Mathis paid the death penalty for a murder committed in Pender county. Four-fifths of the colored people do not believe that Mathis was really hanged. They do not understand why the penalty of the law is executed in private, and the more ignorant blacks believe that it is simply intended "to fool people," After Mathis was executed his body was placed in a rough coffin and buried in the paupers' graveyard: that night the grave was opened and the body removed; presumably "for scientific purposes." As a matter of course the burial place was afterwards visited by many colored people; some of whom had doubts about Mathis' body having really been buried, and to satisfy themselves they opened the grave and found the coffin empty! To their minds this settled the question-Mathis had not been hanged after all; and to this day it is impossible to get them to believe otherwise.

With these facts before them, a goodly number of the people of this city think that the execution of Scott should be in public: that such an execution would do more to repress crime, inspire respect for the majesty of the law and strike terror into the hearts of evil-doers than a dozen private hangings would. With a more enlightened class, cof course, it would be altogether different and unnecessary.

"During prayer and lecture service on Thursday evening of last week, Rev. P. H. Hoge, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of this city, proposed that, as a thanksgiving offering for God's special blessing graciously bestowed upon the congregation, a sum, in addition to the reguar contribution of the church, should be raised for the cause of Sustentation. After the service, in accordance with the proposition, which was cordially acceded to, about $170 was raised. This with the
