The handsomest paper in the South is the Sunday issue of the Richmond State.

Shaeffer beat the Frenchman, Maurice Vignaux, at billiards. The score was 3,000 to 1,855. The game was played in New York and lasted for five days. .

Senator Kenna, of West Virginia, made a good and telling speech against Edmunds. He made a good hit when he poked Blame as authority against the gruesome Vermonter.

President Cleveland, it is undervield at the command of Edmunds and company. If they had a Republican House they would impeach him no doubt.

The World of Sunday had nine pages - 63 columns - of wants alone. It issued 24 pages - or 168 columns, of which 107 were advertising. It is not much Democratic but it is a great advertising sheet.

It is said that the Indian Commission, in order to try to civilize the Red Men, will recommend boarding industrial schools on the reservations. They are preferred to the ordinary day schools.

The Rhode Island House of Representa-tives have resolved to put the woman suf-frage amendment in the Constitution next to be voted on by the people of that State,

It would be better to allow the disfranchised white men of the State to vote first.

Mr. Jones, of Nevada, is the only Senator that accompanied the remains of Senator Miller to California. Senators are getting shy of such trips since their expenses have been overhauled. There has been too much champague and other, drinkables for funeral occasions.

Little Billy Mahone got his revenge upon Commodore Truxton about that Norfolk Navy Yard business. He objected to the Commodore's promotion and thus secured his being retired upon his old grade instead of as Rear Admiral. To fellows of the Mahone stripe revenge is

The Californians, and, indeed, all of the people on the Pacific slope, seem to be "dead against" the Mongolians. An anti-Chinese Convention has been or is in session at Sacramento, Cal., and it has been determined upon to carry on a relentless system of boycotting throughout California against all Chinamen and their patrons.

Mr. Randall, the really accomplished editor of the Augusta Chronicle, writes:

"It has been a long time since the country has seen finer evidences of finished rhetoric and exalted oratory than these furnished in the past fortnight by Norwood, Breckenridge and Kenna. All the arts of the polished satire, exalted and of impassioned speech, were shown in the House; all the strength of a constitutional argument, and all the greatness of lofty oratory were joined in the Senste."

Ex-President Davis is soon to make a speech at Montgomery, Ala., and about something, but what we are not informed. The Montgomery Dispatch-the best paper in Alabama-says:

"The coming speech of Jeff. Davis will probably be his last one. He is old and infirm and is averse to appearing in public.

Doubtless the theme and the place were the only inducements that could have prevailed upon him to give his consent to once again address his countrymen. Montgomery will hardly hold the crowd that will flock to hear him."

THE MORNING STAR.

VOL. XXXVII.--NO. 147.

WILMINGTON, N. C., TUESDAY, MARCH 16, 1886.

Senator Kenna is 38 years old. He has been in public life since he was 24. He is a man of remarkable parts evidently. He was ploughing in 1865. Now he is a United States

Senator. Mr. Randall, of the Augusta Chronicle, says of him: "The speech made to-day by Senator Kenna was a most notable one. He met the views of Mr. Edmunds with masterly vigor, and proved himself an orator and statesman of the first class. He is a modest man in spite of ambition and success. His physique is that of a young gladistor, with the great lion-like head of Webster. A more splendid specimen of true Southern manhood does not exist; and a more lovable man I never met. He is regarded as a very wise young man, as he is valiant and patriotic. I rejoice at his success and have always predicted it. He used Blaine's second volume with terrible effect upon Edmunds, who manifestly felt the punishment but tried to conceal it. The Vermont Senator has not been so severely handled in many a day."

President Madison is quoted a being in agreement with President Cleveland's position as to Executive authority. Daniel Webster clearly sustains him, as the following will show. Mr. Webster said:

"Applications for office or letters respecting appointments or conversations held with individuals on such subjects are not official proceedings, and cannot by any means be made to partake of the character of official proceedings, unless, after the nomination of such person so writing or conversing, the President shall think proper to lay such correspondence or such conversations before the Senate."

Any Tarheel left out in the cold should qualify himself for Federal office at once, getting Senator Vance to adopt him into the family. This would seem to be an advance in the right direction.—Phila. News.

As bright a paper as the News ought not to allow personal animosities to do miustice to a man of integrity and parts. Senator Vance has stood, will stand firm and will not been often tried and his hands are clean. That ancient lie about his numerous relations in office ought not to find a place in any paper that pretends to decency or character.

> There is a "National Type-Setting Tournament" now progressing in Philadelphia. Mr. W. G. Barnes, of the New York World, who is now the champion; Mr. Joseph McCann, of the Herald, ex-champion, and other representatives of leading dailies are among the contestants. Mr. Barnes shows his skill by setting type from reversed cases, setting type while blindfolded, and other

Mr. Randall, on the 10th, wrote as follows of Senator Vance, referring to his "noble nature." Said Vance to him:

"If I were President of one of those corporations (railroads), I would make it so popular that the children would cry for it. When a locomotive kills an old woman's cow why don't the management pay her for it at once instead of feeing a lot of lawyers to make a $10 animal cost as much as an elephant? That's where the people get mad and begin to kick. More justice and less litigation is what the people want."

McBrayer, clerk at the Western Hotel, was painfully hurt near the old depot, y esterday evening. In attempting to board the train, while in motion, he missed his footing, and his left foot was run over by a car wheel and almost severed near instep. The leg was also badly braised. He had to undergo the amputation of the oot, near the ankle joint.

- Asheville Citizen: Our special correspondent at Salisbury sends us the following of yesterday's date: A most dastardly attempt was made to burn this town last night by a half-witted negro named Jim Blackmer. He buitt a huge bonfire under the store of Mr. Theo. Buerbaum. The smoke attracted the attention of the policemen, and going to the rear of the premises discovered the incendiary making off in the dark. He fired three shots, all taking effect. The prisoner implicates another negro named Harrison Jones, who paid Blackmer three dollars to do the and talk of lynching is freely indulged in.

Both men are in jail. - Beaufort Record: The revival meetings at Ann Street Baptist Church continue with unabated vigor. The forcible sermons of Rev. W. T. Jones, pastor in charge, together with the earnest appeals of Prof. H. W. Reinhart and other pions laymen, seem to have exerted a powerful influence throughout our entire community. At the first tap of the bell immense congregations assemble and fill the church to overflowing—standing room being hard to secure by late comers. At the present writing 25 have made professions, 8 have been baptized by immersion, and 50 have presented themselves for the prayers of the church. Six candidates have reported for baptism on Sunday next. - Charlotte Observer: John Orr, the individual who committed the assault upon Capt. Francis, of the Air Line road, about a month ago, has been arrested, and will be held to account for his misdeeds. There are two charges against Orr, one for I ten.

riotous conduct on the train, and one for assault with intent to kill. Orr had two confederates, one of whom is now under arrest, and the other will, it is thought, soon be captured. — A colored preacher named M. Norris was yesterday arraigned before Esquire D. G. Maxwell on the charge of obtaining goods under false pretenses. The charge was preferred by Mr. W. F. Bennett, from whom Norris had obtained goods under the rep-resentation that he had charge of the three colored churches in this vicinity, and was consequently able to pay for them. It transpired that Norris was serving no church at all, and was a shepherd without a flock. In default of bail he was sent to ail to await trial by Judge Meares. ——A serious accident occurred at Fedden's restaurant, in the Charlotte Hotel, yesterday, where workmen were engaged in the construction of an oven for Fedden's bakery. A colored man named Foster was inside the oven putting on some finishing touches when the top of the oven caved in, and the workman was buried under a pile of brick and mortar. Foster was taken out in a badly injured condition, but no serious results are feared.

Thursday of last week one of the porters of a sleeping car went into the A. C. L. hotel and offered to take a seat at a table with a lady. He was told that he could not do so, but he persisted and refused to go to the place prepared for colored people. He was snmmarily ejected, but not until there had been a scuffle and the constable had been called in. -Mr. Pope's Redwing, by Outcast, Dam Redslipper, is now in training at Sheepshead Bay, New York, in Mr. Purcell's stable. Saturday Night's Fire.

There were many visitors yesterday to the scene of Saturday night's fire on Water street. Crowds of idle men and boys were on the street, watching the work of removing safes from the debris of the burned buildings, while others bent on adding a trifle to their worldly possessions were rummaging in the ruins for imaginary nickels, concealed in a heterogenous collection of ashes, cinders and water-soaked salt fish, soap and other groceries. Laborers were busy, already, cleaning brick from the debris, getting out the safes, and gathering iron and odds and ends that were considered worth preserving. There were nine fire-proof safes that went through the fiery ordeal and were taken from the ruins yesterday morning. The contents of all of them were found to be in a pretty fair condition, when opened; a proceeding which was watched with the greatest interest, particularly by the agents of safe manufacturing companies in the city. It was noticeable that canvas-covered ledgers and day books were scarcely scorched, while leather-bound books in the same safes did not stand the heat so well, and were warped, peeled and discolored.

The losses and insurance are as follows: Col. Jno. W. Atkinson, loss on brick buildings, frame warehouse and wharf, $7,000; partially insured.

the fire, and many valuable papers belonging to different persons were scattered and lost. A negro man carried a large packing trunk into Messrs. The trunk belonged to Messrs. Keith & Hollingsworth. A gentleman saw a colored man pick up an armful of caddies of tobacco and run off with them up Princess street. Sheriff Manning has received the official notification from Gov. Scales, dated March 13th. The Raleigh News and Observer says that petitions were sent to the Governor bearing the "signatures of the judge, of nearly all the jurors, of clergymen and a large number of citizens of Wilmington. The judge stated that the guilt was technical, and it was stated by others that the prisoner was almost an idiot, and upon these representations Gov. She has especially studied the constitution and wants of this numerous class, and, as a result of this effort, and practical knowledge, obtained in a lifetime spent as a nurse and physician, she has compounded a Soothing Syrup for children teething. It operates like magic—giving rest and health, and is, moreover, sure to regulate the bowels. In consequence of this article Mrs. Winslow is becoming world-renowned as a benefactor of her race; children certainly do RISE UP and bless her; especially is this the case in this city. Vast quantities of the Soothing Syrup are DALLY sold and used here. We think Mrs. Winslow has immortalized her name by this invaluable article, and we sincerely believe thousands of children have been saved from an early grave by its timely use, and that millions yet unborn will share its benefits, and unite in calling her blessed.
